

ITALY HURLS DEFANCE AT WORLD AS NATIONS OPEN FIRST ATTEMPT IN HISTORY TO STOP WAR BY BOYCOTT

HUGE CHEST ARMY ALL SET TO DRIVE FOR $412,500 GOAL

Confident of Success,
Army of Campaigners Is Ready To Take Field
Monday To Aid Needy.

RALLY AT CHURCH TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

Pastors of All Faiths To Address Crowd at First Baptist; Workers To Gather Tomorrow Night.

With high hopes of reaching the goal for the first time in five years, Atlanta leaders in all walks of life launch tomorrow the thirteenth annual Community Chest drive.

The goal this year is $412,500, and Julian B. Boehm, general campaign chairman, yesterday appealed to every person in the Atlanta area to give just a little more than last year for the sake of their needy neighbors.

This keynote of increases in individual subscriptions and in the number of gifts will guide the army of more than two thousand volunteer workers who will take the field Monday.

Two rallies of Atlanta people will mark the opening of the campaign after days of careful planning and preparation. These include a large interdenominational religious meeting and radio broadcast at the First Baptist church this afternoon from 2:30 to 4 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

Workers Rally Tomorrow

The second is a rally of the workers tomorrow night at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

The church meeting will be addressed by a group of 10 ministers of all denominations, and two laymen. It was planned by the churches as a demonstration of the unity of the religious groups, regardless of faith or creed, in their response to the plea of the needy for aid through the Community Chest.

This program will be broadcast over a hook-up of the three Atlanta radio stations.

The rally of workers tomorrow night at the Athletic Club will be formal opening of the campaign. Dean Raymond de Ories, of the Cathedral of St. Philip, will be the principal speaker and the program will be broadcast over WFTL.

Larger Gifts Urged.
Appealing to the people of Atlanta to hear the story of the Chest and its work from the volunteer workers who will make a detailed door-to-door canvass of the entire area, Mr. Boehm urged that every one give just a little more than last year.

"This year Atlanta has the best chance to reach the goal of the Chest campaign in years," he said. "Conditions have improved for so many of us and we are more able to help those who cannot help themselves."

"The Chest must minister to the aged and the incurably sick, the dependent families and the helpless children, and carry on all the other work it has been doing all these years. "This year we have set our hearts on the success of the campaign. It will mean so much to all of us—those who look to the Chest for means of life and hope, and those who have the real interest of their city at heart."

If the same 39,000 people who gave last year give the same amount they pledged last year, we will be in the same position—far short of the amount necessary to keep our needy neighbors from suffering. "Everyone must give a little more. It is so easy for the individual. The

Continued in Page 2, Column 6.

Day's Developments In Ethiopian Crisis

By The Associated Press.
ROME—It Duce changes commanders in Africa; Italy digs in against sanctions, effective Monday. MAKALE—Italians say Haile Selassie has ordered "no retreat" for warriors massing against northern fascist army.

DIREDAWA—Thousands of tribesmen from British and French Somaliland cross frontiers to aid Ethiopians.

ADDIS ABABA—Warriors pass in review before the emperor to tunes of "Dixie" and "St. Louis Blues."

MOTORCADE PARTY TOURS SAVANNAH AS CITY'S GUESTS

New Industry Shown
'Cadets Preliminary to Lavish Entertainment
Given by Hosts on Coast.

By RALPH T. JONES,
Staff Correspondent.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 16.—Eighty motorcadeers from Atlanta and cities en route were welcomed to the hearts of Savannah and Chatham county today as city officials and prominent citizens escorted visitors to the interesting industries and historic spots of one of the south's most hospitable cities.

After a night of fun and entertainment which followed the arrival of the great Atlanta-to-Savannah motorcade Friday, a full program of amusement and education were offered today.

Parties of prominent Georgians toured the huge new plant of the Union Bag & Paper Corporation here. They were shown the giant manufacturing of paper from pine pulp which will mean so much to the southern timber industry as the result of the experiments of Dr. Charles R. Herty.

'Cadets Go Places

All through the day the 'cadets went places. They visited the seashore and the famous resorts and at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon they attended an oyster roast and sea food dinner spread for them at the Savannah Country Club.

Late in the afternoon they were entertained at a concert and dance. Every effort was made by Savannah hosts to make the visit of the motorcadeers an enjoyable one and from every indication success was theirs.

The great caravan of 250 cars arrived in Savannah Friday to begin an immediate round of the justly famous

Continued in Page 2, Column 3.

Rum Ring Is Hunted In 3 Street Murders

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A flashback to the days of prohibition gangsters tonight sent federal agents and police hunting "alky runners" blamed for three street assassinations in 20 hours.

They believed they would find the motives in a re-born bootlegging racket, cooking and selling illicit alcohol.

E. C. Yellowley, chief of the country's prohibition agents in 1921 and now superintendent of the Alcohol Unit in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, assigned his men to the three murders after police said the victims were all in some way linked with revived bootlegging.

Continued in Page 2, Column 6.

PLAN FORMER MERGER, SEWERS, SCHOOLS ON COUNCIL SLATE

Consolidation Group To Ask Petition To Call
Referendum on Joining of Local Governments.

Proposed consolidation of Atlanta and Fulton county governments and moves designed to expedite start of the sewer modernization and school improvement programs are major matters which will be before city council at its semi-monthly meeting beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The consolidation commission, established by council resolution, will recommend that council request the county democratic executive committee to call a county and city-wide referendum in the March, 1936, county primary on a seven-point merger program.

A special committee from the merger group composed of Hugh C. Couch and Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon and Alvin L. Richards, has been designated to push the referendum proposal through city council. Councilman Aubrey Milam, chairman of council's finance committee, and Alderman I. Gloor Hickey, chairman of the ordinance committee, asserted yesterday they will support the move.

No Opposition Seen

No concerted opposition was anticipated yesterday, since council voted to establish the committee, and the only recommendation before the council will be a move to gain an expression of the attitude of the voters on the consolidation issue.

The sewer committee, headed by Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, will ask council formally to ratify an amended agreement through which Fulton county is expected to participate in the $6,000,000 sewer modernization program. Reynolds and the matter should be made a part of city council minutes to obviate the possibility of a misunderstanding with the county.

Atlanta public schools will seek council's sanction to $200,000 worth of school bonds to be diverted to pay the city's share of material costs on a general school repair program aggregating $200,000.

Bond Group Called

Members of the bond commission, of which James H. Ewing is chairman, will be called into meeting tomorrow morning to approve the allocation in order that it can be acted upon by council at the afternoon meeting. The bond commission of education already has approved the set-up.

Echoes of the board of education from Friday afternoon continued yesterday in two statements.

Fred C. Boston, "fired" as a member of three important standing com-

Continued in Page 2, Column 7.

COUNTY SEWER JOB HINGES ON TALKS

Series of Conferences To Be Held Today in Effort
To Settle Differences.

Fulton county's participation in the $6,000,000 sewer modernization program for the metropolitan area hinges on results of conferences today between city and county engineers and members of the Fulton county commission.

If the commission declines to approve an amended proposal for Fulton county participation by Monday night, the city will proceed alone and citizens of Fulton county living outside the limits of Atlanta will not be permitted to connect to the city-financed system, according to an ultimatum from municipal administration leaders.

The proposed program will be curtailed and Atlanta will put up the $1,000,000 authorized through a bond issue, and will provide proper trunk lines and adequate disposal plants for the city's needs, but thickly populated areas in Buckhead, Shadow Lawn, East Point, College Park, Hapeville and Lakewood will be left without sewage disposal facilities.

U. S. Backs City

It was learned authoritatively yesterday that federal officials are in complete accord with city administration leaders regarding the matter, and the WPA and PWA officials are ready to co-operate with the city in caring for its sewer needs whether the county enters the picture or not.

WPA is anxious to begin work on the program and is said to want a definite answer by Tuesday morning. Frank H. Reynolds, chairman, and other members of the sewer committee of council are determined that the city will not delay the work.

At the expiration of that time, Reynolds will order city engineers to curtail the sewer program if the county has not complied with the new stipulations, to relocate disposal plants

Continued in Page 4, Column 4.

Il Duce Changes Army Chiefs

MARSHAL PIETRO BADAGLIO. GENERAL EMILIO DE BONO.

G. O. P. Split Over Hoover, Borah With Convention Fight Foreseen

Impression Former President Is Target for His Chief '28 Campaigner Gains Ground in Washington, But Neither Has To Show Hand Yet.

By EDWARD J. DUFFY.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The possibility of a Hoover-Borah struggle over the republican presidential nomination and platform for 1936 has been gaining ground in the capital. Borah has not said as much, but activities of Hooverites plainly have a bearing on his plans.

The Hoover speech dealt exclusively with principles. He has been represented as believing the party should put principles first and personalities second at least until the convention meets in June.

150,000 TICKETS ISSUED BY COCKE

Roosevelt Speech To Be Open to All, However,
Senator George States.

The Roosevelt Home-coming Celebration headquarters yesterday announced that upwards of 150,000 free tickets to the celebration here November 29 would be distributed in all sections of the state this week and made available if needed.

Although it is planned to handle only about 100,000 or 110,000 people in Grant Field for the celebration, the headquarters announced that the thousands of extra tickets would be made available in order that all who come to Atlanta may have tickets to the stadium if they can get in.

General Chairman Eric Cocke said that the tickets would be distributed through the hundreds of various committees, representing all of the state's 159 counties, through the offices of the two senators and congressmen and through the headquarters in the 101 Marietta Street building.

Available to All.
At his home in Vienna, Senator Walter F. George, who was slightly ill Friday and unable to attend the meeting of the delegation which gave final approval to the plans set up by Chairman Cocke and his associates, stressed the fact that the tickets will be available to everyone who desires to come to Atlanta.

President Roosevelt will arrive in Georgia this week for his annual Thanksgiving vacation at the Warm Springs Little White House.

He will remain at the Meriwether county resort until the morning of November 29, enroute to Atlanta for the ceremonies and returning immediately following his address here.

Senator George said that due to his inability to attend the meeting here Friday he had not been able to give consideration to the full details of the program, particularly the ticket plan, but added that he would generally know that no one would be refused admission to the stadium.

"These tickets are more for identification than anything else and also will serve as mementos of this great occasion," the state's senior senator declared. "They are not meant to be any restriction toward entrance to any part of the program or to the address of the President in Grant Field."

Address Open to All.
The senator also said that the address of the President would be open to all Georgians or persons living outside the state if they cared to come.

"There will be room for everyone

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

DOCKSTADER OPTICAL CO.

Good-looking glasses perfectly fitted.
Ask your doctor, 16 Peachtree St. (S.W.)

DE BONO AS HEAD OF BATTLE FORCE

Marshal Badoglio, Non-Fascist, Succeeds White-Haired Leader of Italian Forces at African Front.

By JOHN EVANS.
Associated Press Staff.

ROME, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini shook up his high military command in Ethiopia today, removing General Emilio De Bono as commander in chief of the invading fascist forces.

General Pietro Badoglio, chief of the general staff, who only a week ago reported his first-hand observations of the war situation after an inspection in East Africa, succeeded the white-haired veteran.

The grand council, supreme body of fascism, was to meet in another of its momentous sessions tonight, presumably to consider the League of Nations' economic sanctions against Italy, which become effective Monday. Some declaration of Italy's stand against the penalties, observers thought, might be forthcoming.

Promotion for De Bono

Mussolini, far from indicating that General De Bono's recall meant he had fallen from favor, proposed to Kin, Victor Emmanuel, that the 60-year-old veteran be elevated to the rank of marshal, a title which General Badoglio already holds. The king's compliance was virtually assured.

Il Duce telegraphed his old friend, General De Bono—one of Mussolini's four lieutenants in the fascist march on Rome—expressing thanks "for having achieved his mission under extremely difficult circumstances and with the result that entitles you to the gratitude of the nation."

East Africa 10 months ago to the day, had finished the task he undertook, and his elevation to a marshal's rank would be final approval. It was an appointment which he himself said he was satisfied with De Bono's campaign.

Selection of General Badoglio as the new commander in chief of the front was in line with Italian political developments since the war began. He is reputed to be popular with the army because he is known as probably the most warlike general, and Italy's greatest strategist.

Best Soldier Needed.
Italians were told that, as hard fighting began to develop in Africa, the best soldier commands the fascist forces.

General Badoglio is known to be very friendly with the royal family. He has been known, however, as a fascist supporter.

It was said that years ago he refused to accept the principles of Mussolini's regime.

His appointment, first as chief of the general staff and now as leader at the war front, was taken as evidence that he was a fascist.

Continued in Page 4, Column 3.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN INFLUENCE WIDENS

Pledges Sent in From Five Southern States;
Students Backing Drive.

A parade of states appeared yesterday on the records of the Safe Driving campaign of The Constitution Safety Council, E. H. Ginn, district manager of the General Electric Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, turned in signed pledges of every state of his in this territory who drives a company car.

Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Florida and Alabama are now being told of the Safety Council's efforts to reduce the ghastly toll of death and suffering from automobile accidents. While the drive is directed chiefly against careless driving on the highways of the state, other states continually respond with signed pledges and letters of compliment and encouragement.

Organizations and individuals in Georgia yesterday showed an intense interest in the campaign for safe driving and a sincere determination to do all possible to reduce the fatal hazards of state and highways.

Support in Columbus

The civics class at the Industrial High school at Columbus, Ga., yesterday wrote the Safety Council for pledge blank of each member of the class and for the teacher. The students are studying safety, and highly complimented the council for its Safe Driving campaign.

From Bainbridge, Ga., came 30 signed pledges, obtained by the fourth grade A. of the grammar school there. The pledges were signed by parents and other car drivers of the city.

Francis Taylor, writing in behalf of the class said: "We hope each one will keep his pledge for safe driving." And well might the small school children express that hope. Too many of them are killed and maimed and made to suffer because someone did not take time to be careful while driving an automobile.

American Legion Post No. 88, at

Continued in Page 2, Column 4.

Football Scores

L. S. U. 13; Georgia 0.
Alabama 38; Tech 7.
Duke 25; North Carolina 0.
Notre Dame 6; Army 6.
Temple 26; Marquette 6.
Colgate 27; Syracuse 0.
Vandy 13; Tennessee 7.
Auburn 51; Oglethorpe 0.
Minnesota 40; Michigan 0.
Princeton 37; Lehigh 0.
Navy 28; Columbia 7.
All other scores in sports section.

ARMS CONFERENCE FACING FAILURE; ASIA KILLS HOPE

Anglo-Japanese Battle Over Chinese Markets Is Expected To 'Sink' Parley;
U. S. Plans Submarine Talk.

By FREDERICK KUH,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(UP)—With a thinly veiled but fierce struggle going on between England and Japan for predominant economic influence in China, the forthcoming London naval conference promises to be still-born.

Prospects for a fresh agreement to limit naval strength among nations with big stakes in the far east are considered to have sunk below zero with control of Chinese markets still to be fought for.

Responsible Japanese here whom the United Press questioned, were extremely resentful of two recent moves which they attribute to Great Britain.

They insist, in the first place, that China's nationalization of silver on November 3 and the substitution of a managed currency for the white metal were decided upon in consultation with Britain without Japan's knowledge or consent. This is regarded as a direct challenge to Japan's claim to position as the leading power in the far east.

Secondly, the Japanese are opposed to alleged British plans to assist China in floating a loan. Japanese financiers here told the United Press they suspect Britain is planning a 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 pound sterling ($49,200,000 to $98,400,000) loan to China, but to be floated as a domestic loan, and not to be quoted on London and other stock exchanges.

The official Japanese view, as conveyed to the United Press, is that Japan would favor China's new currency.

Continued in Page 4, Column 5.

Frazier-Lemke Act Given Death Blow

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Frazier-Lemke act giving farm owners three years to redeem property sold under foreclosure was held unconstitutional today by the United States court of appeals for the seventh circuit.

The case, which brought a new blow to the New Deal act, involved a mortgage given by Bertha A. Lowman, owner of a 240-acre Indiana farm near Hammond, to the LaFayette Life Insurance Company. The insurance company had foreclosed and bought the farm at a sale. The owner had sought to enjoin the sale.

The appeals court decision written by Judge Will M. Sparks and concurred in by Judges Samuel Alschuler and Charles C. Briggie, said:

"We think that in thus extending the period of redemption for three years beyond that fixed by state statutes (one year), congress exceeded the powers conferred upon it under the bankruptcy clause of the constitution."

Continued in Page 7, Column 6.

Coal Strike Ends In Alabama Mines

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A compromise agreement between Alabama coal operators and miners early today ended the coal strike which had kept approximately 18,000 workers idle since September 23.

Continued in Page 7, Column 6.

The Weather

Atlanta Cloudy Cold

Georgia—Partly cloudy Sunday;
Monday fair, not much change in temperature.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature ..... 56
Lowest temperature ..... 45
Mean temperature ..... 50
Normal temperature ..... 52
Rainfall in past 12 hours, ins. .... .04
Excess since last of mo., ins. .... 3.29
Deficiency since Jan. 1, ins. .... 3.39
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, ins. .... 35.51

7 a.m. N'n. 7 p.m.
Dry bulb temperature ..... 52 51 45
Wet bulb ..... 51 50 44
Relative humidity ..... 94 92 87

SUN AND MOON FOR TODAY

Sun rises 6:13 a. m.; sets 4:33 p. m.
Moon rises 11:21 p. m.; sets 11:56 a. m.

Check Today's Offerings!

Now to the WANT AD
PAGES of The Constitution and check the many opportunities to buy and save. You'll find this section replete with offerings of all kinds and descriptions at prices you can afford to pay. Turn now.

LEAGUE SANCTIONS TO TAKE EFFECT SUNDAY MIDNIGHT

Grand Council of Fascism Declares Day One of "Ignominy and Iniquity in History" and Tightens Its Belt To Resist.

NATIONS ORDER VIOLATION PENALTY

Date Marks New Departure in Peace Efforts and Places League's Life as Hostage to Success.

GENEVA, Nov. 17.—(Sunday)—

(P)—A new epoch in world relations will begin here at midnight. For the first time in history, the nations of the world, banded together to promote peace, will resort to economic pressure in an attempt to end a war.

Fifty-one nations, including all the recognized powers of the world with the exception of Germany, Japan and the United States, will begin the exercise of economic "sanctions" against Italy, found guilty of resorting to unprovoked warfare. And of the three powers remaining outside, being non-members of the League of Nations, two of them, Germany and the United States, have assured the rest of the nations that Italy can expect no aid from them. The third, Japan, has made no official pronouncement of its course.

As the sanctions went into effect Premier Benito Mussolini, Italy's dictator, convoked the fascist grand council to map resistance to the sanctions and burlied defiance at the world, in a manifesto to the Italian populace, that Italy will henceforth remember the day as "the day of ignominy and iniquity in the history of the world."

Italy Hurls Defiance.
As the sanctions went into effect Premier Benito Mussolini, Italy's dictator, convoked the fascist grand council to map resistance to the sanctions and burlied defiance at the world, in a manifesto to the Italian populace, that Italy will henceforth remember the day as "the day of ignominy and iniquity in the history of the world."

As the League moved to force Italy out of her Ethiopian conquest, the individual nations took steps to see to it that the provisions of the embargo against the aggressor were not violated. Canada announced that violators of the order that prohibits credits and loans to Italy, shuts out imports from the kingdom, and prohibits exports to Italy of certain key commodities used for military purposes, would be punished with prison sentences up to two years, or fines or both. But he gave assurance that heavy fines and prison sentences would be meted out.

France Seeks Mediation.
France, playing the role of mediator, saw a last desperate effort to stop the war before sanctions begin to pinch when Premier Laval talked to both the British and Italian ambassadors. But he gave assurance that France would uphold the action of the League.

England, her stand reinforced by the return to power of a conservative government, was expected to stiffen her resistance to any deviation from the course outlined at Geneva.

Germany's Hitler gave assurances

Continued in Page 7, Column 6.

The News at a Glance

IN THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Clip this each day and make your scrapbook a thumbnail history. November 17, 1935.

LOCAL

Huge Chest army all set for drive for $412,500 goal. Page 1
Motorcade party tours Savannah as guests of the city. Page 1
150,000 Roosevelt welcome tickets are issued by Cocke. Page 1
Fulton's sewer participation hinges on conference today. Page 1
Consolidation, sewers, schools to come before council tomorrow. Page 1
Funds for construction of juvenile home provided by county. Page 2

STATE

Park donated by Cator Woolford to be dedicated Friday. Page 8-B
Minimum salary for ministers adopted at Methodist session. Page 8-B Georgia cows make high milk, butter records at Athens. Page 8-B Body to study Georgia's "little TVA" to meet in Savannah. Page 8-B

DOMESTIC

Frazier-Lemke act killed. Page 1-A
G. O. P. split over Hoover, Borah foreseen. Page 1-A

FOREIGN

Il Duce removes De Bono as head of battle force. Page 1-A World in first attempt today to stop war by economic sanctions. Page 1-A Selassie flashes "no retreat" order to troops in north. Page 1-A

SPORTS

Japanese troops massed in China for fight. Page 7-A
L. S. U. Tigers defeat Georgia in Athens, 13-0. Page 1-B
Tide powerhouse crushes Georgia Tech, 35-7. Page 1-B
Duke shatters North Carolina's Rose Bowl hopes. Page 1-B
Army holds Notre Dame to 6-6 tie before 80,000. Page 4-B
Temple drops Marquette from undefeated list, 26-6. Page 1-B
Colgate stops undefeated Syracuse in upset, 27-0. Page 1-B
Tulane ends out 20-13 victory over Kentucky. Page 1-B
Vandy wins over Tennessee first time in nine years. Page 3-B
Auburn routs Oglethorpe Patriots in homecoming, 51-0. Page 3-B
Earl Mann and Eddie Moore leave for Dayton meeting. Page 2-B
Many friends bemoan sudden death of "Tich" Tichenor. Page 2-B

FEATURES

Page of foreign news. Page 7-A
News of Georgia. Page 8-B
Radio programs. Page 12-A, 13-A
Movies, theaters. Page 6-B, 7-B
Want ads. Pages 3-C, 4-C, 5-C, 6-C
Editorial features. Pages 4-K, 5-K
Sections M-K

Continued in Page 4, Column 4.

JUVENILE HOME FUND PROVIDED BY COUNTY

Provisions Made for $26,000 Necessary to Begin Work Under WPA.

Twenty-six thousand dollars will be provided by Fulton county for its share of the juvenile detention home, Dr. Charles R. Adams, chairman of the county commission, announced yesterday after a conference with James L. Respass, county auditor.

Through it had been previously stated the county had no money for the new home, the auditor told the chairman of the commission yesterday that he would find the cash.

It is planned to use a part of current revenue for the immediate need of the home and the remainder of the $26,000 will be set up in the 1936 budget allocating to the juvenile home a part of the money which would ordinarily be allotted to the purchase of real estate.

As the clouds apparently cleared around the juvenile home, means of raising funds for the proposed new convalescent home were still in the dark.

Meeting Planned.

A meeting of the county board committee, composed of Dr. Adams, Commissioner George F. Longino, chairman of the finance committee, and Commissioner J. A. Raggsdale, chairman of the committee on the juvenile home and charitable institutions, is scheduled to be held Monday morning at which time plans for the convalescent home will be discussed.

Dr. Adams said the convalescent home is especially important from a health standpoint in that it intends to see that it goes through.

However, WPA officials, who have agreed to furnish approximately $124,000 for the home if the county will supply about $50,000 of the cost, have demanded that the county put up $35,000 cash and $15,000 worth of supplies and materials as its share.

According to the commission, the county has no money and the convalescent home can not be constructed unless the WPA will agree to allow the county to supply all or the vast majority of its share in materials and services.

Commissioner Longino, leader of the minority faction of the county commission, said yesterday he repeatedly warned the three majority members that the county would find fault in expenditures was brought itself in this situation unless a curb.

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

Scenes as The Constitution's Mammoth Motorcade Rolled Through Central Georgia on Way to Savannah

Pictures tell the story of the great motorcade from Atlanta to Savannah, where the joyous participants arrived ahead of schedule Friday evening and have been feted with parties since their arrival. The 'cade shown above as it reached Jackson on the new all paved route between this city and Macon. The festivities will be ended when the motorcaders will send their way homeward today.

Macon citizens turned out en masse to greet the city's motorcading visitors Friday, with Mayor Herbert Smith doing the honors for Georgia's central city. In the above photo are H. W. Pittman, Macon city councilman; James Clark, Howell, Jr., of The Constitution; Mayor Smith; W. T. Anderson, publisher of the Macon Telegraph; and J. L. Morris, secretary of the Macon Chamber of Commerce.

'CADERS ENTERTAINED BY SAVANNAH HOSTS

Continued From First Page.

night life in one of the south's most cordial cities.

It left Atlanta Friday morning to travel the newly all-paved route from the state's capital to the sea. Stops were made in larger towns along the way where city officials, pretty girls and women and men and boys bade the motorcaders welcome.

The parade of cars was sponsored by The Atlanta Constitution, the Macon Telegraph, the Savannah Morning News and the cities of Atlanta and Savannah.

Motorcade Success.

It was declared to be the greatest 'cade ever held with the possible exception of the "Four Capitals" motorcade last year.

Most of the motorists will return to Atlanta tomorrow after another night of dining and dancing at Savannah's best hotels and night clubs.

Some, however, are planning to drive on down into Florida, before returning home.

Many of Georgia's best known men are taking prominent parts in the programs here, there being representatives on the motorcade from practically every town of any size in central Georgia.

Herchel V. Jenkins, president of the Savannah Evening Press and the Morning News, had as his guest today, Gladstone Williams, Washington correspondent of The Atlanta Constitution, and Mrs. Williams, W. T. Anderson, president and editor of the Macon Telegraph and News, was the overnight guest of T. P. Saffold at Mr. Saffold's beautiful country home, Beaulieu.

The brilliant procession from Atlanta to Savannah marked the opening of the new all-paved route which runs through the heart of Georgia. It celebrated the completion of the final link at Dry Branch.

Accepts Waycross Call.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Acceptance of the call of the First Church of the Nazarene by Rev. David K. Wachtel, of Concord, N. C., leaves one church in the city without a pastor, a number of vacancies having been filled during the past several months. The pulpit of the Parkside Presbyterian church is still unoccupied.

HOOVER OFFERS PLAN FOR FISCAL REFORM

Continued From First Page.

"the national planning" and "third economy," Mr. Hoover said it had one "consistency" of "carefree catering of public money."

"They are haunted by no old ghost of a balanced budget," he said. "But national planning" thinks in phrases and slogans rather than the exactitude of the cash register. We now know that in addition to increased taxes after four years of the bill of increased taxpayers liabilities will be about $14,000,000.

"If they have a cash register, it certainly has an astronomical key-board."

"Judged by works and not by words, another consistency in this sort of 'economic planning' is to limit production—the essence of monopoly. They have given us planned scarcity—upon which civilization always degenerates—in place of economic plenty, upon which America has grown great."

"It is the more abundant life—without bacon."

Outlining the national accumulation of gold and silver as a currency metallic base, Mr. Hoover said the result was accumulation of metal "that we do not need for any conceivable purpose, which, with the devalued dollar, is likely to represent more loss to the American people than a whole year's Treasury deficit."

By establishing a managed currency system, he said, the United States has "subordinated itself to England and 'trustingly' reposed in London a large influence in American values and freedom in American trade."

"In any event," he stated, "so long as 'managed currency' lasts the purchasing value of the dollar lies at the whim of political government."

At another point in his address, he said the government, "through political-managed credit... has brought us to the threshold of devastating inflation."

"The stock market is already peering into that bluebeard's cave," he declared, "the cost of living to the farm housewife, the worker's household, and all other households."

"It is a deduction from economic and social security of the poor—it is not a more abundant life."

Mr. Hoover denounced New Deal expansion of bank credits, and stated that it was such inflation by the Federal Reserve System in 1927 that "caused the depression collapse of 1929."

"In an effort to support the shaky financial structure of Europe," he said, "our Federal Reserve System in 1927 joined with foreign government banks in expansion or inflation of bank credits."

"Some of us laymen had bitterly protested that we had no need of expanded credit, that in view of the then situation it would be dangerous. We were told it could and would be easily controlled."

"There were other impulses, but this inflation of bank credit contributed to set off the greatest madness of speculation and greed since the Mississippi bubble. Men then also dreamed they were in a new era."

The former president disclaimed responsibility for the 1927 acts of the Federal Reserve, asserting "that was before my administration, and in any event at that time the system was independent of the administration."

"There are morals in that story," Hoover said.

"Despite that bitter experience, the national planners, to finance their huge spending and other purposes, have desperately resorted to the same inflation of bank credits."

"They, however, apparently do not believe in honest money. They inject the dose of the same poison now injected into our national bloodstream by the New Deal is already three or four times as great as that of 1927."

UNIFORM LEGISLATION URGED AT AAA MEET

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Uniform legislation in the 48 states governing automobile drivers was urged before the American Automobile Association convention today as a measure to cut down motor accident deaths.

Lieutenant Frank M. Kreml, director of the bureau of accident prevention, Evanston, Ill., declared a standard law was fundamental to any planned program of traffic control.

"Another thing that must be done," the Evanston safety expert said, was to "build up more efficiency in the police departments throughout the country." He suggested civil leadership would give badly needed encouragement toward this end.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, praised automobile manufacturers' efforts to build safety into their cars as a big step toward reduction of accident casualties.

"Safety glass, steel bodies, improved steering, better tires are examples," he said. Road buildings by constructing safer highways, easing curves, lengthening sight distances and separating traffic lanes, have also contributed to greater safety, he added.

The convention closed after electing an executive committee.

Work, Dress Shirts DUCKETT'S ARMY STORE 79 Alabama St.

MANY EXPECTED HERE FOR FLORIST'S MEET

Continued From First Page.

Between 500 and 600 persons will attend the annual convention of the Southeastern Florists' Association to be held next year in Atlanta, H. E. McBrayer, of the Atlanta Convention and Tourist Bureau, said last night.

McBrayer returned from the convention in Knoxville.

CHEST ARMY READY FOR START OF DRIVE

Continued From First Page.

money will never be missed by those who give in this spirit. But it will mean so much to those in need."

Seven divisions of work.

The seven divisions of the Chest forces will begin their work immediately, driving for completion of the work by Thanksgiving.

These leaders, who form the "high command" under Mr. Boehm, include Sherwood K. Kennedy, advance gifts; Moreton Rolleston; groups; Hurd J. Crain, central; Mrs. Norman Sharp, neighborhood; W. C. Harris, branch house; Wylie West, suburban, and Jesse Blayton, colored.

Workers in each division have been inspired to greater effort by the offer of a silver trophy by A. L. Feldman, to the outstanding worker in each division.

The advance gifts, groups and branch house divisions have been at work for days making preliminary contacts. A heartening indication of success was seen by leaders in the results of this work. Increases in individual gifts have been shown over last year in most instances, and a number of new gifts have been won.

United Backing Given.

The campaign has received the united backing of all groups and interests of the great metropolitan area, and has even attracted the interest and personal best wishes of Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator in Washington.

W. Eugene Harrington, chairman of the Fulton County Public Welfare Board; Miss Gay B. Shepperdson, Georgia administration for the WPA, and many others have pointed out the necessity of reaching the goal this year and has urged increased giving.

The interdenominational meeting Sunday afternoon was planned as a definite expression of the backing of the churches. It was worked out by a committee of leading ministers and given the support of every church group.

Those who will take part in this program include Dr. C. B. Stauffer, First Christian church; Dr. Louis D. Newton, Druid Hills Baptist church; Dr. Robert Burns, Peachtree Christian church; Dr. J. W. Johnson, St. Marks Methodist church; Dr. John L. Yost, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer; Dr. J. Spole Lyons, First Presbyterian church; Dr. John Moore Walker, St. Luke's Episcopal church; Rabbi David Marx, the Temple red and white sticker which the Safety Council sends in return for the pledges helps the driver to remember to drive safely.

A printed pledge blank will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution. Clip it out and sign it. Send it to the Safety Council, 1201 G. O. P. as he wishes. Washington hears the Hoover mail brings more and more pleas to run. Borah says Hoover friends are "working."

No hasty decision by either seems likely, however. For the present, Borah evidently plans only some eastern speechmaking and continued conferences with state and national leaders. He does not have to show his hand completely until March, when announcement of intention becomes necessary to enter the Ohio primary in May.

OHIO DISPLEASED.

The chance for such an announcement already had some key Ohio republicans concerned. Representative Marshall, of Xenia, said today "if outside candidates, including Borah, came into Ohio it would be contrary both to the wishes and plans of most of the leaders."

They want the delegation unattached, although Borah and Governor Landon, of Kansas, recently polled 23 and 20 votes, respectively, as favorites of young Ohio republicans.

What the situation amounts to is that the independent Idahoan has put the regular party leadership on notice: "I am not a candidate—yet."

If he and his views are ignored, the breadth of the republican split next year may depend to an extent on how fully he "follows through." Both parties are counting on their opposition dividing.

Meantime, a huge anti-New Deal democratic swing was predicted here today by Colonel Frank Knox, the Chicago publisher. Forces favoring his nomination will open headquarters in Chicago Monday. He and Borah talked this over this week.

He asserted that yesterday's Roosevelt endorsement of Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, was tantamount to "abandoning his own party program and taking up the radicals."

New Deal favor of Norris and Senator La Follette, he said, "leaves the democrats of Nebraska and Wisconsin as orphans in the storm."

SAFETY CAMPAIGN INFLUENCE WIDENS

Continued From First Page.

Manchester, Ga., yesterday returned 28 pledges signed by the Legionnaires there and wrote for more. They are carrying the war on careless driving to every driver of the city.

E. H. Crine, chairman of the post safety committee, wrote as follows: "At a recent meeting, our post heartily endorsed your safety campaign started in the interest of accident prevention and safer conditions on the highways."

The committee appointed to assist in this movement in this county, it gives me pleasure to enclose 23 Safe Driving pledges that have been signed, thus being all the blanks that were available."

The Legionnaires were sent 50 more pledge blanks to help them reduce the traffic toll in that section.

No "Unavoidable" Accident.

Chief A. J. Holcombe, of the Atlanta police department, recently said: "There never was an 'unavoidable' accident. Somebody is always to blame through some little carelessness or other, and the results are too often disastrous to life and property."

And the chief is right. Too often a minor bit of carelessness brings death and suffering that means of human estimation. Such remorse can be averted if the driver will only remember to be careful. The little red and white sticker which the Safety Council sends in return for the pledges helps the driver to remember to drive safely.

A printed pledge blank will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution. Clip it out and sign it. Send it to the Safety Council, 1201 G. O. P. as he wishes. Washington hears the Hoover mail brings more and more pleas to run. Borah says Hoover friends are "working."

No hasty decision by either seems likely, however. For the present, Borah evidently plans only some eastern speechmaking and continued conferences with state and national leaders. He does not have to show his hand completely until March, when announcement of intention becomes necessary to enter the Ohio primary in May.

HOOVER, BORAH FIGHT FOR STANDARD SEEN

Continued From First Page.

yesterday to having an "objective," which left little doubt among his hearers that he was ready to enter the primary in May.

G. O. P. as he wishes. Washington hears the Hoover mail brings more and more pleas to run. Borah says Hoover friends are "working."

No hasty decision by either seems likely, however. For the present, Borah evidently plans only some eastern speechmaking and continued conferences with state and national leaders. He does not have to show his hand completely until March, when announcement of intention becomes necessary to enter the Ohio primary in May.

YOU WIN! No Monkey Business—

Atlanta expects the biggest cleaning bargain at HOWARD'S—and we're going to see that you get 'em. For a limited time—

MEN'S WOOL SUITS 25c

Cash and Carry

HOWARD CLEANERS

Albert Bunn

Nationally Known—Locally Owned

418 Seminoe Ave. 463 Ponce de Leon, N. E.

488 Peachtree, N. E. 458 Pryor St., S. W.

A Baby in Your Home

SCIENTISTS now state that "complete unity in life depends upon sex harmony" and that the lack of it is the one greatest cause for unhappy marriages. Also that every woman "has the capacity for sex expression" but too often she is underdeveloped or suffering with general female disorders which rob her of her normal desires.

During an experience of more than 35 years specializing in the treatment of diseases peculiar to women, I have developed a simple home treatment which has brought new hope, health and happiness to many thousands. I have written me the most glowing letters of gratitude and praise for a normal life. Many who had been childless for years became proud and happy mothers. Husbands have written me the most glowing letters of gratitude and now I want every woman who is run-down or suffering from general female disorders, to learn about this splendid treatment and how she may use it in the privacy of her own home.

Get This Knowledge FREE

I have written two booklets in both of which I intimately discuss many important subjects relating to the female sex, that are vitally interesting to every woman. They are replete with valuable facts learned in my long experience during which time I have seen and successfully treated about every condition of female disorder known to medicine. They tell how you too may combat your troubles, as thousands of others have, and often again enjoy the desire and activities of nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, healthy, fully developed, vigorous woman. I will gladly mail both booklets free, in plain wrapper to all who write me. If they help you, tell your friends. Just send name and address. Do this today as it may change your whole life.

Dr. H. Will Elders, Suite 283-M Schneider Bldg., St. Joseph, Mo.

FLORIDA CANAL WORK WILL BEGIN MONDAY

OCALA, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Actual digging of dirt is due to start Monday along the right-of-way for the $146,000,000 trans-Florida ship canal.

Men from relief rolls in various parts of the state today began morning work on the canal. Contractors have built along the route of the waterway that is to join the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico.

It appeared that W. H. Boone, of New Orleans, who has a sub-contract from the Badgett Construction Company to build the locks, would likely be the first of the contractors to start stripping overburden.

PATIENT SHOOT DOCTOR WHEN PAIN CONTINUES

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Dr. Ercole Florio, 41, was shot and critically wounded in the apartment of a patient today, and police arrested Giuseppe Falzone, the patient, as his assailant.

Rushed to a hospital with three bullets in his chest and neck, Dr. Florio told police that he had been called to Falzone's apartment, and that the man told him: "You fix me up. You operate on the nose and it's no good. You no take the pain away."

Then, the wounded man said, Falzone drew a revolver and fired four shots at him.

CONSOLIDATION PLAN ON COUNCIL CALENDAR

Continued From First Page.

mittes of the board by action of Ernest J. Brewer, president, attacked Brewer's stand, and W. W. Matthews, fourth ward commissioner, charged that the bond program was being used by the school administrative department as "a political pay off."

Threat of a libel suit was hurled by Boston at Brewer, because of the board president's announcement that Boston had been removed from the committees "for the good of the school system."

He charged that Brewer is attempting to gain control of the board committees, and charged by implication that the board president was attempting to establish himself as a dictator of board policies.

Blames Vote on Diversion.

Boston ascribed his removal to his refusal to vote to divert $50,000, dedicated by the board to Maddox and Murphy Junior High schools, to pay for architectural services on a proposed $800,000 school construction program.

"I submit that if a member of a committee, appointed for a term, may be removed or 'fired' at any time by the president of the board, and thus deprived of his responsibilities and duties to his constituency and to the board, by such arbitrary disfranchisement, then we do not need a board of education, but a dictator to act as a dictator for the board and the people to suit his varying policies and caprices," Boston said.

"I shall not let this matter pass. I propose to take the matter of my rights in the premises before the whole board for its consideration and decision, at such time as Mr. Brewer presents himself before the board in his official capacity so as to accept his own responsibility and allow the board to decide between us."

Matthews Raps Boston.

Matthews leveled his fire at Boston and Ed S. Cook, third ward commissioner. He attacked expenditure of

at CABLE'S

NEW UPRIGHT GRANDS

New—Novel—Inspiring and beautiful are these latest creations of the piano-makers' art. Full-toned, full-scale instruments that occupy only the floor space of two chairs. $395

The ESTEY

Neu-Art

Finished in beautiful mahogany. Only $295

The CABLE

Midget Upright

The ideal instrument for a home of limited space—beautiful and finished. $295

Brand-New BABY UPRIGHT

Just right for the Small Home or Apartment. Full 88-note scale—special at $179

PRACTICE PIANOS

as low as $45

Easy Terms if Desired Your Old Piano in Trade

Orchestra and Band Instruments

—the most complete display in the South. Best makes, lowest prices, easy terms.

INVESTIGATE THIS SPECIAL OFFER!

Learn to play PIANO ACCORDION

IN 5 WEEKS

FREE PRACTICE!

Classes Starting Now Come In Today!

Our Established Reliability is YOUR Protection

CABLE PIANO CO.

84 Broad St., N. W.

NO BETTER CLEANING AT ANY PRICE

Any Garment — Men's Felt Hats (PLAIN)

Two-Piece Dresses, Spring Coats, Coat Suits, Bathrobes, Men's Wool Suits, Top Coats

29c

3 Dresses Spring Coats Men's Top Coats Wool Suits Bathrobes

Called For and Delivered

Cash and Carry (ADD 10c FOR INSURANCE)

1. We Guarantee No Shrinkage

2. Replace Buttons and Brush Out Cuffs

3. Make All Minor Repairs Without Charge

Main Plant: 572 Edgewood Ave., N. E. JA. 2406

THE NEW PRIMROSE

NO BETTER CLEANING AT ANY PRICE

Continued From First Page.

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

At the beginning of the year, he said, he told Dr. Adams and Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Ed L. Almond that emergencies would arise which had to be met and that they would not have enough

EMILE FRANQUI, 72, BELGIAN BANKER, DIES

Former Finance Minister, Copper King, Succumbs in Brussels.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(UP)—Emile Franqui, Belgian banker and economist and former finance minister, died today in Brussels, an Exchange Telegraph reported.

Franqui, 72, a Belgian citizen of the world, maker and breaker of cabnets, whose genius in the field of international finance more than once saved his land from disaster, might have been taken anywhere for one of the Morgan dynasty, so assured and imperious was his manner.

Bulky and flat footed, never separated from his derby and his umbrella, the Belgian copper king some times was called the financial dictator of Belgium.

After finishing military school he went to the Belgian Congo where he dabbled in copper and politics so successfully that the late King Leopold used him to help check Great Britain's outward reach toward rubber and copper.

Said to be one of the richest men in Europe and a personal friend of former President Hoover, Franqui was head of the Societe Generale de Belgique, the biggest bank in Belgium. He also was vice president of the Societe Nationale de Credit a L'Industrie, a regent of the National Bank of Belgium; chairman of Lloyd Belge and a member of the board for international settlements.

BARTON SMITH. TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Barton Smith, 83, internationally known in the Masonic fraternity, died today after long illness. He was made a 33rd degree Mason in 1887. In 1894 he became an active member of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite for the northern Masonic jurisdiction serving as most puissant sovereign grand commander in 1910.

COL. ARTHUR DAVIS. RIPLEY, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Colonel Arthur Davis, 91, oldest Confederate veteran of this county, died today at his home near Woodville. A native of Madison county, Colorado, Davis came to Lauderdale county when a child and had lived here since.

GEN. E. D. DIMMICK. PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 16.—(AP)—General Eugene D. Dimmick, 95, veteran of the Civil and Spanish-American Wars and Indian campaigns, died

To Lead Motorcade Here

Mayor Roy Otwell, Jr., of Cumming, yesterday announced that he has declared Roosevelt Homecoming Day a public holiday in his city and will lead a big motorcade of Cumming and Forsyth county supporters of the President to Atlanta for the celebration November 29.

at his home today. General Dimmick headed the honor guard when President Abraham Lincoln's body lay in state at the capital. He was cited for the rescue expedition to the Rough Riders in Cuba.

SQUIRE GORDON IRESON. ASHLAND, Ky., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Squire Gordon Ireson, justice of the peace, who married Miss Viola Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, and James Lin, foster son of the president of China, several months ago died here tonight.

BUTLER ASPINALL. LONDON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Butler Aspinall, 74, noted barrister practicing in maritime arbitrations, and chairman of the British and American joint arbitration board in 1920, died today.

GEORGE II, OF GREECE, OFF TO TAKE THRONE. PARIS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—King George II of Greece, en route from London to rule the newly proclaimed monarchy, departed tonight for Rome, accompanied by a half dozen Greek royalists.

Hundreds of his countrymen cheered him as he boarded the train.

150,000 F.D.R. TICKETS ISSUED TO GEORGIANS

Continued From First Page.

to see and hear the President in Atlanta and no one will be disappointed if they come to Georgia's capital city November 29.

Senator George is reported very much improved from the cold which has kept him in bed for several days. He is expected to be out again in a day or two.

In connection with the meeting of the congressional delegation Friday and its approval of the plans, General Chairman Cooke yesterday gave out the following statement:

The congressional delegation met Friday afternoon, reviewed in detail and approved plans for the Roosevelt Homecoming Day celebration that had been arranged by General Chairman Eric Cooke. They expressed delight in learning that the detailed arrangements insured the proper handling of the enormous crowd expected, without any difficulty, or traffic congestion, and that space would be available for every person desiring to see and hear the President.

Parking facilities for the automobiles of all visitors have been arranged near Grant field, and details will be announced shortly in the press with plans and charts of the streets of the city of Atlanta, evidencing the proper routes of the entry into and departure from the places of assembly on November 29.

There will be no difficulty whatever in securing tickets for arrangements have been made and tickets prepared to care for all persons desiring to be present. On and after November 23 such tickets will be distributed throughout the state and placed in the hands of the local chairmen of motorcade and transportation committees, members of the congressional delegation, with an ample reserve available at the offices of the Roosevelt homecoming celebration headquarters, 101 Marietta Street building, Atlanta.

No Charge for Tickets. "Details covering local distribution of tickets throughout the state will be furnished either through your local press or such information can be gained from the offices of the congressmen, in the respective congressional districts, or through the general headquarters of the Roosevelt homecoming celebration committee. There will be no charge for any tickets to Grant field or to any of the other scheduled entertainments in exercises. The President's address will not be made behind closed gates and the use of the tickets is for the purpose of identification and not for the purpose of those wishing to hear the address.

"These tickets will be colorful and serve as interesting mementos of this great occasion, as well as will facilitate the handling of arrangements in Atlanta that day, making possible early recognition of those desiring to attend the address by the President and the several committees working toward the handling of the program for the day. In short, the above arrangements will give the committees in charge opportunities of knowing, with reasonable accuracy, the numbers to be in Atlanta on this day, as well as from which sections they will come.

"In our opinion, this will be the greatest day ever held in the south, and probably one of the most enthusiastic demonstrations ever given President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. "Though details covering mechanical arrangements, as mentioned in the congressional statement above, will necessarily have to be announced from day to day, incident to the preparation of maps from charts, blue prints and the like, covering locations of parking places and points of assembly for the delegation from several sections of the entire state, it is noteworthy now that any Georgia citizen desiring to hear the President's address in Atlanta, on November 29, will only have to call at the headquarters of the Roosevelt homecoming celebration in the 101 Marietta Street building, Atlanta, or mail a letter or postal to these headquarters, with the request for a ticket to the President's address. Likewise, such tickets will be available upon request of the local motorcade or transportation committee chairman through all sections of the state, as well as through the offices of the 10 congressmen."

DE BONO'S REMOVED AS WAR FORCE CHIEF. Continued From First Page.

denne he is in the premier's confidence.

Peace talks between Mussolini and Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador, subsided momentarily while the world watched the two tests the fascist head had set himself. The first is a test of Italy's military and strategic power in taking and holding Ethiopia—or what Mussolini wants of it.

The second is a test of fascism itself in its attempt to discipline the people and withstand the economic siege of 51 nations combined against it.

Orders which Il Duce gave to prefects of Italy's provinces in a secret session were sent out through the kingdom. The official were instructed to assure compliance with the economies which Mussolini considers necessary to combat the economic penalties.

De Bono is 69 years old. A soldier of note, he was a pioneer in the fascist movement and is a quadrivir of the fascist grand council, and as such a life member. When the Ethiopian situation began to develop Mussolini at once sent him to assist Africa from his previous post as minister of colonies. Mussolini himself taking over the colonial post. Then in indication of the careful plans of the government—Air Marshal Italo Balbo, another quadrivir, was sent to be governor general of Libya, adjoining Egypt and the Sudan. In both cases there was talk at first of Mussolini getting big men out of the way, but events showed the reasons.

De Bono has been a soldier since his youth. He attended the military colleges of Milan, Modena and Torino, and then became a lieutenant in the Eritrean war of 1887 with Ethiopia. He was a lieutenant colonel and chief of staff in the Libyan war of 1912 and 1913. In 1915 he became a colonel of the crack Bersaglieri, in 1916 a general of brigade, in 1917 a general of division, in 1918 a general of army corps. He served as chief of police and commander-in-chief of the fascist militia later, went to Tripoli in Libya as governor, came back after four years to become colonial minister, then went to Eritrea.

De Bono is 64. He entered the artillery corps in 1890. In 1912 he was a captain of staff in the Italian-Turkish war, and for heroism in battle he was promoted major in the field. At the outbreak of the World War he was assistant chief of staff of the second army corps. He earned six promotions for bravery in the field and was awarded foreign decorations. In November, 1917, he was appointed assistant chief of the general staff. He was of great assistance in the reorganization of the army after the defeat of Caporetto. In 1919 he became an ambassador. He became chief of the general staff in 1923, commanding all forces, land, sea and air, besides being president of the army council. He was named marshal in 1928 and became governor general of Libya in 1928 for five years.

Armies Move Slowly. Italy's two armies in Ethiopia moved cautiously today through the hostile mountain regions into which they were penetrating, alert for any deadly machine gun ambushes.

Advance columns on both the Eritrean and Somali fronts ran the risk of sudden bursts of fire which in the last few days have brought death to varying numbers of fascists before they could rout the native warriors.

In the Eritrean sector, the Ethiopian defenders fought at special advantage, having rocky hideouts from which they could surprise the Italian columns.

On the southern front, General Rudolfo Graziani's main forces were pushing north from Gorrallow slowly advancing toward the Harar region, but it seemed evident a major battle there must await a deeper advance by the main body.

The most bitter encounters of this week were those at Azbi on the northern front, where General Mariet's Danakil column finally dispersed native ambushers, and in the Fafa valley on the southern front, where Maletti's column overtook retreating enemy.

Planes were being pressed into service for transporting supplies and wounded men as well as bombing and scouting operations. Service was started from Makale, on the northern front, to Asmara, Eritrea.

ITALY CALLS MORE TROOPS TO COLORS. ROME, Nov. 16.—(UP)—Three new groups were called to the colors tonight in an official mobilization decree.

Officers and privates of the carabinieri corps of the classes from 1907 to 1912 were called in one group. Artillery worker officers of 1890 to 1912 were called in another and subordinate officers and specialists of the topography services of the classes of 1904 to 1912 were mobilized in the third.

Men born in those years will report immediately for service in the east African campaign.

There was no estimate of how many troops the call involved.

FULTON SEWER SHARE CONFERENCES TODAY. Continued From First Page.

and to proceed at once to build a program adequate for Atlanta's needs.

The new proposal attempts only to make definite the enumerated services which the county will give in its contention that it is ready to make $350,000 or its equivalent in services and materials available for the sewer program.

Council Approval Asked. A copy of the amended proposal will go to city council Monday for sanction of that body in order that it may be a part of the official record.

"All we want is absolute and definite assurance that Fulton county will carry out its part of the $350,000 agreement," Reynolds said yesterday. "We do not want any misunderstanding later about the matter, and that is why we have redrafted the agreement."

If, as the county officials contend, the agreement originally approved by the commission means that a minimum of $350,000 will be available, there should be no objection to unqualified and immediate approval of the amended agreement. That is what we anticipate. It is not our desire to be placed in the attitude of forcing the county to act precipitantly, but we must know, and that by Monday night."

McDaniel Project Recalled. City officials recalled that the county commission made an agreement with the McDaniel trunk line sewer through which the city was to allow residents living in the county but outside the city limits to connect. The connections were made as the work progressed, but when the time came to settle up with the city, the original agreement was junked.

"We want to avoid any such possibility in this instance," one official asserted.

"It has always been the county's intention to join in the program and to contribute its share," Commissioner Almond said yesterday.

"We are co-operating with the city engineers to the fullest extent and right now we are engaged in trying to work out suitable plans."

"Fulton has no cash money and we can not issue bonds, as the city did to get its money. If Atlanta had loaned money to the city, the city would be in exactly the same fix we are in."

"However, we have put up a fair proportion of the money in general, to supply all the sand, the rock for certain parts and the hauling for most of the projects. It was fair to the city and to the county."

"We are attempting to find some additional materials and services we can furnish and we hope to settle this finally today at a conference," Almond said.

He said he wished to assure the people of Fulton county and the city of Atlanta once and for all that Fulton will participate in the sewer program without a single doubt.

City's Resolution. Text of the amended resolution follows: "Whereas, Fulton county should participate to the extent of at least $350,000 cash value, in the construction of the disposal plants and extension of sanitary sewers.

"Therefore, Be It Resolved by the mayor and general council of the City of Atlanta that the offer of the county to furnish sand, stone, hauling and equipment as set out in their resolution of November 13, be accepted as part of the county's contribution, provided such materials as furnished by the county is acceptable to the WPA and provided further that if the materials and equipment furnished and the work so done do not amount to the value of $350,000, then the county shall furnish additional material, equipment or money to make the total furnished by the county equal to $350,000 in value. All material, equipment and hauling to be furnished and done promptly as needed on the work."

"It is further understood that in arriving at the value of the county's contributions, the following prices shall attach:

"Stone—$2 per cubic yard f. o. b. job.

"Sand—$2 per cubic yard f. o. b. job.

"Hauling other materials, the price shall be based on the difference between the delivered price and the price at plant or on cart."

"Allowance for equipment to be such as may be approved by the WPA authorities."

"Value of any other material furnished shall be the fair market value of such material."

"Any contributions by other municipalities made to the county for any part of this work shall be paid into the city of Atlanta in cash and credited to the county as part of the county's contribution."

"This resolution contemplates the acceptance of the county's proposition of November 13, as amended herein, and any part of the county's proposition not specifically amended herein shall be as set forth in their resolution."

LONDON ARMS PARLEY DESTINED TO FAILURE. Continued From First Page.

policy if it stood a chance of being successful. But the Japanese say they are certain of its failure and that such a fiasco would leave China's economic structure in a worse condition than before.

Concretely, the Japanese believe the Chinese government will be unable to hold out for long against the realization of silver throughout the country because the central government's power is not strong enough in the provinces.

Lawfully Hoard Silver. They call attention, moreover, to the fact that foreign bankers in the international settlement at Shanghai are would thus be in a position to hoard silver without violating China's currency laws.

The Japanese further state that China's new paper currency lacks the necessary backing of a strong government and they therefore doubt it will maintain its face value. Once it begins to depreciate, they say, it might slide down the currency toboggan to unlimited inflation.

Thirdly, Japanese experts here say the Chinese government requires a currency fund to peg the new Chinese dollar at a stable level. The three big banks of China hold approximately 300,000,000 Chinese pesos worth of silver. If the Chinese silver dollar were devalued to the value of the new paper dollar, those holdings would rise to about 500,000,000 Chinese dollars.

Hindings Mainly Currency. Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, British economic expert now in Shanghai, suggested that these silver holdings would be enough to maintain China's currency at a constant rate of exchange.

But the Japanese say that such stabilization requires an unlimited equalization fund to iron out exchange rate fluctuations. They point out that China in 1934 had a passive balance of payments of approximately 600,000,000 Chinese dollars and declare that the Chinese could compensate for this big adverse balance only by exporting a corresponding amount of silver and gold.

The Japanese claim it is impossible for China to do this.

As an alternative Japan evidently contemplates modernization of China under Japanese tutelage and insists that, with this task well under way, a balance of payments would be struck by improvement of Chinese industries and a consequent increase of China's exports.

China May Seek Aid. "At a later stage," a Japanese financial specialist told the United Press, "China may seek and obtain financial assistance, meaning while, China should rely upon her own resources, that is, on the Chinese banks' own silver stocks, and a foreign loan should be postponed indefinitely."

One Japanese spokesman added that he believes Britain may be trying to draw China into the sterling block, thus bringing her within the British economic orbit. This, he said, would patently be to the advantage of British exporters to the Chinese market.

U. S. HASTENS WORK ON 5 NEW SUBMARINES. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—On the eve of a naval conference at which much will be said about submarines, Secretary Swanson was informed today that work was being hastened on five of the navy's 16 new submarines so that they can be commissioned next year.

The navy's building program will give the United States full treaty strength by 1936 in battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers, and in submarines and destroyers by 1942. The limitations laid down by the Washington and London treaties expire in 1936.

United States now has 84 submarines of 70,000 tons, figuring 41 ships that are over the 12-year age limit specified in the treaties.

Great Britain and Japan, the other chief naval powers, are armed with smaller total submarine tonnage than the United States, but a larger percentage is new, modern ships. Great Britain has 56 submarines, totaling 209 tons, and Japan 57 of 68,349 tons.

To Replace Aging Subs. Many of the American subs are fast approaching retirement age but the work, Dress Gloves DUCKETT'S ARMY STORE 79 Alabama St.

construction bureau's report to Swanson said excellent progress was being made in building the new ships to replace aging vessels to insure the United States of adequate submarines.

The report showed the hull of the Porpoise, being built at the Portsmouth navy yard, was 95.2 per cent complete. Engines and machinery were 92.2 per cent complete.

The Pike, also under construction at Portsmouth, was 81.4 per cent complete in hull and 82.9 in machinery.

Steady progress also was reported on the three boats under construction by the Electric Boat Company, the Shark's hull being 96 per cent complete, engines and machinery, 91 per cent; the Tarpon's hull 97 per cent, machinery 81 per cent; the Perch's hull 57.5 per cent, and its machinery 22.4 per cent.

Excellent progress also was reported on the Pickrel, Permit, Plunger, Pollock and Pompano, under construction in the Electric Boat, Portsmouth and Mare Island yards.

Of the navy's total submarines 43 of 45,600 tons, were "under age" and ready for action during 1935. By comparison Great Britain had 36 new undersea craft of 44,954 tons, and Japan 49 of 61,837 tons.

During this year four American submarines of 3,390 tons have reached the end of their usefulness, and in 1936 19 others of 15,170 tons will reach the age limit, leaving the United States with only 20 undersea submarines of 27,040 tons.

JAPANESE DELEGATES LEAVE FOR LONDON. TOKYO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Japanese delegates to the London naval conference left Tokyo today with instructions to stand up on demands for parity with the United States and England.

A cheering crowd waved farewell to Admiral Otsu Nagano and Matsuyama, the delegates, as they departed to arrive in London about December 1. Foreign Minister Koki Hirota and Minister of the Navy Mase Otsu were among the farewell delegation.

"Insistence on a common upper limit for navies of all powers will be for Japan's fundamental policy at the conference," Admiral Nagano said.

CEREAL HEIRESS TO WED LAWYER. Marjorie Post Hutton and Joseph Davies Engaged, Paper Says.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Post Hutton and Joseph E. Davies, Washington lawyer, Cholly Knickerbocker said today in the New York American, will be married December 15.

The society columnist's forecast of the wedding of Davis and Mrs. Hutton, New York society and divorcee wife of Edward F. Hutton, was the latest of a series made by various New York society writers. All previous reports have been denied by Mrs. Hutton.

Yesterday a social columnist set the date for their wedding as December 6. Mrs. Hutton immediately replied:

"Mr. Davies and I do not plan to be married on December 6—or any other date."

Edward F. Hutton, chairman of the board of General Foods Corporation and member of the New York Stock Exchange, said the former Marjorie Post, Postum cereal heiress, were divorced last September.

As part of the financial settlement, Hutton, who is an uncle of Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow, gave Mrs. Hutton his yacht, "Hussar," largest yacht afloat.

Aboard this yacht, renamed "Sea Cloud," Knickerbocker, as well as other society writers, said the couple will spend their honeymoon on a mid-winter cruise to the West Indies.

THREE WILL BE TRIED IN MURDER OF KING

Trio of Croats Charged With Partnership in Assassination of Yugoslavian.

AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Three Croats charged with complicity in the assassination of King Alexander, of Yugoslavia, more than a year ago, will go on trial Monday.

Police said today they viewed the accused men—Mio Kraj, Zvonimir Pospechil and Ivan Rajitch—as merely gunmen hired by persons who desired to change Europe's peace treaty frontiers by violence.

Their lawyer, Georges Desbans, hired by Pittsburgh (Pa.) Croats, asserted his clients are "patriots living only for the liberty of Croatia."

The defendants are expected to settle, by their testimony, the question of what nation, or nations, aided the Ustaich terrorist band, to which they belonged, in plotting the death of the monarch when he arrived at Marseille for a visit to France. Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, was slain at the same time.

Hungary stands accused by Yugoslavia at Geneva of harboring the Ustaich group, but has steadfastly denied the charge.

More than 500 mobile guards were brought to the scene of the trial today as a warning was received from police of other countries that Ustaich terrorists "seldom reach court alive."

The alleged leaders of the band, Dr. Ante Pavelich and his assistant, Eugene Kvaternik, as well as Ivan Percevitich, alias Gustave Percevitich, will be tried in absentia on the same charges as the imprisoned trio—complicity in the assassination and association with known criminals.

Pavelich and Kvaternik are in jail at Turin, Italy, although no formal charges have been lodged against them. The court of appeals there decided the assassinations were political crimes, and denied France's request for their extradition.

FUNDS ARE APPROVED FOR POTATO CONTROL. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Emergency relief funds, Comptroller General McCarl has held, may not be used for enforcement of the compulsory potato control law.

However, the AAA said today, McCarl agreed that Department of Agriculture funds not appropriated for a specific purpose plus advances against collections of the potato taxes might be used for administrative purposes.

The sum of the situation, AAA said, is that probably enough funds will be available to enforce the law until congress convenes.

ROCK FALL KILLS TWO IN TENNESSEE MINE. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Crushed beneath a huge rock, two miners at the Tennessee consolidated mine near here were dead today.

Gerald Johnson, 25, was killed instantly late yesterday and Robert Helton died today.

Charles Johnson, Gerald's father, and Jack Lively, both of whom were working in the same shaft, narrowly escaped. Lively said he saw the stone toppling and called to the others to run.

PICTURE FRAMING. Pictures—Window Cornices—Mirrors—FACTORY PRICES—Imported Gifts. OLD FRAMES RESTORED. Display Rooms: 280 Garrett St., S. W. GEORGIA ART SUPPLY CO. WA. 2124.

plenty in the assassination and association with known criminals.

Pavelich and Kvaternik are in jail at Turin, Italy, although no formal charges have been lodged against them. The court of appeals there decided the assassinations were political crimes, and denied France's request for their extradition.

FUNDS ARE APPROVED FOR POTATO CONTROL. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Emergency relief funds, Comptroller General McCarl has held, may not be used for enforcement of the compulsory potato control law.

However, the AAA said today, McCarl agreed that Department of Agriculture funds not appropriated for a specific purpose plus advances against collections of the potato taxes might be used for administrative purposes.

The sum of the situation, AAA said, is that probably enough funds will be available to enforce the law until congress convenes.

ROCK FALL KILLS TWO IN TENNESSEE MINE. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Crushed beneath a huge rock, two miners at the Tennessee consolidated mine near here were dead today.

Gerald Johnson, 25, was killed instantly late yesterday and Robert Helton died today.

Charles Johnson, Gerald's father, and Jack Lively, both of whom were working in the same shaft, narrowly escaped. Lively said he saw the stone toppling and called to the others to run.

PICTURE FRAMING. Pictures—Window Cornices—Mirrors—FACTORY PRICES—Imported Gifts. OLD FRAMES RESTORED. Display Rooms: 280 Garrett St., S. W. GEORGIA ART SUPPLY CO. WA. 2124.

TRUST AN OLD TRUSS! "56 Years of Knowing How" Light, Airy Fitting Rooms, Medical Expert In Attendance Trusses, Elastic Stockings JACOBS PHARMACY CO. WHITEHALL AT ALABAMA STREET

A GREAT CHRISTMAS GIFT FOREST FIRE ACTION LAMP Beautiful scene in colors. Cylinder inside revolves. The fire seems to roar, burn when the lamp is turned on. Flames and smoke seem to rise through the trees—reflect on lake. Modernistic design top and base. Beautiful new oil painting reproduced in full colors on parchment. Complete, ready to plug in. More attractive than lamp we sold for $5.00 in 1930. New price—

$1.00 POSTPAID Send $1 bill or money order for prompt shipment postpaid. PRINT your name and address plainly. No lamps shipped C. O. D. or on approval. Order as many as you want. Dozen lots $10.00.

IGNITION CO. 280 Temper St. Omaha, Nebraska

5 p.m. is a test of how you FEEL

"How do you feel .... Rotten! why do you ask?"

"Because, you are not yourself!"

It is, oh, so hard to get thru the day when you don't feel well. Joe Hamilton is not troubled with any serious organic complaint... as yet... just a recognizable case of plain run-down condition... probably due to overwork, worry, loss of sleep or a lagging appetite.

Joe Hamilton feels "rotten" today because his red-blood-cells are low in number and strength—his body is run-down... his brain dull. All because he lacks vigorous red-blood-cells to carry the oxygen he breathes to the tissues to make use of food factors for the production of energy... tissue repair... body tone... muscular and mental freshness.

S.S.S. Tonic has won popular approval as a remedy for this condition. Its long years of use is your guarantee of satisfaction. Medical Science has proven its effectiveness over and over again. It starts the gastric juices in the stomach and provides, too, the minerals the body requires in rebuilding those red cells.

Begin taking S.S.S. Tonic now and, unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... and renewed strength. You owe it to yourself and friends to feel better and look better.

Two sizes are on sale at all drug stores. The big 20-ounce bottle is sufficient for a two-weeks treatment, and represents a saving in the purchase price. To make sure you benefit from this suggestion, see that you get the genuine S.S.S. in the red cellophane package.

You are invited to listen in every Friday night to the S.S.S. Music Box Hour—over Mutual Broadcasting Network (WFLW—WOR—WGN—CKLW)—Good old-fashioned music. 50 artists. 9:30 p.m., E.S.T.

S.S.S. TONIC Makes you feel like yourself again.

236-238 Mitchell St., S. W. Shipments Direct or Through Your Jobber

Write Us for Our Catalog and Prices

Near Terminal Station

Buy National and Be Sure—Only the National Eagle

LEGAL SLOT MACHINES PAY FLORIDA $1,480

First Returns Made From Leon County; 3,000 Licenses Issued.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Florida got its first cash from slot machines today.

It totaled $1,480 and came from W. Kenneth Collins, tax collector of Leon county. It represented the state's share on licenses to three slot machine operators and on licenses for placing 35 individual machines in operation.

As this money clinked into the treasury, the comptroller's office proceeded with approval of permits under which slot machines are licensed by the county tax collectors. The number moved toward 3,000 and the number awaiting consideration caused office employees to work overtime today.

The week-end mail from the counties was expected to bring in several thousand dollars of license money. It goes into the general revenue fund out of which the state's general operating expenses are paid.

Leon county had 61 location permits approved. Escambia 132, Hillsborough 108, Lee 108, Manatee 25, Orange 186, Palm Beach 176, Pinellas 233, Polk 176, St. Johns 20, Sarasota 50, Volusia 117 and Alachua 8.

There were 28 counties in the smaller population groups for which no location permits had been approved.

So far there have been permits for 21 "skill" machines and six "trade" machines, but no application has been made under the "other machine" where opponents of the slot machine bill claimed all forms of gambling such as dice tables, roulette wheels, faro and other card games could be legalized.

The comptroller's office said at present it was relying on the machine owners and operators to state correctly the classification of their machines. After the applications for licenses are completed, a check-up will be started to determine whether the devices are properly licensed.

HIGH COURT REFUSES

BAIL FOR FRANK HAMES

The Georgia Supreme Court yesterday denied bail for Frank Hames who is being held by Atlanta police on an extradition warrant in connection with a bank robbery at Rogersville, Ala.

A habeas corpus petition filed by Hames in Fulton superior court was denied. The case was taken to the supreme court on that ruling.

Georgia laws do not provide for bail in such cases, the supreme court held.

In another case the court declined to review an appeal of Mrs. Corine S. Smith to recover $15,000 damages from the Atlanta Gas Light Company in a claim involving Atlanta business property.

Mrs. Smith charged her property was damaged by the gas company's 12-inch pipe along the edge of the sidewalk adjacent to it on Peachtree road near Peachtree creek. She lost her case before Judge Edgar Pomeroy in Fulton superior court.

The court said her bill of exceptions was defective.

See Society Section today for Announcement of

Musica
SALE
Ladies' Shoes

SAY
Yes!
TO THE
COMMUNITY
CHEST

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons

Gain in Health and
Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak—the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarting burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any drugist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland—a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.—(adv.)

MADAM IONA
Clairvoyant and Palmist

I do hereby agree and solemnly guarantee to make you no charge if I fail to tell you whether your husband or sweetheart is true or false. I will tell you how to gain the one you most desire. Giving names, dates, lucky numbers, name your enemies. I advise you on love, courtship, marriage, divorce, business, law suits, speculation and transactions of all kinds: tell who and when to marry, settle, leave, or separate and family troubles, etc. In fact anything you wish to know and find out. Come to me and I will put your mind at ease.

Special Readings, 50c
9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M. 2226 Peachtree Rd.

FERTILIZER LEADERS MEET HERE TOMORROW

Industrial self-government following the lines of operation under the invalidated National Recovery Act will be the subject of discussion at the convention opening here tomorrow of the National Fertilizer Association. Approximately 400 men representing from all parts of the United States will attend the meeting.

James A. Horton, chief examiner of the Federal Trade Commission, will address the conventional annual convention at a dinner Tuesday night. He will speak on "The Promotion of Fair Competition."

One of the purposes of the convention is to give the members of the industry an opportunity to discuss the various phases of the program of voluntary self-government, which has been submitted to the Federal Trade Commission for approval.

C. T. Melvin, of Tampa, Fla., president of the association, will preside during the convention session, which will be held at the Biltmore hotel.

BIBLE LECTURES
Four Meetings Scheduled by
Y. M. C. A. Club.

The Y. M. C. A. Bible Club opens its program for the winter months with a meeting at 6:45 o'clock Tuesday night in the lecture room of the clubhouse, at 145 Lockie street, N. W.

Professor R. L. Ramsey, principal of Fulton High school, will speak at the opening session on "Eternal Echoes."

He will conduct a series of four meetings, with four series by various speakers comprising the winter program.

The second series will begin on January 7, with the Rev. R. A. Schermerhorn, professor of philosophy at Gammon Theological Seminary, as conductor. The subject for this series will be "What Can I Believe?"

The third series of lectures will be given by the Rev. Peter Marshall, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, whose subject will be "Behind the Curtain."

The final series of the program will have as its speaker the Rev. Ashby
Jones, former pastor of Ponce de Leon Baptist church and well-known platform speaker. His subject will be "Christianity in Terms of Today." All men of the city are cordially invited to attend the lectures.

LOW-HANGING CLOUDS
TO COVER CITY TODAY

Continued low-hanging clouds will keep the sun from shining on Atlanta today, according to the weather forecaster, who predicts that the murky, drizzly condition which harassed motorists and pedestrians yesterday will clear up very slowly.

Gloomy weather is general over the larger portion of the middle west and eastern United States. From the Great Lakes to Miami, Fla., yesterday the clouds were virtually solid, but the sun shone in Canada and lower Florida.

The temperature has been steadily dropping since midnight Friday, when it was as high as 58, but the mercury leveled out at 47 and the weatherman does not think it will go much lower today.

NEW X-RAY EQUIPMENT
ON EXHIBITION TODAY

The new X-ray equipment at the Emory University hospital, the latest development in the field, will be open to inspection from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon at the hospital. Invitations have been extended to 500 friends of the university to view the new equipment, as well as the newly refurbished hospital rooms.

Dr. Russell H. Oppenheimer, superintendent of the hospital, and Robert Hudgins, assistant superintendent, will act as hosts. They will be assisted by Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of the university; Mrs. Robert Hudgins, Mrs. Malcolm H. Dewey, director of the Golden Cross fund; the charity division of the Wesley Hospital System and members of the hospital staff.

JUNIOR HIGH FESTIVAL
WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

A festival will be presented next Friday night by the student body and the Parent-Teacher Association of the Joseph E. Brown Junior High school.
It was announced yesterday. A. G.
Martin, principal, said proceeds from the show will be used to equip the school auditorium with seating facilities.

A faculty committee of 20 is preparing a series of stunts and novelty acts. Several members of the faculty and the P. T. A. are in charge of other phases of the production, with
P. W. Walton directing the personnel. Members of the P. T. A. will serve supper and entertain. Doors to the festival will open at 7 o'clock.

GRANGE SPEECH URGES
PRIVATE BANKING END

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 16.—(AP)— Transfer of the country's banking interest from private hands to the federal government was urged before the National Grange today by Erwin E.
King, master of the Washington State Grange.

"Privately owned banks are operated primarily for the profit accruing to the owners," said King in presented a resolution which he asked the national body to adopt.

"We favor government-owned and controlled banking system, which will be operated in a similar manner to the postoffice department."

Previously a resolution was offered advocating a maximum interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent on federal farm loans.

Annual at Agnes Scott
Wins National Honors

Silhouette for 1934-35, annual publication of Agnes Scott College, was awarded a first-class rating for colleges with 500 students or less, for the fourth consecutive year, by the National Scholastic Press Association, it was learned yesterday.

The theme, "Diary of an Agnes Scott Girl," selected by Caroline Long, editor, and Betty Lou Houck, business manager, was praised by the judges. It was said.

In recognition of its successive honors, the Southeastern Photo-Process Company has presented the Silhouette a cup, which will remain permanently in the annual office.

Shirley Christian, editor of the 1935 Silhouette, said yesterday she would follow the tiny official at a recent convention of the college press association and this year's annual would not be the "conventional" type.

She said there will be a popular ballot to select students who will try out for the beauty section. All art work will be done by students, and the staff will try to give an informal record of the college year.

ATTORNEYS OF SOUTH MEETING HERE FRIDAY

Bar Association To Hold
First Regional Session;
New Yorker To Speak.

Lawyers of the southeast are to participate in the newly-conceived regional meeting plan of the American Bar Association Friday and Saturday when the first of such gatherings in this section of the country is scheduled to be held here.

Members of the bar from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Pensylvanian, Tennessee and Kentucky, whether members of the association or not, are invited to attend. E. Smythe Gambrell, chairman of the association's conference, said yesterday.

William L. Ransom, New York president of the American Bar Association, is to head the list of speakers. He is scheduled to speak on a plan for the better organization of the association.

Scott M. Loftin, Jacksonville, Fla., immediate past president of the association, and Henry Upson Sims, Birmingham, Ala., another past president, are scheduled for prominent parts in the deliberations of the conference.

Other speakers include a representative selection from the southeast and other sections of the nation.

The regional meeting will open with a luncheon at the Biltmore hotel at 12:30 o'clock Friday, Frank Carter, president of the Atlanta Bar Association, will make the address of welcome, and Julius C. Smith, of Greensboro, president of the North Carolina Bar Association, will make the response.

Unauthorized practice of law by laymen and the better organization of the bar are the principal topics outlined for discussion.

Older lawyers present are to hear from B. Allison Moore, Charleston, S. C., state chairman of the junior bar section, after which those in attendance under 35 years of age are to hold their own luncheon.

Gambrell explained that the bar association is now working along two general lines—to increase its service to the practicing lawyer and to make it possible for ethical lawyers to combat shyster practices through disciplinary measures within their own ranks.

$100,000 APARTMENT
PLANNED AT LAGRANGE

LAGRANGE, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—
Contracts have been let here for construction of an apartment house,

Atlanta Life Insurance Executive Was Once Stanford Football Coach

WALTER POWELL.

Walter Powell Formerly
Nationally Known Figure in Sport World.

Because he left football behind when he entered business few people know that one of Atlanta's leading life insurance executives was one of the country's outstanding football players and coaches. He is Walter Powell, general agent for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, with offices in the William-Oliver building.

Powell first broke into national football headlines when he was selected as All-Western center on the University of Wisconsin team, Western conference champion.

After leaving college Powell coached Western Reserve, of Cleveland, from 1914 to 1918 and developed a team that won the Ohio conference championship.

Enlisting in the navy during the World War Powell's athletic abilities were employed at the Charleston Navy yard as athletic director.

After the war, Stanford University called him to California, where he served as coach of that famous university's football team and later as athletic director. He was also a member of the national football rules committee.

Becoming interested in life insurance as a profession, Powell then made the long jump from California to Atlanta, where he entered the insurance field. He became general agent for the John Hancock in Atlanta in 1926.

The John Hancock agency now has an organization of 16 persons in Atlanta and is the largest in the south.
Consistent increases have been shown since the organization of the agency in 1926 and business written this year will represent an increase of more than 100 per cent over 1926, according to Powell.

Powell still maintains some contact with football by officiating occasionally at various games and has officiated at two Rose Bowl contests, Alabama-Washington State and Tulane-University of Southern California.

GENERAL IS SAVED
FROM KENTUCKY TRIAL

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 16.—(AP)—
With a pardon Governor Ruby Laf-oon today saved Adjutant General
H. H. Denhardt from trial on two indictments that followed the national guard occupation of Harlan county during the August primary.

The indictments charged the adjutant general with criminal contempt for disobeying a temporary order of Harlan circuit court forbidding troops to act as peace officers in the county, and with using force unlawfully to obtain possession of the ballot boxes of Clovers Point precinct.

How About Your Eyes?

JNO. L. MOORE
ESTD 1892
E. SONS, INC.
70 FORSYTH ST., N. W.

Two-Bit Cleaners
Any Plain Garment
80 EDGEWOOD AVE.
457 PEACHTREE ST.
458 PONCE DE LEON
ADD 1c FOR INS.

29
CASANOVA

We Make the Necessary Examination
OPTOMETRISTS

W. B. COLBY F. C. WILSON

a cheerful light of welcome!

Civilization has progressed with giant strides from the wood and oil flame lights of ancient Greece to the electric light of today. We know now that good light preserves eyesight, that the perfect light for human eyes is found in the shade of a tree on a clear day. Small wonder then, that improper, inadequate lighting can so easily cause headaches, fatigue... and even serious impairment of vision. Science tells us that each visual task requires a different amount of light... the more exacting the task imposed on our eyes, the better the light should be.

This Company's 44 Home Lighting Advisors may be able to assist you in having adequate, efficient lighting in your home. Each of them is equipped with a clever little instrument, the Sight Meter, which enables her to measure the exact amount of light at any place in a room. Their experience has taught them how to obtain the best lighting at the lowest cost.

The service of these young ladies is available to any customer of this Company—without cost or obligation. Just call our nearest office for an appointment to suit your convenience.

Years ago science found that in many cases, poor eyesight is due directly to improper and insufficient light. In an effort to perfect a lamp which combined the needed factors for sight-saving light with beauty of design, leading authorities in the fields of lighting and optical science—eyesight specialists, scientists, lighting engineers, lamp and fixture designers—built hundreds of experimental lamps... tested them in schools, homes, offices. And out of years of painstaking efforts they developed one lamp, specifications for which won approval of the Illuminating Engineering Society, an independent association of engineers specializing in scientific lighting.

The I. E. S. Lamp helps eyes perform tasks easier, better, because it gives from six to ten times as much useful light as the ordinary lamp; its opal bowl diffuses light to eliminate all harmful direct and reflected glare; it gives an even, uniform light, without shadows, over a wider area; and at least 40 per cent of its light is thrown upward to provide general illumination in the room. All lamps meeting the rigid specifications of the Illuminating Engineering Society for perfection in light, beauty in design, carry the I. E. S. Tag of Approval. Look for this tag when you buy lamps from this Company or any other electrical dealer.

The I. E. S. Lamps illustrated are reasonable in price and may be purchased for as little as 95c down and $1 a month on terms. Come in and see these and the many other models; they are attractively designed, sturdily built—and even more important, will give you lighting that helps to prevent eyestrain and its consequent fatigue and headaches, and at the same time keeps the lighting in your home decoratively soft and comfortable.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

A beautiful reproduction of this and previous illustrations by the widely-known artist, Wilbur G. Kurtz, may be obtained on request to this Company, 463 Electric Building, Atlanta, Georgia. On attractive paper, they are suitable for framing. All advertising is deleted. This is Number Three of a series, "Light Through the Ages."

Annual at Agnes Scott
Wins National Honors

Silhouette for 1934-35, annual publication of Agnes Scott College, was awarded a first-class rating for colleges with 500 students or less, for the fourth consecutive year, by the National Scholastic Press Association, it was learned yesterday.

The theme, "Diary of an Agnes Scott Girl," selected by Caroline Long, editor, and Betty Lou Houck, business manager, was praised by the judges. It was said.

In recognition of its successive honors, the Southeastern Photo-Process Company has presented the Silhouette a cup, which will remain permanently in the annual office.

Shirley Christian, editor of the 1935 Silhouette, said yesterday she would follow the tiny official at a recent convention of the college press association and this year's annual would not be the "conventional" type.

She said there will be a popular ballot to select students who will try out for the beauty section. All art work will be done by students, and the staff will try to give an informal record of the college year.

$6.95
$3.95
$5.50

This is the mark of the new I. E. S. Lamp. It certifies that the lamp has been approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society, an independent scientific association. The lamps illustrated here, and other designs on display in our store, carry this Tag.

U. S. CHAMBER HOPES 'SPELL' WILL CONTINUE

'Review' Says States and Cities Now Able to Bear Relief Load.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Organized business expressed hope today President Roosevelt's legislative "breathing spell" will last and recovery and relief expenditures will be curtailed drastically next session of congress.

"There have been indications in recent weeks that congressional leaders are thinking this way, too," said United States Chamber of Commerce in its periodical "Washington Review."

"There are strong intimations the administration intends to insist the states and their subdivisions carry the burden of relief in the future," the publication added. "Improvement in the economic position of the states and municipalities is such that they are fully capable of bearing a larger load."

"Government regulation of hours and wages either for private industry as a whole, or for enterprises performing work for the government, has been demonstrated to be both unnecessary and uneconomic."

It was noted "many business men" have questioned the value of the industrial conference called for December 9 by George L. Berry, the president's co-ordinator for industrial co-operation. Some were said to believe it would be futile to attend, others that they should be present.

THIEF IS LASHED IN DALWARE JAIL

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 16.—Dennis Leone received ten lashes at the New Castle county workhouse today. He had pleaded guilty to jewel thefts from two dwellings.

Leone, who is 24, also was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100.

MRS. J. McDONALD DIES AT HOME OF SON HERE

Rites for Mother of All-Star Concert Series Manager Tomorrow.

Mrs. J. P. McDonald, pioneer Atlantian and mother of Marvin McDonald, widely known in musical circles here as manager of the All-Star Concert series, died yesterday at the home of her son, 35 Peachtree circle. She had been a resident of the city since 1860.

A native of Lafayette, Ala., where she was born in 1857, she was a daughter of the late John William Akers and the former Miss Annie Elizabeth McGinnis. Mr. and Mrs. Akers were one of the first three families to settle in the Edgewood section and it was in the home of the Akers that the section was named.

Mrs. McDonald was the wife of the late James P. McDonald, who for 24 years was deputy clerk of the superior court. She was married in 1877. Her education was received at the LaGrange College, LaGrange, Ga.

Mrs. McDonald had been an invalid for a number of years, but had been seriously ill only 10 days.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Louise McDonald Dickerson; four other sons, Julian, Wayne, Dawson, and Arthur McDonald; and Mrs. W. K. Holmes, of Cedarhurst, Ga.; two brothers, F. M. Akers Sr. and Ralph Pitts Akers and a granddaughter, Miss Annie Dickerson.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the home of her son, Marvin McDonald, with Dr. Luther Bridges and Dr. S. L. Morris officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

LAND TITLE EXAMINED FOR COLLEGE PARK P.O.

Purchase of a new postoffice site in College Park by the United States government is being completed by the district attorney's office here, it was reported yesterday.

The parcel fronts 100 feet on the west side of West Main street with a 155-foot frontage on Columbia avenue. The sale is being handled by C. I. Trimble, with the purchase price set at $6,500. Trimble's attorneys are preparing the titles for transfer. These will be examined by H. H. Tysinger, of the district attorney's office, before submission to Washington officials. The vendors will be allowed to clear the property of the building on it within 30 days after the titles are accepted. Work on the new postoffice building is expected to start as soon as the deal is completed.

EMORY STUDENTS NAME SLEDGE VICE PRESIDENT

James Sledge, Decatur, has been elected vice president of Emory University by a margin of four votes, defeating Bob Wiggins, Macon, by a vote of 272 to 268.

Sledge has been prominent in student activities and scholastic achievements, and is at present a Rhodes scholarship nominee from the university. Walt Davis, Dalton, was elected to the position last spring, but failed to return to school.

Beneficiary of Auto Accident Victim Is Paid $1,000

Claim No. R-77997

Georgia.

Check No.

North American Accident Insurance Company

Home Office, 209 So. La Salle Street Chicago

Not Valid unless Release on Back is Signed by Claimant

November 4, 1935

Pay to the order of Era Garrett, Widow and Beneficiary of Homer B. Garrett, deceased,

$1000.00

One Thousand and No/100

Dollars

PAYABLE THROUGH THE NORTHERN TRUST CO.
CHICAGO, ILL. 2-13

FORM 440-B

Facsimile of check for $1,000 which the North American Accident Insurance Company paid to Mrs. Era Garrett, widow and beneficiary of Homer B. Garrett, who was injured on Candler road near Atlanta in an automobile accident on August 24, from which he died on August 29. Homer Brook Garrett was insured through The Constitution.

Brazil To Play Big Part in History Of Future Undeveloped Land

This is the 43d in a series of articles on South American travel by the Rev. Henry Edward Russell, of McDonough, Ga.—Editor's note.

TRES CORACOES, MINAS, Brazil—Here is a small interior town placed on a bend of the river. The railroad had to bend its way along the river's course on its way into the interior.

The name Tres Coracoes means three hearts. Two versions are current as to how it got its name. One says that a wealthy farmer had a son who studied to be a priest and having completed his studies he was invited to be a priest in a chapel built by his father, which had been dedicated to the sacred hearts of Jesus, Mary and Joseph. The other version is that the bends in the river resemble three hearts.

In this town a large number of soldiers are stationed. Brazil has compulsory military training on her list of laws and in every town of any size we have seen groups of soldiers drilling or loafing in the shade. A regiment or so of cavalry is situated in Tres Coracoes and troops of horsemen move about the street. The military force of this nation has the appearance of being very large, considering the population.

"Green Shirts"

Brazil has her own order to promote nationalism. It is known as the "Green Shirts" and the Greek sigma is their symbol. Along the roads this sigma has been cut into trees, carved in rocks, painted on fences and otherwise displayed. It is after the order of Mussolini's black shirts and the nazis of Hitler's Germany. On a national holiday they had representative passing out propaganda sheets making music and parading the streets. These green shirts are of relatively recent origin and the motive that apparently generates enough steam to keep the populace moving toward greater militarism is the fright of invasion linked with the possibility of a recurrence of internal trouble.

The most urgent scare that has come to our ears is the one that has been built up around the Japanese participation in the life of South America. This doesn't call for debates on the Monroe doctrine but one speaker explained that the Japanese have planted colonies near Callao, Peru to Santos or some other Brazilian port. In this territory, so the rumor goes, the Nippon government has appointed a governor and a police force. The Japanese are said to be planting as colonists. With these two ports and this line of attack and communication it would be possible to split South America in half along a natural watershed that would be desirable in an invasion of conquest. In any talk of war on this continent the climate and terrain are the two greatest deterrents. Remember what swamps, jungles, mountains, rivers and weather did for the armies of Simon Bolivar and General San Martin, in say, the case of the Brazilians. The problems that Italy faces from this quarter in Ethiopia would be multiplied to belligerents here. Camps and their products can at least serve civilization well in this respect.

Brazil Prepares.

Brazil hasn't forgotten past trouble and they evidently want to be prepared if it comes along again. During the World War a movement got under way to move the capital from Rio de Janeiro to a spot selected for the purpose in the adjoining state of Goyaz that is known as the future federal district. This territory is remote, difficult of access and almost unexplored. The rest of the nation due to these two causes. Taking this into consideration the revolution of 1930 did away with the proposal to go to Goyaz and in its stead arranged for a committee to select a future capital site. I had it explained to me that the capital would be placed in the inland town that would provide the largest "hand out" to the commission in charge. The object in this movement is to secure a capital from sea attack but many will have an opportunity to talk about this before the files and records leave Rio. Rio is the heart and romance of Brazil, the object of her songs and poetry and despite the rivalry that exists between Rio and some of the other cities and the hog's share of attention that she receives, it is hard to imagine the city of the future without Rio. Rio will probably come to pass when Washington is moved west of the Mississippi.

Territory Envisaged.

Brazil no doubt realizes her position in the family of nations down here. Her flag waves over more than half the South American continent both in the matter of territory and population. Population is sparse throughout the continent as compared with other lands but nevertheless these other nations want more territory. Bolivia and Paraguay are just now trying to reach agreement over territorial disputes that culminated in a war that almost ended the male population of both nations. In a village hotel a placard that proclaimed the excellencies of Brazil had figures on exhibit that might invite trouble should other nations want more territory. This land, that as yet lacks human habitation to any extent of becoming crowded.

Census Only Estimate.

Brazil, according to the most liberal estimates, has less than 45,000,000 people. It may be said in passing that a census in this land is scarcely more than an estimate made with governmental deliberation. One of the announcements setting forth the size of Brazil makes this startling statement, that is larger than the following: European, Asiatic and American nations combined: England, Denmark, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Portugal, Spain, Italy, Turkey, Rumania, Serbia, Estonia, Greece, Japan, Palestine, Lebanon, Syria, Chile, Argentina, Paraguay and Uruguay. Brazil could place all of these nations within her boundary and have room to spare. In order to impress the reader further with the size of Brazil the placard stated that two states in Brazil are larger than Argentina and Uruguay with Austria thrown in for good measure.

Not only is Brazil enormous in size, but she has more adjacent neighbors than any other nation. Eleven flags, representing three colonial possessions and eight republics, wave over territory that borders the frontier of this colossal of the south. Having traveled close to 6,000 miles through and around this nation one feels led to state that in the future history of the world this nation must play an important part. Its immensity implies diversity of climate, resources and general potentialities making it desirable to people from every clime.

Accident, Birth 'Moves'

Entire Family to Grady

Due to the birth of a baby and an automobile accident, the temporary address of the Bates family, who ordinarily live at 1015 North avenue, N. W., is now Grady hospital.

Here's the sequence of events which caused the "removal" to the "New address."

About 3 o'clock Friday night, James L. Bates, producer and head of the family, suffered internal injuries when his automobile skidded on a lonely road four miles above Powder Springs, overturning on an embankment and pinning him beneath the car.

A passing motorist picked him up about two hours later, and brought him to the hospital, in serious condition. Shortly after being admitted to the institution, his wife came to visit him.

From his room she went to the maternity ward of the hospital, where at 1:20 o'clock Saturday morning she became the mother of a seven-pounder.

Mother and child are doing well, but the father's condition is still serious, doctors said last night.

WILD PURSUIT BRINGS INJURY TO OFFICERS

Policeman Seriously Hurt
When Car Overtaken During Fast Chase.

The wild pursuit of a reckless driver resulted in injury to two radio patrolmen yesterday when the officers' automobile was overtaken and overturned several times and landed "bottoms-up."

The accident occurred at 11:20 o'clock yesterday morning on Piedmont avenue, near yards of the West Lumber Company and near the bridge where the Southern Railway belt line crosses Piedmont avenue, N. E.

Radio Patrolman M. B. Stroud, one of the injured officers, was admitted to Crawford W. Long Memorial hospital, suffering from internal injuries and a broken neck. His condition is serious.

His partner, Radio Patrolman W. J. Stephens, driver of the car, suffered cuts and bruises of the head, face and body. He was discharged from the hospital after treatment.

According to Radio Patrolman Stephens' report, attention was drawn to the reckless driver at Boulevard and Edgewood avenue, N. E., when the car passed the radio vehicle on the wrong side.

Pursuit immediately began, with the reckless driver zig-zagging in and out of traffic and passing red lights at intersections. When the vehicles reached Piedmont avenue near the bridge, their quarry veered sharply to the right. The officer lost control of the machine.

It leaped the curb, plunged down the embankment and overturned several times. The driver was thrown out of the car, and the officers, removed them from the wreckage and took them to the hospital.

The other car escaped. Police expressed belief the driver was a bootlegger who thought the officers "had the goods on him."

WILLIAMS TO GIVE FLIGHT EXHIBITION

Development of Two-Way Radio To Be Shown in Flight.

A 700-horsepower motor will roar over the field at the municipal airport today as Major Al Williams, leading exponent of aerobatic airman, gives an exhibition of his famous series of aerial maneuvers. The program will begin at 2 o'clock. There will be no admission fee.

Major Williams' appearance is part of an educational program to attract spectators to the airport. He will demonstrate the development in air transportation of the two-way short wave radio communication. As he dives, climbs, rolls, drops bombs and flies sideways, he will explain his movements by short-wave, which in turn will be broadcast from the field so that visitors will know what is happening.

Major James L. Key will head the list of airmen, civic and business leaders, who will occupy the speakers' stand. Among them will be Colonel Ira Rader, Captain C. O. Patrick, Jack Gray, C. E. Shepard, W. G. Hastings, E. K. Williams, E. A. Gilliam, Raleigh Drennon, Frank Wilson, George Gardner, C. W. Smith, Richard Hager, Beverly Griffith, Wiley Wright, J. A. Kahler, E. P. Pickers, G. E. Milligan, R. F. Murray, L. J. Jackson, P. J. Higgins and others.

Major Williams will select the winning model plane from more than 40 entered by Atlanta junior model builders. The winner will be awarded two round-trip tickets on an air line to a point he selects.

$800 BAR PIN STOLEN

AT FORT McPHERSON

Theft of a bar pin valued at $800 from quarters of an officer at Fort McPherston was one of several robberies reported to police yesterday.

The officer is Colonel Ralph H. Glass, who told police the bar pin, a platinum piece set with three large diamonds, was stolen from his quarters during the past week. Detectives are investigating.

Entering through the floor of a rear washroom, burglars took $50 from a cash register and $5 worth of cigars from the grocery of S. L. King at 499 Bryant street, S. E. The robbery was discovered when King opened the store yesterday morning.

Merchandise valued at $28 was stolen from the grocery of H. M. Payne at 124 Elliott street, S. E., when burglars bored a small hole in a brick wall in the rear, he reported to police yesterday. The loot included cigars, soap, canned goods, flour and chewing gum.

Gaining entrance by cutting a hole in a wall from a vacant adjoining building, burglars stole more than 100 cartons of cigars from the Pay-and-Take Grocery Company at 793 Marietta street, N. W. It was reported to police yesterday.

A tin bucket hidden behind a cash register and covered with a towel, containing $10, was stolen from the linen store of L. D. Fallaize at 251 Peachtree street, N. E., he told detectives yesterday. The burglar used a pass key on the front door, he added.

ROOSEVELT CLUB MEET

TO BE HELD THURSDAY

The Georgia Roosevelt Club, through Gerald P. O'Keefe, secretary, yesterday announced a meeting for 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the Piedmont hotel when plans for participation in the Roosevelt home-coming celebration will be made.

Falphy L. Turner, of McDonough, president, will preside.

Talks are to be made by Mayor Kemp, Mrs. Boyd Quarles, H. B. Smith, of Dahlonega; J. C. Rosser, of Hapeville; Preston Almond, of Athens; W. T. Atkinson, of Newnan; Paul Lindquist, of Columbus; E. E. Cox, of Camilla; W. B. Smith, of Manchester, and Erle Cocke, general chairman of the home-coming celebration.

$1,000 CHECK SENT WIDOW OF GARRETT

Candler Road Man Lost Life
When Car Rolled Down Embankment.

On August 24 H. B. Garrett, of Candler road, Brookhaven, lost control of his automobile as he was going down a hill on sharp curve and went down an embankment, where the car was overturned. This resulted in an accident from which he died on August 29.

H. B. Garrett was holder of a travel and pedestrian accident insurance policy which he had secured through The Atlanta Constitution. Proof of the claim of accident and death was filed later by the beneficiary, and on November 11 Mrs. Era Garrett, widow of her late husband, received a check for $1,000. The accident was reported in The Constitution on August 25.

The first thought is: That it pays to be a subscriber to The Constitution in connection with the accident insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

Important Protection.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing that early death or injury is just a matter of time. The Constitution's insurance feature which it offers to all of its subscribers. Had Mrs. H. B. Garrett not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

OFFICIALS ATTEND DEER, TURKEY HUNT

Sealey-Stanley-Hill Group Assemble for Semi-Annual Shoot.

Members of the Sealey-Stanley-Hill Hunt Club will assemble this afternoon on Colonel's Island for their semi-annual deer and wild turkey hunt which will begin tomorrow.

Headquarters are to be maintained at Yellow Bluff near Midway church. Governor Talmadge and a party of friends will join the hunt later in the week.

Judge Vivian L. Stanley, of the state prison commission, said yesterday that the following would attend:

Dr. W. L. Barker, P. L. House, Attorney-General; M. J. Yonans, Claude Mills; George Allen Madison; Richard W. Courts, Charles A. Meyer, Randolph Williams, Dr. Harold McDonald, Dr. J. H. Riddle, S. M. White, Dr. C. E. McGee, F. B. Clarke and C. E. Gregory, of Atlanta; Walter Mercer, Dawson; Marvin Moore, Sumner; Dr. J. S. Golden, Jasper; Dr. C. D. Elder, Marietta; Mayor C. P. Vaughn and R. H. Mansell, of Roswell; B. T. Johnson, W. W. Dykes, John Sheffield, and Charles Crisp, of Americus; R. P. Chobbs, Athens; Dr. J. M. Trumble, Senoia; Dr. M. C. Hendrix, Roy Cobb and Fred Wilbanks, of Ball Ground; B. W. Moreland, of Dawson; Congressman Frank Wheelchel and Dr. C. Loyd, of Gainesville; W. L. Selman, T. H. Selman, T. A. Masbourn and C. C. James, of Summerville; E. E. Moran, Leesburg; Dr. Grady Coker and C. Huey, of Canton; George W. C. Fisher, Milledgeville; W. C. Sturdivant, Summerville; H. C. Smith, Lawrenceville; Hatten Lovelace, LaGrange; Earl Harrison, Blairsville; W. A. Bunch, Lincoln.

FEDERAL PEN INMATE IS CUT BY PRISONER

Warden A. C. Adherl, of the federal prison, said yesterday that one convict in his institution was in knife prison hospital suffering serious wounds as the result of an altercation with another prisoner. The warden said that the cutting was caused by a quarrel between the prisoners over some property.

Director

Selassie Flashes 'No Retreat' Order to Fighters in North

FOUR GOVERNORS MASSING FORCES BEYOND MAKALE

Crack Native Regiment Parade Before Haile to "St. Louis Blues"; Harlem Eagle Resigns.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY AT MAKALE, Ethiopia, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The firm order, "no retreat," has been sent by Emperor Haile Selassie to the warriors of the northern army, the Italian intelligence section reported today it had learned.

Ethiopia's fighting men are concentrating at Antalo, midway between Makale and Amba Alaji, this information, under Ras Seyoum, former governor of Tigre province and northern military commander.

Ras Seyoum will be joined there by three other leaders and their forces, Dergies (governors) Desta, Ali and Dera. Six thousand rifles have been sent to the tribesmen from Addis Ababa.

Unofficial reports brought in by scouts said the Ethiopian chiefs of the provinces of Gojjam and Jimma had renounced Emperor Haile Selassie for former Emperor Lij Yasu, a son of the great Emperor Menelik. Lij Yasu, who was deposed in 1916, has been imprisoned for years. A recent report said he was transferred from near Harar to a place near the frontier of Kenya, regarded as safer from the Italian advance.

Aerial scouts sighted a great red tent surrounded by hundreds of smaller ones at the Antalo encampment, they said after returning from the assault, and officers promptly expressed belief the big tent belongs to the long-hunted Ras Seyoum.

Apparently Emperor Haile Selassie's principal aid in the north quit his Tembien mountain hideout with the intention of joining the forces concentrated near Amba Alaji, officers said.

Most of the Ethiopians were believed to have fled the bombardment early.

The latest advice from the Somali front place the Italian advanced position just beyond Sasa Baneh, about 130 miles from Harar. The recent battle involving Colonel Maletti's column occurred considerably in the rear of this advance position, about 200 miles from Harar.

Colonel Maletti's column participated in the drive on Sasa Baneh, once reported captured but later still held by the Ethiopians.

Ras Seyoum, officers said, was probably the chieftain who was bombarded with several hundred of his men near Antalo.

The troops stepped to the tunes of those two famous American songs, "Dixie" and "St. Louis Blues." Officers also were surprised. Many had their first sight of cornets and trombones and one super-long saxophone was noted by a particularly lanky Walegan.

The usual native drums and flutes also were included in the band, giving Broadway syncopation a new flair. The soldiers were from Walegan, the richest province in Ethiopia. They marched to the palace to salute the emperor.

One of the most popular and modern-minded rulers in Ethiopia, Makonnen Demissio, who holds the title "bitwoded," meaning "beloved of the emperor," led this triumph.

Old residents remarked that none except the emperor himself had ever received such an honor and that Emperor Haile Selassie, who brought a gramophone and American records to Ethiopia, aided in training the band.

The troops were the first to see yet seen in Addis Ababa. Khaki-clad, they marched silently past the emperor, turning their eyes to the right and raising their arms and rifles in salute. The emperor smiled proudly.

Then chieftains had their opportunities to make speeches of loyalty to the throne, as is customary. The tribunes performed amazing acrobatic feats with spears, daggers and rifles before the emperor.

Walegans are especially famed for their oratorical powers and even the emperor himself and his aids were unable to keep a straight face as they listened to the extravagant language of the beautiful chieftains.

Harlem's Eagle Quits. Julian, who has resigned his command, tearfully bade farewell to the emperor and announced his departure from Ethiopia forever tomorrow. He had given as a reason for resigning that his authority was not respected.

Attired in a morning suit and striped trousers, Julian turned over his uniform and sword to Haile Selassie, saying, "Your supreme illustriousness, it is with ever-piercing emotion and a bleeding heart that I am resigning as an officer of the great army of the Conquering Lion of Judah." He said his talents had not been appreciated.

Anti-British Riot Renewed at Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 16.—(UP)—Anti-British rioting by students in Cairo and elsewhere broke out today, marking the fourth day of demonstrations in favor of complete Egyptian independence.

Police fired on rioting students in the industrial school here after they began to smash the furniture in resentment against a remark of the headmaster that British rule is a good thing and the students are fit only to be slaves.

When the police charged, the students hurled furniture at them. At Zagazig, northeast of Cairo, police fired on a crowd which, excited by a student demonstration, began to throw stones. Two students were reported wounded.

Further disorders were feared here as striking theological students began to demonstrate.

The government notified Italy today that civil airplanes en route from Italy to Ethiopia are forbidden to fly over Egyptian territory if they carry armed passengers or persons in military uniforms, unless the uniforms are those authorized by the international Red Cross convention.

Sunday Movies Discontinued. EATONTON, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Due to poor crowds, Sunday movies will be discontinued here, it is announced.

Newest Italian Objective and Scenes Enroute

The fall of this primitive Ethiopian city of Harar, shown at top, overrun with cactus and surrounded by an ancient wall, was reported imminent as Italian troops continued their push from the south. Harar is the capital of the province of Ogaden.

These rare pictures, three views at bottom, tell something of Italy's latest triumphant drive in northern Ethiopia. A squad of fierce Askaris, Mussolini's native colonial warriors, is shown scrambling over a hilltop in pursuit of Ethiopians. Retreating before their superior foe, the Ethiopians are seen trying to hide in a thicket. But the Askaris ran them down and at the bottom the fleeing soldiers, surrounded on all sides, are shown surrendering. Associated Press photos.

These rare pictures, three views at bottom, tell something of Italy's latest triumphant drive in northern Ethiopia. A squad of fierce Askaris, Mussolini's native colonial warriors, is shown scrambling over a hilltop in pursuit of Ethiopians. Retreating before their superior foe, the Ethiopians are seen trying to hide in a thicket. But the Askaris ran them down and at the bottom the fleeing soldiers, surrounded on all sides, are shown surrendering. Associated Press photos.

CROSS SECTIONS

Dr. S. D. Gordon, widely known minister, will be guest preacher at the Druid Hills Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Dr. Louis D. Newton will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning on "Awake, O Zion, Put on Thy Strength."

Dr. Louis D. Newton will be heard Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock on the Druid Hills hour over station WGST, speaking on "What Everybody Believes." The musical features of the program will consist of a group of vocal solos by Raymond Nixon, bass, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John B. Felder.

"Ductless Glands and Personality" will be the subject of a lecture in personal psychology to be given by Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the mahogany room of the Ansley hotel. The talk will be open to the public.

Judge Hugh M. Dorsey said yesterday that he will announce his decision in the Angelo Herndon case at the end of this week. Herndon, asked for freedom from his 18-to-20-year sentence received on conviction of attempting to incite a riot, and White House secretary of New York, former United States assistant solicitor-general, argued his habeas corpus writ as chief counsel. He contended the law under which the negro was found guilty is unconstitutional.

Miss Louise Shilling, traveler in the far east, will speak on China at St. John's parish house at 6:30 o'clock tonight. Her talk will be given to the Young People's Service League and visitors are welcome to attend.

Rev. James M. Nabrit will speak at the 3 o'clock vesper services Sunday afternoon at the Sisters' chapel of Spelman College. The speaker is pastor of Mount Olive Baptist church, Atlanta.

Miss Frances Brophy, member of the staff of the National Tuberculosis Association, will be entertained at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Monday as the guest of the Georgia and Atlanta Tuberculosis Associations. The luncheon will be held at Davison's tea room.

Atlanta chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants will hold its regular monthly dinner meeting at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the Atlanta Athletic Club. The Rev. Raimundo de Ories, dean of St. Philip's cathedral, will be principal speaker. A technical talk will be made by Grady Powell, a director of the local chapter.

Lions Club of Atlanta will meet at luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday with "Tableside Chats" as the feature of the program. Speakers will be Joe Wolfe, George Hamilton, John Paul Jones, Vic Todd and Dr. Witherspoon Dodge. The luncheon will be held at the Henry Grady hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Shannon, of Fairburn, left yesterday for Demopolis, Ala., where their son-in-law, Sam Wilder, of Pinhook, Ala., was notified of his appointment by Dr. Agnes Samuelson, president of the National Education Association.

Bundle wrapping will be the subject of two daily classes next week at the Atlanta Opportunity school, according to Charles H. Kiehl, president. Training in wrapping bundles will be given free to any who wish to enroll in classes which begin at 10 and 12 o'clock each day. Persons seeking holiday employment during the Christmas season are invited to attend.

Fellowship Club of Gordon Street Baptist church will hold its monthly meeting at 7 o'clock tomorrow night at the church. A Thanksgiving dinner and a program of talks and music will feature the program. Dr. F. L. Glisson, pastor of the Park Street Methodist church, will be principal speakers.

Kiwianians of Atlanta will meet at luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday. Joseph A. Frohock, of Bradenton, Fla., chairman of the international committee on agriculture, will be principal speaker. Ed Armstrong, mayor, will read several numbers and the 1935 Kiwanis golf trophies will be presented. The meeting will be held in the civic room of the Ansley hotel.

United States War Veterans organizers will meet today at the headquarters, 25 Pryor street, S. W., before making tours of the state to organize local chapters of the organization. Major Mike Thomas will preside and L. L. Kirksey, who has been instituting local chapters for the past week in north Georgia, will describe the work.

Competitive examination for position of postmaster at Emory University is announced by the United States Civil Service Commission. The post is now held by T. J. Barfield, of 1178 Clifton road, whose term expires next March. Presidential appointment is used in the final selection of the postmaster. For information, write the secretary of the Atlanta Board of Civil Service, at the main postoffice.

Health centers for babies under 4 years of age, will be held at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the J. C. Harris school, and the Fulton Bag & Cotton Mill; Thursday at the Andrew Stewart nursery and the Sylvan Hills school, and Friday at the Faith school. Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, announced yesterday.

Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church today will observe Loyalty Day. Dr. Ryland Knight, pastor, will preach at 11 o'clock on "Plus Sign Religion." There will be special music by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Charles Chalmers. The pastor will preach tonight on "Moses and Pharaoh."

Dr. J. H. Powell, well-known eye specialist and long-time resident of Atlanta, died about 11:30 o'clock last night at his home, 2284 Memorial drive, S. E.

Dr. Powell had offices in the American Savings Bank building, and was well known throughout the city. Funeral plans will be announced later by Brandon-Bond-Condor.

Dr. Powell, a native of Lenoir, N. C., was stricken ill Friday. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, Philip Powell and Jacob Powell, both of Lenoir, and two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Sudether, Lenoir, and Mrs. Mary Williams, Wilcox, N. C.

He was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic church, the Knights of Columbus, Old Guard and Capital City Club.

Dr. J. H. Powell, well-known eye specialist and long-time resident of Atlanta, died about 11:30 o'clock last night at his home, 2284 Memorial drive, S. E.

Dr. Powell had offices in the American Savings Bank building, and was well known throughout the city. Funeral plans will be announced later by Brandon-Bond-Condor.

Dr. Powell, a native of Lenoir, N. C., was stricken ill Friday. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, Philip Powell and Jacob Powell, both of Lenoir, and two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Sudether, Lenoir, and Mrs. Mary Williams, Wilcox, N. C.

He was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic church, the Knights of Columbus, Old Guard and Capital City Club.

Dr. J. H. Powell, well-known eye specialist and long-time resident of Atlanta, died about 11:30 o'clock last night at his home, 2284 Memorial drive, S. E.

JAPANESE TROOPS MASSED IN CHINA READY FOR FIGHT

10,000 Land Near Great Wall; 300,000 in Reserve. New Autonomous State in North Is Expected.

By EARL H. LEAF. United Press Staff Correspondent.

TIENSIN, Nov. 16.—(UP)—Thousands of Japanese troops massed in North China today while troop trains rolled into strategic points laden with field guns, tanks and all the war supplies necessary for military support of the autonomous state which, according to persistent reports, will be set up in the near future.

Ten thousand Japanese soldiers of the Kwantung army, Japan's force on the Asiatic mainland, were concentrated at Chiehchow in field pieces, horses, tanks and other military equipment. Eleven troop trains are at the border point now, including two armored trains.

At Tangku, the down river port of Tiensin, the Japanese destroyer Tsui lay at anchor.

This displays of Japanese armed forces coupled with the significant declaration a week ago by General Kenji Doihara, army intelligence chief in North China, that an autonomous state would be established, indicated the situation rapidly was approaching a climax.

The long-predicted autonomous north China state probably will include all of Chahar, Hopei, Shantung and Shansi provinces and possibly Suiyuan. The area covered by the first four alone is equal in size to one-third of the United States.

Members of the Japanese cabinet still were in Kraining in field pieces of recent army maneuvers. While no official statement had been made, government officials were deeply concerned over the situation and maintained constant communication with Japanese army officers in various parts of China.

Heavy Troop Movements. Japanese dispatches claimed that General Chiang Kai Shek, generalissimo of the Nanking government, was planning to reorganize China's military defense system. They also said that heavy Chinese troop movements are taking place north of the Yangtze river, principally in Honan and Shantung provinces. Japanese military officials believed the troop mobilization was designed to intimidate northern Chinese generals who may be connected with the autonomy movements.

Latest reports obtained by Nippon Dempo News Agency indicated Chinese Kai Shek has massed at least 200,000 soldiers in the area. The news agency also reported that crack troops were being stationed near Hsuehchow as a threat to Governor Han Fu Chu of Shantung province.

In Shanghai, Akira Ariyoshi, the Japanese ambassador, affirmed in an exclusive interview with the United Press that Tokyo has no demand upon China.

Ariyoshi's reaction to the autonomy movement showed a cleavage with Japanese military sources. He expressed confidence that the Nanking government would deal successfully with the movement, although he admitted that some Japanese military circles might take a sympathetic view.

As to the situation in Shanghai arising from the death of a Japanese sailor from an attack last week by an alleged Chinese civilian, Ariyoshi said that Chinese authorities have assured the Japanese consul of their cooperation in suppressing anti-Japanese incidents. He reiterated that Japan had not protested to China through diplomatic channels.

Action in the movement to give the northern provinces political independence might come tomorrow or Monday, he asserted.

Government officials said, however, they had no knowledge of a manifesto reportedly issued by Yin Ju-keng, administrative commissioner of the demilitarized zone, calling for north China autonomy.

DIATH BLOW DEALT SELF-GOVERNMENT MOVEMENT. SHANGHAI, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Chinese resources said today that General Han Fu-chu, governor of Shantung province, had dealt a blow to the north China self-government movement by ordering his provincial authorities to suppress any activities favoring local independence.

However, agitators for the autonomy of north China continued their activities in Hopei province, asking the support of civic organizations and trying to arouse popular support for the self-government idea.

The evacuation of Chinese from the Chapei district of Shanghai slackened today with the enforcement of a municipal order prohibiting their departure except with permission.

The withdrawal of armed Japanese patrols from the Hongkew district reduced the tension in the city.

The Chinese finance ministry fixed February 4 as the time limit for the nationalization of the nation's silver, a measure against which the Japanese have protested as interfering with trade developments between the two nations.

Despite the agitation for north China independence, Hopei province's two most powerful figures, General Sung Cheh-yuan and Governor Shang Chen, remain silent on the autonomy issue while General Doihara and other Japanese military leaders continue their conferences with Chinese officials.

Nanking authorities generally seemed to regard the north China action as premature, saying it was destined to failure unless it is backed by Japanese military force.

Japanese troops were reported concentrating along the Great Wall of China and several thousand of these troops, with artillery and trucks, arrived at Shanhaikwan.

ITALIAN SANCTIONS START AT MIDNIGHT

Continued From First Page.

to both British and French envoys that Germany would not serve as a dumping ground and clearance point for contraband goods for Italy. And the United States has already proclaimed an embargo against both Italy and Ethiopia.

In answer to these measures Mussolini prepared for his most energetic campaign so far in Africa. He removed General De Bono from command of the fascist troops and placed in charge Marshal Pietro Badoglio, "first soldier of Italy," and one of the outstanding strategists of the World War. This move was interpreted as the beginning of a determined push from all three fronts in Africa.

On the surface all was quiet as the momentous step upon which the very existence of the League itself depends was taken. It was felt in all quarters that if the League is unable to carry through its program to successful conclusion the blow will be the killing one.

FASCIST PAPERS TO RESIST SANCTIONS. ROME, Nov. 17.—(Sunday).—(AP)—The fascist grand council, after a lengthy meeting to chart Italy's course after application of League of Nations economic sanctions (tomorrow), declared early today that Italy henceforth will remember November 18, 1935, as "the day of ignominy and iniquity in the history of the world."

The council, highest body of the regime, called on all Italians to observe Monday as the signal "for implacable resistance" to the sanctions that will be put into effect on that day by 51 nations.

The nation was ordered to observe the day as a national holiday, with all public buildings and most private houses flying the Italian flag.

Shakeup in Command. The council meeting was held shortly before midnight last night, after Premier Mussolini had given indication to the world that he would pursue determinedly Italy's campaign in Ethiopia.

Il Duce announced a shakeup in the high military command of the East African military forces, moving General Emilio De Bono as commander in chief of the invading army, and appointing Marshal Pietro Badoglio to succeed him.

Vigorously denouncing the sanctions, Il Duce's grand council resolved "that sanctions, which never before have been applied to a nation, should be applied to Italy as a punishment for her heroic resistance to the Italian people economically, as a vain attempt to humiliate this people and to prevent the nation from asserting its rights and defending its right to existence."

Implacable Resistance. The council resolution emphasized the "enormous sacrifices" which the Italian people, it said, demonstrated themselves as recognizing "the historical trend of actual events."

It invited them to "oppose against sanctions the most formidable resistance by mobilizing through all organizations of the regime, all the moral energy and material resources of the nation."

Thousands of enthusiastic black shirts jammed downtown streets as the council assembled to consider problems facing Italy.

Cheers thronged clustered outside the Palazzo Littorio, headquarters of the fascist party.

They followed the black shirt banner, which was removed with an honor guard of militia to the Palazzo Venezia, scene of the council meeting.

The crowds chanted: "Duce, Duce," and yelled: "Down with sanctions," and "Viva repressals!"

Economic Siege. Shortly before the official communique denouncing the League of Nations action was issued, it was announced the council would hold another meeting Monday evening to discuss further the threats to Italy which are read into the application of sanctions by the fascist authorities.

Every city hall throughout Italy was ordered to "erect a slab to record the economic siege so that it will remain throughout the centuries as a documentation of the enormous injustice perpetrated against Italy," a country which has given "so much to the civilization of all continents."

The large fascist crowd outside the council meeting place appeared to enjoy the fact that Il Duce's grand council was the first to break out of the government's repressal policies. This order required public offices to be closed by 6:30 p. m., starting last Friday, in order to save heat and lighting.

Curry Favor With Nations. The council sitting, however, shortly before midnight, was "a necessary exception," as one blackshirt explained.

The communique, which the council issued after its meeting, ended on a sympathetic note concerning those nations who have not engaged in sanctions against Italy.

The council adopted a resolution "to express its sympathy for those states which, by denying their adherence to sanctions, worked for the cause of peace and interpreted the spirit of their populations."

Another resolution said the grand council "is sure the imminent trial will reveal to the world the Roman virtue of the Italian people in the 14th year of the fascist era."

Prior to adopting the resolutions, the council passed a vote of thanks to Mussolini for his conduct of national affairs in the African war and present European economic situation, and announced its "utmost fidelity and willingness to serve Il Duce" in the future.

CANADA REMINDS OF SEVERE PENALTIES. OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Canadian government today announced drastic penalties for violation of the order-in-council imposing League of Nations sanctions against Italy.

The order prohibits loans and credits to Italy, shuts out imports from that country, and prohibits exports to Italy of certain key commodities used for military purposes.

Article XV of the order provides that if any person contravenes the prohibitory provisions they shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be liable to conviction on indictment to a maximum prison sentence of two years, to a fine, or to both.

On summary conviction, the prison term is not more than one year, or a fine of $500, or both fine and imprisonment.

LAVAL MAKES PLEA FOR EARLY PEACE. PARIS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Premier Laval talked to both the British and Italian ambassadors today with what officials called "a very faint hope of finding a basis for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian war before sanctions go into effect against Italy Monday."

Official circles insisted, however, that Mediterranean differences between Britain and Italy are "all settled." They predicted that the British fleet in the Mediterranean and Italian forces at Libya would "shrink to normal" within a few weeks.

It was reported that Laval has given a verbal outline of the French position on sanctions in response to a note of protest from Italy and defended the French stand.

Through a telegraphic French law, sanctions will not be applied against Italy by Paris until November 19.

The law is applied to each department of France only when a copy of the official journal, in which the law is printed, reaches the prefecture. The journal is not published on Monday, hence the law making sanctions effective will appear Tuesday and may not reach Marseilles prefecture until Wednesday.

GERMANY TO IMPOSE EMBARGO ON MATERIALS. BERLIN, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler gave verbal assurances to both Great Britain and France, diplomatic sources said today, that he would prevent Germany from being used as an assembly point for foreign goods destined for Italy.

This pledge, understood to have been made several days ago, was reported by a spokesman for diplomatic quarters with only one day remaining before the League of Nations undertakes to put an embargo on shipment of certain key products to Italy, as a penalty for the fascist nation's campaign of aggression in Ethiopia.

Der Fuehrer's assurances were said to apply to Germans and foreigners alike in his reported intention to prevent all persons from gathering goods here for shipment to Italy.

Berlin diplomats regarded such action as implementing greatly the German embargo on re-exports which became effective today.

The government had announced its ban on exportation of certain important foodstuffs and raw materials on the grounds of home necessity, without referring to the sanctions voted against Italy by the League of Nations.

"The export ban is concerned solely with German internal and economic necessities," the official announcement November 12 said.

The list of forbidden exports did not include coal and copper. Coal has been the largest German export to Italy. The embargo generally became effective today, except for the ban on iron exports, which will go into effect November 25.

The list issued by the government included aluminum, nickel, manganese, manganese, bauxite, hides, yarns, potatoes, oils, cooking fats and all raw materials for metallurgical and rubber industries.

Polish Citizens Warned of Penalty. WARSAW, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Polish citizens who break League of Nations rules will be subject to imprisonment and heavy fines.

Only two transactions with Italians, both under the regulation of the League, are permitted. They are the export of coal to Italy in payment for a ship being built in Italy and the import of spare parts for Italian automobiles assembled in Poland.

Scrap Iron Cargo Clears for Genoa. BOSTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The freighter Farnham, carrying 5,000 tons of scrap iron and steel, cleared tonight for Genoa, Italy.

The Farnham is under British registry, owned by the Delta Steamship Company of London, reputedly operated with Italian capital.

Agents said she would leave during the night or tomorrow, but a north-east gale was raging outside threatening to delay her departure.

Departure of the Farnham was a lively topic of waterfront discussion. The League of Nations sanctions against Italy become operative Monday and in some circles the belief was voiced she would never get beyond Gibraltar, if a British warship did not halt her on the high seas.

Clearance papers were granted the Farnham in the usual manner after six vacancies in her crew of 25 were filled. The Farnham is commanded by Captain Carmelo D'Azrigo.

Early in the week, 12 of the deck crew quit the vessel, complaining of unsatisfactory living and working conditions. They were paid off and new men signed.

Six of the new seamen quit and they were not replaced until today.

While the Farnham was loading, someone painted "Murder Cargo" in letters several feet high, across a couple of freight cars filled with scrap metal for the freighter.

The Farnham was loaded before the President's proclamation against exports of war material to Italy was extended to include scrap iron and steel.

CARGO OF OIL TIED UP ON COAST. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—State and Labor Departments declined today to issue pending receipt of official advice, on the situation of the steamship Oregon, tied up at Los Angeles through its crew's request for assurances that a cargo of aviation gasoline was not bound for Italian Somaliland.

DUCE, GERMAN ENVOY DISCUSSES TRADE STAND. ROME, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today laid the groundwork for possible closer relations with Germany in a half-hour talk with Ulrich Von Hassel, German ambassador to Rome.

This is the first contact between the powers since Adolf Hitler announced his "no profiteering" rule to govern German commerce with Italy during the "sanctions" siege by the League of Nations states and the other nations of the world.

ARGENTINA ENFORCES ITALIAN SANCTIONS. BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Argentine government issued a decree tonight forbidding the exportation to Italy of all "war materials" productions, in accordance with League of Nations action.

The prohibition includes horses, mules, rubber, bauxite, aluminum, iron, manganese, tin, petroleum, coal, steel and other materials.

Officials said a special law would have to be enacted by congress before imports from Italy could be shut off.

from the style center of the south comes the all silk lined

"Quilted Silk Robe"

Handsome fabrics of navy blue or deep wine color afford a spectacular background for a spirited shade of color in the small, effective design on Muse's newest robe. This is a robe any man will be really proud of... a robe that a man will

OLD FASHIONED BARGAIN SALE in RICH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

50 Smashing Specials BRAND NEW FOR MONDAY!

Men's Perfect Fast Color

SHIRTS

2 for 1.00

White, blue and neat patterns in fine broadcloth. All collar-attached styles. Well-cut for perfect fit. Sizes 14 to 17.

Nurses' and Beauticians'

Regulation Uniforms

Irregulars of regular 1.00-1.29 values! Broken sizes 34 to 46.

59c

Men's Raincoats

3.79

Swivel cloth—heavy. Sizes 36 to 46.

Men's Socks

8 prs. 1.00

Fancy sample hose. 15c to 25c values.

Boys' Wool Pants

1.00

Shorts, 4-10; Longs, 8-18. Knickers, 8-16.

100 Blankets

79c

Heavy cotton. Indian design. Size 66x80.

Boys' Shirts

39c

White, blue, fancies. Broadcloth, 8-14½.

Curtain Fabric

5c yd.

39-in. wide, 10c-15c values. Figured.

36-In. Sheeting

7c yd.

Unbleached, heavy... Regular 12c values.

Window Shades

25c

Washable—fadeproof frayproof. 36-in. x 6 ft.

Protect Your New Car With

SEAT COVERS 59c<sup>up</sup>

1936 CAR HEATERS

Goodyear hot water heaters, with powerful electric fan. Dash control. Quickly mounted while you shop.

5.45<sup>up</sup>

$1 Fender Guides

Make it easier to park... 62c

USE YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNT

RICH'S TIRE DEPT.

GOODYEAR G3
Deep, sharp road-gripping treads, built to stop you fast, and to wear 43% longer.

1,500 yards full 39-inch

SILKS and ACETATES

1 to 5-yd. lengths! 49c to 1.00 value!

For dresses! For underwear! For Christmas presents! Flat crepes, rough crepes, fine prints, faille, and matelasse!

29c yd.

54-in. WOOLENS

69c-1.00 knits in solid colors... tweed effects, rabbit's-hair, cords!

39c yd.

36-in. PERCALES

Guaranteed fast-color! Plaids, florals—for smocks, house-dresses.

10c yd.

Cushion-Dot Priscilla CURTAINS

39c pr.

Cream, ecru, 2½ yds. long. 59c value.

5% Wool Double

BLANKETS

1.99 Pr.

Extra size 70x80. 3½ lb. 5% wool. Plaids in all pastels.

Women's Colorful SPORTSWEAR

Blouses, Skirts, Sweaters

1.00 ea.

SATIN BLOUSES: samples of 1.98 values! White and high shades! SWEATERS: Cardigan and slip-over styles, all-wool, in dark shades. SKIRTS: all-wool, solid colors!

Smart and colorful crepe and woolen

Dresses

Reg. 5.95 and 6.98

5.55

Bright frocks to wear under your dark coat! Rich green, red, wine, brown, black and all the new blues! All sizes 11-17, 12-20, 16½-26½, 38-44.

Swagger SPORTS and fur-trimmed DRESS

Coats

Reg. 12.95 to 15.95

12.00

The two types of coat you need right now—a big swagger plaid for every day and luxuriously fur-trimmed for dress-up! 12-20, 38-44.

Boys' Warm, Sheep-lined

COATS

2.29

Regular $3.98 values!

Just the kind of jacket that every young "he-man" wants... get it now and put it away for his Christmas!

Sizes 8 to 18

Girls' Coats

4.97

Fur-trimmed or sport. Sizes 3 to 6, 7-14.

Pure Silk Hose

27c

4 pairs for 1.00! Irr. 39c. Clifton, Service. Mock-seam.

81x90 Sheets

59c

89c value! Closely woven, bleached white.

Little Girls'

Print Dresses

39c

Vat-dye! Sizes 2-6. Adorable styles for school and play.

Women's Crepe and Wool

DRESSES

Reg. 1.99-3.00

Reg. 3.98-5.00

1.00

2.00

Bright colors in light-weight wools to wear under your coat. 12-50.

Crepes and woolens—one and two-piece styles! Sizes 12-20, 38-44.

Mill-Ends Pastel—29c-69c

CANNON TOWELS

5c 10c 15c

The famous Cannon quality—the famous Cannon patterns, colorful and smart! Reversible.

Rag Rugs

13c

"Hit-or-Miss"!—a grand bargain! 18x30.

Women's Hats

77c

Dark and bright for winter. 21½ to 23.

Krinkle Spreads

79c

Size 81x105—pastel colors. Krinkle-cotton.

Silk Panties

39c

Irr. 69c-79c glove silk, regulation—briefs.

Outing Gowns

44c

Reg. 59c. Women's sizes. Double-yoke.

Women's Gowns

59c

Philippine hand-made. White, flesh. All sizes.

Rayon Undies

13c

Women's fitted regulation, brief panties.

Girls' Blouses

59c

Prints and sheers... $1 value. Sizes 6 to 16.

Taffeta Slips

59c

Women's 79c rayon 4-gore. Sizes 34 to 44.

Rayon Undies

12c

Girls' reinforced panties. Sizes 2 to 16 yrs.

Snuggle Pants

10c

Small and medium. In women's sizes only.

Women's Shoes

2.59

Clearance 3.98-10.50 stock. Broken sizes.

Keep your shoes neat!

Women's half-soles... 50c to 1.00

Men's half-soles... 50c to 1.00

RICH'S QUALITY SHOE REPAIRING

Planning for Christmas for You and Your Home at RICH'S

Let Penelope Penn
shop for or with you

When You Think of Gifts, Think of
Miss Swank UNDERWEAR

Exclusive in Atlanta at Rich's

SLIP: Known for its perfect fit!
Exquisite quality satin with bias patented side gore. Trimmed with fine imported Alencon lace, or tailored. 32-44.

2.98

GOWN: Lovely satin with vestee of all-over lace. Charming little lace cap sleeves and collar. Tea rose, blue, dusty.
Sizes 15, 16 and 17.

2.98

PAJAMA: Tailored shirtmaker style of silk crepe. Full cut trouser, tuck-in blouse has short sleeves. Open part way down front. Tea rose, aqua, turquoise. Sizes 15, 16, 17.

2.98

SILK UNDERWEAR, THIRD FLOOR

89c Linen Crash Breakfast Napkins
Doz. 59c

Colorfully bordered in blue, green, rose, gold. Heavy all-linen crash.
Breakfast size, 13x13 inches.
RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

1.98 Linen Crash
Breakfast Sets
6 napkins to match 1.19

Color adds a cheerful note to the breakfast table. Borders of blue, green, gold, rose. Cloth 55x55-in.
RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

2.98 Part Wool Plaid Blankets
Pair 2.39

Extra heavy warm blankets with plaids of blue, rose, gold, green and helio. Sateen bound. 70x80-in.
RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

For Sweet Young Things!
Party Dresses
5.95, 7.95 10.95

For every party mood we have a dress.
Lovely taffeta and moire ones with ruffles and puffs, and all ankle length! All the lovely colors, pastels and vivid, and full skirts for sevens to sixteens.

Evening Slips
1.98

To really "evening up" wear a low back, shaped top, adjustable ankle length evening slip of white soft silk. Sizes 12-16.

Dancettes
1.00

Dainty pink one-piece
rayon with lace bra top, low back to fit evening clothes. 13, 15, 17.

RICH'S YOUNG ATLANTAN SHOP,
SECOND FLOOR

First in Atlanta at Rich's
Boys' G-Men POLO SHIRTS

1.00

- Washable
- Cotton
Jersey

High neck button style polo shirt with
"G-Men" emblem on shoulders. In brown, blue. 8 to 18 years.

YOUNG ATLANTAN SHOP,
SECOND FLOOR

Special Purchase! $5,000 worth of Sterling and Plated HOLLOWWARE

1/3 to 1/2 off the original price

Sterling Hollowware by a famous maker

Plated Hollowware made by the Sheffield Silver Co.

Sterling Hollowware

Bowls
Sherbets
Bonbons
Compotes
Baby Cups
Salad Bowls
Bread Trays
Centerpieces
Celery Trays
Chocolate Pots
2-Pc. Baby Sets

Salt and Peppers
Ice Tea Coasters
3-Pc. Coffee Sets
Bread and Butters
2-Stick Candelabra
3-Stick Candelabra
5-Stick Candelabra
4-Pc. Smoking Sets
Sugar and Cream Trays
Perforated Candy Trays
8-Pc. Sherbet Sets, boxed

Plated Hollowware

Waiters
Bread Trays
Centerpieces
Gravy Boats
Relish Dishes

Cold Meat Platters
Well and Tree Platters
4-Pc. Chased Coffee Sets
17-In. Well and Tree
Platters

SILVERWARE

STREET FLOOR

Hand-Embroidered Pillow Cases
Pair 1.69

Porto Rican hand embroidery on good quality full-bleached pillow casing. Regular size. Boxed.
RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

Rich's 1.15 Imperial 81x99-in. Sheets
Also 63x99
and 72x99 sizes. 84c

Firmly and smoothly woven of long staple cotton for long wear.
42x36-in. Pillow Cases to match, ea. 20c
RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

2.19 Georgia-Made Tufted Spreads
1.69

Well-covered tufted patterns in rose, blue, green, gold helio.
87x105. North Georgia made!
RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

One Day Only Savings of 49c to $1 yd.
Nationally Famous Silks-Fabrics

Yard 1.49

Cheney's Ravena Velvet in 50 rich glowing colors for street and evening.

Stehli's Sugar and Spice, a fall 1935
Novelty Silk for tailored wear.

Mallinson's Metal Crepe in a complete assortment of fall colors, metal shot.

Satin Back Moires, two-tone shades, the satin back used for trimming, sashes.

Special Purchase 500 Yds.
Metal Lames
Reg. 2.98 Yd. 1.98

Save 1.00 a yard on these lovely metals, silver, gold and cut steel. For blouses, tunics, evening gowns, wraps.
SILKS, FABRICS SECOND FLOOR

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 17, 1935.

America Chooses 'Isolation,' Results of National Peace Poll Show

United States Voters Are 7-3 Against Joining Sanctions

Attitude of Americans Contrasts With English View Shown in Famous "Peace Ballot," Supports Hull's "Alert Aloofness."

Nation Polled on This Question

If one foreign nation insists upon attacking another, should the United States join with other nations to compel it to stop? Yes [ ] No [ ]
If you vote "Yes," which measures would you favor: Economic and non-military only? [ ] Military if necessary? [ ]

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP

Managing Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

IF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS tomorrow applies economic sanctions against Italy, the United States will occupy its familiar role of onlooker. So the United States government announced in a statement nearly a month ago by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, promising "alert aloofness."

Today the results of a nation-wide poll by the American Institute of Public Opinion—made public for the first time—show that the American people definitely choose to be onlookers. They are unwilling to join with other nations—or with any League of Nations, obviously—in enforcing peace abroad.

To a cross-section of America the National Weekly Poll put the direct question:

"If one foreign nation insists upon attacking another, should the United States join with other nations to compel it to stop?"

"Yes," say 3 persons in 10.

"No," say 7 persons in 10.

More exactly, 29% of the voters of this country say we should join with other countries in enforcing peace; 71% say we should not. A typical comment from persons in this latter group is: "No. That's what we did in 1917." Those who indicated on their ballots that the United States should join with other powers in enforcing peace were asked still another question:

"Which measures would you favor: economic and non-military only, or military measures if necessary?"

They answer, 2-1, that our cooperation should halt with "economic and non-military measures only." One in three of them votes approval of "military measures if necessary." On the whole, therefore, in a group of 10 Americans 7 say, "Do not join with other nations to enforce peace." 2 say, "Join, but use only non-military measures." 1 says, "Join, and use every measure, including military measures if necessary."

Contrast With Results of English 'Peace Ballot.'

America and England have recorded themselves on virtually the same question—one through the National Weekly Poll, the other through the famous English "Peace Ballot" of last spring. The views of the two countries are exactly opposite. The English ballot asked, among other questions:

"If one nation attacks another, should other nations compel it to desist (a) by economic, non-military measures? (b) by military measures if necessary?"

England—30 miles from the Continent of Europe rather than 3,000—declared almost unanimously for co-operation with other nations to stop warfare. Englishmen were more than 9-1 in favor of economic, non-military measures, the "Peace Ballot" disclosed, and more than 7-3 in favor of military measures should they prove necessary. This is the way public opinion in the two English-speaking countries is in contrast:

Persons Saying: England United States
Join with other nations to enforce peace..... 94% 29%
Do not join with other nations..... 6% 71%

Democratic Support of League Dwindles.

The issue of joining with other nations to enforce peace is not a party issue any more in the United States. Seventy-one per cent of those who classify themselves as democrats on the ballots of the Weekly Poll vote "No." Seventy-two per cent of the republicans vote the same way. Democratic support of the League principle, to which democrats rallied in the bitter debates of 1919, 1920 and 1921, has apparently melted away.

There is surprisingly little difference of opinion on this question throughout the country, as the figures below indicate:

Persons Saying: Join Other Nations Do Not Join
Section
New England ..... 33% 67%
Middle Atlantic States ..... 30 70
East Central States ..... 29 71
West Central States ..... 30 70
South ..... 27 73
Mountain States ..... 23 77
Pacific Coast States ..... 25 75

Still other results, from the votes of special groups, are reported below:
Persons on relief ..... 23% 77%
Persons too young to vote in 1932 ..... 30 70

(Entire page copyright, 1935, by American Institute of Public Opinion. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part is strictly forbidden except with the written consent of the copyright owners.)

Does the American Fleet Belong in This Picture?

A Rock of Gibraltar looks down on ships from the British home and Mediterranean fleets. The British statesman, Winston Churchill, has said he will never consent to blockade a foreign power, "until we know what America is going to do." This week's report of the National Weekly Poll of Public Opinion shows that Americans have little inclination either to help make blockades or to run them.

If One Foreign Nation Insists Upon Attacking Another, Should the United States Join With Other Nations to Compel It to Stop?

'Yes'—3 Americans in 10

'No'—7 Americans in 10

National Weekly Poll Reports Supplementary Surveys On Neutrality, Referendum Before Declaration of War

Should Congress Refer Question of War To Voters?

"Congress"—says the Constitution of the United States—"shall have power to declare war."

Now, in 1935, the majority of Americans are willing, although they may be aware of no practical method of doing so, to see that power restated, so that it would read:

"Congress shall have power to declare war after it has obtained the approval of the people in a national vote."

That fact becomes clear as the result of a nation-wide poll, conducted as a supplement to the peace poll, on the question:

"In order to declare war, should congress be required to obtain the approval of the people by means of a national vote?"

With an unusually consistent vote, Americans the country over answer as follows:
"Yes"—3 persons in 4.
"No"—1 person in 4.

It makes very little difference in what section of the country the question is asked. The answers are the same.

Persons Saying: YES NO
Section Per Cent Per Cent
New England ..... 75 25
Middle Atlantic ..... 75 25
East Central States ..... 75 25
West Central States ..... 75 25
South ..... 75 25
Mountain States ..... 79 21
Pacific Coast ..... 77 23

How Will Your State Vote?

In the report of the National Weekly Poll next Sunday readers will discover how President Roosevelt stands with the voters in each of the 48 states.

Other features of the report will show the President's standing with voters all over the country and whether he is gaining or losing in popular strength today.

Check your opinion with the opinion of voters in your own state and throughout the United States. The National Weekly Poll, which is published by more than 30 leading American papers, appears exclusively in Atlanta in The Constitution.

Significant Points in This Poll

1. American voters, by a great majority, are against joining with other nations to stop aggressor nations from waging war. Of those who do favor taking such a step nearly all would resort to economic measures only, and not to military measures. In the 17 years which have elapsed since the close of the World War, America has acquired a viewpoint at wide variance with that which prevailed on April 2, 1917, when Congress declared war on Germany.

2. In contrast to this stand of America, England in a similar poll on this same issue, votes overwhelmingly to stand behind the League of Nations and to enforce peace even if military measures are required.

3. The desire to stay out of foreign wars is so great on the part of American voters that they are in favor not only of prohibiting trade in war materials with belligerents, in accordance with the neutrality act passed by the last session of Congress, but of prohibiting trade of all kinds with these nations.

4. This same desire to stay out of war is manifested in the vote on the question of a national referendum to precede a declaration of war. Voters are three to one in favor of letting the American electorate, as well as Congress, decide whether the country shall take up arms.

5. Party and state lines are completely obliterated on this issue. Despite the espousal of the League of Nations by the democratic party after the World War, the views of this party today are identical with those of the republican party. With the exception of the New England states, which lean more in the direction of the League, sentiment in all sections of the country is almost exactly the same on this issue.

English Journal Lauds Poll Principle

Finds Value in Voluntary Opportunity for Public Expression, As On Famous "Peace Ballot."

Applauding the English peace ballot as an "important democratic expedient" the independent English journal, "Time and Tide," has pointed out a function of the English ballot that is equally true of the National Weekly Poll:

"Hitherto, enfranchised citizens have expressed their opinion by electing one candidate instead of another, on a widely varying program, and in a series of irrelevant circumstances of personality, local association, and even financial status. Now a purely voluntary opportunity has been given them to speak upon issues which may at some time be matters of life and death to them."

Flying Home to Haven in Sunny Palestine

Gunboats, not Phoenician galleys, sail the eastern Mediterranean these days as part of the steel line England has thrown between Italy and Africa. They represent one means of enforcing "military measures if necessary."

Nation Willing To Renounce Traffic With Belligerents

Shift of Opinion Has Occurred Since 1917, When Congress Voted Down Resolutions Closely Similar to Nye Neutrality Measures.

The neutrality legislation passed by Congress last August and overwhelmingly endorsed by the public in this week's peace poll, represents a triumph of one historic American doctrine—freedom of the seas—over another historic American doctrine—freedom of the seas.

Freedom of the seas was one of the Fourteen Points which President Wilson devised as a basis for the Versailles Treaty 16 years ago. Today, approximately five out of every six Americans believe that the nation should avoid having to keep the seas free, by placing restrictions on war-time trade.

At least three out of every six believe an embargo should be placed, not merely on war materials alone, but on all trade with nations at war. The young people of the nation, who will have to do the fighting in the next war, are even more emphatic in this belief.

Such is the temper of public opinion today as revealed in this week's poll.

How Opinion Changed.

Swing back now on the pendulum of public opinion to the dreary night of December 30, 1916, when the armed British passenger liner Persia was sunk in the Mediterranean with a loss of 344 lives, of which two were American. It was the greatest disaster since the Lusitania. American newspapers flared in protest. Freedom of the seas was supposed to mean not only freedom of neutral shippers to trade with belligerents but also freedom of neutral citizens to travel in war zones.

Six years later, on January 5, at the height of public excitement, Senator

Ultimate Consumer Has His Opinion

"No," a Washington girl tells an interviewer for the National Weekly Poll, "the United States shouldn't join with other nations if they're going to use troops—my boy friend would have to go."

"Yes," says a Pennsylvania businessman, "we should lend our military strength if necessary. A display of force has always been needed and always will."

From deeply personal to idealistic are the reasons Americans give for voting the way they do. Below are typical answers to questions on which the Weekly Poll reports today. They are authentic comment obtained from personal interviews or from ballots returned through the mail:

"If one nation insists upon attacking another, should the United States join with other nations to compel it to stop?"

"No. I don't believe in the United States borrowing trouble"—Florida youth.

"No. Keep our noses out!"—Utah grocer.

"No. What good did it do the last time?"—Pennsylvania woman.

"No. What did I get by spending my last years in France?"—Kansas veteran.

"No. We have two boys"—Nebraska woman.

"Yes. If all nations would join together they could stop war for all time!"—Iowa salesman.

"Yes. The United States is powerful enough to scare the other fellows out of war!"—Minnesota plumber.

"What steps, in your opinion, should America take to remain neutral?"

"Prohibit all trade with nations at war. If we keep our ships out of the war zone there'll be less chance of friction!"—Alabama man.

"Prohibit all... The less we send over there, the sooner the war will be over!"—Missouri laborer.

"Prohibit trade in war materials. If there's no cannon there's no casualties!"—New York sailor.

"Place no restrictions. As long as they want to fight, let them. We're out for business!"—Wisconsin man, unemployed.

"In order to declare war, should congress be required to obtain the approval of the people by means of a national vote?"

"Yes. We're the ones that carry the rifles!"—New York man, unemployed.

"Yes. No body of 600 men has the right to send millions to slaughter!"—Massachusetts laborer.

"No. The press and radio would exert more power over the people than they could over congress!"—New York man on relief.

The neutrality legislation of August, 1935, sponsored by Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, declares that whenever the President "shall find that the maintenance of peace... or security of the United States requires that American citizens should refrain from traveling as passengers on the vessels of any belligerent nation, he shall so proclaim and thereafter no citizen of the United States shall travel on any vessel of any belligerent nation except at his own risk."

The act went on to provide that an embargo should be placed on the exports of "arms, munitions and implements of war" to any belligerent in a foreign war in which the United States is neutral.

Now compare the fate of the two pieces of legislation. In 1916 the Gore-McCormack resolution was snuffed under the house by a vote of 276 to 146. In 1935 the house approved the Nye neutrality act without bothering to record the vote and the senate passed it by the overwhelming majority of 77 to 2.

When, a short time later, the President put this legislation into effect by declaring an arms embargo against Italy and Ethiopia and warning citizens against traveling in the ships of either belligerent, the London Daily Mail editorialized: "The President's warning... is tantamount to a definite abandonment of the policy which led the United States into two wars—in 1812 and 1917, the policy of insistence on freedom of the seas and the right of neutrals to trade with belligerents."

Who, What, Why of Polls?

Who—The Nation's Weekly Poll is conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion, an independent, fact-finding organization with research offices in Princeton, N. J., and editorial offices at 285 Madison avenue, New York city. Dr. George Gallup, statistician and teacher, is managing director of the project.

What?—The Weekly Poll is a non-partisan survey of what the voters of the United States think about some important question each week.

Why?—The purpose of the Weekly Poll is to make articulate the opinion of the whole citizenry—not merely of organized minorities.

How?—Mail and personal interview ballots are normally distributed to between 100,000 and 200,000 persons, in a cross-section of the country, representing every state and income group.

Persons Saying: All Some None
Section Per Cent Per Cent Per Cent
New England ..... 41 41 18
Middle Atlantic ..... 43 36 21
East Central States ..... 44 39 17
West Central States ..... 52 36 12
South ..... 52 35 13
Mountain States ..... 49 38 13
Pacific Coast ..... 50 36 14

As on other questions involving peace and national security, there is no important division between democrats and republicans. Slightly fewer republicans favor restricting trade with warring powers than do democrats:

Persons Saying: All Some None
Section Per Cent Per Cent Per Cent
Republicans ..... 46 35 19
Democrats ..... 47 38 15

Is There a Place for United States at This Table?

Captain Anthony Eden, of England; Premier Pierre Laval, of France, and Baron Pompeo Aloisi, of Italy, meet over diplomatic brandy and cigars to attempt an adjustment of conflicting claims in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. Their predecessors, Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando, met with Woodrow Wilson at Paris in 1919. Should we join their discussions?

NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

John Boles in 'Redheads on Parade' Which Opens at Georgia Tuesday

With his starring role in the lavish Fox musical production, "Redheads on Parade," which starts Tuesday at the Georgia theater, John Boles emerges as one of the most versatile actors in screenland.

First a singer, then a dramatic actor, now Boles reveals himself as an accomplished dancer in the gala production number of "Redheads on Parade." To tango, rumba and waltz versions of the new Jay Gorney-Lion Hartman tune, "I Found a Dream," Boles executes a series of catchy ballroom dances with his co-star, Dixie Lee.

Opportunities for song, comedy and romantic playing are not lacking for Boles in this picture. The central plot of "Redheads on Parade" concerns a wildcat movie producer and his publicity agent, who are attempting to launch Boles on the road to stardom.

They get Dixie Lee for his leading lady and win the financial support of Raymond Walburn, who is anxious to promote his red hair dye—and to make an impression on Miss Lee.

Miss Lee pretends to respond to Walburn's overtures because she is anxious to see Boles get his chance. Boles misunderstands, however, and for a time the happy course of their romance seriously threatened. But the producers make their movie, redheads are glorified and the romance happily continues after the ingenious, chuckle-filled climax.

Norman McLeod directed the picture, which features, in important comedy assignments, Jack Haley, Alan Dinehart, Herman Bing and William Austin.

'Mutiny On the Bounty' at Grand Is Now Playing in Second Week

Produced at enormous expense and with a commanding and expert integrity, "Mutiny On the Bounty" continues for a second week at Loew's Grand Theater. This extraordinary film—certain to be numbered among the year's best productions—has a skillfully chosen cast, headed by Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Franchot Tone, and directed by Victor Fleming.

"Mutiny On the Bounty" is the recital of an actual occurrence a century and a half ago, as presented in this film it is as vital, as compelling as if it had happened only yesterday.

For it is a story of a long suffering under tyranny, of the cruelty is not longer to be borne, and of his sacrifice of all he holds dear to create for himself a new world, where existence is tolerable, and where the forces he has rebelled against cannot reach him.

His majestic ship, the Bounty, left Portsmouth, England, in 1787, for Tahiti. It was to be a two-year voyage, for scientific purposes. Many of the crew were impressed into service, torn unwillingly from home and family. But even in the harbor the men forget their resentment in the face of a more ominous danger. Captain Bligh, of the Bounty, is a highly capable seaman, but he is a man without mercy, without humanity. His crew sees a seaman flogged to death before their eyes—as an example of Bligh's rigorous rule.

During the long voyage to Tahiti, the crew realizes many times that Bligh is a cruel, inhuman master. Fletcher Christian (Clark Gable), Bligh's first mate, is a more human person and his very humanness arouses Bligh's hatred. A third member of the crew is young Roger Byam (Franchot Tone), son of a naval officer and beginning his own career at sea, sailing as a midshipman on the Bounty.

"Mutiny On the Bounty" is the tale of the crew's eventual revolt against their captain. Of his grim, unconquerable determination to be revenged upon the mutineers and of the human nature involved in this incident in the history of British navigation—an event destined to bring about a new and better order in the navies throughout the world, and to take cognizance of man's innate right to self-respect. All this is most movingly told in a film of much power and beauty.

'Pursuit,' M-G-M Thriller at Rialto, Stars Morris and Sally Eilers

Chester Morris and Sally Eilers run a close race for star honors in the thrilling M-G-M production, "Pursuit," which is the feature attraction on the program at the Rialto theater this week. And if either of them lets down for a moment there is a little boy in the cast named Scotty Beckett who comes mighty close to stealing the spotlight all the time.

Directed by Edwin L. Marin from the novel, "Gallant Highway," by L. G. Blochman, which was first published in a popular magazine, the story moves from the opening scene to the end with a speed and accelerating emphasis upon exciting situation that is really refreshing after the problematic sort of plots that have preponderated in screen offerings this year.

M-G-M, following the policy which has made its pictures so outstanding lately, has spared neither effort nor expense to secure as near-perfect a cast as possible. Every character is delightfully portrayed. In the cast are such distinguished and popular players as Henry Travers, C. Henry Gordon, Dorothy Peterson, Granville Bates, Dewey Robinson, etc.

The story concerns a well-to-do woman and her efforts to prevent her divorced and dissolute ex-husband from kidnapping her child. She hires an aviator, Chester Morris, to fly with the child out to the county to Mexico and her secretary, Sally Eilers, complicates the situation by insisting on accompanying the flyer and the boy.

Manager Murray evidences his customary care in the selection of short subjects to round out his program and altogether the Rialto has once again provided entertainment well worth the time and money of anyone amusement

Ancient Ring Found.

A crudely carved silver ring, bearing no resemblance to modern jewelry, dug up in a garden at Vancouver, B. C., has aroused considerable curiosity among collectors. One theory advanced is that the ring was worn by an ancient Chinese.

Something new in fire alarms was unexpectedly demonstrated recently when a barn near Batavia, N. Y., caught fire. An airplane with amplifying equipment aroused residents of the neighborhood. Near-by fire companies responded to the call.

Some Interesting Scenes From Atlanta Screen Offerings

Upper left shows "The Three Musketeers" in the latest filmation of the Dumas classic, which is now at the Paramount. Upper right is from "Way Down East," now at the Georgia with Rochelle Hudson and Henry Fonda. Center left gives an advance glimpse of "Thanks a Million," coming to Loew's Grand next Thursday with Patsy Kelly, Dick Powell and Ann Dvorak. Center right shows you Karen Morley and Edmund Lowe in "Thunder in the Night," on the screen at the Capitol. Lower left is of Sally Eilers, Scotty Beckett and Chester Morris in "Pursuit," at the Rialto. Lower right shows Margaret Sullivan and Randolph Scott in their roles in "So Red the Rose," at the Fox.

'WEDDING NIGHT' OFFERED AT HILAN

Cooper and Sten Star in Picture To Be Shown Two Days.

Today, and Monday, the Hilan theater will present Gary Cooper and Anna Sten in "The Wedding Night," produced by King Vidor. Ralph Bellamy and Helen Vinson also are in this splendid picture.

Tuesday only, the Hilan will offer "Going Highbrow," with Guy Kibbee, Zasu Pitts and Edward Everett Horton.

Wednesday only, "Bachelor of Arts" will feature Tom Brown, Anita Louise, Arline Judge and Stein Fetchit. It is taken from the novel by John Erskine.

Frederic March and Charles Laughton will be on the screen Thursday and Friday in Victor Hugo's immortal novel, "Les Misérables," which also presents Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Rochelle Hudson, Frances Drake and John Beal.

Saturday only the Hilan will offer "We're in the Money," with Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell, Hugh Herbert and Ross Alexander. It is a laugh-filled comedy drama.

Dumas' 'The Three Musketeers' Is Screen Feature at Paramount

Elaborately mounted, but with its rich costumes, settings and spectacle never allowed to interfere with the forceful directness of the great Dumas tale, R-K-O depiction of "The Three Musketeers" is now playing at the Paramount theater.

For the first time the immortal swashbucklers, D'Artagnan and his comrades in arms, come to the screen with sound to create complete realism. Brilliantly created, faithfully adapted, and directed with spirit, the classic of 17th century intrigue realizes the full romantic flavor of the widely familiar novel. Audience satisfaction was amply attested at the opening performance.

'Thunder in the Night' at Capitol Is Unusual Type Detective Yarn

A modern detective doesn't necessarily find his greatest perils in the pursuit of criminals. Danger can lurk in the light of a lovely lady's eyes, and that is where Edmund Lowe discovers it as the fascinating gentleman sleuth in the new mystery drama, "Thunder in the Night," which opens a week's engagement at the Capitol theater, starting today. Others in the cast are Karen Morley, Frances Drake and Una O'Connor.

Along with this splendid screen feature the Capitol has booked a stage show, "Florida Nights," which, in addition to its pretty girls and novelties, offers some outstanding acts of the regular old-time vaudeville. A cast of 20 people are in this new stage show. Headlining stars of the unit will include Bud Marcellus & Company, sensational adagio artists who have appeared in leading theaters throughout the world; Bibby, Cody and Paige, well-known comedians, who offer bits of humor just as Capitol patrons like it; the Tierney troupe, famous juggling act.

Starting next Sunday the Capitol will offer Vina Delmar's sequel to "Bad Girl," a picture entitled "Bad Boy" and starring James Dunn, with a special cast of featured players.

'THE IRISH IN US' ON BUCKHEAD BILL

Excellent Entertainment Is Booked for Week at Suburban House.

Patrons from all parts of Atlanta will be driving out to the Buckhead district this week to see some fine entertainment.

Warner Brothers' latest comedy drama, "The Irish in Us," which presents James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Frank McHugh and Olivia De Havilland in the leading roles, is the picture for today and Monday.

Tuesday offers "10 Rises," with Edward Everett Horton and Karen Morley. This is a pleasing comedy about a meek clerk.

Law Ayres and Pat Peterson share the lead in "Lottory Lover," a lavish musical production to be shown Wednesday. The antics of Alan Dinehart and Sterling Holloway will provoke hearty laughter.

The attraction for Thursday and Friday is "Going Highbrow" with Guy Kibbee and Zasu Pitts.

John Wayne is a thrilling western, "The Desert Trail," comes to the screen Saturday. There will also be a chapter of "The Roaring West" with Buck Jones and a Charlie Chaplin comedy.

ADDED STAGE SHOW PLANNED AT CAPITOL

In celebration of the Thanksgiving holidays, the Capitol management has arranged for a special added stage attraction, starting next Sunday, which will bring 50 juvenile students of the Reens School of Personality to the stage in a special prologue entitled "Plymouth Rock-ettes."

This prologue will be offered the entire week, in conjunction with the stage show, "Southern Aristocrats," and the feature picture, "Bad Boy," starring James Dunn.

RIALTO M-G-M'S ADVENTUROUS COMEDY THRILLER

Swiftly paced, the picture drives to its exciting climax with verve, suspense and emotional punch, its more blistering episodes graced with lusty comedy, and its quieter moods with sentimental charm. Without slightest loss of its colorful characters, the story has been kept paramount. Performances are skillfully proportioned to emphasize the conflict of wit and blade, love and blunders.

The picture is a tale of a man in a hotel during a stormy evening the trail of clues leads Lowe to the palace of the president of the cabinet. The climax of the picture is contrived at the scene of the crime, where all the suspects are gathered. Here Low ingeniously and dramatically reconstructs the killing, finds the murderer and brings the picture to its happy close.

Starting next Sunday the Capitol will offer Vina Delmar's sequel to "Bad Girl," a picture entitled "Bad Boy" and starring James Dunn, with a special cast of featured players.

In the Capitol's feature the whirlwind action of the film covers a brief six hours in the life of a Budapest detective. From the murder of a man in a hotel during a stormy evening the trail of clues leads Lowe to the palace of the president of the cabinet.

The climax of the picture is contrived at the scene of the crime, where all the suspects are gathered. Here Low ingeniously and dramatically reconstructs the killing, finds the murderer and brings the picture to its happy close.

Starting next Sunday the Capitol will offer Vina Delmar's sequel to "Bad Girl," a picture entitled "Bad Boy" and starring James Dunn, with a special cast of featured players.

In the Capitol's feature the whirlwind action of the film covers a brief six hours in the life of a Budapest detective. From the murder of a man in a hotel during a stormy evening the trail of clues leads Lowe to the palace of the president of the cabinet.

The climax of the picture is contrived at the scene of the crime, where all the suspects are gathered. Here Low ingeniously and dramatically reconstructs the killing, finds the murderer and brings the picture to its happy close.

Starting next Sunday the Capitol will offer Vina Delmar's sequel to "Bad Girl," a picture entitled "Bad Boy" and starring James Dunn, with a special cast of featured players.

In the Capitol's feature the whirlwind action of the film covers a brief six hours in the life of a Budapest detective. From the murder of a man in a hotel during a stormy evening the trail of clues leads Lowe to the palace of the president of the cabinet.

The climax of the picture is contrived at the scene of the crime, where all the suspects are gathered. Here Low ingeniously and dramatically reconstructs the killing, finds the murderer and brings the picture to its happy close.

Starting next Sunday the Capitol will offer Vina Delmar's sequel to "Bad Girl," a picture entitled "Bad Boy" and starring James Dunn, with a special cast of featured players.

In the Capitol's feature the whirlwind action of the film covers a brief six hours in the life of a Budapest detective. From the murder of a man in a hotel during a stormy evening the trail of clues leads Lowe to the palace of the president of the cabinet.

The climax of the picture is contrived at the scene of the crime, where all the suspects are gathered. Here Low ingeniously and dramatically reconstructs the killing, finds the murderer and brings the picture to its happy close.

Starting next Sunday the Capitol will offer Vina Delmar's sequel to "Bad Girl," a picture entitled "Bad Boy" and starring James Dunn, with a special cast of featured players.

'So Red the Rose,' Story of South, Is Current Attraction at Fox

"So Red the Rose," filmization of Stark Young's story of the old south, is the current big attraction now playing at the Fox theater. Margaret Sullivan is the star and the supporting cast includes such well-known names as Walter Connolly, Randolph Scott, Janet Beecher, Elizabeth Patterson, Harry Ellerbe and the child actor, Dickie Moore.

"So Red the Rose" is a story of our south, its romance and poignant account of those turbulent days of the War Between the States. More than that, it reveals the ideals and hopes and bravery of a gentle southern family when the clarion call of strife made men and women array themselves on the side of duty, sure of the righteousness of their cause.

It is the story of a young girl's love for a man, a man who hesitated to answer the fighting call of his people and who, in his efforts to do what he believed is right, is even willing to sacrifice love.

Margaret Sullivan is the girl, Vallette, a pretty, vivacious belle of the south. It is a role delicately in tune with Miss Sullivan's subtle gifts as an actress and she brings to her portrayal the artistry that has distinguished her work on stage and screen.

The boy, Dunstan, is portrayed by Randolph Scott, a handsome and talented actor who in "So Red the Rose" forsakes his "western" characterizations which have won him fame and proves his versatility as an actor.

Walter Connolly, one of the foremost character actors of our day, is splendid as Vallette's father, and Janet Beecher, Harry Ellerbe and Elizabeth Patterson (in one of her biting roles) do well in parts that give background and authenticity to the story.

The direction of King Vidor ranks high among his many works remembered by picture audiences. For "So Red the Rose" gives forth the full flavor of Stark Young's nostalgic and romantic novel, capturing completely the spirit, movement and feeling that made "So Red the Rose" one of last year's most important contributions to American film.

Friday's feature is one of ocean liners, people with checkered pasts and shifting fortunes, "Black Sheep," with Edmund Lowe, Claire Trevor, Eugene Pallette and Adrienne Ames. A stirring tale of old Cape Cod where brave men love and die in the arms of an angry sea is billed for Saturday with "Captain Hurricane," featuring James Burton, Helen Mack and Gene Lockhart.

Joe is also taken but his wife is shut out. Tuesday's feature will be a film of college life, "Bachelor of Arts," with Tom Brown, Anita Louise and Stepin Fetchit. "Woman in the Dark," a mystery thriller, with Fay Wray, Ralph Bellamy and Melvyn Douglas, is billed for one day showing on Wednesday, while Thursday's offering will be "The Raven," in which Karl-Loff and Bela Lugosi play twin fiends.

With charming Ann Dvorak and petite Patricia Ellis, Joe offers a story of "back stage" with songs and a chorus of beautiful girls. It concerns Joe, who is a hooper and comic in a burlesque show, whose stage partner is his wife, and a madcap heiress who gets a job in the show as an event dancer. The picture is recognized as "The Raven," featuring James Burton, Helen Mack and Gene Lockhart.

Now! ATLANTA'S FINEST THEATRES!

WHERE HAPPINESS COSTS SO LITTLE

FOX THE SOUTH'S FINEST

Stark Young's Epic of the South Brought to the Screen With an All-Southern Cast

MARGARET SULLIVAN

"So Red the Rose"

A Paramount Picture with WALTER CONNOLLY • RANDOLPH SCOTT • Directed by King Vidor

Harry Ellerbe • Janet Beecher • Dickie Moore

Friday! WILL ROGERS' Last and Greatest Triumph "In Old Kentucky"

Paramount NOW

D'Artagnan, fiction's fondest devil-may-care lover, rides and fights and wows again!

An All-Star Cast in Alexandre Dumas' Thrilling Novel—

THE THREE MUSKETEERS

NEXT WEEK Ronald COLMAN in "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo"

GEORGIA NOW PLAYING!

America's Mightiest Melodrama Brought To the Talking Screen!

WAY DOWN EAST

Starts Tuesday JOHN BOLES DIXIE LEE "Redheads On Parade"

CAPITOL BALCONY

Lightning Entertainment For All Atlantans Who Enjoy Pictures!

"THUNDER IN THE NIGHT" With 4 Big Stars! EDMUND LOWE KAREN MORLEY UNA O'CONNOR PAUL CAVANAGH 8 VODVIL 8

The Coral Gables Revue! "FLORIDA NIGHTS" 20—People—20 Extra! Tierney Troupe Those Jesting Jugglers! Buddy's Trained Dogs Fun For Young And Old! Marcellus & Co. Sensational Adagio BIG ACTS

ENRICO LEIDE'S CAPITOLIANS 18 Piece Stage Band

ATLANTA'S ONLY VAUDEVILLE THEATRE

DRAW ME!

Compete FOR AN ART SCHOLARSHIP

Copy this girl and send your drawing—perhaps you'll win a COMPLETE FEDERAL COURSE FREE! This contest is for amateurs, so if you like to draw do not hesitate to enter.

Prizes for Three Best Drawings—THREE COMPLETE ART COURSES FREE, including drawing outfits. (Value of each course, $190.00.)

FREE! Each contestant whose drawing shows sufficient merit will receive a grading and advice as to whether he or she has, in our estimation, artistic talent worth developing.

Nowadays design and color play an important part in the sale of almost everything. Therefore the artist, who designs merchandise or illustrates advertising has become a real factor in modern industry. Machines can never displace him. Many Federal students, both men and girls who are now commercial designers or illustrators capable of earning from $1000 to $5000 yearly have been trained by the Federal Course. Here's a splendid opportunity to test your talent. Read the rules and send your drawing to the address below.

FEDERAL SCHOOLS, INC.
Dept. 2581 Federal Schools Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.

TODAY DOORS OPEN AT 1:45 P.M.

LOEW'S GRAND BALCONY 25¢ ALL DAY

Last Four Days Mutiny on the Bounty with CHARLES LAUGHTON CLARK GABLE FRANCHOT TONE

NEXT THURSDAY!

THANKS A MILLION

POWELL ANN DVORAK FRED ALLEN PATSY KELLY PAUL WHITMAN 8 VODVIL 8

FOX, ROMANCE 10 SONG HITS!

ALIEN DUMPING PROBE AWAITS FURTHER DATA

Hints of Collusion May Widen Scope of Inquiry
by U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—While the Federal Trade Commission awaited orders to probe into hints of collusion in American steel contract bids, evidence appeared today that the controversy over use of foreign materials on PWA jobs might widen.

Trade commission officials reported no orders had been received to start the investigation. President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes both have said the commission would investigate what they called apparent evidence of collusion. German steel was bought for two PWA jobs, resulting in sharp protest by labor and industrial groups.

While a United States Chamber of Commerce spokesman manifested "interest" in foreign purchases, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said Ickes' new regulations on foreign purchases "will meet the situation in a constructive way."

Bar Foreign Products.
If the ruling is applied to future PWA jobs, said the federation chief, "foreign materials will be prevented from entering the country for these jobs. There is no justification for collusion, however. That is just as bad as foreign imports, and the federal trade commission will take care of that."

John M. Redpath, chief of research of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber is "extremely interested" in the question. "Not only German steel, but other things are involved," he declared. "We have not taken any formal action in connection with the matter, and will hold our fire until later on."

Withholds List.
He declined to list other materials which he said were "involved" and added the whole matter would have to be taken up with the board of directors before any formal action or protest.

The question of using foreign materials broadened also when PWA officials hinted they would look into the circumstances surrounding the use of French cement for New York school construction financed by PWA.

The Treasury Department, meanwhile, prepared to look the gates against foreign dumping. President Roosevelt yesterday reiterated Ickes' comment on dumping and announced the 15 per cent differential on foreign materials had been raised to 25 per cent to protect domestic bidders.

Attractiveness of Modern Woman Increases Divorce, Moore Learns

Fulton Judge Finds Improved Looks and Ways of Dress
Have Effect on Men, After Hearing 465 Cases in Five Days.

Because women are so much more attractive than they used to be, the divorce rate is increasing rapidly, according to Judge Virgil B. Moore, who heard a record number of divorces last week in Fulton superior court.

While the average number of cases per term is a little less than 400, Judge Moore tried 465 in five days. He heard 128 in one day, which was believed to be the all-time record for Fulton courts.

Day after day on the bench, the judge heard the ordinary and usual complaints put forward by husband or wife as just cause for divorce, but the jurist noticed a predominance of "another woman" this term.

So many wives declared their husbands had "found a sweeter woman" and no longer loved them that Judge Moore was forced to the opinion that women nowadays are more attractive than they were in years gone by.

The feminine sex takes more interest in the married man than formerly also, the judge asserted.

"In the past women left married men strictly alone and the woman who went about with a married man (unless she was his wife) suffered in reputation."

"But at present men and women are freer in their conduct toward each other and it is no wonder that the husband so frequently finds some other woman who is sweeter to him than his wife," he said.

"My husband told me he did not love me any more, that he had found someone else who was more attractive than I, and that she was sweeter."

Judge Moore, who is a close student of that strange animal, the human being, believes that the clothes of the present day woman have a great deal to do with the domestic situation too.

They wear very little now, and it is up to you to draw your own conclusions as to the change in their conduct.

"Man is the pursuer and the woman is pursued," said the judge, "he wooed and she is wooed."

But the male will never stop pursuing until she calls a halt. The trouble now seems to be too few halts are called.

Fulton county records reveal that about 280 marriage licenses a month are issued. Court records show that an average of more than 100 total divorces are granted per month. Though there will be no increase in the number of marriages this year, according to license records, there will be a material increase in divorces.

Approximately 35 per cent of all marriages end in divorce.

EASTMAN TO STUDY RAIL PENSION EFFECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The office of Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, is preparing to launch a new study of one of the railroad's major problems—how they are affected by pension systems.

A $101,820 public works allotment for this work was announced on November 12.

Looking toward operation of the 1935 railroad retirement act after it becomes effective next March 1, the study will have two purposes: (1) To assist the railroad retirement board to gather facts which will facilitate administration of the law, and (2) to co-operate with a special congressional investigating committee in determining whether pension systems are beneficial or detrimental to railroad service, safety and efficiency.

The co-ordinator's office already has gathered voluminous statistical data on pensions, including the number of rail employees affected, and pension costs. A report on this material is nearly completed.

In the new study, emphasis will be placed on the results from pension systems rather than on specific statistical details.

LABOR LEADER OFFERS SEAT TO MACDONALD

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Sir Thomas Roskell, national labor party member of the house of commons, from Ormskirk, Lancashire, today offered to surrender his seat either to Ramsay MacDonald or the latter's son, Malcolm, both defeated in yesterday's election.

"The influence of Mr. MacDonald in foreign countries makes it essential he should be retained in the government," said Sir Thomas.

"The difficulty is Ormskirk has a large agricultural vote and whether it would be safe enough in view of that I don't know."

Sir Thomas was re-elected by a majority of 8,045 votes. Neither MacDonald nor his sons announced any plans for the future.

TWO FLIERS UNHURT IN PLANE ACCIDENT

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—An army attack plane nosed over this afternoon in landing near Pompano, 30 miles north of here, but its two occupants escaped unhurt.

Lieutenant Harney Estes, flying the other of two A-12 type planes that left Jacksonville belatedly, landed here and reported Lieutenant Richard Livingston and Staff Sergeant Stephenson were not injured in their plane's upset.

The planes were part of a flight of 12 winging to Miami from Barksdale field, Shreveport, La., for gunnery practice.

Ten planes of the flight, seven attack and three transport ships, had landed at Chapman field, 20 miles south of here, this afternoon. They will return to their base, said Major R. M. Morris, commanding officer, November 24 or 25.

TRIBAL DELEGATES BAR WHEELER HOWARD ACT

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Solemn sachems and tribal representatives of the once mighty six nations weighed one aspect of the New Deal in annual conference here today and rejected it as poor medicine for the Red Man of New York state.

The 125 delegates to the Six Nations Association meeting at the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences carefully considered the Wheeler-Howard act and decided the various tribes had acted wisely in refusing to adopt its provisions.

Under this act Indians of the state would reorganize as a corporation amenable to the Federal Indian Department.

They are now regarded as independent groups, the last of the Red Men in the country to hold this standing.

Arts Ball Committeemen Fear Raid; To Censor Morals and Costumes

Officials of Annual Indoor Mardi Gras of New York Plan
To Forestall Possible Action by Guardians of Public Morals; Hope Policemen Won't Be Offended.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The unprecedented action of Manhattan's guardians of the public morals in raiding the annual illustrators' show and carling several shivering ladies off to the jailhouse has got the impresarios of the forthcoming Beaux Arts ball a-jitter over what is previewed as what the boys and girls think about them.

Among the artists whose morals will be on display are Tony Sarg, Jefferson Machamer and Dean Cornwell.

Another thing that is bothering the committee is the habitual custom of the guests to frolic all over the Waldorf-Astoria as well as in the official ballrooms.

"We're going to keep track of them this year, though," said Ryle. "We are going to stamp everybody with a rubber stamp identifying them as guests."

All in all, Ryle said, the committee this year is certain the guests will like the ball.

"We just hope the policemen aren't offended," he said.

"This year everybody has got to be dressed in the costume of the Indians. Naturally there will be a lot of scandal, and if people have bought their tickets, we can't very well refuse them admission. That's going to be tough."

Then these morals. We have eight of them, each 21 feet long, all painted by outstanding artists. But that was before the raid on the illustrators' show, and the subject of every darn one of the morals is an oriental nude. We're just got to have this preview to see what the boys and girls think about them."

Another thing that is bothering the committee is the habitual custom of the guests to frolic all over the Waldorf-Astoria as well as in the official ballrooms.

"We're going to keep track of them this year, though," said Ryle. "We are going to stamp everybody with a rubber stamp identifying them as guests."

All in all, Ryle said, the committee this year is certain the guests will like the ball.

"We just hope the policemen aren't offended," he said.

METHODIST SESSION CLOSES THIS MORNING

Reports of Stationing Committee Submitted; Memorial Service Planned Today.

Reports of the boundary and stationing committees of the 106th annual conference of the Georgia Methodist Protestant church, which closes with ordination and memorial services this morning, were announced last night.

The conference has been in session since Thursday in Mt. Zion M. P. church, Henry county. The Rev. M. L. Spain was elected a delegate to the general conference, which closes with ordination and memorial services this morning, were announced last night.

The Rev. Walter M. Hinton, of Atlanta, pastor of Center Hill M. P. church, was elected traveling president, and the Rev. Spain was chosen secretary.

The reports of the boundary and stationing committees follow:

The Rev. M. L. Spain, April Block; F. C. Hicks, Atlanta First church; C. V. Brantley, Bowdon circuit; J. V. Speer, Bowdon Junction; Andrew Jenkins, Carrollton circuit; F. D. Smith, Cedar Grove; T. M. Luke, Centenary; Miss Lema Hicks, Center Hill; Frank Barfield, Clifton; J. W. Miller, Earline Avenue, Columbus; J. S. Strickland, Howell.

Brantley, Kelly's Chapel; F. C. Hicks, Mt. Carmel; Frank Barfield, Mt. Zion; S. F. Davis, New Hope; M. L. Spain, Newton circuit; C. A. Abbott, Norwich Mount; E. P. Lamb, Pearce Chapel, Columbus; W. M. Hinton, Pleasant Hill; S. F. Davis, Pleasant Grove; F. D. Smith, Pomona; O. B. Talley, Sylvan Hills; J. V. Speer, Union; C. E. Brantley, Smith Chapel; S. C. Campbell, and C. D. Martin, unassigned.

Negotiations with the Netherlands, Spain and France were described today as in final stages. The belief was expressed in official quarters that agreements with all was a probability of the near future.

The Canadian pact was the seventh to be signed. The others: Cuba, Brazil, Haiti, Belgium, Colombia and Sweden, all except those with Canada and Colombia have been ratified and are in effect.

Besides the Netherlands, Spain and France the other countries the United States is negotiating with are Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Salvador, Switzerland, Finland and Italy. Conversations with Italy temporarily are in abeyance due to the war situation.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

Christmas greetings, unsealed envelopes will cost the sender one and a half cents, and not one cent, says Wiley West, Decatur postmaster. A wire story out of Washington, D. C., published last Thursday, stated that the unsealed envelopes may be sent for one cent. But the price is one and a half cents, no less, according to Mr. West, who backed his statement with a notice to that effect from the Postal Bulletin.

And only such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "Sincerely Yours" may be placed on the printed cards in the unsealed envelopes. "Love and kisses" and similar communications call for a three-cent stamp on a sealed envelope.

The CONSTITUTION'S STAMP CORNER

By Albert C. Leitch

Thousands of letters sent by philatelists are expected to be in the cargo of the China Clipper when it inaugurates air mail service to Manila November 22. The "first flight" impression reproduced here will be stamped on each letter. Photo by Associated Press.

In one of the most important philatelic rulings ever handed down by the United States Treasury Department, it has been declared lawful to reproduce stamps of governments which no longer exist. The ruling reverses the previous attitude of the federal government and makes possible the unmarred reproduction of the stamps of a long list of defunct nations, colonial stations and postal subdivisions.

Of particular interest to the southern collector is the decision which now makes it possible to reproduce all the philatelic material from the Confederate states. By the same process, it should now be possible to reproduce the stamps of the Russian empire, the Chinese empire and the German empire.

From the philatelic standpoint, the only objection voiced by collectors to a further letdown of the bars, is the possibility of a flood of counterfeit stamps with which to contend. Many collectors, on the other hand, have signed petitions addressed to their respective members of congress seeking permission for the reproduction of postal issues of the United States.

Aid to Collector.
Without question, a reproduction of United States issues would be of great help to the collector in properly classifying his stamps. Also, there are many collectors who gather stamps on the basis of their attractiveness. Unless one is fortunate enough to live in cities where there are dealers or collectors with sufficiently comprehensive collections, it is virtually impossible to gather an idea of what any United States stamp looks like.

Counterfeiters who possess the skill and equipment necessary to reproduce sufficiently good imitations also possess the skill, in this writer's opinion, to copy front colored stamps. The only argument advanced in favor of keeping illustrations of the issues of the American Philatelic Society, the booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

The ruling of the Treasury Department was made in connection with the seizure by the collector of customs at Philadelphia of a catalog imported from Europe by Eugene Klein, president of the American Philatelic Society. The booklet contained illustrations, not defaced, of postal issues of the defunct kingdom of Sardinia.

After much consultation by the department, following an appeal by Mr. Klein, the catalog was ordered returned to him and the new ruling was made. The department said, "It is the opinion of the department that the stamp reproductions contained in the catalog are not reproductions of the obligations of a foreign country."

GABLE'S NEW HEART NATIONAL PUZZLE

Every Time Actor Speaks to Woman Rumors Gain Circulation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(UP)—Any woman Clark Gable speaks to or is a candidate for his third wife, it appeared today with three possible Mrs. Gables named within 24 hours after his second wife had announced her separation.

Clark acquired Miss Mary Taylor, Park Avenue society girl who wants to get along in the movies, to a hockey game here in a party arranged by Jay O'Brien and immediately there came confidential reports that the attractive young miss would replace Mrs. Rhea Gable, wife No. 2.

Loretta Young entered the running early, too, with cinema-wise fans and columnists saying the spark of love sprang up and was nurtured with their recent acting in the "Call of the Wild." Those love scenes, in which Gable (the actor) lost to Miss Young's scenario husband, were real, the muck-pickers insist.

Someone else remembered that Gable and Elizabeth Allan, English actress, had met some place or that their names were spoken in the same crowd one evening and another possible romance blossomed. She was reported separated from her actor-husband last year.

That was the crop for the first day. A friend of Gable foresaw the flock of new candidates for wife No. 3 yesterday when Mrs. Rhea Gable announced she and Clark were at the parting of the ways.

"Any woman to whom he speaks or has ever spoken will be mentioned as his new sweetheart or next wife," the friend told the United Press.

KELLER ANNOUNCES FOR DECATUR POST

William Keller, 421 East Ponce de Leon avenue, Decatur, last night announced his candidacy for city commissioner of Decatur in the December election.

Keller, a claim department superintendent, seeks the post vacated by R. C. Henderson, who resigned as city commissioner Friday night.

Word comes from London that second editions of at least 38 different Crown Colony silver jubilee stamps have been printed. A careful check will have to be made before the exact number can be announced, but it is known that those which ordered complete sets of four stamps each included: Antigua, Ascension, British Guiana, British Solomon, Cayman Islands, Gibraltar, Grenada, Newfoundland, Nigeria, Sevilleles, St. Helena, St. Lucia, Trinidad and Tobago, and the British Virgin Islands.

Ecuador is preparing a series of stamps to commemorate the visit of Charles Darwin to the Galapagos islands a century ago. It was there that the great scientist "hit upon" the essential part of mutation upon which he established his famous theory of evolution.

Portugal is to have a new 10c air mail value.

The government of Costa Rica has decided to issue stamps for Cocos island, a colonial possession in the Pacific with romantic historical connotations. Eight values are scheduled, as follows: 4c, brown; 8c, deep violet; 25c, orange; 35c, purple; 40c, chocolate; 50c, yellow; 2c, light green, and 5c, dark green. First distribution during December.

Japan will have stamps to mark the ratification of a special postal convention with Manchukuo, but the so-called "silk" issues, about which there was talk a few weeks ago, will not be released.

Bulgaria has two new stamps—1L, sepia and red, and 5L, lilac brown and blue—for Sunday delivery use.

Belgium's mourning stamp for the late Queen Astrid appropriately reproduces King Leopold's favorite photograph of his wife. The value of the issue is 70c plus 5c; the color, gray black.

Duke 25, N. C. 0; Colgate 27, Syracuse 0; Temple 26, Marquette 6

L. S. U. 13, GEORGIA 0; ALABAMA 38, TECH 7

Here's Fatherree
On 105-Yard Run

SPORTS

RALPH MCGILL, Sports Editor.
Grantland Rice - Jack Troy - Melvin Pazol - Roy White - Thad Holt - Eddie Neil - Alan J. Gould

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1935.

Great Blocking Makes Touchdown

L. S. U. beat Georgia, 13 to 0, yesterday at Athens. The first touchdown came on the season's most daring play. Jess Fatherree, L. S. U. halfback, took the ball from Abe Mickal five yards back of the L. S. U. goal on a variation of the old "Statue of Liberty" play and ran to a touchdown. He is shown here as he swung out almost caught him at about the 15, but as shown in the picture an L. S. U. man blocked the one Georgia man who really threatened there and Fatherree immediately cut back and his team picked him up to escort him to the goal line for the touchdown. He ran 105 yards but the ball was snapped from his own five-yard line. Photo by J. T. Holloway.

Georgia Defeated By Bayou Tigers

Fatherree Races 95 Yards for Score; Bulldogs Great in Goal Line Stands.

By Ralph McGill.

SANFORD FIELD, ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Through the murky gloom of a rain-filled November day, L. S. U.'s great football team struck twice with lightning speed and power this afternoon to beat a fighting Georgia eleven, 13 to 0.

Nine minutes of the first quarter had gone. The amazing Charley Treadaway had taken a L. S. U. punt and carried it back through the white-clad men from Baton Rouge to their 26-yard line. Two short passes got a first down. Georgia failed on the fourth down of the next series and L. S. U. took the ball at her own 5-yard line.

The brilliant Abe Mickal, punter extraordinary, was back in kick formation. In his mind he held a supreme gesture of daring.

The ball came back. He faked the kick and then simply handed the ball back behind him to Jess Fatherree. Fatherree came racing around his left end. The Georgia end was blocked out.

Fatherree cut back toward the center. He seemed surrounded. And then suddenly his team picked him up. And there 20,000 people saw the essence of football, the manner in which an offense is made. The L. S. U. team began to block.

Red-shirted figures went down as if struck suddenly with a blade that took away their legs. And Fatherree ran with a human shield before him. He crossed the goal line without a hand being put on him.

Abe Mickal had conceived that bit of supreme daring. Had it failed he would have been condemned. But he and his mates carried it out.

It stands as one of the greatest plays ever conceived and executed in football.

It was the oldest play in football, a variation of the old Statue of Liberty play made famous by Michigan. But it went a full 95 yards for a

Continued on Fifth Sports Page.

Mighty Auburn Routs Petrels At Home, 51-0

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 15.—(AP)—The Oglethorpe Petrels were smothered by Alabama Poly here today as the Tigers romped at will to win, 51-0.

Playing with a flock of substitutes from the beginning of the second period, the Plainsmen drove straight to touchdowns almost every time they got the ball.

Only once did Oglethorpe show even a semblance of an attack and that was in the third quarter when Sullivan swept around right end for 23 yards and a first down, to be forced out of bounds on Auburn's 23-yard line.

McElroy was the first consistent ground gainer for Auburn, with Karam showing up well as a ball-toter in the final period.

Auburn pounded across the goal line three times in the opening period. Penalties slowed the Tigers up a bit in the second period and they could score but once.

A punting duel and Oglethorpe's brief spurt in the third period held up the scoring, but McElroy's one-man drive from midfield late in the period added another touchdown.

Three touchdowns came in rapid succession in the closing periods as Auburn's Karam and Coleman romped almost at will.

Patterson, Auburn's starting left tackle, kicked two extra points in three tries in the first period.

Strange, a substitute for Eaves at left end, tried placements after the remaining five touchdowns, but missed four of them.

A punting duel and Oglethorpe's brief spurt in the third period held up the scoring, but McElroy's one-man drive from midfield late in the period added another touchdown.

COLGATE UPSETS SYRACUSE, 27-0

Unbeaten Orange Machine Put to Rout by Raiders.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Syracuse's dreams of its first undefeated and untied season in history were shattered today by Colgate. Victorious six straight times this year, the big Orange team was blasted from the thinning ranks of undefeated, untied teams by the top-heavy margin of 27-0.

A capacity crowd of 30,000—one of the largest to witness this ancient upstate New York series—saw Colgate, beaten three times previously, unleash a withering forward passing attack which buried Syracuse by a far greater margin than had been believed possible.

Eugene "Ike" Kern, Colgate left-halfback, passed his team to victory. Each of the four touchdowns either came directly or indirectly from his bullet-like heaves.

The figures tell more convincingly how completely Syracuse was outplayed.

Colgate gained 231 yards by rushing to 48 by Syracuse, 103 yards through the air to 38 for the Orange and 17 first downs to Syracuse's 4.

SYRACUSE	Pos.	COLGATE
Roberts	L. E.	Ritchko
Webster	L. T.	Chabors
Jonas	L. G.	Davidson
Newberry	C.	Pillbury
Perault	R. G.	Fortmann
Isacks	R. E.	Wascoe
Misavage	R. E.	Billings
Nolan	R. E.	Vadas
Rechnack	L. H.	Kern
Touche	R. H.	Offenhamer
Albanese	F. B.	Irwin

Score by periods: Syracuse 0 0 0 0—0 Colgate 13 7 0 7—27
Scoring—Touchdowns: Colgate, Irwin 2, Offenhamer, Yaeger; points after touchdowns, Chesboro 3 (placements).

THE LINEUPS
SYRACUSE Pos. COLGATE
Roberts L. E. Ritchko
Webster L. T. Chabors
Jonas L. G. Davidson
Newberry C. Pillbury
Perault R. G. Fortmann
Isacks R. E. Wascoe
Misavage R. E. Billings
Nolan R. E. Vadas
Rechnack L. H. Kern
Touche R. H. Offenhamer
Albanese F. B. Irwin

Score by periods: Syracuse 0 0 0 0—0 Colgate 13 7 0 7—27
Scoring—Touchdowns: Colgate, Irwin 2, Offenhamer, Yaeger; points after touchdowns, Chesboro 3 (placements).

THE LINEUPS
AUBURN Pos. OGLETHORPE
Eaves L. E. Freeman
Patterson L. T. McGhee
Gantt L. G. Pickard
Gilbert C. Owens
Morris R. E. McGee
McCrackey R. E. Adams
Mitchell L. H. Sullivan
J. Fenton R. H. Leslie
Kilgore F. B. Clayborn

Score by periods: Auburn 13 14 0 4—31 Oglethorpe 0 0 0 0—0
Scoring—Touchdowns: Auburn, Patterson (2), Heath (sub for Eaves), Mitchell (sub for Kilgore) (2), J. Fenton (2); points after touchdowns—Oglethorpe (2) (placements); Auburn (2) (placements); Oglethorpe (2) (placements).

Today's warfare—the last big Saturday of the season—left the race for an eastern bid to the Rose Bowl in a muddled condition.

ALL FOUR QUARTERS.
The Alabama Poly Aigers scored in all four quarters of a game for the first time this season in kicking the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets, 33-7, in Atlanta.

SANFORD FIELD, ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—They look now like two blue postage stamps stuck against the stadium.

A few moments before they filled the playing field, there were 12 columns of fours, six on each side of the magnificent band.

It was the L. S. U. cadet corps, some 2,000 strong from Baton Rouge, La., to carry out the great football pilgrimage which the late Huey Long had announced before his assassination a few weeks ago.

They marched on, the cold November rain slanting against the blue-gray columns of marching men. With them came the band, a smashing column of sound, near 200 strong. With them marched 30 beautiful girls clad in white skirts and sweaters with a jaunty cap topping off their uniforms.

How Huey would have loved the show! He used to lead them, calling on a piccolo player to soothe him now and then, or strutting in front of the band. It was his team and his band at his school. He took a childish pride in them and when he was come to die he was to ask, "What will become of my boys and girls at L. S. U.?"

He may have been a fascist menace and he was a demagogue, but he had enough of the elements of earth in him to make people like him. Governor O. K. Allen, whom Huey Long put into office, brought the students here, lending them some $22,000 in I. O. U.'s. And they are honored. The Kingfish let them have the money last year but he made a show of it, standing on the platform, pulling bills from pockets which never seemed to empty, and letting the students take it and hand him their I. O. U.'s. They paid it back.

L. S. U. happens to be a great university, one of the finest in the south. The Kingfish may have suppressed freedom of the press and muzzled the faculty but he gave them good salaries, he hired good men and he gave L. S. U. some of the finest equipment any university possesses.

The constitution of Louisiana brings to the state university something more than $2,000,000 annually. The politicians, who gave it, cannot take it away. It was curious this man should have been such a friend of education.

The students at L. S. U., girls and boys, are the same fine type of American boys and girls one finds at any American university. They have a mighty pride in their university and they should have.

The Kingfish extended his showmanship to the football team. And he insisted the football team have flashy jerseys and the bright yellow silk pants.

There is nothing haphazard about the L. S. U. equipment. It is not merely placed in a row in front of the bench. The managers have just come in. They put down a long strip of canvas with numbered sections on it. The equipment—headgears, jackets—is put in each section for each boy.

There is no colored water carrier for L. S. U. There is a tea table on wheels and on it go individual drinking cups for

Continued on Third Sports Page.

TEMPLE KAYOES MARQUETTE, 26-6

Another Unbeaten Eleven Tumbles as Owls Show Power.

TEMPLE STADIUM, PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—(UP)—Marquette University's Rose Bowl dreams were shattered abruptly today when its golden avalanche of the gridiron was smashed back, 26-6, by Pop Warner's powerful Temple Owls. It was Marquette's first defeat of the season.

Led by a dark-haired young Pennsylvania battering ram, John Kusko, the Owls outplayed the visiting Milwaukee athletes in virtually all departments, and won with an ease that surprised the 18,000 fans.

Kusko registered one touchdown and participated in three other scoring plays. He also did most of Temple's punting. In the first period, Kusko and Vincent Renzo, left half, did most of the ball carrying as the Owls marched 64 yards to Marquette's 14-yard line. Kusko tossed a short pass to Renzo, and the latter raced over the goal stripe for the first touchdown.

A 58-yard march that started at the end of the first session and finished on Marquette's 3-yard stripe early in the second period, resulted in the final period after Kusko lanced through his own right guard and over the goal. In the same session, Kusko and Renzo passed and bucked their way to Marquette's 14—after a pass had been intercepted on Marquette's 33. Kusko passed to Edwin Walker, left end, who fell over the goal line for the third tally.

The fourth Temple touchdown came in the final period after Kusko intercepted a Milwaukee pass on Marquette's 47. Temple hammered down to the opposing 7 stripe, with Kusko and Horace Mower, sub right half, doing the toting. Then Bill Davidson, sub left half, took a reverse from Kusko and sliced through his left tackle for the marker.

Bill Docherty kicked two of the Temple points after touchdown, but his other two attempts were blocked. Temple's superior power was reflected in 20 first downs against six for Marquette, and 331 yards against 27 gained from scrimmage. Marquette gambled more in the air than the home team. The Milwaukee boys completed 10 out of 23 for 102 yards, while Temple completed three of 10 for 29.

LINEUPS AND SUMMARY.
MARQUETTE Pos. TEMPLE
McMahon L. E. Walker
Peoples L. T. Docherty
Frankenstein L. G. Lanin
Reef C. Bonopka
Czernecki R. G. Gursynski
Lamb R. E. Russell
Muth R. E. Appolito
Art Gusep R. H. Frey
Buid R. H. Longderff
Cuff F. B. Kusko

Score by periods: Temple 13 13 0 0—26 Marquette 6 0 0 0—6
Touchdowns: Temple, Renzo, Walker, Kusko, Davidson, Marquette, McMahon (2) (placements).

Scoring, Georgia Tech—Touchdown, Kenemann. Point after touchdown, Sims (placement).

Officials—Duroto (Auburn), referee; Moriarty (Mt. St. Mary's), umpire; Kalkman (St. Louis), head linesman; Bagley (W. & L.), field judge.

Score by quarters:
Alabama 6 13 6 13—38 Ga. Tech 0 7 0 0—7

Scoring, Alabama—Touchdowns, Angeli, Smith 2, Bryant, Kilgore 2. Points after touchdowns—Smith 2 (placements).

Scoring, Georgia Tech—Touchdown, Kenemann. Point after touchdown, Sims (placement).

Officials—Duroto (Auburn), referee; Moriarty (Mt. St. Mary's), umpire; Kalkman (St. Louis), head linesman; Bagley (W. & L.), field judge.

Tide Powerhouse Overwhelms Tech

Alabama Puts Jackets to Rout With Deluge of Touchdowns in Victory.

By Jack Troy.

LEGION FIELD, BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 16.—Streaks of red, not unlike the flashing of gunfire on a dark afternoon, punctuated the murky atmosphere this afternoon as Alabama's powerful and fleet juggernaut riddled the Tech Jackets, 38 to 7.

There was a distinctly one-sided aspect to the spectacle once the Raiders in red got going on all eleven. But the touchdown play that gave the 10,000 and more shivering spectators the most thrills was the forward lateral play that saw Tech befuddle the Crimson and draw within a touchdown of the lead in the first half.

Riley Smith, one of the greatest blocking backs the south has seen, got off a poor kick that went only 12 yards out of bounds on his own 37. Scrapy Edwards tried a plunge and was held for no gain. Edwards then threw a 10-yard pass to Gibson, who turned and lateraled the ball to the waiting Red Collins, and the Jacket center put on a great burst of speed to elude tacklers and score. Fletcher Sims kicked the extra point.

Tech put on a couple of other marches during the game, but once it was penalties and again it was a fumble that ruined it all.

MORE TO COME.
Alabama left the game at the half with an advantage of 19 to 7 and with the implied threat that there was more powder and shot in the arsenal.

Shivering fans braving a sudden cold snap, saw the raiders in red score on the first seven plays after Joe Kilgore had returned a punt 18 yards to the Tech 49.

Angeli, Kilgore, Rhordanz and Smith all had a hand in carrying the ball down to the Tech 21. A Tech penalty for off-sides held the march along.

Then Jimmy Angeli kicked a red-Continued on Fourth Sports Page.

THE LINEUPS
ALABAMA Pos. GA. TECH
H. Walker L. E. Morgan
Whitley L. T. Chanie
Monks L. G. Nixon
Francis R. G. Collins
White R. E. Fitzsimmons
Ruba R. T. Eubanks
J. Walker R. E. Gibson
Smith QB. Tharpe
Kilgore L. H. Hays
Angeli R. H. McKinley
Rhordanz F. B. Street

Score by quarters:
Alabama 6 13 6 13—38 Ga. Tech 0 7 0 0—7

Scoring, Alabama—Touchdowns, Angeli, Smith 2, Bryant, Kilgore 2. Points after touchdowns—Smith 2 (placements).

Scoring, Georgia Tech—Touchdown, Kenemann. Point after touchdown, Sims (placement).

Officials—Duroto (Auburn), referee; Moriarty (Mt. St. Mary's), umpire; Kalkman (St. Louis), head linesman; Bagley (W. & L.), field judge.

Duke Shatters Tarheel Hopes For Rose Bowl

By Eddie Brietz.

DUKE STADIUM, DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—North Carolina's Rose Bowl aspirations were knocked higher than a kite today when a smart, well-coached Duke eleven clinched a 25-to-0 upset before 46,880 rain-soaked spectators—the largest football gallery in southern garrison history.

Not only did North Carolina's Rose Bowl shoot downward, but Duke's surprise victory also toppled the Tarheels from the rapidly thinning ranks of the nation's undefeated eleven. Until today Carl Snavely's high-powered machine had rolled up seven straight triumphs.

Duke came up with a powerful running attack to score a touchdown in the second period, another in the third and then top off the rout with two markers in the fourth. North Carolina was completely outplayed every department. The Tarheels made 13 first downs to 5, but could not make them count.

CAREFULLY GROOMED.
Duke obviously had been carefully groomed for its top game of the season. Coach Wallace Wade's big forwards stopped North Carolina's running attack cold and completely bottled up the vaunted forward passing combination of Don Jackson, the Dick Buck, his running mate. Almost every time Jackson flung one of his long aerials, it seemed a couple of blue jerseyed Dukes were on hand to break up the play.

Duke rode to two of its four touchdowns on intercepted passes from the usually accurate throwing arm of Jackson. The others came as the results of gallops of 47 and 30 yards by Jule Ward, of Galax, Va., and Clarence (Ace) Parker, of Portsmouth, Virginia.

PARKER STARS.
With the highly-touted Jackson unable to find a mark for his darts, the best player on the field was the same Parker. Duke's hustling quarterback. He personally accounted for one touchdown, but he was here, there and everywhere, kicking, passing and running and altogether turning in one of the classiest exhibitions of quarterbacking southern fans have seen in a good many years. Parker played 57 of the minutes of the hard-fighting football.

While the big crowd waited impatiently for North Carolina to turn

Continued on Third Sports Page.

Football Scores
ON PAGE 4-B

Mann and Moore Leave Monday for Dayton Baseball Conclave

A Few of the Notables Who Saw L. S. U. in Victory Over Georgia's Bulldogs at Sanford Field Yesterday

More than 2,000 cadets and football fans from Louisiana came to Athens yesterday on five special trains to see the L. S. U. team win from Georgia, 13 to 0, at Athens. In photograph at left are two United States senators. Right is Senator Richard Russell, of Georgia, and left is L. J. Frazier, of North Dakota. In the center is Governor O. K. Allen, of Louisiana, who provided the money for the 1,800 cadets of L. S. U., carrying out the plan of the late Huey Long who was to accompany the students to Athens. Right is a group of fans. Left to right, Miss Louise Tyus, of Carrollton; Dorothy Verner, Mrs. J. C. Verner and J. C. Verner, of Commerce. Photo by J. T. Holloway.

Many Friends Bemoan Death Of Likeable 'Tich' Tichenor

By Ralph McGill

SANFORD FIELD, ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Reynolds (Tich) Tichenor died in Decatur, Ga., early this morning.

It was curious that three weeks ago he should have been sitting here in the press box at Sanford field watching the Alabama-Georgia game. It was the last game he saw.

They dedicated here that day a bronze tablet to Von Gammon, the Georgia football player from Rome, who died in 1897 in the game with Virginia played in Atlanta.

Tich was in that game for Georgia. He weighed 116 pounds and he was a terror. That was the day of the mass plays and the flying wedge. Tich was a star at 116 pounds. That is epitaph enough.

That day he watched them dedicate the tablet to Von Gammon. "I remember him, that day," said Tich. "He said he'd be back. He had too much nerve to quit."

IN LIFE, DEATH. Tich was tied up in life and death with Georgia. He played for Auburn and then Georgia. He was working on the old field here in 1929 as an official in the Georgia-Furman game of that year.

I recall him running after a play and suddenly stopping and dropping to the ground, blood on the hands he put to his mouth. It was the first hemorrhage of the dread disease that was to claim him yesterday.

He knew, all these years, he was fighting a losing game. But he kept going to football games. And I think he wanted to come back here today. But he grew worse Friday late.

He didn't see Georgia's great triumph over Yale in 1929, one week after he had dropped here on the field. But that same day gallant Ruth Babb, who loved him, was married to him in the hospital. They had six years of happiness and a young daughter and crowded into those six years was more happiness than comes to most people.

BORN IN ALABAMA. Tich was born January 25, 1877, at the home place of Mount Ida near Talladega, Ala. He is survived by his wife and Newton, his daughter; two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Dill, of Greenville, S. C., and Mrs. Thomas C. Whitner, of Atlanta; one niece and two nephews, Miss Annie Kate Barnes, of Opelika, Ala.; Thomas C. Whitner, Jr., of Elizabeth, N. J.; and James T. Whitner, of Atlanta.

Tich attended the public schools in Atlanta and for three years started at Auburn, playing from 1893 to 1896 and then attending Georgia in 1897. His father was the first president of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. And Tich was a splendid lawyer until ill health stopped his practice.

Tich was a grand person. He had hundreds of friends and there was no one who did not respect him. He loved life but he never once complained at the inevitable fact he had to leave it.

Burial will be in West View cemetery, with services beginning at 3:30 o'clock at Spring Hill Dr. Ashby Jones and Rev. B. C. Kerr will officiate at the services.

pallbearers will be W. A. Alexander, Al A. Doonan, J. B. Boller, Forest Adair Jr., F. Marian Swanson, Grover Middlebrooks, T. H. Donner and Judge Shepherd Bryan.

Tuskegee Defeats Lemoyne, 28 to 0

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala., Nov. 16.—Launching a powerful driving attack the Tuskegee Golden Tigers backed the Lemoyne College fast and shifty team to the wall and blanketed the Yellow Jackets, 28 to 0, before a shouting and cheering crowd in the Alumni bowl here today.

The work of Trammell, senior, line-villain, Ala. Tuskegee right tackle, was outstanding throughout the game.

Chattanooga Beats Northwestern, 12-0

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(P)—The Moccasins of Chattanooga drove to a hard-earned 12-0 victory over Northwestern here today before 1,500 chilled spectators.

In the second quarter, Klein drove around end for a touchdown. The final marker came in the fourth quarter when Watfield clinched a drive by skirting left end for a touchdown.

Slippery Rock Wins

Slippery Rock continued its winning streak with a 12-7 victory over Thiel. Pitchford and Smith were best for the Slippery Rockers.

Men's, Boys' Shoes, Oxford DUCKETT'S ARMY STORE

79 Alabama St.

NORTHWESTERN WINS ANOTHER

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Ollie Adelman, a Milwaukee boy with swivel hips and perpetual motion legs, escaped from the Northwestern bench today to stage an unforgettable running exhibition that gave the Wildcats a 32-to-13 triumph over Wisconsin.

Ollie, a little 158-pounder who was so slippery that he squirmed out of tackle arms and left three sitting dumbfounded to the delight of 20,000 spectators, rushed over three of the five Northwestern touchdowns with spectacular jaunts of 55, 34 and 8 yards.

His performance overshadowed the exceptional passing arm of Lynn Jordan, who threw so accurately that he put the Wisconsin Badgers in the game after they had been hopelessly routed.

Trailing, 0 to 20, Jordan threw a 15-yard pass to Jankowski, who raced 48 more for the score. Jordan passed for another touchdown when he threw one in the end zone to Fred Benz.

The victory was the third in succession for Northwestern, which has defeated Illinois, Notre Dame and Wisconsin in a row after a bad start.

Score by periods: 0 0 0 7-13 Northwestern scoring: Touchdowns, Benz 1, Jordan 1, Jankowski 1. Points after touchdowns: Jordan 1.

Bill Stephens intercepted a pass by Ruch and was thrown on his own 25. On the first play McNally crashed off tackle and immediately lost his interference. Three times he was driven into a hole as Sewanee fingers clutched at his jersey, but he managed to shake loose, evaded the secondary and fled 75 yards for the score.

The 6,000 spectators hardly had recovered their breath before Carlisle Hughes booted a placement squarely between the uprights.

A few minutes later Bob Ivey punted over the Sewanee goal and the Tigers took the ball on the 20. Malcolm Poage attempted to cross up the Gator defense with a pass, but McNally took it out of the air and plunged through the surprised Sewanee eleven for 25 yards and a score. Again, Hughes converted the point on a placekick.

The final Gator score came late in the fourth as Sewanee opened up with a desperate passing game. Charlie Matheny, substitute Florida center, reached up and snatched one of Ruth's tosses on the Florida 38. He set out straight for the double stripe and hardly changed pace during a 62-yard dash for a touchdown.

Several white-jerseyed line-men smashed through the line to block Hughes' placekick.

G. M. A. To Organize Three Court Teams

G. M. A. will organize three basketball teams and would like to arrange games with any strong teams in this section. The players have already started practicing.

A midjet team, consisting of players under 120 pounds, and playing an independent schedule, has been formed and is seeking games.

A varsity and reserve team also will be formed and each will play an independent schedule.

Games for either of the teams can be arranged through M. C. Paget, G. M. A. athletic director, or Sam Burdette, basketball coach.

Navin Paid Final Respects As Thousands Attend Burial

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—(UP)—His barber, his chauffeur, notables from the baseball and industrial world as well as hundreds of others crowded the Nave of Blessed Sacrament church today for the funeral services for Frank J. Navin, president of the World Champion Detroit Tigers.

They were there to pay final respects to the man who had "held on" until his team won a World Series.

The solemn high requiem mass of the dead was chanted at 10 a. m. in the Roman Catholic church, and in the long pews knelt, or stood, the people who had known Navin in life. Hundreds who had known him only through newspapers also were present.

The pallbearers were chosen from the Question Club of which the 64-year-old club president was a member. Several groups attended in bodies.

They were the Detroit College class of '97, with whom he graduated; Detroit baseball players and the Detroit Baseball Company employees.

Among the ball club owners, managers and players were the following: Baseball High Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis; American League President William Hargrave; President Thomas Shibe, of the Philadelphia Athletics; President J. Louis Comiskey, of the Chicago White Sox; President Alva Bradley, of the Cleveland Indians; L. C. McEvoy, vice president of the St. Louis Browns; Manager Jimmy Dykes, of the Chicago White Sox; President Clark Griffith, of the Washington Senators; Thomas Hawley, Boston Red Sox owner; and Manager Joe McCarthy, of the New York Yankees.

A special section of the church was reserved for Navin's immediate family, including his wife, Mrs. Grace Shaw Navin, who found her husband's body beside his horse Wednesday after he had suffered a heart attack.

Hundreds of cars lined up to join the cortege to Mt. Olivet cemetery after the mass.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. PHILADELPHIA—Connie Mack is the man everyone has his eyes on. Reports are out that Connie is going to sell Jimmie Fox, Eric McNair and Roger Cramer. It's a clutch that some of those deals will be announced at Dayton, but they probably will be clinched there.

DETROIT—The Tigers want another outfielder and a harder-hitting third baseman. But Manager Mickey Cochrane will be slow to let them go. He may want to hold out of Owner Frank J. Navin.

NEW YORK—A big deal with the Athletics is reported. They are supposed to be on the move to Cleveland to solve the catching problem. They are supposed to be on the move to Cleveland to solve the catching problem.

Mann, Moore Seek Two New Players

Leave for Dayton Meeting in Quest of Outfielder and Pitcher.

By Ralph McGill

Earl Mann and Eddie Moore, president and manager, respectively, of the Atlanta Baseball Club, will pack up Monday and depart in the evening for the annual national baseball convention at Dayton, Ohio.

This convention, the most important baseball meeting of the year, finds all the minor leagues in official convention with the majors all represented. It is the baseball meeting of the year, the major league meetings being secondary in importance.

It is expected that the Southern league will be made an AA league at the Dayton meeting. The club owners learned at least one member of the American Association would make a fight against the boosting of Southern league rating.

NOW ELEGIBLE. The rating is determined on a population basis and the Southern can now enter. Should the fight to raise the requirements to more than 2,500,000 be adopted the Dixie circuit would be barred.

Class AA rating automatically would mean: Raising of draft price from $6,000 to $7,500. In, across number of option players from 7 to 10. Abolish rookie rule and raise player limit to 18.

Open negotiations for post-season games with winner in American, Association, International or Coast league clubs.

BETTER BASEBALL. It would mean better baseball. Abolishing the rookie rule and raising the player limit to 18 would insure the fans of a higher class baseball.

There never has been a great deal of difference in the class baseball played in the Association and in the Southern league.

Such a move would be constructive and it is believed it will be successfully accomplished at the Dayton meeting.

One of the Southern Association trading will be done at Dayton. The Atlanta club hopes to complete its 1936 baseball club at Dayton.

The statement of the Atlanta club is as far as possible, according to Eddie Moore.

One of the players to be sought is a good pitcher to replace Kelley. (A) In 215 innings he walked 28 men and fanned 91.

Petty began his baseball career with San Antonio of the Texas league in 1916. The same season he was drafted by the Cleveland Indians.

He is a native of Texas and maintains a home in Baker, Ore.

BUYS 54 TICKETS. Taking time off from his lucrative insurance business, Winfield Williams, outstanding Alabama Polytechnic Institute athlete, has purchased a block of 54 tickets for the Tigers' classic with the Georgia Bulldogs at Memorial stadium in Columbus next Saturday.

The tickets will be distributed to friends in Opelika and the Chattahoochee valley, which includes the cities of West Point, Ga.; Lanett, Shawmut, Langdale, Fairfax and Riverview. Opelika is the home of Mr. Williams.

Williams is reported improving in his fight against the flu. He is expected to return to his duties as a pitcher, says the Senators.

NATIONAL LEAGUE. CHICAGO—Charlie Grimm intends to go for nothing but youngsters, but the World Series proved that the Cubs must have another good pitcher.

DETROIT—If they don't break their resolution, the Pirates are going to be tough to deal with. They need help but threaten to do nothing unless they get a new pitcher.

BROOKLYN—A wholesale swapping contest is expected between the Dodgers and the Braves.

DETROIT—The Braves are reported to have every player except Wally Berger, Dutch Leonard and Doc Cramer.

NEW YORK—Bill Terry spent all his time at Louisville last year in trying to break into the big leagues.

PHILADELPHIA and CINCINNATI—A up and down but made between these two second-division occupants.

BIG GREEN SOCKS CORNELL, 41 TO 6

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 16.—(P)—Silver-haired Jess Petty, former major league pitcher, will manage the Knoxville baseball club of the Southern Association in 1936.

Announcement of his employment was made today by Edgar Allen, secretary of the club.

Petty, who hurled for Chattanooga in 1935, will succeed Lee Head, catcher and manager for Knoxville the past two seasons. Head probably will be sold or traded at the minor league meeting in Dayton, Ohio, this month.

In addition to managing the Smokies, Petty, a southpaw, also will pitch, Allen said.

Petty, who is spending the winter in Knoxville, said his first move would be to strengthen the hitting of the Smokies. He pointed out that the club lost 41 games last season by one run.

Two new infielders and two new outfielders will be sought, he said.

"I'll guarantee the Smokies will finish out of the cellar in 1936," he declared.

Petty, who is 40 years old, is the seventh manager for Knoxville in four and one-half years.

He pitched 500 ball for Chattanooga last year, winning 11 and losing 11. In 215 innings he walked 28 men and fanned 91.

Petty began his baseball career with San Antonio of the Texas league in 1916. The same season he was drafted by the Cleveland Indians.

He is a native of Texas and maintains a home in Baker, Ore.

BUYS 54 TICKETS. Taking time off from his lucrative insurance business, Winfield Williams, outstanding Alabama Polytechnic Institute athlete, has purchased a block of 54 tickets for the Tigers' classic with the Georgia Bulldogs at Memorial stadium in Columbus next Saturday.

The tickets will be distributed to friends in Opelika and the Chattahoochee valley, which includes the cities of West Point, Ga.; Lanett, Shawmut, Langdale, Fairfax and Riverview. Opelika is the home of Mr. Williams.

Williams is reported improving in his fight against the flu. He is expected to return to his duties as a pitcher, says the Senators.

NATIONAL LEAGUE. CHICAGO—Charlie Grimm intends to go for nothing but youngsters, but the World Series proved that the Cubs must have another good pitcher.

DETROIT—If they don't break their resolution, the Pirates are going to be tough to deal with. They need help but threaten to do nothing unless they get a new pitcher.

BROOKLYN—A wholesale swapping contest is expected between the Dodgers and the Braves.

DETROIT—The Braves are reported to have every player except Wally Berger, Dutch Leonard and Doc Cramer.

NEW YORK—Bill Terry spent all his time at Louisville last year in trying to break into the big leagues.

PHILADELPHIA and CINCINNATI—A up and down but made between these two second-division occupants.

Northwestern Comes Into Own After Coach Pulls Raving Act

By Paul Mickelson

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Several Northwestern football players fell into a huddle one night after a particularly shaky drill.

"Gosh," piped up one of the Wildcats, "the coach sure must have been sore at us tonight. Did ya hear him say 'damn'?"

From that night on, Northwestern developed into one of the strongest teams in college football. The Wildcats became so wild that they scared the mighty Minnesota team before falling into defeat. They rallied sharply to shatter the Big Ten championship dream of Illinois. Then they became the first Northwestern team in 34 years to whip Notre Dame.

It's no wonder the Wildcats were stunned and stirred when Coach Lynn Waldorf, freshman tutor of the Big Ten, uttered his first cuss word in practice. The man of the hour on the Evanston campus is one of the softest spoken, quietest coaches in football. As the son of a Methodist bishop, he doesn't boast of any great piety, but his soft answers and actions have made him a popular idol among his boys.

BUCKEYES BEAT ILLINOIS, 6 TO 0

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 16.—(P)—William Harrison (Tipper) Dye, 142-pound reserve Ohio State quarterback, sloshed 60 yards through a broken and muddy field today to defeat Illinois, 6 to 0, and keep Ohio in the Big Ten title race.

Only last Saturday's game with Michigan stands between Ohio State and a half share of the conference laurels.

Dye's run, made in the first period after taking one of Halfback John Kanosky's punts in the middle of the field, was a masterpiece of broken-field running behind perfect kicking interference. The little fellow went over the line standing up, not an enemy hand touching him en route.

Illinois, outwitted in every department, wrote a new chapter of nerve, endurance and defensive ability into the colorful story of the 24-year series between the teams.

The boys from the prairie country outplayed Ohio's heavy forward wall time after time, and in one gallant goal line stand stopped the running backs inches from the goal.

Late in the game, Ohio State punted to the Illinois 4-yard line. A buck took the ball to within a foot of a touchdown. Two more plays were run, and Illinois took the ball on the 2-yard line.

Illinois, battling against weight and reserve power, never quit trying and did what no other eleven has been able to do this year—stop "Jumping Joe" Williams who went into the game tied for the Big Ten scoring lead.

When Henry Longfellow, Wildcat end, caught the pass to score the tying touchdown against Notre Dame Saturday, everyone, including assistant coaches, jumped up in their excitement. A reserve ran over to Lynn.

"What do you think about it, coach?" he asked enthusiastically. "Well, well," drawled Waldorf. "Henry finally caught a pass after three long years, and he grabbed it away from Mr. Shakespeare, too."

Court Meeting Set For November 25

There was no meeting of the Methodist Athletic Association this past week, but there will be a meeting on Monday night, November 25, for the purpose of settling all uncertain points before the basketball leagues open on December 5.

Two leagues have been formed and it is not yet too late to enter. The first is the Lyman Monk Johnson at 451 Whitehall street. If the lineup remains as it is now, the leagues will play at the Atlanta Athletic Club on Thursday nights.

Talladega Beats Fisk Eleven, 12-6

TALLADEGA, Ala., Nov. 16.—(P)—Talladega defeated Fisk, 12 to 6, here today in a football game between the two negro college teams.

The teams battled on even terms until the final few minutes of the contest when Hop Williams ran 80 yards for a touchdown for Talladega.

Talladega's first touchdown came in the opening quarter on a pass. Fisk scored in the third on cross bucks.

WALSH GETS CONTRACT. BOSTON, Nov. 16.—(P)—Adam Walsh, youthful head coach of Row-doin College, who gave that institution its first Maine championship since 1921, has been offered a new three-year contract, he announced tonight.

Walsh, center and captain of Notre Dame's team of "Four Horsemen" fame, said he had not made up his mind whether to accept.

Talmadge Loses Bet As L. S. U. Triumphs

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Georgia's governor, Eugene Talmadge, lost a "Gentleman's bet" of one dollar to Governor O. K. Allen, Louisiana chieftain, as a result of the L. S. U. 13-0 triumph over the Bulldogs here this afternoon.

Other notables attending the game included Senators Richard B. Russell, of Georgia; L. J. Frazier, of North Dakota, and Richard W. Leche, candidate for the gubernatorial post in Louisiana.

Dr. J. M. Smith, president of L. S. U. also made the trip. Governor Talmadge's staff of lieutenants colonels turned out almost en masse. Among those in the official party were Henry Weber, Atlanta; Perry Middleton, Brunswick; Joel Mallet, Jackson; Scott Allen, Atlanta; C. H. King, Atlanta; George Reynolds, Atlanta; Otis Brumby, Marietta; H. C. Smith Lawrenceville; B. T. Watkins, Macon; R. DeWitt King, Atlanta; J. C. Verner, Commerce, and S. E. Vandiver, Lavonia.

Headed by Lieutenant-Colonel T. H. Middleton, the military staff of L. S. U. was well represented. Those on hand for the game were Majors H. L. Hogan and J. D. Forsythe; Captains H. L. Perry and R. N. Smith, and Lieutenant W. M. Mills, Colonel H. E. Mann, of the University of Georgia, R. O. T. C., was also in the officials' box.

CONSTRUCTIVE AMUSEMENT

With the holiday season a few weeks off consider a set of Black Diamond Files for your boy. They will provide hours of constructive amusement during the coming twelve months. You'll enjoy using them, too, for these files are sharp cutters—easy to use and economical to have on the home workbench. Sold by hardware dealers everywhere.

BLACK DIAMOND FILES

NICHOLSON FILE COMPANY
Providence, R. I., U. S. A.
SINCE 1869
THE STANDARD OF QUALITY

Vandy Beats Vols After 9 Years, 13-7; Wave Sinks Wildcats, 20-13

GENY BIG HERO AS COMMODORES SMASH OLD JINX

Star End Tallies Both Touchdowns for Ray Morrison.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(AP) Led by the flaming spirit and sensational performance of Captain Willie Geny, the Vanderbilt Commodores today defeated the University of Tennessee, 13 to 7, for the first time in nine years, before a crowd of 15,000. Unmistakable of the dashing rain that fell during part of the game, Geny paced his mates to a dazzling triumph, scoring both touchdowns himself and shining in all departments of the game.

It was the great play of Geny and his mates that started off the regime of Ray Morrison in high style, his debut against the Vols resulting in a victory that Commodore backers have craved since their 20-3 decision in 1926.

Since that time Tennessee has won six games and the Commodores lost no time showing the spectators that the Orange Jinx over the Vanderbilt eleven was no more.

After Tennessee had received the on-coming kickoff, Palmer punted from his own 12-yard line to Vandy's 42.

LINE PLAY ONLY.

Using nothing except straight line plays, Rand Dixon and Sam Agee battered the Tennessee line, advancing the ball to the Vols' 16-yard line. On the next play Dixon shoved a pass behind the line to long-legged Geny, who raced around left end and over the goal line standing up. Rannie Thromorton added the extra point.

The vaunted aerial attacks of both teams were practically worthless. Dixon and Woodruff Derrberry, who were the two teams' finding it well-nigh impossible to grasp the slippery oval.

Vanderbilt put over its second and clinching tally early in the third quarter.

Geny paved the way for this touchdown by blocking Derrberry's punt on the Vols' 28-yard line and Dick Plasman recovered on the 12-yard stripe. Oliver failed to gain at left tackle, and Agee ripped off 4 through center. Dixon tossed a 1-yard pass to Oliver and then flipped a perfect dart to Geny in the end zone. Thromorton failed to convert from placement.

Most of the second period was spent in Vandy's territory owing to the superb punting of Tennessee's Toby Palmer, but the Orange offensive found itself impotent before the fast-charging and almost impenetrable Commodore forwards.

The Vols put on their only effective show late in the fourth period when the fans were streaming out of the stadium.

Dixon's poor punt out of bounds on his own 21-yard line paved the way for the touchdown. Dick Harp, sub for Derrberry, carried the ball to the 16-yard line, and a pass from Harp to Ditmore, sub for Rose, was ruled, played the ball on the 12-yard line.

Lippe and Epperson, sub for Palmer, smashed the Vandy line for a first down on the 1-yard line and then Harp sliced off eight yards to the touchdown. Ditmore added the point from placement.

VOLS SCORE LATE.

Fired by this belated attack, the Vols kicked off to Vanderbilt and Dixon, playing safe, fired a long punt down the field that Moses took on his own 10 and returned to his 38-yard line.

Harp added five on a reverse and the Vols appeared about to make a consistent advance when Earl sub for Geny intercepted a pass on the Vandy 47-yard line two plays before the game ended.

After the battle supporters of Vanderbilt's black battalion streamed onto the field and tore down goal posts and they found they couldn't splinter the iron shafts for souvenirs.

INJURIES AND SUMMARY.

Vanderbilt: L. E. Humphreys, Ray, L. G. Silverman, Brown, L. G. Weaver, Hinkle, C. G. Crawford, Meritt, R. G. F. Crawford, Thromorton, R. T. F. Crawford, Plasman, R. F. F. Crawford, Dixon, R. F. F. Crawford, Oliver, R. F. F. Crawford, Watson, R. F. F. Crawford, Line.

Score by periods: 7 0 0 0—7 Tennessee 0 0 0 0—0
Scoring—Vanderbilt: Touchdowns, Thromorton (placement), Tennessee, touchdowns, Harp (sub for Derrberry), end zone, after touchdown, Ditmore (sub for Rose, placement).

Officials: Strupp (Georgia Tech), referee; Burchard (Miss. College), umpire; Weastling (Ohio State), head line judge; Franke (Army), side judge.

Borwanger Stopped, As Hoosiers Win

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(UP)—A fast, aggressive Indiana team which refused to be overawed by the presence of Jay Borwanger, Chicago's storied back, defeated the Maroons 24 to 0 today. It was Indiana's first Big Ten victory of the season.

Borwanger was checked at every position and made but two first downs. Yale, on the other hand, after being held scoreless in the first period, made touchdowns almost at will, piling up 42 points in the last half after giving most of its reserves a mild workout.

Lafayette Smashed By Yale Eleven, 55-0

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Lafayette met smashing defeat at the hands of Yale, 55 to 0, in a game scheduled as a breather for the Elis before the Harvard game next week.

Lafayette never was in a scoring position and made but two first downs. Yale, on the other hand, after being held scoreless in the first period, made touchdowns almost at will, piling up 42 points in the last half after giving most of its reserves a mild workout.

BUILD MODEL AIRPLANES COMPLETE LINE KITS AND SUPPLIES MILLER'S INC. 14 BRUSH STREET QU. AT HEALEY BLDG.

Vandy Fullback Smashes Tennessee Line for Ten Yards

Vanderbilt conquered Tennessee for the first time in 10 years yesterday, 13-7. Above photo shows Sam Agee, hard-stop Commodore fullback, after he had broken over center for a 10-yard gain and placed the ball on the Vol 16-yard line in a first-quarter offensive. Geny took Dixon's pass on the next play for the first Vandy score. As is evident in the picture, Agee had torn through the line and is finally carried by the Tennessee secondary. Associated Press photo.

CHEROKEE LOOP OPENS FRIDAY

Eight of Atlanta's best girls' basketball teams playing boys' rules, will open the season Friday night, on the 14th anniversary of the Y. W. C. A. court when the opening series of the Cherokee girls' league will be played. This league, after a lapse of one season, will begin its eighth year.

In the opening tilt, which starts at 7 p. m., the United Garment Workers will meet the Inman Park Baptists, last year's champions of the Sunday School Association. The Garment Workers should be good, as they are being coached by one of Atlanta's best female athletes, Bo Cartwright.

In the second tilt, Rock Island Railroad, formerly Pattillo Memorial, champions of the DeKalb league, meets the club sponsored by Miller Service, with the former hoped to win. The Marietta Devillets will make their debut to Atlanta fans, playing an invited club in the third contest.

The final game of the night, which brings together Mackey's Beauty Shop and Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills, should be a real thriller, as the former club was formed around many of the Alpha Class players who were city champions for many years while the Mills have many of the best players of the city on their club.

Pete Melton and Harry Robinson will officiate all league games, assuring patrons the best in this department. Fans are asked to purchase tickets from members of their favorite club, as this is their means of securing their operating expenses. The complete schedule:

Inman Park vs. United Garment Workers, 7 p. m.
Rock Island Railroad vs. Miller Service, 7:30 p. m.
Marietta vs. invited team, 8:10 p. m.
Fulton Bag vs. Mackey's Beauty Shop, 8:30 p. m.

Y-City Teams Open Tuesday

A capacity crowd is expected to attend the opening series of the Y-City league, Atlanta's only eight-club boys' league, which prices off the lid Tuesday night on the Y. M. C. A. court. All teams of this league have been but recently organized and their strength is not known. Many have some of the best players of the city on their rosters.

A name familiar to Atlanta fans—Northside Aces—will make their debut before court fans in the opening game which starts at 7 o'clock. The boys from the WPA will furnish the opposition. C. & S. Bank Building engages the Henry Grant Hotel in the second contest, while Texas Company clashes with the Opportunity School in the third game. Haas, Howell & Dodd play the Georgia Evening School in the curtain-raiser.

At the last meeting prior to the opening series Bill Gage and Harry Robinson were selected to referee, with Jumbo Parker named as the league statistician. The complete schedule:

WPA vs. N. S. Aces—7 p. m.
C. & S. Bank Building vs. Henry Grant Hotel—7:30 p. m.
Opportunity School vs. Texas Company—8:20 p. m.
Evening School vs. Haas, Howell & Dodd—8:40 p. m.

Tri-State, Fulton Play Thursday

Tri-State Construction Company and Fulton Bag & Cotton Mill are given the spotlight in Thursday night's series of the Y-City league as both were victors in the opening series, and each will battle to maintain a perfect record. With these games as a barometer this game should be hotly contested as the teams appear about evenly matched.

In the opening tilt Walthour & Hood should win easily over the boys from the Atlanta-Southern Dental College, but the final set, which brings together Rock Island Railroad and Calvary Methodist, should be another close battle, as these clubs should have a ball in their debut games. The schedule:

Dental College vs. Walthour & Hood—7 p. m.
Tri-State Construction Co. vs. Fulton Bag & Cotton Mill—8 p. m.
Calvary Methodist vs. Rock Island Railroad—9 p. m.

Sunday School Loop To Complete Leagues

Completion of all basketball leagues in the Sunday School Amateur Athletic Association is expected at Monday night meeting at Beck & Gregg sporting goods department. One boys' league has already been completed, while another boys' league and a girls' league has a few vacancies. Should enough teams enroll at this meeting the leagues will be closed and final preparations made to open the season within the next week.

All team managers now affiliated with the association are urged to attend this meeting as their votes will be needed on several important issues. The leagues are open to any boys' or girls' team in or near the city. Call Jimmie Harrison, at Walnut 2010 for information.

BREAK of the DAY!

Continued From First Sports Page.

each man and on it go the materials for the trainer—tape, iodine and smelling salts. Cadets man it.

Nothing is neglected which will please the eye. The Kingfish saw to that.

THE TEAMS COME ON.

The teams come on. The crashing roar from the stands rises to meet them. The two gray postage stamps erupt into a great forest of arms and caps.

A shrill whistle cuts across the field and the drums boom. There is something savage in it. And with it a tingle goes up and down the spine.

Despite the rain there are 20,000 people in the stands as the time nears for the kick-off. Had it not rained all last night and today there would have been more than 30,000 here today. The girl cheer leaders for L. S. U. pirouette, their white skirts swirling like a ballet dancer's. They go through a series of dance steps and some eccentric steps with the band playing a warm number. There will be, I imagine, some Georgia boys asking the fare to Baton Rouge.

Word comes from the stands that Governor Eugene Tamm and Governor O. K. Allen, of Louisiana, have a dollar bet on the game. They are sitting together.

The captains meet—Georgia wins the toss and L. S. U. spreads out to receive. The show is ready. The invisible curtain goes up.

Ole Miss Defeats Colonels, 26 to 0

DANVILLE, Ky., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Centre College's suicide schedule brought the Praying Colonels their sixth defeat of the season today as a vastly superior University of Mississippi football team charged a homecoming crowd by trimming the locals, 26 to 0.

Paced by bulky Runt Hapes, who was in on every play, Ole Miss ran rough-shod over the Colonels and piled up 17 first downs against four for Centre.

Cold rain that fell almost all day long cut deeply into the expected homecoming crowd and officials of the school estimated there were only 3,500 paying customers in the stands.

Score by periods: 7 0 0 0—7 Ole Miss 0 0 0 0—0
Centre

Pennsylvania Routs Nittany Lions, 33-6

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's power-packed football machine got the monkey wrenches out of its works today for the first time this season, and battered the highly-rated Nittany Lions of Pennsylvania State College into submission, 33 to 6.

At the last meeting prior to the opening series Bill Gage and Harry Robinson were selected to referee, with Jumbo Parker named as the league statistician. The complete schedule:

WPA vs. N. S. Aces—7 p. m.
C. & S. Bank Building vs. Henry Grant Hotel—7:30 p. m.
Opportunity School vs. Texas Company—8:20 p. m.
Evening School vs. Haas, Howell & Dodd—8:40 p. m.

'Red Hot Parrish' Foxhound Champ

JACKSON, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(AP)—"Red Hot Parrish" wearing the collar of Dan C. Meek, of Coshocton, Ohio, was declared the champion foxhound of the nation tonight at the National Foxhunters' Association meet here.

N. Y. U. Swamps Rutgers Eleven, 48-0

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—New York University, undefeated and undefeated Rutgers under a 48-0 score at Ohio field today before a crowd of 14,000 persons. The Violets scored seemingly at will, through the air and on the ground.

Michigan State Trips Loyola, Cal., 27 to 0

GILMORE STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Speed, power and alertness gave the Spartans of Michigan State a 27-0 victory over Loyola, of Los Angeles, today before 12,000.

Capitalizing on breaks of the game, manufactured by a fast-charging line, the Spartans won as they willed.

Howard Defeats Teachers, 19 to 0

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A flashy running attack and timely forward passes enabled Howard College to defeat Western Teachers' College here this afternoon in the annual homecoming day game, 19-0. A crowd of about 5,000 saw the game.

Howard dominated the game in all periods except the second when the Hilltoppers battled on even terms with the invaders and briefly in the third period when Western batted to halt a scoring threat at its 3-yard line.

PANTHERS BEAT NEBRASKA, 6 TO 0

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Pittsburgh's gridiron craftsmen nailed Nebraska's offense to the ground this afternoon, chopped holes in the defense, and scored a 6-0 triumph over the Cornhuskers, champions of the Big Six conference.

Under chilly November skies, sophomore Frank Patrick, 200 pounds of power and speed, split the westerners' line for a touchdown early in the second period to the cheers of 35,000 shivering fans.

He missed the kick and the scoring was over but the Panthers, leading the fight all afternoon, further demonstrated their superiority by clicking off 12 first downs to four for Nebraska and gaining 188 yards from scrimmage to the invaders' 54.

Score by periods: 0 0 0 0—0 Pittsburgh 0 0 0 0—0 Nebraska
Substitutions: Sheldahl, Shaw, Stapp, Richards, Nebraska substitutions: Dohman, Howell, Andrews, Benson, Eldridge, Morrison, Ellis.

HARVARD WINS AT LAST, 41 TO 0

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Harvard's long-suffering football squad, stung by three major defeats this season, crushed a fighting University of New Hampshire team, 41-0, in the stadium today.

The Harvard offensive got under way in the first period when a steady drive culminated in a touchdown. In the second period the New Hampshire line braced after Hedblom had scored. The Crimson scored twice each in the third and fourth periods.

Score by periods: 0 0 0 0—0 Harvard 0 0 0 0—0 New Hampshire

Griggs' Field Goal Licks Morris Brown

ORANGEBURG, S. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A fighting Claflin University football eleven fought an uphill battle here this afternoon to defeat a favorite Morris Brown College aggregation by a 3-2 score on Duncan field.

John Gregg, senior at Claflin, from the Wolverines' 23-yard line kicked a perfect dropkick for the winning margin. It was a perfect spiral, which caught the Atlantans off balance.

The Wolverines easily outgained the Panthers on running plays and forward passes with Sam Jones, Matthews Harmon, Cooper and Cecil Williams.

Morris Brown's only score came on a safety in the first quarter, when a bad pass from center sent over Gregg's head. Gregg was tackled behind his goal line by Powell, right tackle for the Wolverines.

THE LINEUP.

MORRIS B. Pos. Claflin
C. Williams L. T. McCollough
P. Brown L. G. Fritz
D. Williams R. G. McCombs
Clark R. E. Wideman
Rouseworth R. E. Neely
D. Smith R. E. Grealy
Hick R. E. Williams
Parks R. E. Ramsey
B. Brown R. E. Willis
Official: Smith (South Carolina State) referee; Williams (Benedict) umpire; McGhee (Lincoln) head line judge.

Baylor U. Swamps Centenary Team, 20-0

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Playing heads-up football, Baylor University, of Waco, Texas, defeated Centenary College 20 to 0 before a homecoming day crowd of 7,000 persons here today.

Soon after the first period started, Masters, right halfback, went over for a score after a series of passes carried the ball to the Giants' 20.

Baylor scored two more touchdowns in the fourth, the first on a round-end dash from Centenary's 8 by Kimbriel, and the second on a blocked punt which Guard Buchanan recovered over the goal line.

Four Share Prizes In East Lake Bogey

R. S. Mather, L. F. Meng, J. Michael and E. R. Neely shared first prize Saturday afternoon in the regular weekly blind bogey tourney on the East Lake courses. The winning score was 84.

Second prize went to W. P. Branch with an 83.

E. R. Partridge won the booby prize of one golf ball.

Furman Trounces Gamecocks, 20 to 7

CAROLINA STADIUM, COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Furman trounced South Carolina Gamecocks, 20 to 7, here today before 4,000 under muggy skies.

TULANE WORKS PASSING GAME FOR TRIUMPH

Kentucky Takes Early Lead But Great Aerials Turn Tide.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Tulane's Green Wave swept to a brilliant 20-13 victory here over the Kentucky Wildcats behind the rifle-like passing of Troy Odom, 185-pound sophomore halfback.

The range-finding Odom, ably assisted by another sophomore, Dick Watson, was on the tossing end of two of the Wave's scoring thrusts and figured materially in the third.

Kentucky's high-powered scoring combination, Bobby Davis and Bert Johnson, provided Coach Tom Cox's men with a full afternoon of trouble but they were unable to match the Wave's scintillating first-year backs.

Temperatures ranging in the low 40's contributed to many fumbles and kept the 10,000 spectators under blankets.

The first quarter was all Kentucky. The Cats spurred by the knife-like thrusts of Ayers and Davis, baffling end sweeps, lost no time checking up their first touchdown. Taking the ball on their own 40-yard stripe, Ayers circled end for right end and Davis added 20 around the opposite end. Two more stubs and Ayers was over. Ayers missed his try from placement, after a good kick was nullified by a Kentucky holding penalty.

Tulane's first touchdown came early in the second period after Odom recovered Simpson's fumble on the Wildcats' 10 and Davis' baffling end sweeps, lost no time checking up their first touchdown. Taking the ball on their own 40-yard stripe, Ayers circled end for right end and Davis added 20 around the opposite end. Two more stubs and Ayers was over. Ayers missed his try from placement, after a good kick was nullified by a Kentucky holding penalty.

Tulane's second counter came at the end of the period after Odom had stopped a Cat drive on their own 16. Odom faded back and hurled a beautiful pass to "Doc" Schneidau, who was draped over the Kentucky 26. With less than a minute of the half left Odom again dropped back and tossed squarely into the arms of Memphis Odom and Andrew accounted the remaining 8 yards for the touchdown. Watson's placement split the uprights for the extra point.

Andrews, plunging fullback, tallied Tulane's final touchdown from the 1-foot line after a quick kick and a poor punt had given the Wave the ball on Kentucky's 26. Shies off tackle and end sweeps executed by Watson, Odom and Andrews accounted for the push from the 26 to the 1-foot stripe. Watson's placement was good.

Davis scored Kentucky's last touchdown after taking a short pass from Johnson on Tulane's 40 and weaving his way through a half-dozen tacklers. Harp added the extra point.

THE LINEUP.

TULANE Pos. Kentucky
Memphis L. E. Ellington
Watson L. T. L. E. Ellington
Schneidau L. G. S. Foster
Gould L. G. S. Foster
Pace R. E. Skaggs
Dirman R. E. Skaggs
Hick R. E. Skaggs
Thames L. E. Skaggs
Mint R. E. Skaggs
Line

Score by periods: 0 0 0 0—0 Tulane 0 0 0 0—0 Kentucky

DRESSSEN SIGNS RED CONTRACT

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Charlie Dresssen signed today to manage the Cincinnati Reds for another year, with General Manager Larry McPhail declaring he "can manage the Reds as long as I am connected with the club."

Dresssen took hold of the Reds in midseason of 1934, the fourth to tackle the job within three years. Putting an accent on youth, he lifted the club from the cellar to sixth place in the National league standings last season.

He got a raise in the contract he signed today, but the lost out on what both he and MacPhail called the only point of difference. Dresssen wanted a two-year contract, MacPhail said more-than-one-year contracts were contrary to the club policy. Other than that the terms were not disclosed.

TARHEELS ROUTED BY DUKE, 25 TO 0

Continued From First Sports Page.

on the heat, Duke got busy and hopped into the lead early in the second period. Duke took a North Carolina punt, gave the ball to Ward and he skipped 47 yards down the field like a frightened rabbit for the first score. His try for point was about even.

A break helped Duke score its next touchdown. Midway in the third period, Parker punted deep into the Carolina territory. The ball bounced out of bounds, then bounced back on the 1-yard line. Jackson flipped a pass toward Buck from behind the goal line, but Jack Henninger, Duke center, snugged it on the 6-yard line and three plays later Ward scored. Sam Gardner added the point.

95-YARD RUN.

A hectic fourth quarter saw the Ducks count two more touchdowns. After North Carolina had marched down the field from its 37-yard line to the Blue Devil 14, Jack Alexander pulled down one of Jackson's aerials, tucked the ball under his arm and blithely skipped 95 yards for a score. Parker added the point. Later in the same period, Ward snagged one of Jackson's passes on North Carolina's 22. Parker took two yards and then ran for a touchdown on the next play. Ward missed the goal.

Carolina had only two good scoring opportunities and tossed both away. In the second, the Tarheels charged down to Duke's 9. After three passes were broken up they called on Babe Daniel for a field goal from the 26-yard line. It failed. Their most sustained drive was in the fourth before Alexander dragged down Jackson's heave and converted it into a Duke touchdown with his long run.

THE LINEUP.

N. CAROLINA Pos. Duke
Buck L. E. West
Trampsey L. T. Bruns
Jersey L. G. Johnston
Daniels L. G. Johnston
Webb R. G. Cardwell
Ervin R. T. Durner
Berkus R. E. R. E. R. E.
Snyder R. E. R. E. R. E.
McIntgomery L. E. R. E. R. E.
Jackson L. E. R. E. R. E.
Hutchins L. E. R. E. R. E.
Line

Score by periods: 0 0 0 0—0 Duke 0 0 0 0—0 North Carolina
Scoring—Dresssen: Alexander (sub for Henninger), Ward, Parker. Point after touchdowns: Gardner (placement).

THE SPORTLIGHT

THE EAGLE AND THE LION.
"England's cliffs are white like milk;
But England's fields are green—
"And if you care for football crowds
Come to our British scene—"

So now reports our English scout in accents loud and clear,
While pounding roughly on our desk
Or blasting out an ear
THE BIGGER CROWDS.

What sport lures the largest crowds? What competitions pack them in?
"Football," you answer—meaning the American brand. Just a moment—hold the presses—an invader has broken through.

Our English scout has just returned from the British isles brimming with English football and scarcely caring that Ohio State is no longer unbeatable or that Princeton of 1935 looks like the best of the Fritz Crisler products. Our English scout impudently drums on the table with his fingers when we start talking about American football.

"You haven't seen excitement," he said as he finished a heavy yawn which had begun at the first mention of Rose Bowl candidates.

You about a game that draws 20,000, 30,000 paying customers in a season and in a land where there are less than half as many to draw from?

Our scout explained at once that by English football he did not mean rugby, which, despite its affinity to English sport, has not approached the popularity of association football or soccer.

"Call it soccer, if you like," said O. E. S., "but it is the original football. Its very roots are the syllables of its name. The foot means the ball, constantly, back and forth, across the field and the heart of it. There is no touching the ball with the hands, except by the goal-keeper, although there is a great deal of touching the ball by the head and very dexterous touching, too. But then, I suppose even you Americans are aware of the principles of soccer."

O. E. S. is insistent.

The scout looked disdainfully across at me and put his hand firmly on my shoulder, as if to prevent my leaving.

"I hope I am not boring you," he continued, "but I really must tell you about the real football."

"Naturally, everybody plays football in England, Wales, Scotland, and the Irish Free State, but the big teams are the league teams. They are composed of professionals who have been trained in a couple of paragraphs and the Wimbledon matches several columns. If the league manager manages to sign one of these school stars, he sends him out for seasoning, unless the footballer is a sort of Mid-Off and in that case he is apt to be a national hero before the year is over. No one in Great Britain gets more real publicity than the big stars of league football."

Previously, Irwin and Marks had tallied in the first period.

LEHIGH LOSES TO PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Princeton's Tigers retained their place in the ranks of undefeated teams today by hammering out a 27-0 decision over a rugged Lehigh

GREAT GOPHERS SMASH TOWARD ANOTHER TITLE

Continued on Fifth Sports Page.

Arkansas Ahead, 17-6; Texas Christian Continues to Win, 28-0

MUSTANGS BEAT ARKANSAS TEAM IN TOUGH GAME

"Passing Fools" From Texas Connect at Opportune Moments.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 16. (AP)—Southern Methodist University's famed aerial circus seized upon opportune moments to display its superior passing skill today and kept its national grid record clear with a hard-fought 17-6 victory over the University of Arkansas.

The Razorbacks from the Ozarks completely outplayed the Mustangs between the goal stripes, chalking up 17 first downs to 7, but were unable to make their scoring threats good inside the 15-yard line, until too late to stave off defeat.

Arkansas became the first member of the Southwest conference to score on Southern Methodist. Rucker made the counter late in the fourth period after Tipton had scored both of the Mustangs' touchdowns on passes from Bobby Wilson. Orr kicked a field goal in addition to two extra points.

LINEUPS AND SUMMARY.

ARKANSAS.....S. M. U.
 Benton.....Tipton
 Haden.....L. E.
 Sanders.....Stiff
 Lunday.....Johnson
 Oliver.....Scott
 Vardick.....Orr
 Howell.....Stewart
 Robbins.....Wiley
 M. Martin.....Wilson
 Kenna.....Turner
 Rucker.....Rucker

Score by period: 0 7 3 7-17
 Arkansas.....0 0 0 6-6
 Scoring: Touchdowns: Tipton (2) (passes); Rucker (plunge); Point after touchdown: Orr (2) (placement). Field goal: Orr (placement).

First Downs: S. M. U. 7; Arkansas 17.
 Passes: S. M. U. completed 7 out of 20 for 114 yards, 1 intercepted. Arkansas completed 18 out of 48 for 242 yards, 8 intercepted. Penalties: S. M. U. 4 for 40; Arkansas 5 for 35.

Ottis Maffett Goes Up To Get Pass

Georgia's Peak in the One Offensive Threat

Georgia drove to the L. S. U. 5-yard line in the first quarter yesterday at Athens in the game which L. S. U. won, 13 to 0. Ottis Maffett, sophomore end, caught two passes after Charley Treadaway had returned a kick 44 yards to the L. S. U. 26. Maffett is shown, in circle at left, catching pass thrown by John Bond, shown in circle at right. From here Georgia went to the 5-yard line, losing the ball on downs there. It was immediately after this that Fatherree ran from behind his own goal line to score the first L. S. U. touchdown.

CRASS IS HERO IN L. S. U. WIN

Continued From First Sports Page.

touchdown and Mickal kicked the extra point.

Fatherree ran 105 yards on the play, taking the ball from Mickal 5 yards back of his own goal. Eleven men were in front of him. Not one touched him as he flashed the an earth-bound meteor through the gloom of the rain and the red shirts of the Georgia men who sought vainly to reach him.

As he ran the roar of the crowd leaped out to meet him as partisan and foe alike screamed in a hysteria of amazement at the daring success of the play.

OFFENSE THROTTLED.

That was one. Those seven points stood as Georgia fought with her traditional gameness. Georgia's offense was throttled completely. It ceased to exist in the face of the L. S. U. defense. But the defense was there. Four times Georgia stopped L. S. U. attacks. One was halted at the 1-foot line.

Once George Bowman, of L. S. U., was away when one of his own men slipped and tripped him. Once L. S. U. drove to the 10-yard line, but fumbled, losing the ball to the alert Charley Treadaway. Georgia held at the 1-foot line, at the 6 and at the 8-yard line.

Those magnificent stands by the Georgia team with their goal at their backs had the crowd in an uproar. But those seven points grew larger and larger as the quarter slipped away and finally there was but a minute and a half left to play.

L. S. U. had taken a partially blocked kick and had it at the Georgia 43. From there Bill Crass, a human thunderbolt of a man whose Jovian bolts shattered the Georgia line and the L. S. U. defense, drove along with George Bowman and Charley Rohm to the 22-yard line.

It was third down. The ball came back to Crass. He found a hole at left guard. The man seemed literally to gather momentum. He was almost a blur of white as he streaked along, his 155 pounds in the run. He seemed almost to be running on air.

CRASS CRASHES THROUGH.

Glenn Johnson came forward to meet him at the goal line. Johnson weighs 154 pounds. Crass weighs 155. Crass had all his great momentum, churned up by his own legs in his charge. They met two yards from the goal. Both of them went on. Crass carrying Johnson two yards past the goal.

The point was missed. It was 13 to 0.

Had it not been for the stubborn Georgia defense the game might have been a rout. But they played magnificently. There were no better guards than Leroy Moorehead and Frank Johnson of Georgia.

"We couldn't do a thing with those two," said Bernie Moore, of L. S. U., shaking his head after the game.

"And Bond was good and Treadaway great at handling those kicks. He always was a threat."

The L. S. U. team has more power than has been generated in Dixie in more than a decade. They are a passing team. Today they were a running team. They had power with Bill Crass as its exponent. He was the thunderbolt. He was the man who could crack a small hole in the line wide open.

The L. S. U. line and ends were magnificent. Gaynell Tinsley and Jeff Barrett were on top of all plays at their position. Once Glenn Johnson was away for nine yards. That was all Georgia could do in long gains at end. Now and then a line play gained a few yards.

But this team had amazing power. And a stout defense.

This team from Baton Rouge made 15 earned first downs. Another game made but one. Another game with a penalty. That was all the gaining Georgia could do.

The L. S. U. power company ran up a total of 358 yards only. Georgia gained 61.

Of L. S. U.'s 358 yards only 10 were made on passes, leaving a total of 348 rushing the ball.

Of Georgia's 61 yards, 13 were gained through the air, leaving 48 yards rushing the ball through the line or around the ends. L. S. U.'s advantage was a full 300 yards.

Think back on your southern football and try to recall when a Georgia team was held to 48 yards in 60 minutes of football. There may have been some game but no one can recall it.

STOUT DEFENSE.

This was a stout defense. It had great ends, a charging line, alert secondary and an intelligence that as one it a great team and stamps it as one

Here Is Ralph McGill's Running Story of L. S. U.-Georgia Game

There was a falling, as the teams met for the toss, with Georgia getting the toss. There were some 20,000 people yelling like mad as they spread out for the first quarter.

Frank Johnson swung his foot into it and the yellow ball spun down the field. Jess Fatherree took it but the ball bounced from his wet jersey and both teams raced for it with the frantic Fatherree getting it at his own 24.

One play and Abe Mickal quick-kicked to the Georgia 25 where Charley Treadaway slipped and fell. One play and Georgia kicked.

Rock Reed, in safety position, caught the wet ball and got it back 6 yards to his own 30.

Two plays got 5 yards and Mickal kicked to Treadaway who lost 6 yards trying to escape the big ends who were down. Jeff Barrett nailed him.

It was at the Georgia 24.

Minot got 2 yards and then Bond tried the old spinner which wrecked Treadaway and got 2 more. He kicked and Reed was downed at his own 30. He returned it 6 to that point where Shi and Haygood got him.

A pass, Mickal to Fatherree, was in his hands but he dropped it. Mickal quick-kicked and Treadaway hauled it back a full 18 yards with good blocking by Bond and Green. It gave Georgia a break. The ball was at the Georgia 47.

BIG OPPORTUNITY.

This was a great opportunity to put L. S. U. down there in trouble and Bond took it. He kicked to the L. S. U. 8-yard line.

Rock Reed, on a fake reverse, got 10 yards and a first down at left tackle. The quarter ended. The next try, Mickal got 8 yards at right tackle. It was third down and Mickal kicked it out of there.

Two plays, Bond to Wagon, running punts, took it to his 30. He got two good blocks and he was loose. He returned it a full 44 yards to the L. S. U. 20-yard line. It was a brilliant play of work.

Georgia took time out. The chance had come. At the 20-yard line they could really attack. Treadaway had used the L. S. U. team. Carroll got him from behind. And the eager Georgians made ready. It was their first big chance.

But, Bond to Wagon, was incomplete. One down was gone. Another pass, Green to Maffett, was knocked down by Fatherree. Two gone. And then Bond flashed one to Ottis Maffett and he grabbed it for an 8-yard gain. Three gone. They popped of the great southern teams of all time.

Georgia was outplayed in every department except courage. The game actually was never close. Yet until last touchdown, when a Georgia crushing charge of Bill Crass, it might have been at 7 and 7 at most any moment. Georgia, by her gameness, needed only to connect with a pass, a long one, to score and even up the count.

It was not to be. Only once did Georgia threaten. That was early when Treadaway returned the kick to the L. S. U. 26 and the Georgia offense drove to the 5-yard line before it was throttled. And L. S. U. followed that with the supreme daring of a fake play, involving handling of the ball, behind their own goal line, which saw the ball actually carried 105 yards, only 95 of which counted in the official run.

After that Georgia could not muster a threat. Yet so dauntless was their courage they kept the ball game a close one until that last minute and a half of play when the berserk Crass smashed 22 yards to carry the ball and Glenn Johnson over the goal line.

L. S. U. had hammered four times at the Georgia goal, only to be turned back. And until Crass made his great smash Georgia could have tied the score.

Georgia played perhaps her best defensive game of the year. Certainly it was the most courageous. Yet there was no chance to win in the face of the withering power of the L. S. U. defense.

Jess Fatherree stands out as the greatest back in the conference and if there is a finer fullback anywhere than Bill Crass, he has been kept under cover.

Georgia coaches thought this team had the power possessed by the California team they met when El Trojan was at his peak in 1931 and 1933.

Bernie Moore thought Georgia as fine a team as his team had met all year.

It was a clean game. The penalties were just two offside penalties. Both teams played good hard football.

The punting in the game was unusually good. It was raining all afternoon. The ball was heavy and slick. Yet L. S. U. kicked eight times for an average of 44-1-2 yards on each right. And Bond flipped one to Maffett for 3 yards and a first down at L. S. U. 15.

Big Maurice Green tried the line in order to pull in the defense. He got a yard. Al Minot snatched left tackle for 5 yards. Bond, on a fake reverse, got 3 yards at left tackle. He almost slipped through, an unknown hand grabbing his jersey.

It was fourth down. Georgia huddled. They swung back and Green met the furious charge of the White line and was tossed back 2 yards.

The last desperate try had failed. L. S. U. took the ball at her own 5-yard line.

Old Lou was in a bad spot. But not for long. The oldest play in football gave them a touchdown. Abe Mickal was back 5 yards behind his line in kick formation.

He took the ball, raised it up and then held it behind him. It was a variation of the Statue of Liberty.

Jess Fatherree took it 5 yards back of the goal and came around his left end. He got some great blocking as he came out. He was almost caught at the 15 but he swung in and they formed for him and it was a parade. He ran about 105 yards for the touchdown with no hand laid on him. But the ball was for 95 yards since there was where the ball started from.

Mickal kicked the point. L. S. U. 7, Georgia 0.

L. S. U. had wrought a 7-point lead out of what looked like a dangerous position. It was daring, a sublime sort of daring.

Georgia took the kickoff. On the second play, which ended the quarter, Treadaway was hurt. He was taken out and Andy Roddenberry replaced him.

Score: L. S. U. 7; Georgia 0.

It was third down and Bond kicked. The ball hit Bowman, of L. S. U., and Shi recovered the ball at the L. S. U. 20-yard line. It was a break for the Bulldogs.

Two plays got 6 yards. On the third Bond fumbled but recovered. It was fourth and three. Bond kicked over the goal and the game was over.

L. S. U. had it at her own 20. Bill Crass was stopped on his first try. But on the next one he catapulted through for 13 yards.

It was at the L. S. U. 34. Crass got a couple at guard and then three more at center. He had run five straight times. Crass was stopped at left, and for no gain.

Crass kicked to Roddenberry, who kicked. And Georgia kicked 12 times for an average of 38 yards. Both averages were excellent considering the weather conditions.

Think back on your southern football and try to recall when a Georgia team was held to 48 yards in 60 minutes of football. There may have been some game but no one can recall it.

RAIN MARS DAY.

Rain fell all through the game and marred an otherwise perfect day. The 20,000 crowds from L. S. U. to Athens by Governor O. K. Allen, to carry out the late Huey Long's planned pilgrimage here for the game, were a colorful attraction in their drills with the band.

The rain caused many fumbles. L. S. U. fumbled often and had three of them recovered, one at the Georgia 3-yard line to stop a touchdown march. And Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

was thrown in his tracks by Carroll. It was at the Georgia 19.

Bill Hartman got a yard at right tackle. Minot failed on a spinner. Gaynell Tinsley getting him. Bond kicked but Tinsley was offside. It was third and one after the penalty and Hartman went in for a first down at the Georgia 30.

Georgia was offside on the first play and lost 5. Bond slipped and fell for a loss of a yard.

ON THE LOOSE.

Bond kicked and Bowman got loose behind good blocking. He was loose and a touchdown ahead when Baldwin, one of his own men, dived for a Georgia man and knocked him down. Bowman took it to the Georgia 34, a 40-yard run.

It was a great run and how these L. S. U. boys can block.

Fatherree fumbled and recovered for a 5-yard loss. He made up 2 but it was third down and 14. A pass to Tinsley was incomplete. Crass tried for the coffin corner but missed and Georgia had it at her own 20.

The secondary came in fast and stopped Minot. Barrett threw Minot for a loss of a yard. Bond kicked with no return, to the L. S. U. 40.

Crass, running hard, got 9 yards at left tackle.

Crass, running hard, got 9 yards at left tackle. It was at the Georgia 41.

ALMOST AWAY.

Crass got a yard at left tackle. Two minutes were left to play. Crass got 7 yards at left tackle. He got a first down at right tackle. It was at the Georgia 31.

Crass got 4 at right end. Crass got 4 yards at right end. He went to the Georgia 11 as the first half ended. He almost was away.

L. S. U. 7; Georgia 0.

It was third down and Bond kicked. The ball hit Bowman, of L. S. U., and Shi recovered the ball at the L. S. U. 20-yard line. It was a break for the Bulldogs.

Two plays got 6 yards. On the third Bond fumbled but recovered. It was fourth and three. Bond kicked over the goal and the game was over.

L. S. U. had it at her own 20. Bill Crass was stopped on his first try. But on the next one he catapulted through for 13 yards.

It was at the L. S. U. 34. Crass got a couple at guard and then three more at center. He had run five straight times. Crass was stopped at left, and for no gain.

Crass kicked to Roddenberry, who kicked. And Georgia kicked 12 times for an average of 38 yards. Both averages were excellent considering the weather conditions.

Think back on your southern football and try to recall when a Georgia team was held to 48 yards in 60 minutes of football. There may have been some game but no one can recall it.

RAIN MARS DAY.

Rain fell all through the game and marred an otherwise perfect day. The 20,000 crowds from L. S. U. to Athens by Governor O. K. Allen, to carry out the late Huey Long's planned pilgrimage here for the game, were a colorful attraction in their drills with the band.

The rain caused many fumbles. L. S. U. fumbled often and had three of them recovered, one at the Georgia 3-yard line to stop a touchdown march. And Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

Georgia must meet the strong Auburn team at Columbus next Saturday, and Tech on the following Saturday. Georgia is glad L. S. U. is gone. Harry Mehre said, "U. S. only way we could have topped that attack was a seven, three, two, one defense," and Bernie Moore hoped Tulane isn't as tough as Georgia.

tried a pass. It was a gamble and it failed. Rohm intercepted it and returned to Georgia's 34-yard line.

Crass fumbled on the first play and Ottis Maffett recovered at his own 30. Johnson fumbled and Red Holland recovered for Georgia, with a loss of 8 yards.

MANY FUMBLES.

The wet ball, combined with the eagerness of the players, caused many fumbles.

Johnson got nothing on a reverse at left end. Hartman passed to Ottis Maffett who was incomplete. Bond's kick was partially blocked and went out of bounds at Georgia's 43.

Seago got 9 yards at left tackle. The minutes were running out, but L. S. U. a great passing team, was sticking largely to the running game. Rohm spun through to a first down at the Georgia 28.

From the 28, Bowman got a yard at left end. Rohm picked up four at left end.

The ball was at the Georgia 23. And then came the long-delayed touchdown. L. S. U. had been there three times and failed.

This time Crass didn't wait. He found a big hole at his own left guard and smashed through. Glenn Johnson met him at the 2-yard line, but the impetus of the big fellow carried him over.

L. S. U. 13; Georgia 0.

Crass' kick was wide and it was still 13 to 0.

MICKAL BACK.

Abe Mickal came back for L. S. U. Injured all the year, the star back plays but little in the games this year.

Glenn Johnson took the kickoff and returned it 15 to his own 30. Tinsley made the tackle.

Hartman fumbled on the first play and Baldwin recovered in the air, running to the Georgia 8-yard line, where he slipped and fell.

The game ended with the play. L. S. U. 13; Georgia 0.

The Georgia students came into the field and fighting was fast and furious for a while, peacemakers finally prevailed, however, and order was restored.

with which Tech crossed the goal line was, as said, the most spectacular of the game.

This was a great Alabama Tide that surged the length and breadth of Legion field like the never-ending roll and crash of a heavy surf against a rock-bound coast.

What a blocker and field general is Riley Smith. And what a backfield he fills days with on Saturday afternoons! Angell, Kilgore and Rhordanz are members of one of the best scoring machines in the south today.

Captain Jimmy Walker was great at end. Bear Bryant took his leave of the home fans in brilliant fashion. Jim Whitley was magnificent at tackle. Both on offense and as a pass defender and tackler on defense.

Kay Francis was a standout at center, with White, Monksy and a steel-lined forward wall.

Konemann, Appleby and Beard were leading Tech backs, along with Hays. In the Tech line, there were many sterling performers. The ends, Morgan, Jordan, Jones and Gibson, stood up as did the tackles, Eubanks, Chance and Lindsay. Nixon and Fitzsimmons were good at guards and Collins and Preston, alternating at center, threw no bad passes and backed up the line well.

TAKE TO THE AIR.

Alabama took to the air when ground plays failed and ran off tackle and on wide end sweeps when passes did not click. Riley Smith made up the attack well. And his blocking was something to remember. He Kicking for an average of 46.7 yards against Georgia Tech, Joe Mitchell, Alabama's stellar all-around junior halfback from Alexander City, is credited with one of the greatest punting exhibitions in the south. Mitchell also was an ace in other departments in Auburn's 33-7 victory over the Yellow Jackets.

It was the third time an Alabama back had fumbled on the goal line and lost the ball. Edwards tried a pass from behind the goal line, however, and Rhordanz intercepted the ball on his 35 and ran to the Tech 5, where he was knocked out of bounds.

Kilgore then made amends for his untimely fumble by circling right end behind the magnificent blocking of Riley Smith for the touchdown. Smith himself added the extra point.

The Raiders in Red capitalized on another Tech pass and a great run by young Booser to score the touchdown to end the touchdowns.

Edwards had passed to Bill Jordan for a first down on the Alabama 43. But there was another pass and Move, reserve Alabama center, intercepted it at his own 35 and ran to the Alabama 47. After Smith was thrown for a 15-yard loss on an attempted reverse, young Booser raced into the clear, shook off a bevy of Tech tacklers and sprinted 50 yards to the Tech 15, where he was hauled down.

Kilgore passed 15 yards to McLeod, a reserve half, and then Billman Walker made it a first down on an end around. Kilgore personally made the remaining distance. He plunged into the line and then to leave the score Alabama 38; Georgia Tech 7.

And, as the game ended, Williamson, reserve quarter, had just intercepted Edwards' pass at midfield.

SPECTACULAR GAME.

Alabama had not been scored on since the Georgia game. And the play left tackle. Bond faked a kick and left tackle. Bond faked a kick and left tackle. Bond faked a kick and

TEXAS UNABLE TO STOP FROGS WHO JUMP HIGH

Sammy Baugh, an Uncanny Passer, Proves Poison to Losers.

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Undefeated Texas Christian University's purple-clad Juggernaut, led by Sammy Baugh, an uncanny pass bomber, trounced the University of Texas, 28 to 0, here today.

Baugh nipped the Texas defense with his bullet-like passes. Seven of his 15 flips were good, three ending in touchdowns.

Christian dominated the play with the exception of a few early minutes, when Texas forced its way to the 3-yard marker. The invaders tightened there.

STOCK MARKET GAINS

IN 2 YEAR SALES MARK

Profit-Taking Is Well Absorbed as Average Climbs To 4-Year High.

Daily Stock Averages.

(Copyright 1935, Standard Statistics Co.)

Saturday	126.7x	41.6x	83.6	105.9x
Friday	126.0	41.0	82.7	105.2
Week ago	122.9	38.6	83.1	102.8
Month ago	113.6	36.9	73.2	94.6
Year ago	86.9	36.8	51.5	72.9
1935 high	126.7	41.6	84.0	105.9
1935 low	78.6	28.6	39.5	61.0
1934 high	105.0	54.3	90.3	93.8
1934 low	76.6	34.1	47.1	68.4
1933 high	102.1	38.0	113.7	96.9
1933 low	42.3	23.5	61.1	43.9
x New highs.

SEARS SUPER-VALUE DAYS!

Everything to Modernize Your Home...All at Sears Savings!

Your Pick of These

Value up to $1.49

88<sup>c</sup>

EACH

Broom and 2 Mops
Step-on Kitchen Can
1 1/2-Qt. Cast Sauce Pan
12-Lb. Enamel Roaster
12x48 Ironing Board
Glassbake Casserole Set
2 Pie Plate Gasbake Set

Here's a group of seven household necessities, all at one Super-Value price. A sale worth attending.

Sears Street Floor

Here Are the Bargains You've Been Hunting!

Small But Important Cold Weather Needs...

- |   |        |
|---|--------|
| REG. 69c FURNACE SCOOP. Hollow back style socket. Strong ash handle. Steel D grip                       | 49c    |
| REG. 49c COAL HOD. Galvanized. Hand-dipped in pure molten zinc. Water tight                             | 39c    |
| REG. $1.19 AXE. Tough, single bit. 3 1/2-lb. tempered forged steel head. Hickory handle                | $1    |
| REG. 85c BROOM RAKE. Steel. Sweeps like a broom, 18 ins. wide. Has 22 flat, flexible spring steel teeth | 59c    |
| REG. $3.98 WHEELBARROW. 1-pc. Seamless steel tray. Doesn't leak. Hardwood frame. Steel legs            | $3 49 |
| FELT WEATHERSTRIPS. 12-ft. roll   | 10c    |
| SPRING BRONZE WEATHERSTRIP... for doors or windows. 4-inch widths for Windows, 100-ft. roll             | $2.59 |
| 1 1/2-inch widths for Doors, 100-ft. roll   | $2.99 |
| RYE GRASS SEED, for green winter lawns, lb.   | 10c    |
| 10 lbs.   | 90c    |
| 25 lbs.   | $2    |

THIS COUPON IS WORTH 25c

Toward the Purchase of
SEROCO 4-HOUR ENAMEL or SEROCO 4-HOUR VARNISH

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____

Reg. Price on Either!

4-Hour Enamel
4-Hour Varnish

Less 25c
Coupon 95<sup>c</sup> qt.

Actually Pay 70c Qt.
Can You Beat This?

For the first time... a 25c allowance on famous Seroco 4-Hour Enamel or 4-Hour Varnish, if you fill out the coupon and bring it to Sears. Laboratory tests and enthusiastic users prove this enamel and varnish superior for beauty, economy and wear... Save extra... bring in the coupon today!

Learn to Get the Most Out of

PAINT

Miss Lillian Williamson
Will Show You

Well-known interior decorator and authority on painting and antiquing furniture, will give you advice, suggestions and demonstrations on all types of painting work. You can bring your individual problem to her and she will be glad to work out for you the paint combination which will give just the effect you desire.

MISS WILLIAMSON tells us she tried many paints while experimenting on her antiquing process and that she has had the greatest success with Sears' Seroco flat interior paint. She will be glad to show you how she does it.

Miss Williamson will be in Sears Paint Department
Monday and Friday
from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Kook-Kwick
Pressure Cooker
Demonstrated DAILY

9-Qt. Size
During Sale!

$6.49
Reg. $8.49

Here are 5 good reasons why you'll want to buy one immediately after you've seen the demonstration: Kook-Kwick prepares a meal in one-third the time, takes one-fourth the fuel, cooks entire meal on one burner, is perfectly safe... comes at a worth-while savings during Super Value Days!

Enamelware
CHOICE:

98<sup>c</sup>

Values up to $1.79
Ivory with Red Trim, Green with Black Trim. With chrome covers, dish pan, percolator, tea kettle, saucepan set, convex kettle, double boiler, covered saucepan.

Kenmore Ironer

$42.95
Reg. $47.95

The only fully automatic ironer we know of at anywhere near this price. Up-to-the-minute ironing speed and convenience at special saving.

Save $1.39
Fireside Ensemble

Complete as Sketched $9.95

Has a dull hammered brass finish and gives the effect of a very expensive set.

Separately If You Prefer:

Andiron ..... $3.79
Fire Set ..... $3.59
Fire Screen ..... $3.95

For Less Than the Range Usually Costs!
Famous Prosperity Gas Range and 6-Pc. Cast Aluminum Set

Reg. $49.95
$65.07 Cash Price

Ask About Easy Payment Plan

With Every Stove:

- |                              |                      |
|------------------------------|----------------------|
| 1-1 1/2-Qt. Covered Saucepan | 1-Covered Skillet    |
| 1-2-Qt. Covered Saucepan     | 1-Roaster            |
| 1-3-Qt. Covered Saucepan     | 1-Reversible Griddle |

Prosperity gas ranges are popular throughout the United States. And no wonder! They are priced thriftily, yet have the features of very expensive stoves... and you'll save 1-3 on your gas bill with this new stove. Note these features: American oven control. Rockwool insulation. New efficient aluminum burners. Patrol flasher lighter. Daylight broiler. Funnel-covered cooking top. Enameled in a fine mother of pearl gray porcelain.

Save $15 on This Wash Day Combination

Kenmore Electric
Washer and 7
Washday Essentials

For Less Than the Washer's Price!

$44.95
Cash Price

Delivered and Connected—FREE

Winter Queen Circulating
Heater With the Following Items---All for

$17.95

- 1 Stove Mat, 2 Elbows, 1 Damper, 1
Collar, 1 Pipe, 1
Large Coal Hod, 1
Poker, 1 Tongs.

Delivered and Installed
Total Value $27.31

All these accessories for less than the heater usually costs! It's an extra fine heater... powerfully built, with cast iron inner unit. Handsome cabinet, fully porcelain enameled and finished in stipple and black. Others up to $69.95.

In the Group Are:

Kenmore Washer

- 1 Electric Iron
- 1 Ironing Board
- 1 Clothes Drier
- 2 Dozen Clothes Pins
- 1 Clothes Line
- 1 Curtain Stretcher
- 1 Clothes Basket

With this complete outfit you can wash everything the household uses... and be assured that they'll look as good as when they come from the laundry, and wear much longer. Note the quality features of this Kenmore washer. All-porcelain tub. Triple-vane agitator. Larger wringer with large wringer rolls. Gears all enclosed. No belts. A great buy at Sears any time... a super-buy during this sale!

Ask About Easy Payment Plan

Get a Complete New Start!
Coal and Wood Range, Plus 9-Pc.
Cooking Set, at Price of Range Alone!

Combination Offer:
Diana Range

- |              |                    |
|--------------|--------------------|
| 3 SKILLETS   | 1 CORNSTICK PAN    |
| 1 DUTCH OVEN | 1 BAKING PAN       |
| 1 GRIDDLE    | 1 NO. 8 TEA KETTLE |

34.95
Cash Price

Begin winter in grand style. A new stove will save your time, your money, your energy. Food will taste better and be easier to prepare. You'll burn less fuel. Now's the time to buy... when you can get this special combination, in addition to Sears fine, extra heavy, all-cast-iron range. Come in and see it tomorrow!

Ask About Sears
Easy Payment Plan

10 Radiant
Gas Heaters

Reg. $9.95
$10.95

Our best-selling heater... and that's why it's offered as a Super-Value special. This Sale is an offering of a choice selection of the Fall's best sellers!

A. G. A. Approved

Other Radiants, $5.95 to $20.95, installed.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.

Frost-Cotton Motor Company Appointed Ford, Lincoln Dealers

BUICK SELLS OVER FOURTEEN THOUSAND

October Figures Reveal Largest Month's Business in Five Years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Domestic retail deliveries of the Buick Motor Company during October totaled 14,164 cars, the largest month's business in more than five years, and the best October volume since 1929, W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager, announced today.

The figure compares with 6,373 units sold at retail during October last year, a gain of 7,791 cars, or more than 122 per cent. "Steadily increased volume characterized the month's business," Mr. Hufstader said, "with substantial gains reported in each 10-day period. Sales during the last 10 days of October were 5,629," he said, "a gain of 1,262 cars over the previous 10 days and up 1,461 over the first 10 days of the month."

The volume for the final 10-day period compared with sales of 3,378 in the last 10 days of October last year, an increase of 2,251 units, of 66.6 per cent.

The strong retail demand for the new Buick cars has necessitated increased production schedules at the factory," Mr. Hufstader said, "with the result that the Buick plants are operating at the highest levels since 1929. An average of 800 cars a day are being produced for domestic and export shipments, the bulk of this production going to dealers in the United States."

"An overwhelming demand has resulted in an unfilled order book at the factory of more than 30,000 cars. These represent dealers' requirements for immediate shipment, and are being filled as rapidly as the cars are built. More than 20,000 of the 1936 models already have been shipped. Domestic dealer stocks now are in the neighborhood of 12,000 cars."

Mr. Hufstader said that November production schedules were boosted twice, now calling for an output of 15,000 cars for domestic shipment and export requirements will bring the total close to 18,000 units.

The executive reviewed the sales record at a meeting in the New York Athletic club of Buick regional managers, zone managers, assistant zone managers and other members of the factory field organization, representing the eastern half of the United States. The meeting was staged in conjunction with the national automobile show, now in progress at Grand Central Palace.

NAME OF SOCIALITE ENTERS MURDER QUIZ

Police Discover German Reserved Rooms for Her on Fatal Night.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(P)—Two torn hotel receipts were studied by police fingerprint experts tonight in the hope they would yield some clue as to what happened just before Dr. Fritz Gebhardt was shot and killed early Tuesday.

The receipts were for rooms assigned Sunday night to Dr. Gebhardt and a woman whose name was withheld. A detective was dispatched to find the woman, and he located her at a matron of suburban Pelham Manor and bring her back for questioning.

Anticipating the results of the fingerprint study, investigators adopted a theory that Vera Stretz, Dr. Gebhardt's former secretary, who is charged with killing him, found the hotel receipts in his apartment and tore them in half in a jealous rage before shooting him.

Miss Stretz, who was arrested shortly after the shooting, has refused to discuss the case.

Sources close to German government agencies in this country mean while ridiculed reports that Dr. Gebhardt, financier and industrialist, was slated for appointment as German ambassador, and hence trying to end his friendship with Miss Stretz.

Dr. Gebhardt's widow and two daughters are on route from Germany to claim his body.

MAYORS' CONFERENCE WILL OPEN MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(P)—Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, of Milwaukee, today branded "absolutely untrue" any statements that states and cities now are in a position to take over the relief burden from the federal government.

As president of the United States Conference of Mayors, the socialist who has been mayor of Milwaukee since 1916, headed a delegation of more than 100 municipal executives arriving in the capital for a three-day discussion of relief and other problems.

Paul Betters, executive director of the mayors' organization, said relief will be the chief subject before the sessions which begin Monday. Reports from mayors indicate, he said, that 20 per cent of the nation's urban population is still on relief rolls.

The first discussion of relief will come Monday morning when Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, of New York, a member of the Works Progress Administration Board, will report on progress of the work relief drive.

PRISONER'S 'CORK' LEG ALMOST FREES MAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 16.—(P)—B. V. Simms' artificial leg almost got him out of jail.

Starting from Simms' cell, officers followed a trail of havoc through sawed bars and doors until they came upon the one-legged prisoner, working away at the last barrier with a full set of tools.

They ripped off the hollow limb and out clattered a hammer, back saw and blade chisel, punch and acid to soften the "cork" proof steel.

POLICEMAN, OFFICIAL ACQUITTED OF FRAUD

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 16.—(P)—Sam Crosby, special policeman, and J. L. Young, former precinct registration officer, were acquitted today on a charge of fraud in connection with the September 3 primary election.

Defense witnesses today testified that Crosby voted only one ballot and that no one outside Precinct 17 polling place could have seen him at the ballot box.

Prosecution witnesses had testified they saw him stuffing a number of ballots into the box.

New Ford-Lincoln Dealers for Atlanta

Left to right, Frank Frost, C. E. Freeman, and Joe E. Cotton. These men have just been appointed Ford and Lincoln dealers for Atlanta. Mr. Frost and Mr. Cotton, as heads of the company, and C. E. Freeman, general manager for the Lincoln division.

Studebaker's Most Beautiful Car Being Shown

The most luxurious and beautiful automobile ever made by Studebaker—the President sedan. Powered with the famous Studebaker President eight-cylinder motor, which develops 115 horsepower, this car lives up to its sobriquet, "Champion," with lightning acceleration and brilliant top speed. Its exterior and interior trim, fittings and upholstery were chosen and designed by Miss Helen Dryden, famous New York stylist. The new Studebaker cars are on display here in the showrooms of the Yarbrough Motor Company, West Peachtree at Linden; A. L. Belle Isle Garage, and the Triangle Motors, located at the junction of Whitehall and Spring streets.

Dolls Go Modern, Come as 'Quints,' Pre-Santa Survey of Toys Shows

By ETHEL M. REESE,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Five times as many dolls to carry than ever before is one of Santa Claus' major problems this year.

Baskets and more baskets of quintuplets will greet the eye of the little miss who visits the toy department for new ideas to write Santa.

The closest rival of the quintuplets is the new all-weather baby doll that turns its head, puckers its mouth for a kiss, cries and changes expression.

Complete knitting sets with easy-to-use instructions and a fastidious about her furniture will demand that every piece of it be made. A great variety of doll furniture is being shown, exact replicas of grown-up furnishings.

Doll baggies, of course, have all gone streamline.

Accessories for boys' trains come cheaper than heretofore. The price has been steep but now for a little more money a train and track may be embellished with grade crossings, lamp posts, stations, bridges and tunnels.

Filling station sets also have a new feature. There is a man or perhaps two men with the new sets, insuring service with a smile.

Electric trains now have whistles and so have the new Studebaker automobiles. Even the 10-cent autos must have whistles.

Amateur photographic kits for beginners are quite fascinating, as are the latest chemistry sets which open up like a cabinet to disclose a row of shelves just like the drugstore has.

The G-men influence asserts itself in automobiles equipped with machine guns.

Games are popular. An English game called horse football is something like indoor football except that there are feathers on the balls. There is a new marble game with an electric device that keeps a kicking the marble back until a score is made.

Blocks are still lettered but the new type has one side to imitate bricks so that an entire brick house may be constructed.

Boys and girls, it's going to be a tricky and intriguing Christmas.

Georgia PWA Projects Completed Valued at $1,854,785, Ickes Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Public Works Administrator Harold L. Ickes announced here today that PWA projects valued at $1,854,785 were completed in Georgia as of November 1.

Of this sum Atlanta received $177,000 for a jail and $246,000 for a new police station, making a total for the city of $523,000.

The grand total of federal expenditures for completed projects throughout the country during this same period amounted to $89,948,327. Georgia's percentage of federal funds was .002.

In addition to the above Georgia had under construction as of November 1 federal projects valued at $1,600,000.

Projects in the state on which allotments had been made as of November 1, and which will be ready for advertisement for bids on construction projects as soon as bond contracts and grant agreements are executed by recipients of the allotments and the administrator of public works are valued at $229,800, Ickes said.

The Central of Georgia railroad had been allotted PWA loans of $109,000 during this same period.

An itemized list of the completed projects in Georgia outside of the two in Atlanta follows: Alma school $31,400; Augusta schools $670,000; Cedarhurst schools $3,400; Cedartown school $5,000; Dawsonville school $18,000; Hancock county high school $82,000; Marietta high school $21,400; Pleasant Grove school $18,000; Randolph county high school $35,000; Roopville school $13,200; Varnell school $14,285; Jenkins county high school $18,000; Albany abattoir $3,400; Appling jail $15,000; Augusta hospital $29,000; Benartzy county jail $5,500; Carrollton jail $75,000; LaGrange swimming pool $11,200; Monroe repairs to courthouse $25,000; Blackshear well pump $2,100; Connelly waterworks $102,000; Folkston water mains $23,000; Macon filtration plant $36,000; Manchester water sewer $18,500; Powder Springs waterworks $17,000; Rockmart military sewer $9,100; Rockmart water works $38,000; Union Point waterworks $38,000.

Projects that were under construction in the state as of November 1 include the following: School at Newton $26,000; fire station, Cedartown, $16,600; prison building, Reidsville, $15,000; waterworks, Bowdon $20,000; filtration plant, Macon $25,000; waterworks, Mount Vernon $25,000.

The projects in the state on which allotments have been made and which will be ready for advertisement for bids soon include a water power development at Augusta, $197,000, and water electrical development at Sandersville, $32,800.

U. S. REJECTS PLEA OF KIDNAP SUSPECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(P)—Justice Department attorneys have rejected an offer by William Weaver, Bremer-kidnap suspect, to plead guilty in exchange for the freedom of his companion, Myrtle Eaton.

Weaver and the Eaton woman were arrested by federal agents this fall in a Florida hideout. Both have been indicted for conspiracy in the Bremer case. Weaver pleaded innocent when arraigned in St. Paul, but later offered to change his plea on condition that charges against the Eaton woman of harboring him be dismissed.

Justice Department officials said district attorneys in Florida and St. Paul had recommended that Weaver's offer be accepted.

Department officials pointed out that Weaver might have planned to benefit personally by the change of plea. If Weaver were convicted after a plea of innocent, they said, he might expect a heavier penalty than if he admitted his guilt.

RELATIVES IDENTIFY MAN KILLED BY TRUCK

The man who was fatally injured Friday night on Lawrenceville road when he was run over, according to police, by a truck operated by J. W. Hamilton, of Athens, Ga., was identified last night by relatives as John White, of 611 Pickett street.

The identification was made by Richard Clayton, a son-in-law, who told DeKalb police he lived with White, and Lee Bowl, a stepson.

White, according to police reports, was injured fatally when he was struck by a car driven by G. F. Kirk, East Point private detective, and then run over by the truck.

A warrant charging Hamilton with a felony was issued by Justice of the Peace W. J. Langley yesterday morning and DeKalb officers were sent to Athens to return Hamilton.

White died at Emory University hospital without regaining consciousness. The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of A. S. Turner at Decatur to await funeral arrangements.

PONTIAC ORGANIZES OWN SAFETY CLUB

Field and Wholesale Men
Organized Into Nationwide
Safety Movement.

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 17.—Solid backing for the current drive toward greater highway safety was assured here with the formation of the "Pontiac Safety Men," the membership embracing the entire field wholesale organization of the Pontiac Motor Company.

From this nucleus it is hoped to enlist as active proponents of safe driving every Pontiac dealer and salesman in the United States, thus bringing an organization of thousands of people into the working of reducing highway mishaps.

The "Pontiac Safety Men" were organized during a recent convention here at the factory and H. J. Klingler, president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Company, was named honorary president.

"The primary purpose in bringing the club into existence," said Mr. Klingler, "was to form an organization through which could be translated several essential points in highway safety recognized by everyone close to the automobile industry. Those points are that today's cars are safe cars and that they will figure in few accidents if safely handled. Our men are capable drivers, our cars are capable cars, and the organization was created to find out what could be accomplished through the co-operation of paying particular attention to safety."

"It is generally agreed that nine out of every ten automobile accidents are avoidable. And certainly every automobile manufacturer and everyone connected with his organization, has a moral obligation to keep out of the nine avoidable accidents even though they may not be his fault."

"To determine whether in any accident in which a 'Safety Man' may figure, an impartial board of three will hear evidence on any case in which insurance is involved. Two of these board members are not connected with our company so that impartial judgments may be rendered."

"Cars are too well built today—too mechanically perfect—without faulty brakes or any other car failure with an alibi for a smashed fender, or a worse accident. The human factor in car control has to be brought up nearer to the mechanical perfection of the car itself. Brakes will prevent many an accident if they are kept in operating order and a foot is applied at the proper time."

A majority of these trucks are to be used by the Department of Agriculture in soil conservation work at various CCC camps throughout the country. They are to have a wheelbase of 160 inches and are to be equipped with 12-foot stake bodies.

The other units are heavy-duty combination cargo and dump trucks for use of the United States army, Mr. Little said.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Veteran Automobile Men To Direct Company Activities

SALE OF AUTO HEATERS INDICATES COLD WINTER

Goodyear Service, Inc., Reports Unusual Number of Heaters Sold.

Atlanta motorists are expecting a cold winter, in the opinion of J. L. Kelly, manager of Goodyear Service. Judging from the number of automobile heaters he has been selling the past few weeks, car owners of this city must be looking for an unusually cold winter, Manager Kelly declared. "Even though we haven't had any extremely cold weather, chilly mornings and evenings have convinced motorists they had best check over their cars in preparation for winter driving. When a driver goes out to the garage to get his car these mornings, there is generally enough chill in the air to make him think about buying a heater. At any rate, our service men have been kept busy making heater installations."

"Driving a car nowadays is a lot different than it was a number of years ago. Somehow it seems our winters here are growing colder. And motorists are learning that by simply turning the heater switch, the car is flooded with warm air and the driver and passengers ride in summertime comfort."

"One of Goodyear's heater models is proving exceptionally popular by reason of an important safety feature. It has a control knob located on the dash, immediately in front of the driver, and the valves on the heater may be moved to deflect the heat in any desired direction by merely adjusting the knob. This means that the heat can be directed up, down or to either side without the driver having to take his eyes off the road or without his having to lean over and touch the heater itself."

"In addition to getting a new heater, now is the time for car owners to check other important items to prepare for winter driving, including tires. Tires with good traction are especially important at this season as skiddy streets are just ahead," Manager Kelly concluded.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

Orders for $886,000 worth of trucks have been received from the United States government by the General Motors Truck Company, according to announcement by J. P. Little, vice president, directing sales.

A handsome plaque will be awarded to that one of the new 25 zone trucks which shows the best safety record for the previous month. The plaque will be in the custody of the winning zone for only one month, or such other period as may be determined by the committee.

CHEVROLET PREDICTS BIG DECEMBER BUYING

Officials Expect To Have Largest Christmas Sales in History of Company.

The Chevrolet Motor Company is looking forward to the highest volume of Christmas sales in its 25-year history, according to W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager, who in an interview outlined the factors supporting that view.

The prediction is based, Mr. Holler said, mainly upon three points—the excellence of the new 1936 Chevrolet which were introduced November 2; the timeliness of their introduction, just before the Christmas buying season; and the fact that the new General Motors Acceptance Corporation's 6 per cent purchase plan reduces to a new low figure the outlay required to own and drive a new motor car.

Orders taken on announcement today," said Mr. Holler, "exceeded anything in our history. Plainly, the public agrees with us that the 1936 Chevrolet is the finest product we have ever introduced. Increased beauty and luxury, greater safety and economy and finer performance characterize both the master de luxe and the standard series. Both new lines are equipped with perfected hydraulic brakes and both have solid steel turret top bodies by Fisher. There has been a growing trend toward the giving of automobiles for Christmas and these fine cars of low price will certainly be selected by many for Christmas giving."

"This should be especially true in light of the fact that the purchase is giving a next year's car, rather than one which will be supplanted by a new model in a few weeks. The advancement of the announcement date removes this deterrent to Christmas buying, and for that reason cannot fail to stimulate year-end business."

"Finally, there is the new payment plan just announced by G. M. A. C., whereby the purchaser on a 12-month contract receives the benefit of lowered interest rates. The G. M. A. C. purchase plan in use heretofore was the most liberal automobile time payment plan in the industry. With the further reduction in rate announced by G. M. A. C., it becomes possible for the thrifty buyer to effect further important savings by selecting as a Christmas gift one of the new Chevrolets."

The official announcement of the new Lincoln and Lincoln Zephyr cars for 1936 will be made later.

C. E. Freeman, well-known Atlanta automobile man, has been appointed by the company to have complete charge of their Lincoln

Auto Glass Replaced 93-B

Auto Glass Replacements.
.25 Any door or windshield in plain glass, 75c extra. Installed while wait 104 Whitehall St. WA. 6879.

Auto Tires and Tubes 94
25-2 for price of 1 plus $1 up. Tubus
 25c; cash or credit. Champion plugs 29c; batteries $3.18 each. Seat covers up to 40c; hoses 75c; jacks 75c. Cottogina's, Broad St. E. W. JA. 3031.

Auto Trucks for Rent 95
TRUCKS For rent hour, day or week
 Open and closed orders.
Hertz Drive-Your-Self Station
 Auburn Ave. WA. 6086

DIXIE DRIVE IT DIXIE

14 Bonaton St. N.E. WA. 1870
Cleaning	96A
O-T-O-F-O-M — Master Cleaner can clean 9x12 rugs or 3-pc. living room suite. For demonstration $10 IS. 850 Sinclair, Z. & J., Distributor.
Auto Trailer	98
WOLF HOUSE TRAILER, 14' FT. LONG, BUILT-IN CABINETS, HASEVILLE COMPANY CO. 525 S. CENTRAL AVE., SEPEVILLE, GA.
Wanted Automobiles	110
HIGHEST CASH PAY
For Clean Fords, Chevrolets, Plymouths,

Terraplanes
and other light cars.
JOHN S. FLORENCE
MOTOR CO.
20 Whitehall St., S. W. MA. 3362-3368

GET MONEY
on any model automobile.
ED BRYANT
Auburn Ave MA. 1244

CASH $100,000 to buy used cars
EVANS MOTORS
OF G.A. INC.
12 P'tree St. MA. 1185 215 Spring St.
BEST cash prices paid for light used cars

CASH FOR USED CARS, Campbell, 215 Spring St. N. W. WA. 4684.
CONTRACTOR will reach labor, bid material for late mod. truck S-147. Constitution.
CASH for your automobile. Hall Motors, 7-11 Baker, N. W. WA. 2268.
BILL BUY light car from private owner Pay cash Raymond 7418.
CASH cash for cheap light car from owner. N. 5083.
 Call or consign your car to Louis I. ALLEN, 262 Peachtree, WA. 1838.

---

Classified Display

Automotive

COMPARE THESE QUALITIES:

Variety OF MAKES

Selection OF STYLES AND MODELS

Reconditioned
THE DEPENDABLE HARRY
SOMMERS, INC., WAY.

Prices
AT THEIR TRUE VALUE
THEN COME TO

375 Peachtree St.
FOR
"Chrysler-Plymouth"
USED CARS
Harry Sommers, Inc.
JA. 1894

Constitution Classified Ads
Bring Results

Mobile Co.

LOT

Mobile Co.

LOT

.....$445

De Luxe 5-Pass. Sedan.
5-Pass. Sedan.
5-Pass. Sedan.
Arrow De Luxe 5-Pass.
et Coach.
5-Pass. Sedan.
ach.
et Coach, new tires.
5-Pass. Sedan.

De Luxe 5-Pass. Sedan.
Baker President De Luxe,
Seat Coupe.
3 5-Pass. Sedan.
6 Convertible Rumble-
Coupe
Port Coupe, automatic lift.
-Pass. Sedan.
-Pass. Sedan.
-Pass. Sedan.
Std. Coupe.
Baker Com. Sedan.

7-Pass. De Luxe Sedan.
8 Coach.
Rumble-Seat Coupe.
De Luxe Fordor Sedan.
7 De Luxe Sedan.

aler

Classified Display

Automotive

WADE MOTOR CO.

24 Ford De Luxe Tudor, good condition through-out. Only $395

24 Chevrolet Master Sedan. Bargain. Only $385

29 Ford Tudor, ready to go. $95

24 Ford De Luxe Coupe, actual mileage 10,000; with radio $475

24 Ford De Luxe 4-Door Sedan; original black paint, mohair upholstery, radio and heater. $485

24 Ford De Luxe Tudor; original tan paint; upholstery like new; radio and trunk. $475

23 Ford De Luxe Coupe; original paint and good tires, mohair upholstery. $365

23 Chevrolet Coach; original maroon finish, mohair upholstery; radio extra good one. $295

And Others.

399 SPRING STREET, N. W. WA. 6720

SALE ON EVERY CAR

On Our Lot

367 Spring St.

For One Week

30 CHEVROLET Sedan, side mounting. $115

30 HUDSON 6-W-W. Sedan, runs good. $95

29 BUICK Master Sedan, new paint. $95

29 PACKARD Club Sedan, new. $145

29 BUICK Standard Coach, little rough. $75

30 PONTIAC Coupe, worth $500 easy. $125

30 AUSTIN Coupe, good condition. $99

31 CHEVROLET Coach, rumble seat, clean, new paint. $125

31 DE VOUX Sedan, extra clean. $395

31 CHEVROLET Std. Coupe, Maroon finish. $395

31 PONTIAC Coupe, original condition. $395

31 CHRYSLER Royal 8 Sedan, 6-W-W. trunk rack. $385

31 DODGE 6 Sedan, air wheels, A-1 condition. $395

100 Other Like Values from the cleanest stock in Atlanta

ADAIR LeVERT

367 Spring St. WA. 5638

Remember, We Do Our Own Financing.

BOOMERSHINE Closing Out

Entire Stock of 1935

PONTIAC CARS

Save Over $350 On Standard Sixes—DeLuxe Sixes DeLuxe Eights

Two-Door Sedans—Four-Door Sedans

Two-Dr. Trg. Sedans—Four-Dr. Trg. Sedans

AND

75 Other Popular-Priced Cars to Select From—Priced From $15 Up

—LIBERAL TERMS—

USED CAR DEPARTMENT

BOOMERSHINE MOTORS, Inc.

"LEADS ATLANTA IN USED CAR VALUES"

425 SPRING STREET, N. W. OPEN EVENINGS Jackson 1921

2 SALES ANNOUNCED BY ADAMS-CATES CO.

Two sales were announced yesterday by Adams-Cates Company. A lot on Montview drive in Haynes Manor was sold to Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson by J. J. and Rosa N. Ellis. The lot is located on the east side of Montview drive between Peachtree and Manor Ridge drive; size 75x200 feet.

A dwelling at 932 Austin avenue.

GHOST WRITING. Articles for trade journals, magazines, etc.; speeches, press releases, etc.; special letters written for your signature. Confidential. Address P. O. Box 214, Atlanta.

Leatherette Trench Coats DUCKETT'S ARMY STORE

79 Alabama St.

Classified Display

Automotive

D. C. BLACK, Inc.

10 Baker St.

THE following cars will be sold Monday morning for balance due Finance Co.

No. 1745—30 Chevrolet $134.81

No. 1746—30 Chevrolet $382.19

No. 1747—31 Buick $191.64

No. 1748—31 Buick $142.22

No. 1749—31 Buick $192.40

No. 1750—31 Buick $73.60

No. 1751—31 Buick $84.80

No. 1752—31 Buick $52.18

No. 1753—31 Buick $178.42

No. 1754—31 Buick $102.12

No. 1755—31 Buick $86.30

No. 1756—31 Buick $47.82

No. 1757—31 Buick $66.00

No. 1758—31 Buick $234.83

No. 1759—31 Buick $502.15

No. 1760—31 Buick $21.00

No. 1761—31 Buick $29.64

No. 1762—31 Buick $174.42

No. 1763—31 Buick $89.76

No. 1764—31 Buick $239.33

100 OTHERS TO SELECT FROM

WA. 4871

Reconditioned cars, all makes and body types, at bargain prices. Call by and be convinced.

WHATLEY MOTORS

344 Peachtree St. WA. 1066

YARBROUGH MOTOR CO.

Studebaker

HONEST USED CAR VALUES

33 Studebaker Sport De Luxe Coupe, rumble seat, safety glass, and every thing else $550

31 Pierce-Arrow, 6-wire wheel De Luxe Sedan $550

31 Sears-Roebuck Combination Hearse and Ambulance $550

31 Studebaker 6, 6-Chromium-Wheels De Luxe Sedan $495

31 Chevrolet Sedan, new paint and tires; seat covers $265

31 Terraplane Convertible Sport Roadster $395

31 Ford 4-Door De Luxe Sedan $395

31 Rockne 65 Sedan $295

31 Marmon Light 8, 6-Wire-Wheel De Luxe Sedan $295

owned by W. J. DeGuenther, was sold to P. E. Blair who will occupy it as a home. Both transactions were handled by Hoke Blair of the Adams-Cates agency.

Big Red Vote.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Communist candidates polled a higher vote than socialists in Manhattan at the recent assembly election, board of elections records showed today. The communist total for assembly candidates was 11,703, against 10,892 for socialists.

MADAM MAZA

Gifted Palmist and Clairvoyant

I give names and the names of your friends and enemies; tell your past as you know it; tell your present as it is. Tell the things you are best fitted for. Advice on love, courtship, marriage, divorce, wills, deeds, and business transactions of all kinds. Tell you how to solve every important problem. I am successful where other readers have failed. I tell the bad as well as the good. One visit is worth columns of self-praise. I tell you of any or all changes you should or should not make. Minutes of consultation with me will save you money and hours of worry. It is wise to consult a reader who can and will give sound and important advice on all affairs of life.

SPECIAL READINGS 50c

Hours 9—3 P. M. Daily and Sunday

Separate Waiting Rooms for White and Colored

1329 HOWELL MILL ROAD

Howell Mill Car to Door

Classified Display

Automotive

Lowest Prices in Town

Your Chance to Buy at Your Own Price

$195 to $595

34 Olds

34 Olds

34 Plymouth

34 Chevrolet

34 Chevrolet

34 Ford

34 Ford

34 Olds

34 Olds

34 Chrysler

34 Chevrolet

34 Plymouth

34 Plymouth

34 Ford

34 Ford

34 Chevrolet

34 Cord

34 Ford

34 Marmon

34 LaSalle

34 Ford

34 Buick

34 Auburn

34 LaSalle

34 Olds

Many Others

MITCHELL MOTORS

330-336 Peachtree St.

MA. 1100 MA. 1204

Auto Tires and Tubes

NO MONEY DOWN

SEIBERLING TIRES

Low Prices

Long Terms

No Delay

BROOKS SHATTLERLY

Spring and Walton Sts.

1643 Jonesboro Road S.E.

CONSTITUTION OFFICIAL FATHER OF SECOND BOY

Lawrence Jefferson Trotti was born last night at 10:15 o'clock at the Emory University hospital.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Trotti, of Decatur.

Mr. Trotti is business manager of The Atlanta Constitution, and Master Trotti is his second son and third child. Both the boy and his mother were reported in excellent condition by hospital authorities.

MAN HIT BY ENGINE; LEG IS AMPUTATED

Amputation of a man's left leg was necessitated last night after he was struck by a switching engine of the Southern Railway, according to police.

The accident victim is David Burton, 52, 808 Lee street, S. W. He is in serious condition in Grady hospital.

According to police, the man was walking along the railroad right of way on Stewart avenue, S. E., near the Candler warehouse, when he was struck by a switching engine moving freight on a siding.

He was removed to the hospital, where doctors found the leg so badly mangled amputation, just below the knee, followed.

"Courtesy & Service"

OPEN SUNDAY, 10-11

SAT. NIGHTS TILL 8 P. M. DAILY, 8-4 P. M.

NEW SYSTEM DENTISTS

57 1/2 WHITEHALL ST., COR. ALABAMA

OVER BAKER'S SHOE STORE

5% Mortgage Loans 5%

Approved from plans and specifications.

LIPSCOMB-WEYMAN-CHAPMAN CO.

214 WESTERN UNION BLDG. WALNUT 2162

MY INTEREST OF THE WEEK Contest

Beginning Sunday, November 24th

Open to All Members of Clubs

Composing the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs

$100

IN CASH PRIZES AND $1 FOR EACH LETTER PUBLISHED

Your interest of the week may have been an awe-inspiring scene, a book, a lesson in child psychology, a helpful household hint, music, gardening, art. There are no limitations to the subject of your letter.

The Constitution will publish each Sunday on the Federated Women's Clubs' official page the three best letters submitted during the week and pay $1 for each used.

At the close of the contest a committee of judges will select the four best articles which have been published. The awards to these will be: First prize, $50; second, $25; third, $15, and fourth, $10. The decision of the judges will be final and will be based primarily on the interest of the idea or subject and not on rhetorical style.

RULES

1. Address letters Attention State Federation Contest Editor, The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

2. Articles limited to 150 words.

3. Must be signed and name of writer's federated club given.

4. Please write only on one side of paper.

5. Letters must reach The Constitution by Thursday, 9 a. m. to be considered for the following Sunday.

6. Letters submitted become the property of The Constitution.

7. (a) No letters may be submitted by The Constitution staff or members of their families. (b) Entrants must belong to a club which is a member of the Georgia Federation.

See

GA. FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Page

Whose Bird To Eat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A delicate question—whose turkey to slice on Thanksgiving Day—confronts President Roosevelt.

The 50-pound gobbler sent him by plant from Utah by the Northwestern Turkey Growers' Association is being kept at the White House temporarily.

But the President will spend Thanksgiving at Warm Springs, Ga., where he usually carves a Georgia gift turkey on the festive occasion.

He has given no hint as to the turkey he will carve this year.

U. S. SENATOR BILBO SUFFERS ILLNESS

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 16.—(AP)—United States Senator Theodore G. Bilbo was taken ill here today and was unable to attend a meeting of state postal employees he was scheduled to address. His condition was said not to be serious and he planned to return to his home in Poplarville tomorrow if he felt better.

SEA BANDIT ATTEMPTS TO ROB NAVY PAY ROLL

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Nov. 16.—(UP)—A seaman's bold attempt to hold up a navy paymaster aboard the U. S. S. California, flagship of the U. S. Battle Force, was reported today when the battleship reached port.

The vessel was 150 miles off shore when the seaman, identified by naval authorities as George A. Boyce, 20, allegedly pushed a gun into the hands of Lieutenant W. F. Trien and demanded he open a safe containing an estimated $100,000 pay roll.

MORTUARY

MRS. J. C. SUMMERS. Mrs. J. C. Summers died yesterday at her home, 544 Calhoun street, S. W., at the age of 65. She was survived by her husband, two daughters, R. E. Barbour and Mrs. C. N. Barbour, and three sons, W. F. Barbour, J. C. Barbour, and J. C. Barbour. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock today at the chapel of Harry G. Poole, Rev. L. H. Shirley will officiate. Interment will be in East View cemetery.

LEE. The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Lee, who died yesterday at a local hospital, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the chapel of Harry G. Poole, Rev. L. H. Shirley will officiate. Interment will be in East View cemetery.

LEONARD C. SMITH. Funeral services for Leonard Smith, who died yesterday at a local hospital, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the chapel of Harry G. Poole, Rev. L. H. Shirley will officiate. The body will be taken at 10 o'clock tonight to Tampa, Fla., for burial.

NOTICE. I will not be responsible for any debts made by anyone other than myself.

The Georgia State Board for the Examination and Registration of Architects will hold a meeting at the State Capitol on December 1, 1935, at 9:30 A. M. Applications and blank forms may be obtained from the undersigned.

B. C. COLEMAN, Joint Secretary, State Examining Board, Room 111, State Capitol, Atlanta, Georgia.

U. S. Engineer Office, Mobile, Ala.—Sealed bids, in duplicate, for supplies, services, buildings, or work, for construction of Great Gates on Dam No. 17, Black Warrior River, Alabama, subject to the applicable conditions of U. S. Government Standard P.W.A. 51, revised July 18, 1934, as modified and approved by the Works Progress Administration June 1935. Specifications covering the project, will be received at this office until 11:00 A. M., November 27, 1935, and then publicly opened. Further information on application.

PRIVATE LOANS. Lot of Fine Silverware for Sale. W. M. LEWIS & CO. 4TH FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

(COLORED). WYMES—Mrs. M. Wymes passed away November 16 at a local hospital. Funeral announced later. Murdaugh Bros.

MINOR—The remains of Mrs. Mattie Minor are resting in our parlors pending completion of funeral arrangements. Hanley Co.

PHILLIPS—Mr. J. W. Phillips passed away recently at a local hospital. Funeral announcements later. Hanley Co.

BOLDEN—The funeral of Mr. Joe Bolden will be held today at 2 p. m. from our chapel, Interment, Lincoln cemetery. Hanley Co.

SMITH—Mr. Ellison Smith passed away at his residence November 16. Funeral announced later. Cox Bros., of Windsor.

McGHEE—Mrs. Mamie McGhee passed away recently at a local hospital. The funeral will be announced upon completion of arrangements. Hanley Co.

PORTER—Funeral services for Mr. William Henry Porter will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from Peek's Chapel Baptist church, near Conyers, Ga. Rev. Collins will officiate. Interment in churchyard. Arthur McCallen, funeral director.

BROOKS—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Susie Brooks, of R-14 Maple street, are invited to attend her funeral today (Sunday) at 12 o'clock at the C. M. E. church, Woodbury, Ga. Interment in Woodbury. The remains will be sent via Central of Georgia railroad at 7:30 a. m. Sellers Bros.

GRANT—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Grant, Mr. J. D. and Mrs. Tobie Grant, Mr. Thomas H. Grant, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Grant, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. Silas Grant, of Washington, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Kendall and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Kendall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steele, of Scottsdale, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Appleby, of Chicago, Ill.; Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Mr. Cliff Ray, Mrs. Millie Parks and Mrs. Mariah Hightower, of Covington, Ga.; Mrs. Mattie C. Toles, of Fairburn, Ga.; Mrs. Laura Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joiner, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Washburn and Mrs. Sallie Grant and family are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Jacob Grant this (Sunday) afternoon at 1 o'clock from Wheat Street Baptist church. Rev. Louis Foster Jr. will officiate. Interment Washington Memorial cemetery. Pallbearers selected will be: William H. Hill, Henry Henderson this (Sunday), November 17, 1935, at 1:30 p. m. at Bush Chapel church, Rev. R. L. Walker officiating. Interment in the church cemetery. Mack & Paje, in charge.

HENDERSON—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Henderson, of Windsor, Ga.; Miss Mary Lee Burson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hood and family, of Dacula, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Burson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John H. and family, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Jobe Tredwell and family, of Austell, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Urquary Robinson are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. William Henderson this (Sunday), November 17, 1935, at 1:30 p. m. at Bush Chapel church, Rev. R. L. Walker officiating. Interment in the church cemetery. Mack & Paje, in charge.

a great New

RELIEF PROGRAM

High's Organizes for Lower Prices--All Departments Unite in Determined Drive!--No Change in Quality but a Definite Lowering of Prices!--Thousands Hail High's Great New Relief Program

Here's the HIGH Relief Program!

- (1) Call off all expensive store operations and turn the savings into LOWER PRICES!
- (2) Increased buying requirements will mean manufacturers' lowest costs—and LOWER PRICES!
- (3) Customers considered more than profits—and this, too, means LOWER PRICES!
- (4) High's "Letter of Credit"—easily obtained and used as CASH in any department in the Store! Ask any clerk for full details.

In a dramatic and revolutionary proclamation, The High Department Store in Atlanta "bolts the league" of high prices and advances a new policy to give wage earners and everyone else "a break" and help them to have the things of life they need.

Whether the WPA—the TVA—the PWA—the HOLC and all the rest of the Government Relief ideas are here to stay or not, and whether they are for better or for worse—High's won't wait to see. Government relief or no government relief, High's New Relief Program will be a definite help to families who can't pay or don't want to pay the price of "high fallutin" store operations. It will help people declare their independence! It means the pricing of things DOWN—not up!

The new High Relief Plan is directly in accord with ideas of people who want to make their pennies count. From now on, family budgets will be helped as never before. If there is a "Hemlock District" in Atlanta any more, the folks living out there will appreciate the new High Relief Plan—with taxes mounting constantly, they've GOT to economize on buying.

The great middle class will appreciate the new High Relief Plan—saving 24c on hosiery—a dollar or two or more on men's as well as women's clothing—saving on items in every department throughout the store will mean more money for other things—better living—more sensible living—greater enjoyment in life!

BUT the folks who will be the MOST appreciative of all are those who have to rake and scrape before they make a purchase. They know how hard it is to make ends meet and buy the barest needs at prices usually charged—High's new Relief Program is made to order for them!

THIS IS NOT JUST ANOTHER SALE—IT IS A DEFINITE POLICY THAT MEANS LOWER PRICES FOR YOU TODAY, TOMORROW AND EVERY DAY!

High's Relief Program means the elimination of all the big and unnecessary overhead expenses. It means bringing prices down to lower levels. You will not find any fine carpets in our store—no super-high-speed express elevators—no elaborate equipment. Fine and beautiful surroundings are something that everyone naturally loves, but they cost money—and you won't find them at High's. No, none of these luxuries—and we don't want them, either.

What we DO want is to make it possible for thousands to take advantage of lower prices. We are saving the money such luxuries cost and passing all the savings along to our customers in the form of lower prices. That's our way of getting action for those who need relief. It's our way of helping people back on their feet and stimulating employment, too.

The tremendous High Relief Program STARTS THIS WEEK! Join the procession of happy shoppers at High's. You need High's lower prices, and to carry on the lower prices of this store-wide relief plan—HIGH'S NEEDS YOU!

J.M.HIGH CO.

The STORE with a HEART

Corner Whitehall & Hunter

GEORGIA STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

ORGANIZED IN 1896—MEMBERSHIP 30,000—JOINED GENERAL FEDERATION IN 1896—MOTTO: "WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION"—CLUB FLOWER: CHEROKEE ROSE

PRESIDENT: Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens; first vice president, Mrs. Albert Hill, of Greenville; second vice president, Mrs. A. B. Conner Jr., of Bainbridge; recording secretary, Mrs. Morris Bryan, of Jefferson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rufus Turner, of Athens; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Butler, of Dallas; parliamentarian, Mrs. Howard McCall, of Atlanta; editor, Mrs. Bessie Shaw Stafford, of Georgia; General Federation director in Georgia, Mrs. J. W. Gholston, of Comer; Georgia Federation headquarters, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta, Telephone Main 2173; national head-quarters, 1734 N. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

DISTRICT PRESIDENTS—First, Mrs. G. M. Barnes, of Midville; second, Mrs. C. E. Glauser, of Quitman; third, Mrs. Ivey Melton, of Dawson; fourth, Mrs. J. A. Corry, of Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. P. J. McGovern, of Avondale Estates; sixth, Mrs. L. I. Waxbaum, of Macon; seventh, Mrs. W. A. Hill, of Calhoun; eighth, Mrs. C. A. Tyler, of Broxton; ninth, Mrs. John O. Braselton, of Braselton; tenth, Mrs. Roy Wallace, of Rutledge; Mrs. Harvie Jordan, state publicity chairman, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel.

State Parliamentarian Writes On Queries and Answers Today

By MRS. HOWARD McCALL,
Of Atlanta, State Parliamentarian.

As a greater number of women serve on committees rather than officers, the parliamentarian will answer in this article many questions that have been asked in regard to committee work. Questions: Has an organization the right to decide for itself how its committees shall be appointed?

Answer: Every organization has the right to decide for itself how its committees shall be appointed. Sometimes the method is prescribed by the by-laws. Where this is not done, the assembly by a majority vote decides the question at the time the committee is appointed.

Whoever appoints the committee has the power at the time the committee is appointed to appoint the chairman. When appointed or nominated by the chair, the person first named is the chairman.

When appointed or nominated by any other method, unless the chairman is named, the first person named acts as chairman, unless the committee elects someone else, which it has a perfect right to do.

As soon as practicable after the appointment of the committee, it should be called together by its chairman if one has been appointed. If no chairman has been appointed, then the first named member calls the committee together and acts as chairman until a chairman is elected by the committee.

If the president desires for some special reason that the first named member of the committee shall be chairman, then she must so state the fact.

Annual Birthdays and Celebrations Observed by Georgia Clubwomen

By MRS. HARVIE JORDAN,
Of Atlanta, State Chairman of Publicity.

November brings the annual birthdays and celebrations fittingly recognized in club programs. National Education Week and the closely allied National Book Week have been observed and Thanksgiving Day will bring an opportunity for an "American Home" program. Mrs. J. Strickland, of Valdosta, chairman of the American home, G. F. W. C., says the department has devoted much time and thought to the problem of maintaining standards of home life in spite of progressively decreasing incomes. Women have faced the situation with spirit, vigor and mutual helpfulness and admirable ingenuity and persistence. Winter ahead is a challenge that must be met through the united efforts of all.

Sunday preceding Thanksgiving has been designated as "American Home Sunday" and this should bring new relationships very close to all. Some clubs have said: "If America really wants to build for tomorrow, stop being so sure that politicians are the answer, that political parties are the answer, that special interests are the answer. They will all fail without character in the manhood and womanhood of our nation. Christmas is stirring a new time. No one can escape the consciousness that vast changes are in process. More important than any recent national event is the decision to live on a higher plane. The people as a whole have been set to thinking new thoughts. And it behooves the club women, the home-makers, to respond to this new spirit in this plastic period, to see that the right teachings of spiritual ideals are injected into all this mental quickening.

The first thought in the minds of American people should be to "save the home." The reclaiming of our millions of lost homes would quicken recovery, would give the people a new turn over cash into paint, paper, lumber, furniture, food and clothes, start the wheels of industry whirling, restore contentment, hope and patriotism and renew our faith in God, the government and our fellow-men. And it is the greatest opportunity and challenge to duty the home department has ever had.

For 28 years the war cry, "Eight tubercles," has been loudly sounded and a large percentage of this untold assistance is performed by American women, acting as individuals or through women's organizations, co-ordinating the efforts of the Red Cross. Every year millions of Christmas seals are sold in this country, the proceeds from which go to help control and prevent tuberculosis. "Christmas seal" was first sold in 1904 in a foreign country to give a chance for health to a group of tuberculous children. Einar Holboell, a postal clerk in Denmark, thought a specially designed stamp to decorate Christmas mail could be made to finance a greatly needed hospital in that city. His enthusiasm sold the idea to the royal family. So the first Christmas seal was designed and placed on sale in the postoffice of that country. The people bought the seals and the seal of Copenhagen got her children's hospital building.

Then Jacob Riis received a letter from his mother country telling him about the idea and hearing one of the seals. The possibilities of its use in the United States impressed him so he had an article on the subject published which attracted the attention of Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Del., who induced the American Red Cross to promote the first nationwide sale of Christmas seals in 1920. The American Red Cross decided to continue its annual roll call each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving and to give the proceeds to the public for funds twice a year. Consequently the Christmas seal sale is now conducted by the National Tuberculosis Association. For 28 years now the Christmas seal has financed much of the struggle against tuberculosis. While great progress has been made there can be no letting up. If the goal—the ultimate elimination of tuberculosis—is to be reached, December will mark another milestone in the fight the 2,000 affiliated tuberculosis associations in our state are making through the sale of these little stickers for a penny each.

Mrs. Rochford R. Johnson presided at the November meeting of the Washington Woman's Club. Mrs. John Stoddard arranged the program which was directed by Mrs. Thomas A. Reese, who introduced Mrs. Stewart Wootton, of Millerville, speaker of the afternoon. "Mothercraft" was the theme of Mrs. Wootton's address, a thorough understanding of human nature and the influence of child welfare which was being specially emphasized by the club. Mrs.

Mrs. Hill Discusses Membership Contest In Today's Article

Information regarding the nationwide club membership contest is sent to Georgia clubwomen by the vice president at large, Mrs. Albert Hill.

Mrs. Hill states that the contest is a challenge to every clubwoman. She says that the contest is a challenge to every clubwoman. She says that the contest is a challenge to every clubwoman.

A majority of a committee must be present to transact business unless the assembly has authorized a smaller quorum, which it should usually do in case of very large committees.

If a committee is assigned a duty that it cannot perform immediately, it should retire from the meeting as soon as appointed and attend to that duty. If the committee is to make a report, then when it returns to the meeting its chairman should rise as soon as she can obtain the floor, and should state that the committee is prepared to report. The report is made immediately after the chairman has been called to the floor.

Committees should not meet while the organization is in session, unless they cannot be performed otherwise. Usually the committee should meet as soon as the meeting adjourns (this applies principally to state meetings where the members are vitally interested in the program). The committee can then attend to the work or appoint another time for the meeting.

The conduct of business in a committee meeting and the reports of committees will be given next week.

Wootton heads the department of health at Georgia State College for Women and is widely known as author and speaker.

The department of education, Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Under the Cherokee Rose

By Rose Marie

Over in Comer, Mrs. J. W. Gholston, director for Georgia in General Federation of Women's Clubs, is eating bananas grown in her yard.

Shakespeare, of all persons, is setting style for women's hats, says Mary Elizabeth Plummer, associate press staff writer for Savannah News. These peaked-bonnets for daytime, these bejeweled mesh caps for evening go back to the Bard of Avon. The peaks came from Puck's hat in "Midsummer Night's Dream," and caps from lovebirds Juliet's headgear.

A praiseworthy spirit of unity exists among the members of Jefferson Woman's Club and between the club, school and community. The club has just bought a piano for the meeting on Monday, the question arose as to which needed the piano more, the club or the school gymnasium. And discussion resulted in a unanimous vote to buy two pianos. The last benefit, a cake-walk, having netted $80, another will be staged for the joint piano fund. Thanksgiving week, the club, school and community will have monthly recreation programs to provide wholesome fun for the young people, and will be directed by the new education department of the University of Georgia, students coming from Athens to present plays and other entertainments.

Tom Bryant was host to the Kiwanis Woman's History Club at the hotel, for the November meeting, complimenting the members with a Thanksgiving luncheon at which Miss Virginia Ivey presided.

Manchester clubwomen have a "project" each month. For November, the project is "The Girl of the Year" with Mrs. George Powers, sponsor.

Student aid was featured at the recent meeting of the Deatur Woman's Club. The chairman, Mrs. W. J. Connelley, directed the program, assisted by the co-chairman, Mrs. Claude C. Smith.

Kathryn Connell, society editor of the Lowndes County Tribune, spoke at the meeting of the literary division of the club.

At the conclusion of the business session of the Stephens County Federation of Clubs held with the Toccoa Woman's Club, Mrs. A. T. Turcotte, president, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Under the Cherokee Rose

By Rose Marie

Over in Comer, Mrs. J. W. Gholston, director for Georgia in General Federation of Women's Clubs, is eating bananas grown in her yard.

Shakespeare, of all persons, is setting style for women's hats, says Mary Elizabeth Plummer, associate press staff writer for Savannah News. These peaked-bonnets for daytime, these bejeweled mesh caps for evening go back to the Bard of Avon. The peaks came from Puck's hat in "Midsummer Night's Dream," and caps from lovebirds Juliet's headgear.

A praiseworthy spirit of unity exists among the members of Jefferson Woman's Club and between the club, school and community. The club has just bought a piano for the meeting on Monday, the question arose as to which needed the piano more, the club or the school gymnasium. And discussion resulted in a unanimous vote to buy two pianos. The last benefit, a cake-walk, having netted $80, another will be staged for the joint piano fund. Thanksgiving week, the club, school and community will have monthly recreation programs to provide wholesome fun for the young people, and will be directed by the new education department of the University of Georgia, students coming from Athens to present plays and other entertainments.

Tom Bryant was host to the Kiwanis Woman's History Club at the hotel, for the November meeting, complimenting the members with a Thanksgiving luncheon at which Miss Virginia Ivey presided.

Manchester clubwomen have a "project" each month. For November, the project is "The Girl of the Year" with Mrs. George Powers, sponsor.

Student aid was featured at the recent meeting of the Deatur Woman's Club. The chairman, Mrs. W. J. Connelley, directed the program, assisted by the co-chairman, Mrs. Claude C. Smith.

Kathryn Connell, society editor of the Lowndes County Tribune, spoke at the meeting of the literary division of the club.

At the conclusion of the business session of the Stephens County Federation of Clubs held with the Toccoa Woman's Club, Mrs. A. T. Turcotte, president, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Mrs. E. H. Jordan, presented the November program of Reynolds Woman's Club, after the business session at which the president, Mrs. Thurmon Whaley, presented the "Improvement of Public School and Adult Education" was the subject of talk.

Her Appreciation To Club Friends

By MRS. J. W. GHOLSTON, Director for Georgia in General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Presented on The Constitution of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs for 35 years, is today's anniversary of the founding of the organization, including city and county federations.

Under the slogan, "My Interest of the Week," clubwomen are invited to write personal articles upon such suggested subjects as children, domestic interests, gardens, hobbies, art, music, moving pictures, sports, and many others. The contest may be written in any language, and may be in any form, but must cover the whole field of daily life, and contestants may select any subject under the sun which strikes their fancy.

Through this contest The Constitution believes that the new feature will prove a great inspiration to 30,000 women composing Georgia Federation, and that clubwomen will read an enjoyable literary treat, and be inspired by the ideas and themes which will be revealed in the contest, that will prove of educational and practical value.

Interest Women in General. Clubwomen G. F. W. C. is better and finer than ever, and we are striving to match Georgia's complimentary list with paid subscriptions. They make ideal Christmas gifts for libraries, clubs and friends. Be sure to tune in over WSB every Friday afternoon at 2:45 eastern time for the general federation broadcast, and send a card to NBC studios, Rockefeller plaza, New York city, if you appreciate this courtesy of theirs.

Thanksgiving is near and may we approach it with grateful hearts for our many blessings, but ever thankful for our opportunity of service.

Sympathy of Georgia clubwomen is extended to Mrs. E. Grady Weathers, of Millen, on account of the sudden death of her husband in an automobile accident. Mrs. Weathers is a member of the Tallulah Falls school committee.

Mrs. John T. Ragan, education chairman of the Tallulah Falls school, presented an instructive program at the high school in observance of National Education Week.

November meeting of the Tennessean Woman's Club was held at the clubhouse with Mesdames S. D. Mandeville and Joe Squirefield as hostesses. The program was presented by Mrs. Roy Smith, in the chair. The garden chairman, Mrs. Will Brantley, to whose efforts the club is indebted for the attractiveness of the grounds, announced plans to further beautify the grounds and the offer to personally provide additional shrubbery if better protection could be assured. A committee chairman and quoted figures on the amount of publicity the federation has.

The business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. Leonard Booth, followed the program. Mrs. W. J. Connelley, pianist, accompanied the singing of "America" that opened the meeting and Mrs. E. C. Crouse read the club report. Mrs. C. H. Jones, accompanied by Mrs. C. Rousseau sang an original song, "The Little White House Down in Georgia." Mrs. Lewis Waxbaum, chairman of legislation, was heard from and presented a report on the school and paid for since last meeting.

Mrs. H. M. Franklin, program chairman, read an article on suggestions for education week and conducted a contest in which 12 members participated. The principal number on the program was given by Mrs. A. E. Gilmore on President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving in his Georgia home.

Mrs. H. M. Franklin, program chairman, read an article on suggestions for education week and conducted a contest in which 12 members participated.

THE CONSTITUTION'S PARENT-TEACHER PAGE

Edited by MAINER LEE TOLER

OFFICERS OF GEORGIA CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS—President, Mrs. Charles Carter, College Park; first vice president, Mrs. M. C. Coleman, Marietta; second vice president, Mrs. Otto Kuhl, Savannah; third vice president, Mrs. Cooper Campbell, Columbus; fourth vice president, Mrs. D. M. Smith, Swainsboro; fifth vice president, Mrs. Frank Davis, Columbus; sixth vice president, Mrs. Byron E. Mathews, Atlanta; seventh vice president, Mrs. J. W. Sibley, Augusta; recording secretary, Mrs. James S. Gordy, Columbus; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. A. Long, Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Scantling, Atlanta; historian, Mrs. Joe Dan Miller, Atlanta; parliamentarian, Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, Macon.

OFFICERS OF ATLANTA COUNCIL OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS—President, Mrs. D. R. Longino, president; Mrs. Ralph McCallahan, vice president; Mrs. A. C. Sparks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. W. Morrow, recording secretary; Mrs. R. E. Wise, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Harrison, auditor; Mrs. Bryon Mathews, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. R. Gaviglia, notes.

New Curriculum Benefits Outlined To Fulton P.-T. A.

Speaking before Fulton County Council, P.T. A. Paul D. West told of the benefits to be derived from the proposed new curriculum changes in the Georgia schools. He brought out the need of this change to keep up with the social change and the necessity of group cooperation, in place of the new curriculum embodies, in place of group individualism, under the present course of study.

Miss Jessie Hopkins, librarian at Carnegie library, spoke of the plans carried out with the help of the Fulton county commissioners in permitting people of the county the free use of the library. She also told of future plans of bringing to the outlying schools and districts, the library facilities which they are now unable to enjoy because of the distance.

The return of Miss Frances Hayes, information secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, was announced. Miss Hayes will speak at 8 o'clock Monday, November 25, at Fulton High school, on "The Educational Significance of the Parent-Teacher Movement." All are urged to attend.

Morningside School.

Parents of Morningside school pupils will have an opportunity to see the changing educational program demonstrated in classrooms when school holds open house Friday, November 22. The kindergarten and first grade will be opened to the parents at noon. Other grades at 1 o'clock.

Joe Brown Carnival.

Joe E. Brown P.-T. A. is co-operating with the school students in planning a carnival at the school November 22 from 7 to 10 o'clock. In addition to the shows and stunts to be presented by teachers and students the P.-T. A. will sponsor the following booths: Bazaar, Mrs. J. W. Yarbrough; tea room, Mrs. W. E. White; plate dinner, Mrs. J. L. Richardson; cakes, Mrs. S. B. McGarity; ice cream and candy, Mrs. J. L. Galtin; winners and cold drinks, Mrs. L. G. Turner; fish pond and grab bag, Mrs. W. L. Clarke.

Cooking School.

Jerome Jones P.-T. A. will have a cooking school in the school cafeteria on November 19, 20, 21 and 22 from 9:30 a. m. to 11 a. m. Mrs. Elizabeth Stanfield will conduct the school. Prizes will be given daily. Mrs. E. C. Dempsey and Mrs. R. B. Lawless are general chairmen. Registration 50c. The public is invited.

Stunt Night.

Kirkwood P.-T. A. will sponsor stunt night at the school auditorium Friday night, November 22, at 8 o'clock. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

Benefit Bridge.

Kirkwood P.-T. A. will sponsor a benefit bridge at the Southern Dairies clubroom November 21 at 2:30 o'clock. Tickets are 25 cents. For reservations phone Mrs. D. W. Sudduth, Dearborn 2849-M.

National P.-T. A. Official Holds Series of Conferences in Georgia

Attended by representatives of nearly 100 districts, the series of conferences which Miss Frances Hayes, information secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, is conducting in Georgia was inspiring and helpful. Those attending will receive national certificates. Further conferences will be held through November 22 in Columbus, Waycross, Savannah and Macon.

Attention is called to Book Week November 17-23. An especially attractive booklet, entitled "Reading for Fun," by Anne Carroll Moore, is now available and will prove helpful in carrying out the reading program.

A report of the National Parent-Teacher magazine subscriptions shows that in Class C Georgia leads for October with 302 new and 51 renewals. The percentage of registration of local units by districts follows: Third, 65.5 per cent; fourth, 54.8 per cent; fifth, 40.5 per cent; sixth, 20.0 per cent; seventh, 24.3 per cent; eighth, 24.1 per cent; ninth, 24.1 per cent; tenth, 23.6 per cent; eleventh, 21.4 per cent; twelfth, 14.4 per cent.

This report is encouraging for it means a better informed membership through the organization's official magazine. Georgia congress welcomes to its membership the new association just organized in the Poudre school community with Mrs. J. E. Chance as president.

The following plans of work were approved at the executive committee meeting in Griffin and are now available: home education, Mrs. Walter Stancil, Fitzgerald, chairman; international relations, Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Atlanta, chairman; mental hygiene, Mrs. George Birch, Macon, chairman; safety, Miss Kathleen Mitchell, Atlanta, chairman; motion pictures, Zach S. Henderson, Collegeboro, chairman; grade and high school associations, Mrs. Glen Landers, Savannah, chairman.

Ben Hill Meets.

Daddies' night was observed by Ben Hill P.-T. A. Wednesday with Mrs. T. L. Wheeler presiding in the absence of Mrs. Annie Noland. Program chairman, Mrs. Gladys Thomas, presented the children in an Armistice pageant and speakers were Dr. E. A. Pounds, who spoke on the importance of good teeth and on the general health and Dr. R. W. McGee discussed methods of preventing the most common diseases of children.

John B. Gordon P.-T. A.

John B. Gordon P.-T. A. through its program chairman, Mrs. S. K. Simpson, announces the following program for 1935-36: September, organization, adoption of program award of reading certificates by Miss Frances Cox; award of summer reading certificates by Miss Barker; October, our welfare agencies, Miss Rhoda Kaufman, representative of Family Welfare Society, November, founding a family; panel discussion by study group; January, the well-managed home; panel discussion by study group; February, management of children in the home.

Oakhurst Meets.

Oakhurst P.-T. A. met Wednesday with the president, Mrs. G. Dorsey Smith, presiding. The meeting opened with a devotion on Thanksgiving by Mrs. B. W. Durling. Mrs. Roland Sage, playground chairman, announced the purchase of seven new swings, and that plans had been made to terrace the ball field. Mrs. B. W. Durling, Campfire guardian, announced two Agnes Scott girls would organize a Bluebird group at Oakhurst within the next week. Mrs. L. J. Pickle reported $61 cleared on the carnival.

Bass Junior High.

Seventh grade blue clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Glacie Threante, sister of Mrs. Haskell Boyter, who is ill, presented a concert in the music room for Bass Junior High School P.-T. A. last Wednesday. Piano solos were played by June McConnel and Virginia Berry, with Virginia Brown accompanying. On account of illness in the faculty, sectional meetings for the eighth and ninth grades were omitted. Rev. S. A. Tinkler, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, opened the general assembly with prayer.

W. J. Scott, principal, announced the first school play to be given on November 29.

"The Trumpeter" was sung by Walter Herbert with Mr. Thomas as pianist. Mrs. W. R. Williamson, president, presided, and Mrs. H. F. Higgins, program chairman, presented each father present with the attractive yearbook.

Maddox Junior High.

"Children are problems because parents and the community are constantly creating problems for them by failure to anticipate the child's needs," M. E. Coleman explained to the Maddox Junior High P.-T. A. Wednesday. "When a child is understood, there is no problem," he said. "Neither children nor adults have problems if their needs are satisfied."

Martez Le Irl

Martez Le Irl, formerly of Sak's, Fifth Avenue, is nationally known for his unusual skill in Permanent Waving.

Have this specialist give you a ZOTOS PERMANENT WAVE.

For Appointment Phone MA. 3881

alverson's

A Beauty Salon With Ultra Modern Facilities

486 PEACHTREE

GROUND FLOOR, DOCTORS' BUILDING

Forrest Avenue.

The Junior League and the Forrest Avenue School P.-T. A. will sponsor a play, "The Indian Captive," in the school auditorium, next Thursday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. Tickets will be 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. All friends of the school are urged to attend.

North Avenue.

A large audience greeted the students on the program at North Avenue Presbyterian school for the P.-T. A. program Tuesday. The program presented follows: Honors to Our Flag, children of Grades 1, 2, 3, 4; violin solo, Betty Jones, accompanied by Eugene Bridges; a Junior Red Cross play, "Flower Baskets for the World's Front Door," by girls from fifth to eighth grades; piano solo, Mildred Rand; the prize-winning Napsella stunt, the freshman class. The ushers were the boys from the fifth and sixth grades.

South Avenue.

A large audience greeted the students on the program at South Avenue Presbyterian school for the P.-T. A. program Tuesday. The program presented follows: Honors to Our Flag, children of Grades 1, 2, 3, 4; violin solo, Betty Jones, accompanied by Eugene Bridges; a Junior Red Cross play, "Flower Baskets for the World's Front Door," by girls from fifth to eighth grades; piano solo, Mildred Rand; the prize-winning Napsella stunt, the freshman class. The ushers were the boys from the fifth and sixth grades.

South Avenue.

A large audience greeted the students on the program at South Avenue Presbyterian school for the P.-T. A. program Tuesday. The program presented follows: Honors to Our Flag, children of Grades 1, 2, 3, 4; violin solo, Betty Jones, accompanied by Eugene Bridges; a Junior Red Cross play, "Flower Baskets for the World's Front Door," by girls from fifth to eighth grades; piano solo, Mildred Rand; the prize-winning Napsella stunt, the freshman class. The ushers were the boys from the fifth and sixth grades.

Russell High P.-T. A.

The first daddies' night meeting of the year was observed Tuesday at the school auditorium with Mrs. J. E. Brannen, presiding. This week being set aside for health week in the school, Dr. Harle L. Parks, dentist, spoke on "The Importance of Good Teeth." Musical numbers were rendered by the school band and interesting skits were demonstrated by the community department.

Paul West, principal, informed the parents that the $40,000 project for a workshop had begun, which will provide a beneficial vocation for the boys.

Richardson P.-T. A.

Appropriate exercises for Armistice Day were provided at Richardson school on Monday, when the Lyle Brewster Post No. 50 of the American Legion presented the school with a flag and flag pole. Commander J. C. Humbright introduced Dr. Samuel Greene, of Atlanta, who made the principal address. The flag was the gift of Carl Milner, president of the Georgia P.-T. A.

John J. O. Martin, Dr. Abner Calhoun and Dr. Frank Aiken

were speakers in the Health Week celebration at the school. Dr. Calhoun gave a summary of good health practices, and Mrs. Martin gave an interesting contrast of hygiene in the United States and in other countries. The sixth grade under direction of Miss Bessie Elton presented a short health playlet. On Thursday night the Parent-Teacher Association of Richardson school met with the other schools of the community at a general health program at the Samuel R. Young school.

Oakhurst P.-T. A. met Wednesday

with the president, Mrs. G. Dorsey Smith, presiding. The meeting opened with a devotion on Thanksgiving by Mrs. B. W. Durling. Mrs. Roland Sage, playground chairman, announced the purchase of seven new swings, and that plans had been made to terrace the ball field. Mrs. B. W. Durling, Campfire guardian, announced two Agnes Scott girls would organize a Bluebird group at Oakhurst within the next week. Mrs. L. J. Pickle reported $61 cleared on the carnival.

Bass Junior High.

Seventh grade blue clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Glacie Threante, sister of Mrs. Haskell Boyter, who is ill, presented a concert in the music room for Bass Junior High School P.-T. A. last Wednesday. Piano solos were played by June McConnel and Virginia Berry, with Virginia Brown accompanying. On account of illness in the faculty, sectional meetings for the eighth and ninth grades were omitted. Rev. S. A. Tinkler, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, opened the general assembly with prayer.

W. J. Scott, principal, announced the first school play to be given on November 29.

"The Trumpeter" was sung by Walter Herbert with Mr. Thomas as pianist. Mrs. W. R. Williamson, president, presided, and Mrs. H. F. Higgins, program chairman, presented each father present with the attractive yearbook.

Maddox Junior High.

"Children are problems because parents and the community are constantly creating problems for them by failure to anticipate the child's needs," M. E. Coleman explained to the Maddox Junior High P.-T. A. Wednesday. "When a child is understood, there is no problem," he said. "Neither children nor adults have problems if their needs are satisfied."

Martez Le Irl

Martez Le Irl, formerly of Sak's, Fifth Avenue, is nationally known for his unusual skill in Permanent Waving.

Have this specialist give you a ZOTOS PERMANENT WAVE.

For Appointment Phone MA. 3881

alverson's

A Beauty Salon With Ultra Modern Facilities

486 PEACHTREE

GROUND FLOOR, DOCTORS' BUILDING

the Halloween carnival and show. Mrs. C. S. Smith read a report of the beneficial work done by the DeKalb county clinic during the year. The resignation of Mrs. T. M. McLain, first vice president, was accepted with regret by the association. Miss Mamie Barnes, principal, announced a special chapel program in observance of Book Week, at which certificates for the summer reading will be awarded.

Mrs. N. M. Campbell, study group leader, urged members to be present at a study group at the home of Mrs. Harold Hudgins, on Ansley street, November 20 at 10:30. Mrs. Guy Hudson, of Decatur, will speak.

Mrs. T. M. McLain, program chairman, presented Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, who spoke on "Character Building Through Recreation." Joyce and Zoanne Green played a piano duet. Dot Frank gave two accordion selections.

Mrs. W. F. Tabor, membership chairman, presented the attendance prizes to Miss Lanford's fifth grade and Miss Montgomery's seventh.

Open house at Jerome Jones school was a feature of daddies' night meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association held Tuesday. The parents had opportunity for visiting the rooms and meeting the teachers at this time. Mrs. J. Y. Wilson, president, presided.

W. J. Scott, principal of Bass Junior High school, spoke on "How the Parent May Best Co-operate With the Teacher." He spoke highly of Jerome Jones, who was unable to attend the meeting, as an outstanding leader in educational and labor organizations.

A short play, "Thanksgiving in Tintown," was given by the third grades of Mrs. Bena Hammer and Miss Louise Park. Mrs. Harris, program chairman, introduced G. O. Green, who gave a vocal solo. Jack Rand School of Dancing presented several dance numbers.

Miss Kendrick's message was in praise of the splendid co-operation given by patrons of the school. In the count of mothers, the prize for the most mothers present was won by third grade, Mrs. Hammer, teacher.

Announcement was made of the cooking school to be held in the cafeteria of the school on November 19, 20, 21 and 22. Mrs. Elizabeth Stanfield will conduct the school. There will be prizes given daily. Mrs. E. C. Dempsey and Mrs. R. B. Lawless are general chairmen. The time is 9:30 a. m. to 11 a. m. Registration fee, 50 cents.

Mrs. L. L. Shelpert, membership

chairman, announced the opening of membership drive to last night, December 15. A vote of thanks was given J. A. Harper in appreciation of his securing an electric refrigerator for the school. Following the meeting refreshments were served in the cafeteria by the hospitality committee.

Richardson P.-T. A.

Appropriate exercises for Armistice Day were provided at Richardson school on Monday, when the Lyle Brewster Post No. 50 of the American Legion presented the school with a flag and flag pole. Commander J. C. Humbright introduced Dr. Samuel Greene, of Atlanta, who made the principal address. The flag was the gift of Carl Milner, president of the Georgia P.-T. A.

John J. O. Martin, Dr. Abner Calhoun and Dr. Frank Aiken

were speakers in the Health Week celebration at the school. Dr. Calhoun gave a summary of good health practices, and Mrs. Martin gave an interesting contrast of hygiene in the United States and in other countries. The sixth grade under direction of Miss Bessie Elton presented a short health playlet. On Thursday night the Parent-Teacher Association of Richardson school met with the other schools of the community at a general health program at the Samuel R. Young school.

Oakhurst P.-T. A. met Wednesday

with the president, Mrs. G. Dorsey Smith, presiding. The meeting opened with a devotion on Thanksgiving by Mrs. B. W. Durling. Mrs. Roland Sage, playground chairman, announced the purchase of seven new swings, and that plans had been made to terrace the ball field. Mrs. B. W. Durling, Campfire guardian, announced two Agnes Scott girls would organize a Bluebird group at Oakhurst within the next week. Mrs. L. J. Pickle reported $61 cleared on the carnival.

Bass Junior High.

Seventh grade blue clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Glacie Threante, sister of Mrs. Haskell Boyter, who is ill, presented a concert in the music room for Bass Junior High School P.-T. A. last Wednesday. Piano solos were played by June McConnel and Virginia Berry, with Virginia Brown accompanying. On account of illness in the faculty, sectional meetings for the eighth and ninth grades were omitted. Rev. S. A. Tinkler, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, opened the general assembly with prayer.

W. J. Scott, principal, announced the first school play to be given on November 29.

"The Trumpeter" was sung by Walter Herbert with Mr. Thomas as pianist. Mrs. W. R. Williamson, president, presided, and Mrs. H. F. Higgins, program chairman, presented each father present with the attractive yearbook.

Maddox Junior High.

"Children are problems because parents and the community are constantly creating problems for them by failure to anticipate the child's needs," M. E. Coleman explained to the Maddox Junior High P.-T. A. Wednesday. "When a child is understood, there is no problem," he said. "Neither children nor adults have problems if their needs are satisfied."

Martez Le Irl

Martez Le Irl, formerly of Sak's, Fifth Avenue, is nationally known for his unusual skill in Permanent Waving.

Have this specialist give you a ZOTOS PERMANENT WAVE.

For Appointment Phone MA. 3881

alverson's

A Beauty Salon With Ultra Modern Facilities

486 PEACHTREE

GROUND FLOOR, DOCTORS' BUILDING

Weds at Brilliant Presbyterian Church Ceremony

Mrs. Frank Kells Boland Jr., whose marriage at a fashionable ceremony at the First Presbyterian church last Thursday evening was an outstanding event of the winter social season. Mrs. Boland is the former Miss Octavia Norfleet Riley, only daughter of Mrs. James L. Riley, and one of the most popular and admired members of Atlanta society. The bride made her debut last winter and she is a prominent member of the Junior League. Dr. and Mrs. Boland are enjoying a delightful honeymoon cruise in southern waters, and upon their return will form welcome additions to the younger married contingent of society. Photo by Asano, Japanese photographer.

on the school grounds and a number of dogwood trees will also be planted. Mrs. Spearman, safety chairman, secured signatures to "Drive Safely" pledges.

J. W. Humphries P.-T. A. "Take care of the moral, physical and religious life of your child," said Rev. R. L. Watkins, head of the Methodist church pastor, who spoke on the morals of the child and unit parents to Joseph W. Humphries P.-T. A. Friday night at the daddies' meeting, with Mrs. C. B. King, vice president, presiding.

Perkerson P.-T. A.

Perkerson P.-T. A. held its annual daddies' night meeting Friday evening with Mrs. A. B. Eubanks presiding. Rev. Al Peacock gave the devotion. "Physical Fitness of Children" was the subject of Dr. Fort's talk. Dr. John L. Smeltzer, of the dentistry association, discussed "Progress of Dentistry," and showed stereoscopic slides to illustrate the periods and progress of dentistry. Many beautiful health posters were on display made by the pupils.

Evelyn Jackson P.-T. A.

Parent-Teacher Association of Evelyn Jackson School of Music appointed new officers at the meeting held at the Studio Arts building, as follows: Mrs. W. M. Hutchinson, president; Mrs. Sam Smith, vice president; Mrs. William P. Stokes, secretary; Mrs. Gordon W. Curtis, treasurer. Miss Helen Knox Spain gave a talk and Mrs. Evelyn Jackson presented a membership drive from November through the December meetings. Co-operating in this drive will be the following grade mothers: First grades, Mesdames R. M. Knight, L. E. Murley, S. A. Brown; second grades, Mesdames E. D. Crane Jr., T. X. Cheves, S. B. Harkey, W. A. Caldwell; third grades, Mesdames L. M. Sheffield Jr., H. C. Moore Jr., Lord Bellamy, H. R. Hogan; fourth grades, W. D. V. Hopkins, George King, C. H. Roache; fifth grades, Mesdames Norvel Wilson, L. C. McKinnery, L. S. Gilbert; sixth grades, Mesdames A. F. Greene, P. R. Harris; seventh grades, Mesdames John Westmoreland, L. J. Fleister.

Dr. R. M. Eubanks gave a talk on the care of children's teeth and Mrs. Evelyn Walker spoke on home study.

Spring Street.

An informal forum, under leadership of Mrs. Norman Coleidge, was held at the Spring Street P.-T. A. meeting on Tuesday, with various members of the faculty taking part in the discussion. Miss O'Steen's talk on "What We Expect of School," stressed the importance of co-operation between home and school. She said that school develops theories, the home interprets them, and the child is "living" and should be a happy experience for the child.

Miss Dunwoody gave a talk on "The Modern Way of Teaching." The Modern Way of Teaching was the subject of an illustrated talk on "Up-to-Date Methods in Arithmetic." Mrs. Park gave a talk on "How I Teach Spelling." Miss Adamson brought out three points that parents should be interested in when visiting at the school. They are to see that the work is well planned; that there is fair play among the children; and that there is growth.

Mrs. Outler is planting tulip bulbs

Wilbanks—Berry.

CLARKESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wilbanks announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Lee Wilbanks, to William Dexter Berry, on Sunday, August 4, 1935. Mr. Berry is the son of H. C. Berry, of Demorest, Ga.

Winona Play.

Fifth grade pupils of Winona Park school will present a Thanksgiving program on Friday evening, November 22, at 7:30 o'clock at the school. Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra. The program will feature a play entitled "Red Shoes at Plymouth," and the scene will be in the home of Priscilla Mullens at Plymouth. The year of the play is 1621. Featuring the presentation will be a harvest pageant.

ACOUSTICON

Since 1905 . . . The Finest Scientific Aids for the Hard of Hearing

And now ACOUSTICON announces the first rechargeable battery—smaller in size, lighter in weight, more conveniently shaped, and costing less than 1c per day to operate. 5,475 hours of better hearing with one battery.

Write for descriptive literature about the NEW ACOUSTICON and the perpetual battery.

Private Audition Rooms Home Consultation by Appointment

A. K. HAWKES COMPANY

Opticians • 67 Whitehall St.

Duggan, music chairman for Atlanta Council P.-T. A., will give a musical program and Dr. Roy Mitchell will talk on "Care of Teeth from Infancy to Adulthood."

O'Keefe Junior High P.-T. A. will have a daddies' meeting, Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. An interesting program has been planned by Mrs. Louis J. Levitas, program chairman.

W. F. Slaton P.-T. A. executive board meets November 18, at 10 o'clock.

Highland P.-T. A. executive board meets at the school November 19 at 9 o'clock. All officers, chairmen and representatives are urged to attend.

Capitol View P.-T. A. will have daddies' and granddaddies' night Tuesday, November 19, at 7:45 o'clock.

Boys' High P.-T. A. meets Tuesday at 7:30 in the cafeteria of Boys' High. Music as a character building agency will be the subject of the meeting and demonstrations will be given by the Boys' High Glee Club and Orchestra.

Professor Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta public schools, will speak at the daddies' night meeting of Forrest Avenue School P.-T. A. on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

Murphy Junior High School P.-T. A. meets Wednesday at 2:45 o'clock in the school auditorium. Miss Ann Primrose will speak on "The Relationship of Supervised Play to Health." The Parent Education class meets in the school library at 1:30 o'clock, Wednesday. Miss Lillian Bischoff will speak.

North Fulton High P.-T. A. meets Tuesday at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Georgia Avenue P.-T. A. meets Tuesday in the school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock.

Milton Avenue P.-T. A. will observe daddies' night Tuesday at 7:40 o'clock. W. A. Dobson will speak on "Recreation for Adult and Child."

Executive board of Moreland P.-T. A. meets in the school auditorium, Thursday at 9:30 o'clock. Moreland Study group meets Thursday at 10:30 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

Smilie School P.-T. A. meets Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

George W. Adair P.-T. A. will hold a daddies' meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. M. E. Coleman will speak.

"Better Health for the Adolescent Girl" will be the subject of the address Dr. W. E. Shallenberger will give to Girls' High P.-T. A. at its meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Preceding the meeting, at 2 o'clock, the parent education group meets in the committee room. Mrs. E. K. Large will lead the discussion with a talk on the "Home and the High School Girl."

Hoke Smith Junior High P.-T. A. meets Wednesday night. Teachers will be in the auditorium to meet parents at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock. Judge Humphries will speak. Landers quartet will render the music.

Girls' High School P.-T. A. of Decatur, will hold its daddies' night meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Harvey Cox, president of Emory University, will speak and an interesting program will include music by the mothers' chorus, led by Mrs. D. C. Adams, and the Girls' High orchestra, led by Mrs. Reynolds Clark.

E. Rivers Parent Education Class

meets at the school on Tuesday morning, the change in date from the regular meeting may be necessary on account of Thanksgiving holiday activities. Mrs. William Milas Dunn will speak on "Abiding Attitudes." This is the third in a series of five lectures on the modern mother, being given to this class by Mrs. Dunn. At the completion of the course a certificate will be awarded to

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and President
CLARK HOWELL, JR.
Vice President and General Manager
H. B. TROTTER
Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone Walnut 6545.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
By Carrier or Mail.
Daily and 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Sunday $2.00 $5.00 $10.00 $20.00
Daily only 10c 70c 2.00 4.00 7.50
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
BY MAIL, ONLY.
Sunday ..... 10c 45c $1.25 $2.50 $5.00
Mail rates for 1st, 2d and 3d class zones only on application.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had. Heralds News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner). Request a copy of The Constitution to be delivered to your room each day when you register at a New York Hotel.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments are not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., NOV. 17, 1935.

WE CHOOSE NEUTRALITY

The United States will take no part in the Italo-Ethiopian imbroglio, nor in any European conflict that may result from it, if the people have anything to say about it, is revealed in the poll taken by the American Institute of Public Opinion, which is reported in "America Speaks" in today's Constitution.

Seventy-one per cent of the American people are opposed to our joining with other nations to enforce peace, while 29 per cent think we should do something about it. But of that 29 per cent two persons out of three oppose military measures, while the remaining one would do as we did in the World War. It is also interesting to note that the people vote three to one that congress should be required to receive the approval of the people by means of a national vote in order to declare war.

That sentiment cannot in any manner be construed to mean that Americans have turned cowardly; it simply means that they have had enough of mixing in the troubles of other nations which do not concern them, although willing to fight to the last ditch to defend their own country.

This attitude of the American public is forcibly expressed by Sergeant Alvin York, awarded over a dozen medals for bravery in the World War, and called by General John Pershing "the greatest civilian soldier of the war." In a recent interview he says:

"I'll never go over there again. We've got no business in that scrap, no matter what happens. I hope Italy will be stopped, sent back home and made to pay for every cent's worth of damage that's been done; but I don't want to see this country take up arms to help do it. If we're attacked, I'd be on the shore to meet 'em when they came, but I'm not going over and stick myself in somebody else's business again."

This country should bear the shipment of every material or commodity that could be used in war when the first shot is fired, no matter who fires it; and it should be made plain, as the President and Secretary Hull have done, that Americans who furnish supplies to fighting nations, or expose themselves to danger, will not have protection from the government.

Italy has no business in Ethiopia. The kingdom has existed for centuries without Italian airplane and machine-gun civilization, and it should not be forced on her now.

This big, red-headed, red-moustached, red-blooded mountaineer sums up with forcible terseness that America is proud of her "splendid isolation," and that from now on we will follow the advice of George Washington and stay out of foreign entanglements, taking no part in the conflicts that result from the petty, jealous quarrels of the post-age-stamp-size nations of Europe.

Our participation in the World War to "make the world safe for democracy" was a useless waste of human life, leaving us with thousands of maimed sufferers to whom we must give our tenderest care, an economic condition that will show its results for generations to come—and not a friend in all the nations of Europe.

Congress acted in accord with the will of the country in the speedy passage of the neutrality measure at its last session, and the nation will applaud the President and Secretary Hull for the vigorous manner in which they have clamped down on any violations of the nation's edicts.

Royal flushes in spades, diamonds and clubs showed up in the same poker deal in Chicago. We won't say it was prearranged, though it smacks of wrestling.

CHEST CONTRIBUTIONS

It is not only "more blessed to give than to receive," but this year it becomes a necessity for the Atlanta Community Chest to be more liberally supported by generous contributions than ever before.

Georgia is one of 13 states in which the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has ceased to operate; that means there will be no federal money for relief; employable individuals are being given an opportunity to work on projects for which the government has provided funds, but the vast number of unemployables—aged, sick, cripples, children—must be cared for by the local organizations that in Atlanta are supported by the Community Chest.

News reports disclose that private industry absorbed 427,000 workers during the month of September; in all probability a still larger number secured gainful work during October. These facts indicate that large numbers of workers, previously on federal relief of some description, are on the way back to independence, and that the nation as a whole is regaining a degree of prosperity that will enable its citizens to give more liberally toward the support and comfort of those who cannot, even when times are good, provide for themselves and families shelter, clothing, food and medical attention.

Those workers who have been on relief, but who have gone back to work, will recall bitter experiences, and out of pity for the helpless will give as much as they can; but those who have gone through the depression, hit but not hurt by its effects, will out of sheer gratitude give liberally to this great humanitarian cause.

EMORY HOSPITAL OPEN HOUSE

The "open house" to be held at Emory hospital this afternoon will present an unusual opportunity for the public to view the equipment and methods of management of a large and modern institution devoted to the care of the sick and suffering.

Of special interest will be the perfect X-ray equipment recently installed in the hospital. It marks the perfection of former methods of taking X-rays and enables the surgeon to go about his work more efficiently and removes all inconvenience to the patient while an X-ray is being taken.

In addition to the newly completed X-ray rooms, 26 other rooms in the hospital have been completely refurbished and modernized, the usual metal furniture seen in hospitals being replaced by furnishings of wood, manufactured by a company specializing in this type of furniture.

In this new type of hospital room the most modern conveniences for the sick are found, but the atmosphere of the room is more like that of the home than the hospital.

The public as a whole should have more intimate knowledge of the workings of a modern hospital—of the energy and thought that goes into the care of every patient in the way best fitted for recovery and comfort.

Emory hospital's "open house" gives an unusual opportunity for the gaining of such knowledge, and to those who take advantage of the invitation to the public to visit this magnificent institution for the healing of the sick a thoroughly interesting afternoon is assured.

WILL IT COME TO PASS?

In an editorial comment on highway mortality caused by reckless automobile drivers, The Constitution recently said: "If speed-limit laws cannot be made effective, it is within the realms of possibility that automobile manufacturers might be forced by legislation to make no cars for general road use that can travel above a speed that would be deemed safe."

Mayor E. J. Kelly, of Chicago, apparently has the same idea. In a statement to the press he said that "the present rate of deaths in the nation is worse than war, and drastic steps must be taken to curb speed and reckless driving." He startled motorists and safety experts with the suggestion of a national law to restrict the speed capacity of pleasure cars to 50 miles an hour, the only exception being in the case of automobiles used by police and other law enforcement agencies.

It is a far cry from the low-speed machines in the early days of the automobile to the 90-mile-an-hour speedsters of today. The motoring public wanted speed, and the manufacturers produced what was desired. If still faster cars are desired, they will be made; but if the federal government should take measures to reduce the speed of cars in the interest of safety on the highways, manufacturers will conform to the requirements and spend their energies on other features of auto excellence than speed.

The engineer of a railway locomotive must spend years in apprenticeship and pass rigid tests as to his ability and health, in addition to a requirement of strict sobriety, before he is permitted to pilot the engine that pulls a train. Yet his train follows a smooth track, his speed is gauged by a schedule, and the points where he passes another train are according to schedule or directed by a specific order from the train dispatcher.

Contrast those provisions for safety with the conditions that exist in auto traffic on the highways and streets of our cities. A multitude of pleasure cars, small and huge trucks, darting hither and yon, and every driver striving to get somewhere as quickly as his car will carry him, "jumping" signal lights, "snaking" a line of traffic, and few if any ever have passed a test to decide their fitness to operate a car; some being children so immature they have little idea of safety, and some drunks whose sense of danger is dulled to the point of sheer recklessness.

We shun the thought of the human loss we would suffer if we became embroiled in a war arising out of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, yet we do nothing to stop the needless slaughter on our streets and highways caused by reckless driving.

MORE EVIDENCE

Frequent repetition is heard of the statement that farmers are "being ruined" by application of the AAA features of the New Deal.

Even the most perfect program can not "help those who will not help themselves." The majority, although admittedly not all, of the "ruined" farmers belong to this class, stubbornly sticking to the all-cotton program long after it was plain that this meant bankruptcy.

Fortunately this class of farmers is diminishing in Georgia; by the thousands they are turning to diversification of farm activities, and instead of depending upon one crop to support a family and carry on a farming program they are producing enough food and feed for family and stock, with a surplus to dispose of for cash.

Through the activities of the Georgia Vegetable Growers' Association the number of farmers growing garden truck on a commercial basis has grown from a few hundred to several thousand in less than two years.

Reopening of the Armour packing plant at Tifton, after having been shut down for 15 years, is indicative of the fact that the production of hogs and cattle in that section has increased so rapidly in the past few years, that a plant capable of handling 60 hogs, 20 calves and 15 mature beef animals per hour is necessary to take care of the supply.

Several cheese factories have been established within the past three years, and two of them this year were forced to increase the size of their plants. Innumerable creameries have been put into operation, furnishing a market for the milk from small farm dairies. Truck routes have been established all over the state to pick up eggs and chickens produced on the farms, while various towns and cities have established permanent farm markets where good, standard products of the farm may be sold for cash any day in the year.

Increased production of all food crops in Georgia over last year is indicated in reports of the Georgia Crop Reporting Service in a statement just made public, as of November 1.

Small grain crops harvested this year ran considerably above last year; this was also true of the two main cash crops, cotton and tobacco; cotton increasing 11 per cent, and tobacco 112 per cent. Thus is revealed the fallacy of the contention that the AAA is bringing continued reduction in cotton production in Georgia—and the price is now 12 cents as compared with 6 cents, when the AAA began to operate.

The 1935 corn crop is put at 42,328,000 bushels, compared with 39,270,000 in 1934; peanuts, 376,297,000, compared with 297,600,000; pecans are up 600,000 pounds, while other small crops show gains.

It all sums up for increasing prosperity along all lines of endeavor for we are keeping in Georgia an increasing proportion of the money formerly sent north and west for agricultural products we can raise at home.

Dr. H. C. Nixon, professor of political science at Tulane University, sounded a keynote for the future in an address before the recent bankers' convention at New Orleans when he said:

"The south could produce more milk and drink it. It could produce more beef and eat it. It could produce more hay and feed it. It could abandon wasteful and unscientific farm methods and profit by it. It could conserve its farm timber and build better homes. We must harness and develop our resources for the good of the people."

The New Deal is actively providing help to every farmer who needs it and who will use it. Those who are taking advantage of this service —the first that has ever been offered to the farmer—are profiting individually and assisting in the general progress to prosperity.

MOUNTING TAXES

Something over a year ago when new tax laws were being considered by the legislative bodies of California, several of the larger motion picture producing companies seriously considered removal from the state. The new tax measures became laws, and the moving picture industry continues to operate in California, but an exodus of wealthy residents has begun, with definite indications that the movement from California may develop to major proportions.

Exploitation of south California as a land of sunshine and mild weather resulted in that section of the country becoming the Mecca for all classes of people, some highly desirable, others not so much so, and still others that are not, and never have been, welcome.

Literally thousands of wealthy easterners for years have maintained palatial homes there in which they resided for part of the year; thousands of retired farmers, business and professional men migrated to the coast with the intention of residing there permanently; others went to engage in business or to follow their professions; the movies lured thousands of young, middle-aged and old persons who had absolutely no chance to crash the film game; and the socialistic programs of Townsend and Sinclair attracted their huge quota of the down-and-out, something-for-nothing element of the nation's population.

California, and especially the southern part, is now paying the penalty for attracting a huge number of people who cannot pay their own way and who become a burden upon society. Los Angeles in 1929-30 spent $12,000,000 for charities and hospitals; the budget for 1935-36 is put at $21,000,000. Somebody must pay the bill, and the burden is so heavy that the wealthy element, the people who are not permanently anchored there, are starting to move to states where taxes are not so burdensome.

But no matter where they go they will find taxes mounting in a manner that alarms as to the future. We discuss the subject, but do nothing to remedy it, despite the fact that every year sees more and still more citizens lose their property because they are unable to meet excessive, overlapping taxes—national, state, county and city.

Up to the time that the federal government started the income tax, the average citizen was largely unaware of his federal tax because his small share was paid indirectly. Soon various states also began to levy an income tax to increase their revenues. States enacted a tax on gasoline, then Uncle Sam came along and stuck a levy of a cent on every gallon sold. Numerous states are now collecting a sales tax on commodities—and so it has gone, with taxes being piled on taxes until, as in the case of California, the combined total has become practically confiscatory of property.

The mounting cost of government—federal, state and local—must be checked, and the time is not far distant when it will be the nation's paramount issue.

Major Armstrong, of Columbia University, believes the complete elimination of static from radio is at hand. A trapdoor in front of the mike was our thought.

The Dionne girls are up and walking, and should start picketing any time now for a shorter movie day.

The President has sketched out a plot for a detective novel. Until full details of the crime are available, all Tories are under a cloud.

The Roman Ramblers have been making first downs with ease against Ethiopia. It remains to be seen if Il Duce has a scoring play.

Perhaps Mr. Hoover would like an opportunity to prove that he can forgive the people. But republicans wish he would play the Ghost rather than Hamlet.

Election results finally have been digested. Both sides won. Losses merely were tactical.

A politician who has to go to work is like a duck out of water. He'll get back to the water the first opportunity.

It appears the Selassie system of defense is to evacuate the town. Like Babe Ruth, the Latin invader is a sucker for a base on balls.

What's nicer, after a fairly thick day in an office, than to get out in the crisp evening air and boondoggle a few leaves?

In New York, a mortgage made 33 years ago is still running. They don't build houses like that nowadays.

The most beautiful $1 bill ever engraved will be along shortly. If the New Deal's fiscal policy is less than a wow, it still has its artistic triumphs.

SILHOUETTES

BY RALPH T. JONES.

I was poundin' me dogs on the concrete,
Hikin', I didn't care where,
I was hungry and cold and me poor feet
Was burnin' and achin' for fair.
And this feller comes drivin'
A broken-down Liz,
And he yells, "Hi, there, partner,
If yore hitchin', here 'tis!"

So I climbs in and sits down be-side 'im;
Believe me, them cushions felt good,
And he started to talk, like inside 'im
Was somethin' he'd held all he could.

So this feller starts talkin'
'Bout his young'uns and such;
And me, I says nothin',
And don't listen, much.

He ain't seen 'em in months, he informs me,
But at last he's a headin' for home,
And the bolin' old motor it warns me,

And I gets drowsy like, in me dome.

But he keeps on a'pealin'
With a happy kind of grin,
And he keeps that wreck a'runnin'
Like a preacher chasin' sin.

"Looky," he says, "here's a letter I gets from the wife, yesterday, it says things'll be so much better."

When I'm home again, meannin' to stay."

"And a P. S. from the young 'un, Says 'Daddy, I love you, I want for you to hurry Home now, Dad, please do.'"

And just then a car comes a'racin'
At sixty an hour, maybe more,
A'swervin' all over the pavin'
It hits us, and I knew no more.
When I come to I'm lyin'
In a comfortable ditch,
I ain't injured serious—
I'm a lucky sitch and sitch!

But the other guy lost all his innard,
It was easy to see he was dead,
The steerin' rod stuck through his gizzard,
And there wasn't much left of his head.

So I starts a'thinkin'
'Bout his family, an' all,
And my eyes gets a'blinkin'
And I coughs, for a stall.

But the guy that did the killin',
That lousy, drunken slob!
Wasn't hurt untill, saints willin',
I undertook the job.

I stomped him on the highway,
I marked him up for life,
I kicked him for them
Young 'uns.

I bashed him for that wife!

The News

Of January 17, 1801.
I have before me as I write a copy of the London "Sun" of the issue of January 17, 1801. The paper, 134 years old, has almost crumbled to dust, so fragile is it, yet there is much that is decipherable.

For instance, on top of the right-hand column of Page 1, is the announcement, as a paid advertisement, that "Mr. John Smith, who has taken place between Seven Dials and London, 'within a mile and a half of Farnborough.' It states:

"Half-past Four o'clock by Two Men on Foot, who took from him the following Bag of Letters." Then is listed the mail stolen, the appearance of the thief is described and a reward of Two Hundred Pounds, "over and above the Reward given by Act of Parliament for Apprehension of Robbers," is offered whoever shall "apprehend and convict" the culprits.

The Art

Of Asthenology.

Another front page advertisement reads: "This day was published, in One Volume Octavo, Price 8s in boards, ASTHENOLGY; OR, THE ART OF PRESERVING FEEBLE LIFE; and of supporting the Constitution under the Influence of Incurable Diseases. Translated from the German of Christian Augustus Struve, M. D., by WILLIAM JOHNSTON."

Hard-Working

Court Reporter.

The entire back page—Page 4—is devoted to the crime of the day, under the heading of "Old Bailey." The trial of Ann Shehan, indicted for Murder, was, it states, postponed until the next Session, upon the Surgeon informing the Court that she is not at present in a condition fit to be brought into Court.

However, one Joseph Roberts was "brought before the King's Bench," on Thomas Milson, putting him in fear, and taking from his person four shillings and twenty-four half pence.

After the man who stated he had been robbed told the story of the crime, three witnesses for the defense swore the prisoner was in a house at the back of a crime and that he did not leave the house during the entire day of the happening.

However, the story ends by saying the jury did not believe the defense witnesses and the prisoner was found guilty and sentenced to hang.

Echoes

Of War.

England and France were at war at the time, but in a few reports from captains of arriving ships, in concise, matter of fact way, told of escaping enemy ships. And there is a report of the capture of a small British ship by a "much superior" French force, with other reports of the arrival of French ships, taken by the British, in English ports.

The patient medicine industry flourished, as indicated in the following paid advertisement: "A PERSON afflicted with the Evil, who had eight wounds in her neck, and was entirely blind for seven months, during part of which time she was an Out-patient of the Bristol Infirmary, and the advice of several eminent Gentlemen of the Faculty, but without effect, has received a Cure by the use of SPILSBURY'S PATENT ANTISCORBUTIC DROPS."

Triumph

Of War.

Lord Nelson, greatest naval hero in British history, had recently won the important battle of Tipu. This paper devotes four inches of space on Page 3 to a description of his return to Exeter after triumph.

The Hunting Season Is With Us Again

TEXT AND PRETEXT

A Gallant Farewell.

M. ASHBY JONES.

Memory is no doubt painting in vivid beauty that day on the Damascus road. His heart had been burning with hatred for those who had dared differ with him in religion. Armed with the authority of history, and inspired by the sympathetic fanaticism of those who had sent him, he was on his way to persecute even unto death, the followers of the heretic, Jesus of Nazareth.

Then came that radiant revelation, which in some form must come to everyone who would be a disciple of Jesus. God never chooses to reveal his truth by hating and hurting other men. What a revelation that must have been in the heart of Paul. Think of the shock and surprise. He who said afterwards: "Verily, I thought that I was doing God's service," is suddenly told, that when he was hurting other people, he was hurting God, the Father of all men.

Keeping Faith.

Suppose there could come to the world today, with its confusion of strife, the revelation made to Paul on the Damascus road. What a changed world, if every hand raised to strike a fellow man, in business greed, political passion, or religious zeal, withheld its blow, and men could hear Jesus saying: "When you hurt one of my brethren you hurt me." And yet, that is just what the religion of Jesus means. So when Paul looked up, shocked to find he had not been "doing God's service," and asked what he must do, he is told to go and tell others what kind of God had been revealed to him.

Now Paul is thinking of his life since he received that commission, and he can say "I have kept the faith." To keep the faith is infinitely more than to hold on with grimness to a phrase, or an ordinance, or an organization. It means to keep faith with Jesus in revealing to men the love which is in the heart of God, made manifest by the life of Jesus. It means loyalty to the spirit of Jesus, when it may cost profits in business, votes in politics, or ostracism in social life.

How easily we are fooled by words. Fine phrases, pious words and virtuous motives cost nothing. We need a new test of character. We need men and women who are ready, like Paul, to be "offered" as a sacrifice upon the altar of their shibboleths, mottoes and creeds.

It cost Paul ostracism by his own class, the enmity of political selfishness, and persecution by religious fanatics. But with every sacrifice of temporal ease, pleasure or popularity, he won a spiritual triumph, and was enabled at the close of his stormy career to proclaim the victory of the spiritual over the material. Thus he was enabled to step from the stage of life with a kindly smile of regret at leaving those whom he loved, but with a radiant anticipation of the crown of righteousness which he was to receive.

That the army executes soldiers condemned to death by shooting them. Army executions in peace time are rare, but are carried out by hanging. That the use of gas in warfare is a modern development. Actually, sulphur dioxide has been employed as a weapon of attack for 23 centuries! You'll find the Spartans burned pitch and sulphur under the walls of Belium and Plataea to overcome the troops guarding them.

Opposes Suggestion

Another Tuberculosis Sanatorium Be Built

Editor Constitution: Battle Hill sanatorium ranks as one of the foremost institutions of its kind in the south. Hundreds of citizens of Fulton county, who at one time were struck down by the white plague, owe their renewed health and prosperity to the wonderful treatment they received at Battle Hill sanatorium. The patients who have been treated and cured here come from all walks of life, and include merchants, railroad men, farmers, housewives and even doctors.

Some county officials have recently advanced a plan for building an additional unit for tubercular, cancerous and other diseased patients at the Old River camp.

The records of all the large cities in the United States show that from a medical standpoint, it is better to have a large number of patients in a sanatorium, unencumbered with other classes of patients, where a patient can get a specialized diet and rest treatment. Only a tuberculosis specialist is qualified to give treatment and advice to this class of patient. The general practitioner nearly always sends a tubercular patient to a specialist.

Battle Hill sanatorium is overcrowded and many applicants are on the waiting list, but it would be far better to build an additional building on the grounds, rather than separate the institution into two parts. I only hope that the county commission will thoroughly investigate

Today Is the Day

BY CLARK KINNAIRD.

Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity, November 17, 38 days till Christmas. Moon: last quarter.

NOTABLE NATIVITIES.

Tosha Seidel, b. 1809, violinist. Grace Abbott, b. 1879, long-time chief of United States Children's Bureau. . . . Frank H. Vanderbilt, b. 1864, financier who used to be a newspaperman himself. . . .

TODAY'S YESTERDAYS.

November 17, 1637—Anne Hutchinson, mother of 15, was brought to trial in Boston because she presumed to conduct religious meetings for women and expressed doubts of the superior intelligence of men in religious matters. The first woman preacher in America was punished because she was!

November 17, 1800—The congress convened in Washington for the first time, making it the ninth capital of the United States.

First structure to be put up on the muddy plain beside the Potomac for the comfort of the congressmen was a saloon.

November 17, 1888—The date when, medical records show, Mrs. George Hirsch, of Navarro county, Texas, gave birth in Dallas to six children—two girls and four boys. They were normal though small, and lived for some time.

November 17, 1934—The Italo-Ethiopian war began to develop. Italy protested an attack by a mob on the Italian consulate at Gondar, in which one Italian was killed and three wounded.

WORLD WAR DAY-BY-DAY.

Twenty Years Ago Today, November 16-17—The new Anglo-French war newspaper had its first meeting in Paris.

As the representatives sat down for their deliberations, a new emergency developed: German mines were created having in the English channel again. The British hospital ship Anglia, with 300 wounded aboard, struck a mine near Dover and sank in a few minutes. The collision, Lusitania (oh, fatal name!) went to the Anglia's assistance. As its crew began loading survivors into the boats it too, hit a mine. Other patrol boats managed to save most of the passengers and crew of both ships.

The Anglia tragedy was doubly shocking to Britain because on her last trip across the channel she had carried King George V as a passenger.

WRITING WRONGS.

You're mistaken if you think— That the President of the United States, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, can order out the national guard at will.

National guards are in command of the governors of the states. The federal government exercises certain authority, but their use is subject to control of the governors.

That the army executes soldiers condemned to death by shooting them. Army executions in peace time are rare, but are carried out by hanging. That the use of gas in warfare is a modern development.

Books and Their Authors

Paints Vivid Pictures.

Writes of Americana

TWO WIVES. By Mary J. Elmendorf. Caxton Printers, Caldwell, Idaho. 155 pp. $2.00.

"Two Wives" is a collection of Mrs. Elmendorf's best known ballads and lyrics from the verse magazines and anthologies in which they were first published. She is a westerner by choice, living now in Seattle, Wash., where she quietly writes powerfully. She has come to be regarded as the most distinguished woman poet in the great Pacific northwest.

This volume of 52 poems is notable chiefly because of its evident concern with human lives and their tangled courses. The author knows people and convincingly pictures them. The poems are divided into six sections: Undercurrents; Shadows; American Modern Life; Tales and Ballads; Early Life in Other Lands; Portraits, and Fogs. These divisions, though, are not always clear, and a thoughtful reader will wonder at some of the groupings because many of the poems could more easily fall into other groups. But this small book fault does not detract from the poems when viewed alone.

The author has a keen sense of description, and in spare phrases paints vivid pictures such as: "The prize-possessors of the female orchard," "a handful of old in a dish of vinegar," "thirsty of speech," and "of fog she was fashioned and thin desert air."

Another way in which Mrs. Elmendorf gets powerful effects is through the use of alliteration. In the hands of less an artist, such use of phrases and repetition of sounds would be overdone. But in this volume they are effectively beautiful.

The author speaks of thoughts as "silver shuttles," a hard working merchant "reeling with onions and oil content," and a "hard working merchant" "reeling with onions and oil content." Such descriptions come smoothly and convincingly from Mrs. Elmendorf's pen. The author's practice of revealing the hidden meaning of words, as in "The Lumberjack," this understanding of nature reaches its greatest expression.

This collection may not be great poetry throughout, but it certainly has peaks from which one may glimpse earnest flashes of human nature, its rhythm, conflict, and struggle.

CARLYN CARSON.

"Mysteries" of Life.

MY RENDEZVOUS WITH LIFE. By Mary Pickford. New York: H. K. Mulvey & Company, Inc. 37 pp. $1.

There are some people who will probably frown upon hearing of Mary Pickford's little book, "My Rendezvous With Life." Such people—no matter what they might know or have heard about movie stars—will be too quick to condemn and should be reminded of what our Divine Lord once said about casting stones.

Previously Mary Pickford wrote a book entitled "Why Not Try God?" containing, it is said, a message of hope and inspiration that was felt by many in these trying, disturbing, chaotic years. Her first fiction story, "The Demi-Window," was recently reviewed in these columns by Louise Russell, who said it "appeared, but written with a light, gay manner, and laid in the background the author knows best—the theater."

Once labeling "mysteries" the questions that we are, where we are going, and if we should be separated all ways from departed loved ones, Miss Pickford writes: "But it was not until sorrow came my way and I ached for reassurance that I began to feel the prelude to the infinite secrets that are being solved about ourselves and the universe around us."

A man "seldom wakes up . . . until someone he loves disappears across this life's horizon. Then he is shocked into consciousness. Desperate for some explanation of his separation, he casts about for an answer. In striving to understand death, he frequently stumbles on the truth about life and the fact that we all have an indestructible self that never dies."

It was the deaths of Miss Pickford's mother and brother, Jack, that brought her to the conclusions and the truths in this book—that life progresses beyond our physical senses and the appreciation of the infinite secrets of the universe.

Miss Pickford might derive much more consolation by investigating teaching on the communion of saints who the church triumphant, militant and suffering may help another by prayer, and the divine pronouncements: "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in Me, although he be dead, shall live. And every one that liveth and believeth in Me, shall not die forever." This is the heart of the second book of Macabees: "It is, therefore, a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead."

"My Rendezvous With Life" is peculiarly interesting, and although it is written, it is somewhat incomplete, perhaps a little shaky in places. There is room for a wider treatment of the subject, even though the book is scriptural, theological or, perhaps, dogmatic.

—LOUIS JOSEPH MALOOF.

Peeping at the Future.

BE YOUR OWN ASTROLOGER. By Iris Vore. Ives Washburn, Inc., New York. 145 pp. $1.00.

Without previous experience the reader of "Be Your Own Astrologer" can grasp not only an understanding of astrology but also learn to cast horoscopes easily and accurately. The mechanics of horoscopes are simplified and explained. The author believes that many earnestly interested devotees of the stars shrink from the study of astrology because they believe the logarithmic nature of the inevitable barrier in setting up a horoscope. Miss Vore explains in this book her own shortcut method which enables the beginner to cast horoscopes with ease, simplicity and exactitude.

"Rustler" Activities.

CARDIGAN COWBOY. By Charles H. Snow. MacRae-Smith Company, Philadelphia. 208 pp. $2.

No one believed that Larry Cardigan would be able, single-handed, to wipe out a nest of rustlers that the combined efforts of the determined Claridad Valley ranchers had failed to disclose. No one, that is, except old Pap Healey, who was willing to back the boy with everything he had. And Larry, because he loved a fight, and because he couldn't let an old man down—both chiefly because there was a girl involved—went grimly to work, with truly astonishing results.

Solid Information.

WAR CLOUDS IN THE SKIES OF THE FAR EAST. By Tom Ireland. Illustrated. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. 452 pp. $2.75.

The title of this book is unfortunate. It sounds sensational. But the book itself is practically all devoted to a calm and restrained recital of historic events, facts, figures and the like, all of which are presented in a brilliant pattern—the present highly complicated political situation in the Far East. Being an American, Mr. Ireland's chief interest is in the points of difference between us and the Japanese, the two foremost Pacific powers. These causes of tension he takes up one by one, gives a detailed background of each, and shows how it fits into the present picture. All through the book, there is evidence of exhaustive research and tireless attention to detail. The result, therefore, is not a passing sentiment to stir the alarmist but a body of solid information to acquaint one with the facts of the Far East.

The interests of American and those of Japan in the Pacific and in continental Asia ought to be complementary. But time and again they have come to be antagonistic. Traditional American concern for China incites suspicion in Japan. A number of American statesmen, usually with the best of intentions, have wounded Japan's sensitive spirit, or have blocked her cherished ambitions. These memories rankle in her heart, and she feels that her big neighbor over the Pacific has nagged at her too long.

STANLEY WALKER.

'Low Down' on People.

MRS. ASTOR'S HORSE. By Stanley Walker. Frederick A. Stokes Co., New York. 320 pp. $3.00.

Mrs. Walker once more points the fine finger of subtle ridicule at "flag-waving Americana" as practiced by Americans. If you enjoyed his previous efforts, "Night Club Era" and "City Editor," you will doubtless find interesting entertainment in this latest "low down" on people in the news.

Obviously the author is intrigued by his subjects, but whether with the heart of a crusader or with his tongue in his cheek, we are not quite able to determine. We suspect the latter. His style is that of any news item appearing in the daily press. He writes the facts, read 'em. We plead for a flair for dramatics, a degree of novelist license, where the author's personality is, to some extent, exposed. Certainly the book is one that will denote his interests prove him an interesting personality. So come Mr. Walker, may we not have some personal observations in your next exposure?

His biographical sketches—the New Yorker might call some of them profiles—are chapters devoted to a cosmopolitan group of familiar names. The chapter heads are worthy of comment for the list of contents tells a story in itself. For example, under "Passion Fanner" we read of Miss Sally Rand, while "Pan in the Pulpit" is devoted to Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson.

On broader subjects, such as the Morro Casita disaster, the author lets it be known he is impatient with the same doctrine, so possibly, he subscribes to the same doctrine, or the result of the combination is downright unadulterated entertainment for the reader. Yet, for all the humor, the other extreme, Runyon has succeeded in perfecting a style in brogue, structure and humor, which, according to the author, is the only fair way to write.

ARTHUR G. CORKERY.

Finding a New Path.

SECOND GROWTH. By Arthur Pound. Reynal Hitchcock, Inc., New York City. $2.50. 347 pp.

"Second Growth" is the sequel to "Once a Wilderness," a book of the most recent selection. "Second Growth" is not the same standard of the previous book, but it is a different one. It is a story of a man's life, a story of a man's growth, a story of a man's journey. It is a story of a man's life, a story of a man's growth, a story of a man's journey. It is a story of a man's life, a story of a man's growth, a story of a man's journey.

It is a story of boom times and bad, of sudden wealth and sudden poverty and of strident industrialism. In "Once a Wilderness," Captain John Mark, Justy, American squire in the years before the factory entered Michigan. Now in this novel, a younger Mark—and there are many—has appeared before us, a man of the new era, a man of the new era.

Mark Section remains the background for his sons and daughters. Captain Mark, now grown old, is still the ruler of the tribe and the standard-bearer of the old order, the champion of the soil. The younger Marks are faced with the lure of the cities and the lure of the cities. The growth of the manufacturing centers, the growth of the manufacturing centers, the growth of the manufacturing centers.

—MARCELLA LUCKIESH.

Satire on Fascism.

LAND UNDER ENGLAND. By Simon Schuster. New York. $2.

This book comes to the American book shelves with England's praise behind it. The wide attention and discussion it aroused in that country is easily understood for the book reveals the highest type of creative imagination and a keen philosophical penetration.

"Land Under England" is a satire on fascism and communism after the fashion of "Gulliver's Travels." Anthony Julius, the author, is a Jew, and he is now the permanent head of the department of education for the Irish Free State, and also civil service commissioner for all appointments to government posts. He says: "The two very different strands of my life have come together in 'Land Under England'—the wildy primitive and the cultured, the primitive and the intellectual." This is Mr. O'Neill's second book. He published "Wind From the North," a medieval romance, in England in 1934.

—LOUISA GOSNELL.

Medical Information.

RADIUM TREATMENT. By Francis H. Williams. M. D. Stratford Company, Boston. 188 pp. $2.00.

The result of 30 years' experience in the use of radium with instruments devised by the author. The method is based upon measurements of absorption of the radium by different substances used as filters, and by different thicknesses of water as a standard for absorption by the soft tissues of the body, thus making possible the selection of the amount and quality of the radiations best suited to a given condition. Includes a brief reference to the nature and properties of radium, the author's early studies of the radiations in air in vacuum, and a chapter on radium in diseases of the skin and new growths.

—LOUISA GOSNELL.

Russian Humorist.

RUSSIA LAUGHS. By Mikhail Zoshchenko. 352 pp.; Lothrop, Lee and Shepard, Boston. $2. (Foreword by Whit Burnett.)

Now there is a volume of short stories that ought to inspire America's oncoming army of magazine writers toward a finer technique. Its author, Mikhail Zoshchenko had for parents an actress and a nobleman high in the ranks of Russian painters. Whether or not he got from them his artistic finesse, he does not know. We know that he emerged from the shell-shocking Eastern Front, the Revolution, and an attempt at 10 or 12 professions with a capacity for great success and a sense that his destiny would make him a writer.

Now Zoshchenko, at 40, is not only the most popular of soviet humorists, but he is also the most successful. His short, most popular story to maintain the Russian literary excellence created by Gogol, Tolstoy, Dostoevsky, Turgenyev, Gorki and Chekhov, an excellence that we too long persisted in overlooking. Not that Zoshchenko here shows enough genius to rest on that high shelf of eternal art. Not at all. He must avail the verge of the next generation. But there is obviously a meritorious result to a first-rate effort.

Zoshchenko's primary business is to write "for the masses of soviet readers." His subjects are of the middle-class, the "numerous everyday folk," clerks, prostitutes, bureaucrats, soviet workers, wives, actors, etc. His prose is "the spoken language of the streets."

Because this is Zoshchenko's first book to appear in English we have the joy of hailing a new star in our firmament. It's a pity that short story writers are such huge bugs to American publishers. A deep into the writing art from the Old Testament and through the Homeric legends, the author's style is simple and direct, and Poe immediately to the present. And unfortunately, it has nearly obliterated the essay.

Whit Burnett, in his foreword, has gone so far as to say that the "Night Song," is "one of those stories which, in their own way, world masterpieces." One must beware of the author's style, for it is well rounded, thoroughly worked (as all good pieces of simplicity and realism must be worked) and though the author's style is simple and direct, it is a setting behind everything of joy, color, harmony, and realistic beauty. The prose, "street jargon" as it is called, is chopped up, with well-posed poetic cadences.

We must recognize literary Russia!

WILLARD RANGE.

De Luxe Classics.

Book lovers who are proud possessors of their favorite classics in rich, attractive binding will find pleasure in examining recent issues by the Heritage Press, of New York, for they will find at least one so attractive that its possession will be necessary to complete their collection.

Fortified Hills Baptist W. M. S. meets Monday at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

W. M. S. of the Inman Park Baptist church will hold an all-day meeting Thursday at the church beginning at 10 o'clock.

Sunbeams of the Fortified Hills Baptist W. M. S. meet Friday at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

Sunbeams of the Colonial Hills Baptist W. M. S. meet at the church Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock.

R. A. of Colonial Hills Baptist W. M. S. will meet Saturday at 3:30 o'clock at the church.

Arondale Baptist W. M. S. meets Monday at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

Circles of the Antioch Baptist W. M. S. meet as follows: Circle 1, with Mrs. Arthur Drake on Erie street, Monday at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 2, with Mrs. Sam Flanning on Federal terrace, at 10 o'clock Monday.

Circles of the Colonial Hills Baptist W. M. S. meet as follows: Circle 1, with Mrs. A. B. Rhodes, 138 Newland, at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 2, with Mrs. L. H. Hill, 825 Gordon street, S. W., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 3, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 4, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 5, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 6, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 7, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 8, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 9, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 10, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 11, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 12, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 13, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 14, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 15, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 16, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 17, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 18, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 19, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 20, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 21, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 22, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 23, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 24, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 25, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 26, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 27, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 28, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 29, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 30, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 31, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 32, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 33, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 34, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 35, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 36, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 37, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 38, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 39, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 40, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 41, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 42, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 43, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 44, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 45, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 46, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 47, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 48, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 49, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 50, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 51, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 52, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 53, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 54, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 55, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 56, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 57, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 58, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 59, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 60, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 61, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 62, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 63, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 64, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 65, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 66, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 67, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 68, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 69, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 70, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 71, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 72, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 73, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 74, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 75, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 76, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 77, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 78, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 79, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 80, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 81, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 82, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 83, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 84, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 85, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 86, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 87, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 88, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 89, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 90, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 91, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 92, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 93, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 94, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 95, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 96, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 97, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 98, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 99, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 100, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 101, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 102, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 103, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 104, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 105, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 106, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 107, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 108, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 109, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 110, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 111, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 112, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 113, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 114, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 115, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 116, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 117, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 118, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 119, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 120, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 121, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 122, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 123, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 124, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 125, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 126, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 127, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 128, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 129, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 130, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 131, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 132, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 133, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 134, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 135, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 136, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 137, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 138, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 139, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 140, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 141, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 142, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 143, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 144, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 145, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 146, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 147, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 148, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 149, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 150, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 151, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 152, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 153, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 154, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 155, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 156, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 157, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 158, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 159, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 160, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 161, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 162, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 163, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 164, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 165, with Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1047 Kingsboro road, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 166,

Pre-Holiday Sale of Fine Lace Curtains!

The exquisite beauty of rare jewels is reflected in the beautifully blended colors on a background of tan.

Fine Filet Nets

1,200 Pairs—6 Patterns

2.98 to 3.98 Qualities

1.98

PAIR

From America's Leading Lace Curtain Maker!

1,200 pairs! 2.98 to 3.98 qualities! A most unusual purchase! Because of this low price we cannot mention the name—but you'll see it woven into the top selvages. Fine filet nets—the insert below shows actual size of the mesh. Try filet net curtains at your window. They're dignified and charming—a perfect background for your draperies. Fine, but durable—and they launder beautifully! 2½ yards long. SIX patterns!

Tulip
(illustrated)
CURTAINS

Lilac
Pattern

Conventional Pattern

Chintz
Pattern

Primrose
(illustrated)

Plain
Pattern

RICH'S FOURTH FLOOR

Perfume Bottles

of Cut Glass! Imported!

98c

Just arrived! A new shipment in time for Christmas gift-giving! An unusual assortment of 15 styles! In crystal, topaz, sapphire and green.

TOILETRIES

STREET FLOOR

$1 Smoking Sets

For Prizes and Christmas Gifts

59c

The "smoker's cluster" of generous sized cigarette container and four ash trays, unusual in shape. The colorful design is most attractive!

GIFTS

STREET FLOOR

RICH'S

Kirman Orientals

$298

Luxurious Kirmans! Woven with all the skill of the ancient Persian rug weavers. Every rug is a masterpiece! All the romance of the Orient is painstakingly woven in the design. With highlights that only the finest vegetable dyes can achieve. Here, indeed, are rugs you will cherish—rugs that will be treasured for generations! 9x12-ft. approximate size.

Other Oriental Rugs

- 9x12-ft. Sarouk Rugs .....$249
- 10x14-ft. Sarouk Rugs .....$445
- 9x12-ft. Lilihan Rugs .....$198
- 9x12-ft. Chinese Rugs .....$229
- 5x8-ft. Chinese Rugs .....$129

Persian Scatter Rugs

- 2x4-ft. Kirman Rugs .....32.50
- 2x4-ft. Sarouk Rugs .....27.50
- 3x5-ft. Kirman Rugs .....52.50
- 4x6-ft. Sarouk Rugs .....$75
- 4x6-ft. Kirman Rugs .....119.75

Sizes quoted are approximate.

RUGS

RICH'S FOURTH FLOOR

Convenient Terms Arranged

Buy Your Desk on our Convenient
Payment Plan

Governor
Winthrop
Secretary
42.50

Block Front Desk
34.50

Knee-Hole
Desk
29.75

Desk Chair
6.95

DESKS

We have a complete selection—from small knee-hole styles for living rooms to large secretaries for libraries. Exceptionally well made and finished. Desks like these will be appreciated for Christmas! Select one for your own home, too!

Gov. Winthrop Secretary

42.50

In old world mahogany or walnut. With solid mahogany door frames, claw and ball feet, automatic lid supports and four drawers with locks and escutcheons. 36 inches wide. Matching desk, 32.50.

Colonial Block Front Desk

34.50

In walnut or old world mahogany. A most attractive colonial design. Four drawers with escutcheons and locks, and four claw and ball feet. Ideal for apartments because of the drawer space. Matching secretary, $45. Lyre back chair, 7.50.

Mahogany Knee-Hole Desk

29.75

Finished all around so you may put it anywhere in the room. With seven drawers. 42 inches wide. In old world mahogany.

Ladder Back Chippendale Chair, 6.95.

FURNITURE

RICH'S FIFTH FLOOR

Convenient Terms May Be Arranged

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

WEYMAN-YEARLEY.

Mrs. Samuel Thompson Weyman announces the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth Shorter, to Alexander Yearley IV, of Baltimore, Md., and Atlanta, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

HOUSTON-HUDSON.

Mrs. Andrew Nichols Houston announces the engagement of her daughter, Churchill, to Hendrik Reynolds Hudson, the marriage to take place December 21.

LAND-BLOOMFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Freeman Land announce the engagement of their daughter, Adelaide, to Raymond Bloomfield, the marriage to be solemnized in November.

Modestly the silent voice of quality speaks its own language and ... is heard above the crowd.

AT ANY smart sports event, the trim swagger, of cut and fit of unusual fabrics, breathes quality and is instantly recognized.

Only that skill that comes with long experience and love of quality can produce quality.

Shop with assurance of quality where quality only abounds.

IMPORTER
Weinbergers
Gowns

"Shop Individual"

Connie presents
a Pre-Xmas SALE
of Leisure Slippers
1000 PAIRS
STARTING
MONDAY MORNING 9 A. M.

Exactly as illustrated. Featuring the new Velvador material trimmed with bunny fur with covered one-inch heel! Made with steel support in the arch.

REGULAR
$1.50 VALUE

164
PEACHTREE
Connie's
BEAUTIFUL SHOES

CASH
MAIL ORDERS FILLED
ADD 15c

ACROSS STREET FROM PARAMOUNT
THEATRE

METHVIN-BLINOV.

Mrs. James Erasmus Methvin announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Lou McKenzie, to Veniam Demetri Blinov, the marriage to take place Wednesday, November 27, at the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. John A. Copeland, 55 Woodcrest avenue.

GORMLEY-KEMP.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gormley, of Cuthbert, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to William David Kemp, of Jacksonville, Fla., the marriage to take place in December.

BOWERS-PLOEGER.

Dr. A. Newton Bowers, of Athens, announces the engagement of his daughter, Winifred, to Paul Hamilton Ploeger Jr., of Darien, the marriage to be solemnized in December.

MITCHELL-GIBSON.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, of East Point, announce the engagement of their daughter, Maits, to Hugh Gibson, also of East Point, the wedding to take place November 27.

MINOR-FINLEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Minor announce the engagement of their daughter, Clara Mildred, to Robert Lee Finley, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

ADAMS-STEWART.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank L. Adams announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Louise, to William Howard Stewart, the marriage to be solemnized in December.

JOHNSTON-MAYNARD.

Mrs. James T. Johnston announces the engagement of her daughter, Lois Victoria, to William Albert Maynard, formerly of Sharpsburg, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized in December.

GREEN-MCKINNON.

L. T. Green announces the engagement of his daughter, Edna Jeanette, to T. J. McKinnon Jr., the marriage to take place November 30.

MITCHELL-AARON.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Catherine, to Leo G. Aaron, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

CHANCEY-ENTREKIN.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Chancey, of Arlington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Oleta, to Herbert Lee Entekin, of Thomasville, the marriage to be solemnized December 21.

PATZ-CORDISH.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patz, of Elberton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethel, to Paul Lee Cordish, of Baltimore, Maryland.

ARTHUR-ANDREASEN.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Arthur, of Meansville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Myrtle, to Vernon E. Andreason, of Marianna, Fla., the wedding to be solemnized in December.

KAIGLER-OLLIFF.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Kaigler, of Georgetown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances, to William Flanders Olliff, of Cuthbert and Columbia, S. C., the wedding to be solemnized at an early date.

BREWSTER-MANN.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lester Brewster announce the engagement of their daughter, Estelle, to James William Mann, the marriage to be solemnized in December.

WELLS-BOWLING.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wells, of Forest Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lorene, to Dr. Jackson Murrell Bowling, of Durham, N. C., the marriage to take place December 15.

LANEY-SMITH.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Laney announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Edythe, to Fred G. Smith, of Atlanta, formerly of Marietta, the date to be announced later. No cards.

WALLACE-STEPHENS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wallace announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice, to Joel Thomas Stephens, of Atlanta, the marriage to take place at an early date.

SEAWELL-HILL.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Seawell, of Winder, announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Elizabeth Seawell, to B. C. Hill Jr., the marriage to take place in December. No cards.

PRUETT-TAYLOR.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pruett, of Colquitt, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janie, to Omar H. Taylor, of Blakely, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

CHANDLER-COOK.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Chandler, of Winder, announce the engagement of their daughter, Little Lee, to Raymond Cook, of Statham, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

BERMAN-ROSEN.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Berman, of Anniston, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Mae, to Dr. Herman Leon Rosen, of Montgomery, the marriage to take place December 9.

LUNSFORD-HARP.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lunsford, of Woolsey, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ellen, to John Burch Harp, of Inman, the marriage to be solemnized in December. No cards.

WISE-ISENBERG.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wise, of Knoxville, Tenn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith, to Joe Isenberg, of Augusta, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

CALDWELL-MALCOM.

Mrs. Clyde Caldwell, of Jackson, announces the engagement of her daughter, Jewel Mildred, to T. H. Malcom, of Atlanta, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

REID-JACKSON.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Reid, of McRae, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bess, to Frank E. Jackson, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

ROOKS-DAUGHERTY.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rooks, of Clem, announce the engagement of their daughter, Eva Jewell, to T. A. Daugherty, also of Clem, the wedding to be solemnized at an early date.

COFER-SAMPLER.

Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Cofer, of Greensboro, announce the engagement of their daughter, Thelma Doris, to Louis Bertrand Sampler, of Atlanta, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

WEST-MANSFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. West, of Washington, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Daniel Mansfield, of Philomath, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

WEST-WYNN.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. West, of Dublin, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Elizabeth, to Carl Wynn, of Brewton, Ga., the wedding to be solemnized during the holidays.

Miss Hayes and Mr. Flanigan Are Wed at Home Ceremony

MRS. J. THORNTON FLANIGAN.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Hayes to J. Thornton Flanigan was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday evening, November 9, at their attractive home on Moreland avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. C. Smith, pastor of Park Avenue Baptist church, in the presence of close relatives and friends. Mrs. Dave Jenkins, sister of the bride, and Luke Flanigan, brother of the groom, were their only attendants. The beauty of the charming bride was enhanced by her becoming brown traveling costume, and the shoulder bouquet of talisman roses and valley lilies. Immediately after the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Flanigan departed for a short wedding trip through Tennessee and Kentucky. Upon their return the young couple will reside at 905 Moreland avenue.

Miss Marie Shaw Becomes Bride Of Mr. Renfro on November 29

Plans are announced today for the marriage of Miss Marie Shaw and Leyton Renfro, of Macon, the ceremony to take place on November 29 at 8:30 o'clock in the Winship chapel of the First Presbyterian church. Dr. J. Sprole Lyons will officiate and the bride-elect will be given in marriage by her father, Joseph S. Shaw. Mrs. Raymond L. Riddle will be matron of honor, and Miss Betty Shaw, sister of the bride-elect, will be maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Elizabeth Colbert and Mrs. Tyler B. Dunlap. Billy Joe White, of Macon, will be best man, and groomsmen will be Charles Brady, Raymond Riddle and Tyler Dunlap. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Shaw entertain at a reception at their home on Fairview road, honoring the bridal party, relatives and out-of-town guests. Prior to the wedding Miss Shaw is being honored at a series of parties. On Tuesday evening, November 26, Miss Kathryn Welling, gives a bridge-supper at her home. Invited are Misses Marie Shaw, Betty Shaw, Elsie Mullin, Elizabeth Colbert, Verdery Boyd, Margaret Vardaman and Medames Joseph S. Shaw, Raymond Riddle, Tyler Dunlap, Wallace Owen and Charles Brady. On Wednesday, November 27, Mrs. Tyler B. Dunlap and Mrs. W. H. Williamson entertain for Miss Shaw at a luncheon at the Athletic Club. Invited are Misses Marie Shaw, Elizabeth Colbert, Betty Shaw, Verdery Boyd, Viola Martin, Jacquelyn Gordy, Margaret Vardaman, Kathryn Welling and Medames Joseph S. Shaw, Hugh Childs, Raymond Riddle and Charles Brady. Wednesday evening, November 27, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Ohlhaber will honor Miss Marie Shaw and Leyton Renfro at a buffet supper at their home on Rosedale road. Those invited are Misses Betty Shaw, Elizabeth Colbert, Verdery Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Shaw, Dr. and Mrs. Tyler Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Riddle, Edgar Perkerson, Billy Joe White and Jerry Clark. After the wedding rehearsal on Thursday evening Mrs. Verdery Boyd will entertain the bridal party and out-of-town guests at a buffet supper at her home on Fairview road. Guests include Miss Marie Shaw and Leyton Renfro, Betty Shaw, Elizabeth Colbert, Leone Renfro, Osallie Elberhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Renfro, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Renfro, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wilcox and Billy Joe White, Edgar Perkerson, John Kennedy and Jerry Clark.

Miss Wynelle Ray To Wed Mr. Dunn.

BAXLEY, Ga., Nov. 16.—The engagement of Miss Wynelle Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will N. Ray, which is announced today to James Monroe Dunn, the marriage to take place in the near future, centers the interest of relatives and friends.

Miss Ray is a graduate of the Baxley High school and has attended college at Valdosta and is a very popular member of the younger social set. She is a niece of Hon. G. A. Ray, representative of Appling county in the Georgia legislature.

Mr. Dunn is a graduate of Darlington school, in Rome, and is the son of R. M. Dunn, chairman of Appling county board of commissioners of roads and revenues in Baxley.

Shuman-Howze.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shuman, of Greenville, S. C., announce the marriage of their daughter, Elma, to Wilbur Kelley Howze Jr., of Columbus, Ga., the wedding being solemnized on Saturday, November 16, at the chapel of the First Presbyterian church in Greenville.

Observe Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan H. Saltzman will be at home on Sunday evening from 8:30 until 11 o'clock, celebrating their 25th anniversary.

Select Christmas Watches

New Hamiltons

Above left, Hamilton SENECA, 19 jewels, 14-k. solid gold, $77.50. At right, Hamilton CABOT, 17 jewels, 14-k. gold filled $52.50.

Never before has Freeman's offered such a splendid assortment of fine watches. Right away, while you can make an unhurried choice, while all of the very best models are available, is the time to select your Christmas watch. Freeman watches range from the lowest priced worth buying to the very finest made.

Illustrated Booklets of Popular Standard Watches Free on Request.

Myron E. Freeman & Bro.
JEWELERS
103 Peachtree St.

RAY-DUNN.

Mr. and Mrs. Will N. Ray, of Baxley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Wynelle, to James Monroe Dunn, the wedding to be solemnized in the near future. No cards.

SMITH-MOODY.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Smith, of Winder, announce the engagement of their sister, Jennie Irene, to Walter Thomas Moody Sr., of Macon, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

JOHNSON-VICKERY.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dillard Johnson, of Hartwell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Evelyn, to Fred Gibson Vickery, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

WATKINS-POLLARD.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Watkins, of Fairburn, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nellie Ruth, to Otto Clifford Pollard, of Union City, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

BATES-SHERRILL.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bates, of Bowdon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jewell Faye, to Joe Max Sherrill, of Bowdon, the wedding to take place at an early date.

FOWLER-COBB.

Mrs. A. J. Fowler, of Cumming, announces the engagement of her daughter, Louise, to R. L. Cobb, of Alpharetta, Ga., the wedding to take place November 28.

BLEDSOE-TURNER.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bledsoe, of McDonough, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vernie Oree, to Memory George Turner, of McDonough, the marriage to be solemnized in December.

Miss Weyman Will Become Bride Of Mr. Yearley in Early New Year

Sincere and affectionate interest is invested in the announcement made today by Mrs. Samuel Thompson Weyman of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Shorter Weyman, to Alexander Yearley IV, of Baltimore, Md., and Atlanta, the marriage to be solemnized early in the new year. The bride-elect is listed as one of this city's most popular members of younger society. She enjoys the friendship of hosts of friends and during her bellehood she has been a feted visitor in other cities. She is a valued member of the Junior League, Cotillion Club and the Phi Pi Club. She was educated at Washington Seminary and at Oldfield school in Glencoe, Md. The bride-to-be is a representative of distinguished southern families on both her paternal and maternal sides. Her father, the late Samuel Thompson Weyman, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bossiere Weyman, of San Antonio, Texas, and Greenville, S. C. Her maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Fontaine, of Columbus, Ga. Miss Weyman is a sister of George F. Samuel M. and B. Fontaine Weyman.

Mr. Yearley is the son of Mrs. McKee Barclay, of Baltimore, Md., and the late Alexander Yearley III, of Baltimore. Like his bride-to-be, Mr. Yearley also represents families who are prominently identified with the south's social and educational circles. His maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Yearley Jr., of Baltimore. He is a brother of Mrs. Charles Worthington Hoff, of Baltimore; Church Yearley, of New York City; Dorsey and Frazier Yearley and Miss Mallory Yearley, all of Baltimore.

The groom-to-be is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University, where he was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. His clubs are the Bachson Weyman, of Baltimore; Capital City and Piedmont Driving Club in this city. For the past two years Mr. Yearley has made his home in Atlanta, where he is connected with the First Boston Corporation Bond House.

distinctive BAGS

The quality of this soft glove-kid bag is evident; the style, designed by Koret, is unusually smart. The strap handle and circular gold catch are distinctive. Comes in black only. ....$19.75

This bag combines spaciousness and style. The two-strap handles are exceedingly new and distinctive. The beautiful quality calf is extremely durable. Comes in black only. ....$12.95

Street Floor
J. P. ALLEN & CO.
The Store All Women Know

Miss Selma Redmond Weds Lieut. Downing At Church Ceremony

Quiet dignity marked the marriage of Miss Selma Redmond and Lieutenant Edmund Lee Downing which took place yesterday at a nuptial mass at St. Anthony's church. Rev. P. J. O'Connor performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and close friends of the young couple.

The altar was banked with greenery and the slender white altar vases held white chrysanthemums—these vases were interspersed on the altar with candelabra holding burning tapers. The bride's only attendant, Miss Edna Slack, wore a becoming model of moss green crepe with hat and accessories in the same lovely shade and gardenias composed her shoulder bouquet.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, W. W. Redmond. Her which is now being observed.

ethereal beauty was enhanced by a titian-sand wool suit featuring a natural heaver Pierrot collar. Her close-fitting hat with nose veil were brown. All other accessories were brown suede. Completing her costume was a shoulder spray of bronze orchids.

Mrs. Redmond, mother of the bride, wore a becoming model of brown crepe with accessories in brown. Her corsage was yellow roses.

After the ceremony, Lieutenant Downing and his bride left for a wedding trip to points of interest in the east. On their return they will reside in Brevard, N. C. Lieutenant Downing being commanding officer at Pisgah Forest, N. C.

Cascade Club.

Cascade Garden Club meets at the home of Mrs. E. L. Rudolph, on Venetian drive, in Cascade Heights, Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Floyd A. Horton will assist. Mrs. P. J. McGovern, president of the Fifth District Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, speaks on conservation, following the general program being carried out during conservation month.

Lovely Member of Debutante Club

Grace Scarboro

Miss Roberta Crew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott and is numbered among popular members of the 1935-36 Debutante Club. She is a tall, stately blonde with blue eyes and possesses a charming personality and a graciousness and sweetness of manner which have won for her countless friends not only here but wherever she has visited. She attended Washington Seminary and spent the past winter in New York. Miss Crew has enjoyed the advantages of extensive travel both in this country and in foreign lands and spent last summer touring the Hawaiian Islands with her parents. She enjoys outdoor sports especially horseback riding and swimming and also dancing. She is a popular member of the younger set of Atlanta society, a member of the Girls' Circle for the Tallulah Falls school and during her debut year is being complimented at a series of parties. Her formal presentation to society was in the form of a brilliant tea-dance given by her parents on November 6 at the Piedmont Driving Club. The sketch of Miss Crew was made by Grace Scarboro from a photograph by Asasno.

Miss Churchill Houston Weds Mr. Hudson on December 21

Of interest is the announcement made today by Mrs. Andrew Nicholas Houston of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Churchill Houston, to Hendrik Reynolds Hudson, of Atlanta. Their marriage will take place Saturday evening, December 21, in the Winship Memorial chapel of the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Houston is the daughter of Mrs. A. N. Houston, formerly Miss Louise Hitt, of Atlanta, Ga., and the late A. N. Houston. She is the maternal granddaughter of the late Captain and Mrs. William Moultrie Hitt, of Augusta, Ga., and is a descendant of the Richardson family of South Carolina and the Buckmaster family of England. On her paternal side she is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong Postell Houston, of Clarksville, Ga.

She received her education at the Sacred Heart school, where she was an active member of the student body and a member of the Tau Beta Sigma sorority, serving for a year as president of the sorority. She is the sister of Miss Marion Houston, Andrew Houston and the twin sister of Miss Norma Houston.

Mr. Hudson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Leander Hudson, of Atlanta, and a brother of Clark Hudson. His mother was before her marriage, Miss Pearl Martha Reynolds, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jess. Mercer Reynolds, of Mayfield, Ga. On his paternal side he is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton Leander Hudson, of Plains, Ga., and is a direct descendant of Hendrik Hudson, pioneer explorer.

Miss Jenkins Weds E. Willard Mills.

MUNNERYLYN, Ga., Nov. 16.—The marriage of Miss Myrtle Trueta Jenkins to Ellis Willard Mills, of Waycross, was solemnized Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Jenkins. The Rev. J. M. Hancock, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the marriage rites.

Southern smilax and fern formed the background for the altar, which was formed of palms and white chrysanthemums. A program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Wynona James, pianist, and Miss Violet Heath, violinist, both of Augusta.

Robert Jenkins Jr., brother of the bride, entered with Hoke Smith, of Macon. They were followed by the bridegroom and his best man, Dr. Emory Newsome, of Augusta.

Mrs. Spurgeon Hogan, Augusta, and Miss Willie Hancock, Lander College, Greenwood, S. C., entered together wearing gowns of burgundy velvet and carrying arm bouquets of gold chrysanthemums tied with gold ribbons.

The matron of honor, Mrs. R. C. Chance, sister of the bride, wore a gown of royal blue velvet and carried an arm bouquet of gold chrysanthemums tied with gold ribbons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of ivory brocaded chiffon velvet. The only trimming was a row of small velvet covered buttons in the back from the neck to the waistline. The skirt was tight fitting to the knees with an added flounce to form the train. The veil made cap shape was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms, a shorter veil extending to the fingertips.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses showered with valley lilies. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the dining room. The bride's table was covered with a lovely lace cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Jenkins, of Munnerylyn, and the groom is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mills, of Wadley.

After the reception Mr. Mills and his bride left for a wedding trip to Florida, and upon their return will make their home in Waycross.

Junior Hadassah's Tri-City Meet Today

The second event of Junior Hadassah month will be a luncheon and session honoring the tri-city meet at the Anslay Hotel today at 1 o'clock. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Harry Epstein. Mrs. Abe Fitterman has arranged a "March of Time" skit to be presented by members of Junior Hadassah. The luncheon is 75 cents per plate and reservations may be made by calling Miss Dorothy Davis, Main 8310.

The tri-city session, representing

Birmingham, Montgomery and Atlanta, opens at 3 o'clock with greetings from Senior Hadassah by Mrs. Sam E. Levy. Guest speaker will be Mrs. M. L. Kimerling, of Birmingham, Ala. Miss Lottie Stein will present a paper on Jewish national fund; Miss Rebecca Shulwolf, of Montgomery, Ala., will give information on cultural work and Miss Annette Gelfen, of Atlanta, will present a paper on membership.

A musical recital will be rendered by Mrs. B. M. Brodie and Rubin Rosen and the mothers of all Junior Hadassah members are cordially invited to attend the luncheon and session.

$5.98
each Satin negligees, in "heavenly" pastels, dozens of styles, all daintily lace trimmed. Charming Christmas gifts and wonderful values!

$5.98
each Tailored taffeta robes and pajamas to match or in contrasting colors. Wine, marine-blue, pastel blue and brown, 12 to 40. Coats only $5.98 and pajamas only $5.98.

$5.98
each Satin robes in pastel or dark colors, with cuff facings and sashes of contrasting shades. Stunning Christmas gifts and smart values.

Third Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"

Third Floor

French Room Hat Sale!

One-of-a-kind models that were originally priced up to $25.00. Marvelous values!

Tomorrow Only!

$10

Third Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"

Semi-Annual Sale of Fall and Winter Shoes

It's news when Allen's better shoes are reduced to such prices! And NOW is the time to shop, for sizes are not badly broken this early in the sale!

Custom made shoes that are regularly $16.50.....now $12.85

$11.50 to $13.50
Shoes .....now $9.85

$10.00 to $11.50
Shoes .....now $8.85

$8.50 to $10.00
Shoes .....now $6.85

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"

Classic or Renaissance ?

Evening fashions gather their inspiration this season from two distinct sources: The Classic Grecian (with its very simple draperies, pleats and trimmings) and The Renaissance (with its low decolletage and heavy jewel ornaments). Choose the one of these that suits you best, for both are equally important and equally dramatic. Undoubtedly evening fashions are more exciting and more colorful than in many a day... and with prices so modest you'll be able to indulge yourself in several different frocks.

A lovely chiffon shown here has the classic simplicity and drapery, only

$19.95

Second Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"

Miss Mullins Becomes Bride Of Of Mr. Perkerson at Home Rites

Miss Eunice Mullins became the bride of Leon Perkerson at a beautiful ceremony, taking place last evening at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Smith, on Ridgecrest road, Dr. A. J. Moncrief, pastor of the First Baptist church of Decatur, officiated at 8:30 o'clock, in the presence of relatives and friends of the young couple.

In the living room, where the ceremony was performed, palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums were used as the decorations. An altar was formed of the greenery, beautified with baskets filled with chrysanthemums and seven-branched candelabra held burning tapers.

Mrs. Felton Burnette was matron of honor for her sister, and Miss Norma Hair was maid of honor, and Miss Carlene Wallace was bridesmaid. They were dressed alike in transparent velvet models fashioned along princess lines, with a high neckline and long train. Mrs. Burnette wore dark blue and the bridesmaid wore lighter shades. They carried shower bouquets of talismen roses and snapdragons.

Miss Margaret Smith, niece of the bride, was the flower girl, and wore a dainty blue net frock over blue satin, and carried a basket of garden flowers.

The beautiful bride entered with her father, James L. Mullins, by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his twin brother, Lewis Perkerson, who was best man. She was handsomely gowned in white satin, fashioned along princess lines with a Queen Elizabethian collar and long, tight sleeves. The floor-length skirt widened in the back to form a long train. The long tulle veil fell in graceful folds over the train, and was fastened to her hair with a tulle cap with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Mullins, mother of the bride, was gowned in gray lace, combined with gray crepe. Her flowers were sweetheart roses. Mrs. J. M. Perkerson, mother of the groom, wore green triple sheer and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained at an informal reception, honoring their sister and Mr. Perkerson. The bride's table was adorned in the center with a three-tiered, heart-shaped cake, placed on a mound of pink and white roses. Assisting in entertaining was Mrs. C. A. Young. Mrs. Smith wore orchid crepe with a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses. Mrs. Young was gowned in turquoise blue crepe and wore yellow roses.

Mr., Mrs. Deadwyler Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Deadwyler will entertain Tuesday evening at the Decatur Woman's Club, celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary with a reception followed by a dance.

The attendants at their wedding in 1910 will be in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Deadwyler, together with Mrs. M. V. Waldrup, their mother. Their sons and daughter, T. J. Deadwyler Jr. and Mrs. C. C. Calloway and Francis Jernigan. Mrs. Mamie Rylee will keep the guest book and Mrs. Maynard Sanders will serve punch.

The lace-covered table will have as a centerpiece a three-tier cake, topped with miniature bride and groom under an arch of silver bells.

The out-of-town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Calloway, Rayle, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Calloway and Mrs. Mamie Rylee, Athens, Ga.; Mrs. Altus Bennett, Marietta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Russell, Charlotte, N. C.; and Mrs. Sara B. Keese, Decatur, Ga.

Turkey Supper.

The annual fall turkey supper sponsored by the Immaculate Conception Altar Society will be given on Wednesday from 6 to 8 o'clock in the basement of the church. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Grover Heyser, or any member of the society.

Group of Attractive Georgia Brides and Brides-Elect of Autumn

Mrs. Tom Ward.

Mrs. J. T. Tolbert.

Mrs. W. O. Wall.

Miss Alice Dilbeck.

Miss Lorene Wells.

Mrs. J. W. Butler.

Miss Frances Kaigler.

Mrs. K. E. Kenny.

Miss Wells Weds Dr. Bowling Dec. 15

FOREST PARK, Ga., Nov. 16.—Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wells, of Forest Park, of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lorene, to Dr. Jackson Murrell Bowling, of Durham, N. C., the marriage to take place December 15, at the home of the bride-elect's parents in Forest Park.

Miss Wells is the eldest daughter of her parents, and is the sister of Mrs. Robert Walker, of Madison; W. Weyman Wells, Martin L. Wells, E. Lee Wells, J. Ernest Wells and Jackson W. Wells, all of Forest Park. The bride-elect attended school in Forest Park and Jonesboro, later graduating from the Georgia Baptist hospital and school of nursing.

Dr. Bowling, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Bowling, of Durham, N. C., is the brother of Dr. W. W. Bowling and Howard Bowling, of Durham, N. C., and Edwin Bowling, of Washington, D. C. He received his M. D. degree at the University of Virginia, later serving his internship at the Georgia Baptist hospital. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Delta Theta fraternities. After the marriage the couple will reside in Durham, N. C., where Dr. Bowling has established practice.

GEORGIA WOMAN'S Christian Temperance Union

Honorary presidents, Miss Mary Harris, of Macon; Mrs. T. B. Patterson, of Newnan; Mrs. Lella A. Dillard, of Cochran; President, Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, 1430 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. Marvin Williams, Marietta; Vice president and counselor to president, corresponding secretary and counselor to local presidents, Mrs. R. L. Miller, Waynesboro; recording secretary and counselor to district presidents, Mrs. R. H. McDougall Jr., 1480 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; treasurer and counselor to local treasurers, Mrs. Wilbur Brown, 308 W. Solomon street, Griffin; editor of the Georgia W. C. T. U. Bulletin, Mrs. August Burghard, 344 Granddame avenue, Macon; Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville; field secretary, Mrs. Lella A. Dillard, Cochran; membership director, Mrs. Annie Laurie Cuyana, Cartersville; director of music, Mrs. Byrd Lovett, Sandersville, Union Signal promoter.

State W. C. T. U. Editor Features November as Thankful Month

By M. Frances Meadows Burghard, of Macon, State W. C. T. U. Editor.

As members of a great Christian organization, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, gives thanks to God for all that is good which He has accomplished through them, and in this "thankful" month, the W. C. T. U. has reason for thanksgiving for the deepening of spirituality manifested in its membership, for the strengthening of determination to put time and effort into developing the plans for its God-inspired cause, for the growth of the numbers of its adherents, for the vision of opportunity which the present difficulties bring.

In writing of the membership plans, Mrs. Anna Marden DeLo, the national director, says: "Time—beginning with the opening of the state year, which was October 1, and closing on May Day. National symbol will be wheat, as last year, carrying out the idea of sowing and reaping."

Awards—the same as last year, when 25,506 new members were enlisted between November 1, 1934, and June 1, 1935—900 new members added each week of the campaign; 435 new total abstinence organizations of the W. C. T. U. in answer to the appeal to the women of our country to learn to drink moderately. Demonstration—at national convention at Tulsa, Okla., we will put on a "Flower Festival" where the flowers brought from the states—one for each member will be displayed. May Day—Each local union will be asked to give a "May Day party" in recognition of the accession of its new members.

Georgia's state flower is the Cherokee rose, and will lend itself to a flower demonstration. It will be remembered that the design on Georgia's W. C. T. U. state flag is an intermingling of cotton and the Cherokee rose, first used as a hedge to keep safe the good and keep out the evil, typified "Christian" words have been put together for the protection of the home, and for the abolition of the liquor traffic and the triumph of Christ's Golden Rule in custom and in law.

Mrs. Berta Scott, of Bainbridge, is the new membership director for our state. She reminds that while so many members have been gained in the past years, that there are still many women in Georgia who have never had an opportunity to join the great organization of "Mother Love," that every member should make even greater efforts to enlist these women and others.

Mrs. Byrd Lovett, of Sandersville, state promoter for The Union Signal, the "best temperance paper published," suggests as a Christmas gift, The Union Signal for the mother who seeks information for guiding the impulses of her "bubbling offspring;" for the young freshin who are establishing their first home, the student for use in essay and research work, for the boys and girls of the Youth's Temperance Council; for the friend who is not quite "persuaded" for the aged friend who loves the organization's paper but cannot afford to subscribe; for the missionary worker, the minister, the teacher, the law-maker, for yourself. It is published at Evansville, Ind. and is a weekly and the subscription price is $1 per year. Mrs. Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville, agent for The Young Crusader, suggests as a Christmas gift a subscription to that paper, a monthly, for children, or as she says: "Subscribe for the boy or girl of your family, the boy and girl of public school age, the director of the Loyal Temperance Legion, the Sunday school teacher." It is a readable, illustrated, interesting child's paper. Order The Young Crusader, Evansville, Ind., price 35 cents per year.

Unions and members are carrying out the suggestion of Mrs. W. H. Preston, state director of the Flower Mission and relief department, to see that the sick and shut-ins and those who need are remembered with fruit, flowers, experiences or substantial food and garments on Thanksgiving Day.

The W. C. T. U. has compiled many statements by experts completely, emphatically exploding the latest proposal of the Council for Moderation to establish so-called "moderate" use of alcoholic beverages on a safe and "respectable" basis. First of all the unyieldable and constant menace of the one-eyed drunk "moderate" users of intoxicants was spectacularly proved at the National Safety Congress at Louisville, by unique experiments carried on in the presence of the delegates by Dr. Herman A. Heise, of Milwaukee.

Dr. Heise, who has accumulated much scientific evidence on this subject and who has shown that the "bad-behavior" rather than the "drunken" driver is the really serious menace, although not yet adequately credited in police statistics, conducted these experiments with numerous volunteers who were tested as to their respective efficiency before and after taking small quantities (two ounces and four ounces) of alcohol, approximately little more than a single drink. The tests included threading needles, operating typewriters, shifting gears and applying brakes, affording contrasts in time reactions, variations in judgment, hand and eye co-ordination, etc.

The National Safety Council report pointed out that perhaps the man or woman who has been drinking, but is not apparently drunk is a serious traffic menace because of the previously unrecognized harmful effects upon human reactions, judgment, skill, etc., of relatively small amounts of alcohol. A detailed tabulation of the tests showed a from 13 per cent to 56 per cent decrease in efficiency in hand-eye co-ordination, and showed a from 1 per cent to 43 per cent decrease in efficiency in typewriter operation by those who had consumed small amounts of whisky, as compared with the records made by the same individuals before drinking.

Miss Kaigler To Wed William F. Olliff

GEORGETOWN, Ga., Nov. 16.—Of interest is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. George Oscar Kaigler of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Frances Kaigler, to William F. Olliff, of Georgetown, and she will wed William Flanders Olliff during the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Kaigler is the former Miss Corrie Mae Bell, her wedding having taken place recently. Photo of Mrs. Kaigler by Elliott's studio; photo of Mrs. Wall by Dietz studio of Decatur; that of Miss Dilbeck by Leonard & Co., and that of Miss Wells by Alfa Lomax.

Following her graduation from the Bufala High school, Miss Kaigler attended the Florida Woman's College, Tallahassee, Fla., where she pledged Zeta Tau Alpha. Later she graduated from the Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville.

Miss Kaigler is of the decided bride type of beauty. She is a descendant of pioneer south Georgia families.

Mr. Olliff is the son of President and Mrs. S. C. Olliff, of Andrew College, Cuthbert. He received his education from Emory Junior College, Georgia State College for Men, Tifton, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Rho fraternity, later graduating from Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C. He now holds a position in the science department of the Hand High school, Columbia, South Carolina.

P. E. O. Sisterhood Holds Meeting.

Chapter A, P. E. O. Sisterhood of Georgia, opened the year's activities with a luncheon meeting at Roswell held at the home of Mrs. Esther Jackson, S. C. He now holds a position in the science department of the Hand High school, Columbia, South Carolina.

An enjoyable social affair was held at the home of Mrs. W. O. Latimer in October. Mrs. O. T. Parker, of Salisbury, and Mrs. H. E. Ochsner, recently arrived from Minneapolis, to make her home in Atlanta, were honored guests.

Mrs. E. E. Ewing entertained Chapter A members recently at a luncheon. The program featured a talk by Miss Ada Barker, on "Welfare Work in Atlanta."

Chapter members are Mesdames H. R. Albion, Miss Ada Barker, J. M. Burke, C. E. Ewing, J. W. Harlan, A. T. Hartford, R. C. Mitchell, Esther Jackson, W. O. Latimer, G. A. Moore, Clara Myers, R. H. Peters, R. M. Spangler, Misses Mary Elizabeth Sturtevant and Ada Barker.

Osigan—Barksdale. TALLULAH FALLS, Ga., Nov. 16. Miss Madeline Osigan, of Tallulah Falls, was united in marriage recently to Robert Malcolm Barksdale, of Rapid River, Mich., formerly of Sandersville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mowbray, of Demorest. They are graduates of Piedmont College.

During the past scholastic year Mr. Barksdale studied at Vanderbilt University, where he received his M. A. degree and the bride was engaged in teaching at White Oak, Ga. The bride was charming in a navy blue suit with accessories to match. After the ceremony the couple left for Sandersville and Augusta, where they visited relatives. They departed afterward for Michigan, where Mr. Barksdale took up his duties as a minister in the Congregational church. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. B. H. Mowbray, of Demorest; Miss Maude Bowie, of South Carolina; Miss Ola Ray, of Clarksville; Miss Edith Edmonds, of Tugaloo; Mr. and Mrs. William Hunnicutt and children, of Cornelia; Lester Blair, of Tiger; Mrs. J. M. Drury, of White Oak, and Mrs. S. G. Carwell and little son, of Abbeville, Ga.

Commagere-Adams Wedding Plans Center Interest of Society Today

Interest of Atlanta socialites centers today in the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Marie Louise Commagere and Albert S. Adams, whose marriage will be a socially prominent event of November 27. The ceremony will take place at Sacred Heart church at 11 o'clock with Father John Emmert officiating.

The charming bride to be will be given in marriage by her father, Felix J. Commagere, and Mr. Adams' best man will be Frank Boston, Miss Lydia Commagere, sister of the bride-elect, will be maid of honor, and Miss Gladys Commagere, another sister, will be bridesmaid. Little Miss Lorraine McConaghey will be flower girl.

Edward Adams, brother of the groom, will be groomsman, and ushers are Jesse Draper, Frank Owens, Roby Robinson and W. E. Harrington.

Following the wedding Mrs. Albert S. Adams will entertain at a reception complimenting the attractive pair at her home on Sixteenth street, and

Mr. Commagere will entertain at a buffet supper at the Driving Club following the wedding rehearsal on November 26.

Miss Commagere and her fiancé are being continually honored at social affairs prior to the wedding, among which is the buffet supper to be given this evening by Mrs. James A. Harvey at her home on Vedado way. Mrs. H. V. Biglin will be hostess at a buffet supper tomorrow evening at the Ansley Park Golf Club honoring the popular pair.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Edward Martin will give a dinner at her home on Dellwood drive, and Thursday Mrs. W. J. McAlpin will give a tea at her home on Spring street honoring Miss Commagere and Mr. Adams.

Next Friday Miss Alice Minahan will be hostess at an evening party for Miss Commagere and her fiancé, and on Sunday Mrs. A. J. McConaghey will entertain complimenting the attractive pair. Many other delightful parties are being planned, the dates to be announced later.

American Legion Auxiliary Officers

PRESIDENT Miss Helen Estes, 60 Green street, Galvestone; first vice president, Mrs. J. M. Sigan, Macon; second vice president, Mrs. J. W. Olesky Jr., Quitman; historian, Mrs. Myrtle A. Young, Eatonton; chaplain, Mrs. J. W. Allen, Albany; secretary, Mrs. E. E. Ochsner, Georgia department, Mrs. Joseph M. Toomey, 608 North Church street, Decatur.

State Legion Auxiliary Pays Tribute To World War Anniversary Date

By MRS. J. M. TOOMEY, of Decatur, Publicity Director for Georgia Legion Auxiliary.

Elaborate programs and dinners marked the 17th anniversary of Armistice Day program, Mrs. Guy Ritchie is president of the Dawson unit, with Mrs. Lawson Cook, first vice president; Mrs. Claire Godwin, second vice president, and Mrs. Davenport Edwards, secretary.

Following an annual custom the Fayetteville unit presented an Armistice Day program in the high school auditorium. Harvey Kenna, of Barnesville, was the principal speaker, others appearing on the program were: Miss May Harp, president of the unit; Dr. J. M. Toomey, of Decatur; Dr. T. J. Buehler, of the Fayetteville post; Mrs. J. M. Toomey, of Decatur, and Ferrill Sams, superintendent of the Fayette county schools. At 12:30 the members of the unit and their guests were entertained at a barbecue at the fairgrounds.

Monday night the Manchester post entertained 11 the members of the unit and other guests at a turkey dinner, which was served by the Woodbury Woman's Club in the auditorium of the Woodbury High school. Scott Candler, of Decatur, was the principal speaker on the program for this occasion. The program consisting of readings, instrumental and vocal numbers, and short talks was interesting and entertaining.

Miss Helen Estes, department president, was principal speaker on the program presented on Armistice Day in the auditorium of Gainesville High school.

Union aides to Savannah Unit No. 135 have completed their organization and have elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Margaret Eunice Friedman; second vice president, Miss Lorraine Barnes; secretary, Miss Marie Pearson; treasurer, Miss Doris Zipperer; historian, Miss Rhoda Gaikins; chaplain, Miss Minnie Lou Smith. These officers were installed by Mrs. H. J. Oppenheim at a recent meeting held in the home of Mrs. Walter C. Thompson.

Department memorial chairman, Mrs. Carl Saye, of Athens, issues the following message: "As your memorial chairman, let me urge you to build more memorials this year in honor of our World War dead. Perhaps we cannot erect boulders of granite or marble shafts, but we can dedicate some worthy undertaking to their memory. Sponsor some worth-while charity or beautify your community by making more pleasing to the eye a plot of ground in a public park, or the city square, with trees or flowering shrubs by the roadsides. The poppy is our memorial flower and pansies are for thoughts. Plant these in any place where practical. What more beautiful memorials could be had than these living beauties of nature, keeping alive memories of those who made the supreme sacrifice? In this way we will be rendering a service to the living, too, as we beautify our state in remembrance of those lovers of peace, who took arms, left home and dear ones, and gave life that all might be free."

The entire department is congratulating Mrs. R. K. Whitford, department poppy chairman, on the poppy program, which she handled so successfully during the past two months. Eighty-one thousand five hundred poppies were sold for the units who conduct sales on Armistice Day, this being far in excess of last year, and even exceeding the high record sale of 1931-1932 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Cooper. As there are some units in the department that hold their poppy sale in May 30, this will be a banner year in poppy sales for the department. Mrs. Whitford issues the following statement: "I am very happy to report the highest November poppy sale in the history of the department and I wish to thank all those who assisted with the poppy program, either in instructing the disabled men in the hospitals who made the poppies, or in conducting the poppy sales for the units."

Miss Gaillard Weds Benjamin W. Fair.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Helen Gaillard became the bride of Benjamin Warren Fair, of Augusta, at a ceremony taking place at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon in St. John's Episcopal church, with Rev. C. C. J. Carpenter, rector, officiating. The altar was banked with white chrysanthemums and the only illumination was from the lighted candles.

Miss Fairlie Myers was her maid of honor and Mrs. Ernest B. Merry Jr., of Augusta, was her matron of honor. Their dresses were fashioned of alike of sapphire blue velvet and they wore small hats of velvet in the same shade and carried bouquets of deep yellow chrysanthemums tied with yellow tulle.

John Bell Towill, of Augusta, was best man and ushers were Henry Marks and James Beeson, of Augusta, and George S. Gaillard Jr., of New Orleans.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, George S. Gaillard, and wore a beautiful wedding gown of ivory tulle, the train flaring into a long train. Her veil of ivory tulle fell from a tight cap of tulle, held to the head by a wreath of orange blossom buds, and she carried a shiver bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Fair left for their wedding trip, the bride wearing a navy blue suit with a short coat with a collar of blue fox. Upon their return they will reside in Augusta.

Ransin—Hester.

RICHLAND, Ga., Nov. 16.—Wide-spread interest centers in the marriage announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Woods, of their daughter, Elizabeth M. Ransin, to Roy M. Hester, of Richland, the ring ceremony having been solemnized at the First Presbyterian church in Columbus, by Rev. John Robert Boyd, on Sunday, July 14, 1935, in the presence of the bride's parents.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hester, however he has since childhood made his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Martin G. Hester, of Richland, Ga.

The bride is popular with the youngest set and is possessed of many splendid traits of character and charming personality. She is a graduate of the Richland High school, of the Clara Belle Smith Business College, of Columbus, Ga., and later attended Georgia Southwestern College in Americus. The young couple will make their home at the present in Richland, Ga.

Tired!

All in at the end of the day? Perhaps it's overstrain. Tired, overworked eyes use more than their fair share of energy—energy you need for other functions of the body. Strained eyes cause headaches, fatigue and other nervous ailments. Be safe. Have your eyes examined regularly.

CHAS. A. GREEN
Optometrist and Optician
128 Peachtree Arcade
Phone WA. 3383
Atlanta, Ga.

CHRISTMAS Gifts
LAMPS
BOOK ENDS GLASSWARE
FRAMED PICTURES
MIRRORS

Binder's
Picture Frames Made to Order
117 Peachtree St.

Initial Start for Christmas

Place your order for monogrammed handkerchiefs NOW and avoid the last minute panic. Delivery in three weeks. No orders will be accepted after December 10th. Select any handkerchiefs and any monograms you like. Davison's has lots of both. One Name .....$1 doz. Two Names .....1.50 doz. Three-letter Monograms .....25c ea. (The Above Prices Are for the Monogramming Alone)

HANDKERCHIEFS, STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

ATLANTA—affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Fair and SQUARE

Because of a tee-totally new and smart setup, Davison's is fast sewing up the square-heel, square-toe business. Our newest and nicest is a broadstrap in brown Cavalry twill contrasted with Bombay Calf (a bright Gaiety brown that is scrumptious with grey, brown, wine, or green). The snub toe will make your foot look tinier than it has looked since you left the nursery. 25 other Fair and Square-ers to choose from—all at 7.75

WOMEN'S SHOES, SECOND FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

ATLANTA—affiliated with MACY'S, New York

- Garden Club Activities Are of Interest -

Kirkwood Garden Division To Meet On December 10

Garden division of Kirkwood Civic League meets December 10 at the home of Miss Ellen Swann, 200 Howard street, N. E. Mrs. W. L. Hunnicutt was hostess to the garden division of Kirkwood Civic League at her home on Rocky Ford avenue, Tuesday. Splendid reports were given by committees. Especially interesting was the report given by Mrs. Luman Carpenter, horticultural chairman, of the recent meeting of the state horticultural society, held at the garden center.

The club voted to send one member to the Atlanta Bird Club for the forthcoming year. Mrs. W. L. Hunnicutt, chairman of garden division, will fill this place.

Mrs. Charles W. Bishop, publicity chairman, was requested to send the club's most important activities to the state paper each month.

Mrs. E. H. Pickett gave the garden calendar for the month. Mrs. John D. Evans, second vice president of the Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on "Conservation."

Rose Garden Club Issues Yearbook

A unique yearbook has been published by the Rose Garden Club, outlining the club's activities for the coming year. The committee was composed of Mrs. William Dunbar, chairman; Mesdames Fleming, Law, Charles Evans, Willard McBurney and Frank Berry. The idea is to present a program centering around the state of Georgia and its resources, all information to be compiled and presented by members of the club.

The book is in the shape of the state, the cover being a reproduction of the map used on the bi-centennial pamphlet published in 1932 by the State Department of Agriculture. It depicts with clever pictures the various products and industries throughout the state. The book is printed on a peachstone paper, suggesting the pink Cherokee rose and Georgia peaches.

An outline of the year's program follows:

September—"Riding Our Georgia Pegasus From Rabun Gap to Tybee Light," in song, prose and poetry.

October—"The Georgia Garden Procession," (a) procession of bloom from bulbs with slides; (b) fall planting for spring bloom.

November—"Our Native Shrubs and Vines."

December—"Lovely As a Tree," (a) our native trees; (b) the pine tree—our state tree; (c) the Christmas tree in song and story.

January—"The Old Red Hills of Georgia," (a) erosion; (b) planting banks and terraces.

February—"Georgia Blooms in Festive Array," with slides.

March—"Our Native Flowers—Flora and Fauna of the Smoky Mountains," with slides.

April—"Georgia's Golden Isles."

May—"Protecting Our Native Heritage," an examination on "What I Have Learned About Georgia."

June—"Summertime in Georgia."

The first three programs have been enthusiastically received by the members, and very valuable information has been given by those taking part on the programs.

Lenox Park Club.

The Lenox Park Garden Club met Wednesday at the field office. Mes-

Beautification of Georgia Is Aim Of State Garden Club Members

By MRS. ED DORSEY,
Of Athens, Publicity Chairman for Garden Club of Georgia.

November is being observed as conservation month by Georgia's garden clubs. Programs on conservation are being given all over the state, stressing the value forest protection, the prevention of fires, the conservation of the native flora, of fish and game, the attractiveness of roadside beauty to tourists, and the general value of conservation for Georgia.

Beautification of Georgia is the hope and dream of not only the president of the Garden Club of Georgia, Mrs. Thomas Hubbard McHatten, but of every garden club member in the state of Georgia. It has natural beauty, but to keep it so and to enhance this beauty, the Garden Club of Georgia protests the violation of the law of conservation, prohibiting the cutting and uprooting of the native flora. With the increase in the number of garden clubs throughout the state has come widespread appreciation of their great civic worth and benefit. Through the co-operation of the individual, the press and the radio, Georgians are becoming conscious of their great wealth of native trees, shrubs and flowers.

Conservation means the preserving from waste and injury. Conservation is using wisely that which nature has produced for us in order that we might leave behind something for future generations to utilize and enjoy. Conservation is the greatest good for the largest number for the longest time.

In Georgia there are found so many beautiful shrubs and trees which will bring year-around beauty to our gardens. But in order to leave the natural beauty in our woods, give protection to that which nature has given us. They are treasures for our gardens, but for garden use buy these plants from a nurseryman. They will have well-established root system and a good chance to live if given an acid soil and a heavy mulch. Then our woods and roadsides will not be denuded of their natural charm and beauty.

dames Sam Wood, Allen Ford and George Shinn were welcomed as new members and Mrs. A. B. Howland as a guest. A flower exhibit was held, with Mrs. George Williams winning in the growing plant class, and Mrs. Walker Pendleton, in line arrangement.

Group To Beautify Garden Hills Section.

The garden division of the Garden Hills Woman's Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. A. Eubanks on Dunwoody road.

Mrs. Lewis Brannon, chairman, presided. Mrs. Brannon discussed plans for beautifying the Garden Hills section during the Christmas holidays. The garden group of the club will sponsor a contest for the most beautiful live lighted Christmas tree and decoration. All residents in the immediate Garden Hills section are eligible. Two prizes will be given.

Mrs. Brannon reported receiving a letter on conservation from the state conservation chairman of the Garden Clubs of Georgia. The garden division has co-operated by distributing leaflets on forest fire prevention to the children in the E. Rivers school. The child that colors the most artistic leaflet will be allowed to color the school poster which will be sent to the state to compete with the posters from all the schools in the state.

Mrs. R. A. Eubanks, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw, who gave an interesting talk on "Conservation."

Mrs. Jack Rushin read "What to Do in November" from "Let's Go Gardening."

After the business meeting Mrs. R. A. Eubanks served luncheon.

Neighborhood Club Elects New Members.

Election of new members featured the meeting on Friday of the Neighborhood Garden Club at the home of Mrs. John E. Sanford, on Florist Andrews drive. Electes for membership were Mesdames E. N. O'Brien, William Matthews and James N. Brawner. The club endorsed the city's beautification project and voted to take part and assist in work along this line.

Mrs. A. D. Adair is president of the club. Other officers are Mesdames Shepard Bryan, vice president; Charles Rice, treasurer; S. F. Boykin, publicity chairman; Newton

Brookhaven Garden Club Names Chairmen

The Brookhaven Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. John O. Owen on Oglethorpe avenue on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. R. Wright, president, presided. The following committee chairmen were appointed: Civic, Mrs. Hub Huddleston; program, Mrs. J. W. Harris; hospital, Mrs. John Bass and Mrs. L. B. Whitehead; scrapbook, Mrs. Ira Pelfrey. Mrs. John O. Owen is acting publicity chairman until permanent appointment can be made.

A letter was read by Mrs. J. R. Wright complimenting Mrs. John Bass and Mrs. L. B. Whitehead for their work and flowers at Base Hospital 48 during the past year.

The program, in the form of a test on what the members have learned from the monthly programs during the past year, was given by the retiring program chairman, Mrs. Hub Huddleston. The winner will be announced at the next monthly meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Harris on Peachtree View.

The date of election of officers was changed from October to April to conform with the election of officers in the fifth district.

Two new members were received, Mrs. J. J. Stevens and Mrs. C. D. Grogan. Other members present were Mesdames Walter Adams, John Bass, J. W. Harris, Hub Huddleston, John O. Owen, Ira Pelfrey and J. R. Wright. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Harris.

Mr. Hastings Speaks To Hawthorn Club.

Hawthorn Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. A. D. Boylston on Wednesday, with Mrs. R. L. Alexander as co-hostess.

Stanley Hastings brought an interesting message concerning roses. The club purchased $10 worth of the wood stamps. Four new members were added to the club roll.

Mrs. E. L. Gifford Sr., Mrs. C. J. Lindstrom and Mrs. Fred Barre served lunch at the Garden Center on Thursday. Mrs. Forrest Gifford, Mrs. A. D. Boylston, Mrs. Fred Barre and Mrs. E. L. Gifford Jr., were winners in the monthly flower show. Mrs. T. A. Smith won the attendance prize. Mrs. Jester was a visitor.

Mrs. P. H. Swan and Mrs. S. H. Anderson will be co-hostesses for the December meeting.

Iris Garden Club Hears Mrs. Judd.

November meeting of Iris Garden Club was of unusual interest. Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw, an honorary member of the club, was the guest speaker. She is a recognized authority on iris and their culture. Her splendid paper gave names of many new iris and told of their adaptability to local soil and climate. Mrs. Judd presented the club with a rare iris rhizome "Deputy-Wombolt."

Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw conducted the meeting in the absence of the president and announced that the club had been awarded a blue ribbon and $25 at the flower show recently held by the Florist Association. The winning exhibit was arranged by Mrs. Allen Artley.

Mrs. Bolling Sassnet, garden chairman, told of plans to continue the beautification of the iris garden and asked for volunteers to plant 1,000 pansies.

An instructive paper on "Bulbs" was read by Mrs. Carson Sewell giving many timely suggestions on their selection, planting and care. Luncheon was served.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

By Mrs. Fletcher Pearson Crown, of Decatur, Ga.

Question: How do you make a compost pile?

Answer: I first dig a hole, usually about four feet square and two feet deep. Into this I place at least 18 inches of leaves. Over these I place an inch or so of the soil that I had taken out. Then add a generous sprinkling of Adeo, a chemical used to decay leaves, and also possessing some chemical fertilizing properties. Then I add more leaves, soil and Adeo, continuing as the leaves are raked. They quickly settle down, though your pile will be long before long be above the level of the ground. Keep a low place in the middle of the top in which water settles, helping to decay the leaves. Depending on your generosity with Adeo this compost will be ready for use in six months or a year.

Question: What fertilizer do you use at this time of the year?

Answer: Mostly bone meal and super-phosphate. They are both rich in phosphorus and low in nitrogen. We use it generously for our bulbs, bearded iris, peonies, shrubs and roses. This builds up great reserve strength for bloom in the spring. I have just bought 200 pounds and I will probably use more.

Question: What shall I do with my tuberoses this winter?

Answer: At some convenient time before a freeze comes dig them up with a clump of soil. Pack in a wooden box, then place in your basement. Never in your garage. Replant next spring. If you do not have a basement dig a hole 30 inches deep, place six inches of cinders in the bottom for drainage. Then put in the clumps of bulbs, covered with leaves.

er them to be entirely safe, mulch with leaves.

Question: Will you please have printed the little poem you read at the garden school on the last day.

Answer: With pleasure:

"My Garden."

My garden is a humble thing,
Made for a laborer, not a king.
The carrots growing at my feet
Are better than roses, tho' not so sweet.

Over yonder next to the wall
The pease and beans grow sturdy and tall.
But they make my poor and meek heart sing.

God bless my garden, bless the soil,
Bless all my weary hours of toil,
Bless the people in want and need
Whom my garden, some day, shall feed.

EVELYN KALL,
Campfire Girl.

Age 12 years.

Mrs. Hunnicutt Speaks At Whiteford Club.

Whiteford Garden Club members were recently entertained by Mrs. Carroll L. Smith. Mrs. W. L. Hunnicutt spoke on "Bulbs," and answered questions of when, how, where and why on bulbs that were brought by members for discussion; how to get the bloom at the right time, and when to feed for a different bloom time.

Mrs. S. P. Waites won the blue ribbon for the monthly exhibit of arrangements. Mrs. Homer McArthur second and Mrs. W. F. Carmichael third. For specimens, Mrs. McArthur first and Mrs. J. H. Hendricks second.

Members will participate in the jelly shower for the Grady hospital. Visitors were Miss Ellen Swann, Mrs. I. B. Pawley and Mrs. L. B. Hambrick. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. S. P. Waites at 1252 Har-

Dogwood Garden Club Holds Meeting

The November meeting of the Dogwood Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence H. Calhoun, of North Decatur road, with Mrs. E. C. Moore, as co-hostess. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Charles A. Moye, the president. An important feature was the appointment of the nominating committee. Reports were given by chairmen of standing committees, the attendance prize being won by Mrs. W. D. Alexander.

The flower arrangements brought by members were judged and awards were made as follows: Miniatures, first—Mrs. E. C. Moore; second—Mrs. R. T. Burnley; over six inches: First—Mrs. C. A. Moye; second—Mrs. R. D. Hewlett; third—Mrs. W. P. Sewell; over 12 inches: First—Mrs. Forrest Smith; second—Mrs. E. C. Moore; third—Mrs. W. P. Sewell. Mrs. John D. Evans was guest speaker and a social hour was enjoyed.

Amaryllis Garden Club Holds Meeting.

The Amaryllis Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Carl Freeman on Vannoy street, and Mrs. W. P. Irvine presided.

Mrs. George S. Poole was welcomed as a new member; Mrs. J. L. Veal read a paper on "The Amaryllis." Mrs. Irvine asked members to plant at least one bulb of this beautiful lily.

Mrs. Paul McGovern and Mrs. C. W. Heery, president and treasurer of fifth district of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, and M. S. Clark Tyson, of Grant Park Club, were present. Mrs. McGovern gave an interesting talk on the "Advantages of Being Federated." Mrs. Heery spoke on the dogwood stamp project.

The December meeting, in the form

Misses Hancock Honor Debutantes

A delightful compliment to Misses Belle Meador and Sarah Kenan, members of the debutante contingent, was the luncheon given yesterday by Misses Elizabeth and Florence Hancock.

The table was artistically decorated with a centerpiece of pastel shaded flowers, and lighted tapers in crystal candlesticks completed the appointments. Tiny place cards matching the flowers marked the places for the guests. Covers were laid for Misses Meador, Kenan, Mary Hurt, Jane Adair, Joyce Smith, Judy Beers, Florence and Elizabeth Hancock.

Christening Service.

In the presence of relatives and friends, Julia Durfee Parkins, 13-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Parkins, was christened at Holy Trinity Episcopal church in Decatur Sunday by the Rev. Charles Holding. The godmothers are Mrs. Eugene Parkins, grandmother of little Durfee, and Mrs. A. J. Burns, great-aunt of the baby. Her godfather is Robert L. Sparks. The beautiful handmade christening dress fashioned of white organza, lace, embroidery and white satin ribbon was made by and presented to Durfee by Miss Elizabeth Vernoy.

Silver Tea Planned.

A silver tea will be given by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Railway Mail Association Tuesday from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Roney, 538 Moreland avenue, for the benefit of the Needlework Guild. Garments made by the auxiliary will be on display. The public is invited.

of a Christmas party, will be held at the home of Mrs. Duncan on Stovall street.

Good Morning! Weather today and Monday: Generally fair and cooler.

PRE-THANKSGIVING BENEFIT

Sale...

we offer to you on a before-thanksgiving silver platter, fashions smart and right for the moment . . . we would have felt selfish indeed to have kept you waiting 'til after that eventful thursday of november for those perfect and delightful wearables so usable and beautiful for occasions during thanksgiving week and on and on thereafter . . .

small group of ensembles . . . 33 1/3% and 25% off were 49.50 to 225.00

sizes 12 to 20

group of dresses . . . 33 1/3% and 25% off
were 35.00 to 69.50
sizes 14 to 42

group of knitted suits 33 1/3% and 25% off
were 16.95 to 35.00
sizes 12 to 38

small group of . . .
dresses

10<sup>00</sup> were to 19.95
sizes 12 to 42

apparel shop . . .
second floor

a very representative group of practical dresses with many new models added to a group of earlier collection.

Regensteins
Peachtree Store
Atlanta

SNUGGLE 'EM IN WOOLENS...

and warm cottons

babies and tots...

let your precious lambs be snugly caressed in apparel suited to their royal highnesses . . . from tip to top our infants' shop is ready to assist in the gathering together of the daintiest and warmest of wearables for a wardrobe that will reflect the good taste of both mother and her devoted offspring . . .

1. 4-piece knitted set . . . special. 2.98 blue, pink, white, red, beige . . . sizes
1 to 3 years. other sets 3.98 to 5.95

2. snuggle rug, with zipper; blue, pink or white . . . 1.98
without hood . . . 1.98
with hood . . . 2.98

3. hand-knitted set . . . 7.95 made of fine wool and angora, poke bonnet or helmet . . . pink or blue.
sizes 9 months to 1 1/2 years.

also complete selection in . . .

sweaters . . . 1 to 3 years . . . 1.25, 1.98 daintily made in novelty weaves, some trimmed with angora . . . in soft pastels.

bootie sets . . . 1.98
made of fine knit with matching hood and booties . . .

infants' shop
third floor

LOVELY RECENT BRIDES AND ATTRACTIVE BRIDES-ELECT

Mrs. Temperance S. Davis is the former Miss Emily Walker, daughter of Mrs. J. Pressley Walker. Photo by Walter Neblett.

Mrs. Roby Robinson Jr. is the former Miss Louise Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Calhoun. Photo by Asano.

Miss Elizabeth Shorter Weyman whose engagement is announced to Alexander Yearley IV., of Baltimore and Atlanta. She is the daughter of Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman. Photo by Walter Neblett.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Gormley, of Cuthbert, whose engagement is announced to William David Kemp, of Jacksonville, the marriage to take place in December. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gormley.

Gormley-Kemp Betrothal Is Of Interest

CUTHBERT, Ga., Nov. 16.—Of interest to a host of friends in Georgia and Florida is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gormley, of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Gormley, and William David Kemp, of Jacksonville, Fla., which will be solemnized during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Gormley, who is of a lovely blonde type, has en-

Mrs. Harold W. Beers Jr., the former Miss Frances Haven, is pictured with her cousin, Miss Nancy Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, who was her maid of honor at her recent marriage. Photo by Walter Neblett.

Miss Churchill Houston, whose engagement is announced to Hendrik Reynolds Hudson, their marriage to take place December 21. She is the daughter of Mrs. Andrew Nichols Houston. Photo by Misses A. C. and L. W. Mead.

Miss Wood Weds Clovis Fisher.

SUMMERVILLE, Ga., Nov. 16.—Miss Drusilla Wood and Clovis Fisher were married Sunday, November 10 at Heflin, Ala. Mrs. Fisher is the daughter of L. P. Wood, agent for the Central of Georgia Railway at Summerville, and the late Mrs. Annie Glenn Wood. She is the sister of Miss Ava Louise Wood and Mrs. Roy Alexander and Louis P. Wood Jr., all of this city.

Mrs. Frank M. Fisher, and is the brother of Miss Florence Fisher and Alverson Fisher. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside here.

Holland-Weldon.

LAVONIA, Ga., Nov. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Weldon, of Lavonia, Ga., announce the marriage of their daughter, Martha Margaret, to Robert Mauldin Holland, of Lawrenceville, Ga., on November 10. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. H. Collins, at Winder, Ga.

Miss Everhart's Paintings Win Recognition in 'Revue Moderne'

By Sally Forth.

ATLANTA cherishes utmost pride in the cultural and artistic achievements of her own Adelaide Everhart, whose paintings have won international recognition. To Sally's desk comes a recent issue of La Revue Moderne, one of the leading artistic publications in France, in which high praise is made of Miss Everhart's work by Clement Morro in his article on "Les Artistes Vus Aux Recentes Expositions."

It is translated as follows: "It is the portrait under all forms, portraits of contemporary personages, or to the contrary, antique or legendary subjects, which constitute the special domain where Miss Adelaide Everhart exercises her talent. She goes aside at times to study landscapes or flowers but it is again the human model, 'The Ancestor,' which she shows in the New York salon. Her paintings have the easy graciousness of our masters of the eighteenth century."

"Her portraits are not only profound studies of character, which alone would make them fully appreciated by the friends of the model, but they please also themselves by the delicacy and ease of their rendering. She remains one of the champions of traditional painting, which doctrine she continues with much charm."

Another French publication, Les Artistes d'aujourd'hui, also gives high praise and comment of her work along with publication of her painting, "Fates, Daughters of Night." It is as follows: "Adelaide Everhart has recently shown at the 'Independents' of New York two pictures that are quite remarkable, 'October Roses' and "Fates, Daughters of Night." They reveal an exquisite taste; that taste is revealed through the charming details which they have been painted, through warm atmosphere in which swim, through its fluidity that is so light that it seems, so to say, breathable, and which is its characteristic principle."

"Adelaide Everhart is a modern artist; her chief preoccupation above all is the mystery of form,

Shorter Alumnae To Give Breakfast

The Shorter College Alumnae Association will hold the annual alumnae breakfast at the Biltmore hotel on November 23 at 11:30 o'clock. The general alumnae president, Mrs. J. J. Clapp, of Tifton, will preside, and introduce the speakers, Mrs. Nelson Martin, of Atlanta, president of the local chapter, who will give the address of welcome, and Dr. Paul M. Cousins, president of Shorter College, who will bring a message from the school, and Miss Louise Bennett, general alumnae secretary.

Miss Helen Knox Spain and Miss Martha Galt, of Canton, are in charge of the program for the occasion which will be a surprise feature. All members of the alumnae organizations throughout the state are urged to make reservations. The luncheon committee will be Mrs. Theo Forbes and Mrs. Harry Callaway. Atlanta chapter members may make reservations by calling Mrs. Nelson Martin, Dearborn 2038.

light, tone, she is painting from deeply felt and analyzed sensations. Her work is full, free but refined. Her effects are striking without being strong and chiefly without being overdone. There is in it a kind of phosphorescence which is the effect of a harmoniously regulated palette and which adds an incomparable charm to the picture as a whole. The famous saying, "Words fail," is clearly adaptable in this case, for Sally feels that the aforementioned comments on the work of Miss Everhart are sufficient. However, Sally does know that the artist is a charming person, whose delightful personality and radiant smile is part of her wonderful talent, and who expresses her high ideals and thoughts on canvas which benefit those who are not fortunate to know her personally.

It is not only in French circles that Miss Everhart's work is known, for here in America her name appears in "Who's Who in Art" in the American Art Annual and also "American Women," and listing some 25 of her paintings which hang in public buildings in Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky, North Carolina. Both publications are at the Carnegie library.

THE social annals of Atlanta recorded a new peak in brilliance and beauty at the Riley-Boland wedding on Thursday evening, as most of society can testify. Not one detail was overlooked in the perfection of the plans, and certainly no bride was ever lovelier!

The date carried particular significance for the charming bride, as it marked the wedding anniversary of her maternal grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Norfleet, of Memphis, Tenn. And, of course, you know that it was from this grandmother that she inherited her name, Octavia Norfleet.

A detail of the perfect bridal ensemble, which you failed to see, perhaps, was the gorgeous diamond and platinum bracelet, the gift of the groom. It was fashioned with a filigree design studded in baguette diamonds set between two rows of square-cut stones. The bride's gifts to her attendants were handsome white and gold compacts, with the initials of each lettered in gold upon the white enamel.

It seems that even the most modern bride heeds the age-old superstition of "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." In assembling her wedding array, And Octavia was no exception. For the old and borrowed something, she carried an exquisite rose-point lace handkerchief which was used by her mother, Mrs. James L. Riley, at her wedding. For the something blue, she wore in the heel of her slipper a tiny blue enameled four-leaf clover set by a close friend for that very purpose. And to bring her double luck, she wore in the other slipper a shiny new dime, contributed by Gene Lee—a custom which almost amounts to a tradition with Atlanta brides.

FOR once in her life, a prominent Atlanta matron found herself in a situation when words failed her. She is the mother of a popular debutante who is being feted at a number of grand parties. One day recently her part-time yardman called to be instructed for work to do. The matron informed him that right at present she would have to confine his work to the front yard. Expenses were running high, she explained, for her daughter was making her debut.

"Yes, ma'am," he said, "I know just how you feel, 'cause I've got two girls coming out this year!"

PUNCH bows hewn out of huge blocks of ice intrigued the fancy of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Boland's guests when they entertained members of the Riley-Boland bridal personnel at the Driving Club last Wednesday.

You recall that the party followed the church rehearsal and preceded the marriage of Miss Octavia Riley and Dr. Kells Boland Jr. Pink roses were frozen in the glittering ice and the center of the block was scooped out to form the deep bowl, which was filled with delectable and sparkling champagne punch.

GLIMPSED here and there: Mrs. Charles Damrau wears red gloves to match a red bow tied beneath her chin and a saucy red hat perched atop her smartly coiffed gray hair, to offset her black crepe costume. Blondly beautiful Eleanor Gray looked like a fairy princess in her debut gown of gold brocade. June Spalding wears a cluster of Palmer violets with a blue velvet tulle. Mrs. Robert L. Cooney wore a tiny red flower in her hair at the party given for Eleanor Gray, that was exceedingly becoming to this charming Atlantian, and corresponded with the color of her changeable taffeta costume. Mrs. Robert H. White wears long gold earrings with a cloth of gold evening gown. Mrs. Anthony Drexel looks very regal in black velvet.

Attractive Newcomer and Her Children

Mrs. Lawrence J. McEvoy and her handsome young sons, Lawrence Jr., at the left, and Peter, who have recently arrived from Germantown, Pa., to spend some time in the city. Mr. and Mrs. McEvoy and their interesting family are residing at 1050 Ponce de Leon avenue and are being welcomed by a host of friends made on a former visit here. Photo by Walton Reeves.

Center Hill O. E. S. will celebrate its thirteenth anniversary Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple, on Bankhead highway. Honor guests will be Mrs. Julia J. Turner, past grand matron; Miss Ethel Jackson, grand lecturer, and past matrons, past patrons of Center Hill chapter. Members invited to attend by Worthy Matron

PERSONALS

Henry Grady Jr. is confined to his home at 1731 Peachtree road with an attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Darst and Miss Trex Bird are spending the week-end in Birmingham as the guest of their brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Chapman, and attended the Tech-Alabama game Saturday.

Mrs. Moreland Speer, Mrs. W. P. Smith, of Decatur, and Mrs. Kirby-Smith Anderson, of Madison, leave Monday for Hot Springs, Ark., to attend the general U. D. C. convention, which opens on November 19.

Miss Rosemary Townley has returned from Madison, Wis., where she attended homecoming week at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Black Jr. return on Sunday to New York city, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Grady Black on Roxboro road. Mrs. Black is the former Miss Suzanne Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Heath. Mr. and Mrs. Black are former Atlantians, and are exceedingly popular here.

A. B. Hughes returned Friday to his home in Pittsburgh, Pa., after spending the week with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Hughes, at 827 Frye street.

Mrs. Don Pardee left yesterday for New York city where she will spend several weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Newberry have returned from California where Dr. Newberry attended the meeting of the American College of Surgeons.

Mrs. Forrest Kibler, Mrs. W. M. Carmichael and Miss Martha Carmichael will leave today for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will attend guests at the Arlington hotel during the general convention of the United Daughters of Confederacy.

Mrs. Martha Sessions, Worthy Patron Jason A. Tuggle, and the secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Smith.

Gormley-Kemp Betrothal of Interest

Continued from Page Six.

joyed wide popularity both in her home state and in Florida, where she has been an admired member of the younger set. She received her education in the schools of Culbert and later spent several years in Washington, D. C., with her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Patterson. While there she completed a course at the Washington School for Secretaries.

Mr. Kemp is an honor graduate of the University of Florida. He received the award of the Fine Arts Society at the university, given each year to the outstanding senior, from the school of architecture and allied arts, the award being based on scholarship, leadership, ability and character. He was the founder of the Fine Arts Society, vice president of the inter-fraternity conference, vice president of Gargoyles, president for two terms of Sigma Chi Epsilon, social fraternity, and was active in a number of other extra-curricular affairs. Mr. Kemp holds a responsible position with Roy A. Benjamin, architect, with offices located in Jacksonville. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Kemp, of New Berlin, Fla.

STODDARDIZE

It saves your clothes and keeps them looking their very best

MAN'S TOPCOAT
or SUIT or LADIES'
DRESS or COAT

50¢

Delivery Service 65c—Phone HE. 8900

Stoddard
CLEANERS

Don't Be Fat!

says IRENE RICH
Lovely Lady of the Screen

"DRINK 4 GLASSES OF WELCH'S DAILY EAT SENSIBLY THAT'S ALL!"

Tests, under a leading doctor's direction, prove that now you can safely lose fat the Welch way—pleasantly, too—without diet or exercise. Simply mix Welch's with glass plain water. Drink a glassful before every meal and one before retiring. Then eat sensibly—that's all! Weight goes down; you actually build quick new energy at same time. So there's no strain, no discomfort. Soon you look—and feel—like a new person!

The reason is simple. For the grape sugar in delicious Welch's Grape Juice is the same kind the blood uses for energy. It is quickly, easily burned. It not only helps the body burn up fat, but also satisfies craving for rich, sweet foods. Hence, it helps you lose weight naturally. Get Welch's from your dealer today. Drink 4 glasses a day—eat sensibly. Keep fatigue and fat away.

Beware of Cheap Substitutes Get only genuine Welch's. For the secret Welch process retains the essential healthful properties of ripe Concord Grapes. Welch's is one grape juice that is Certified-Pure, Pasteurized; contains no adulterants, no artificial coloring, no preservatives, no added water. Always full strength. Can be diluted and still be delicious. Hence Welch's goes farther, too. Ask for it by name.

Irene Rich, past 40, still has her slim, lovely figure of 16.

DIRECTIONS FOR TAKING WELCH'S

by DR. FREDERIC DAMRAU, 247 Park Ave., New York

Welch's Grape Juice is a wonderful blood, body builder. Gives buoyant energy. Drink all you want between meals—follow directions below for specific uses.

FOR REDUCING WEIGHT

Eat sensibly—drink a glass of Welch's (3 parts to 1 part water) before meals and before retiring. If faint between meals, drink another glass.

FOR GROWING CHILDREN

Give them 1/2 glass of Welch's at end of lunch and dinner—between meals, too, instead of sweets. Give undiluted to help build red blood, strong bones and teeth.

FOR TIRED, DULL FEELING

When fatigued, drink Welch's (3 parts to 1 part water). Quickly restores energy and relieves fatigue.

FOR EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Drink glass of Welch's (3 parts to 1 part water) after lunch and dinner, or between-meals when energy is low. Helps build blood, bones and teeth for the child. Excellent for nursing mothers, too.

QUICK NEW ENERGY FOR MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN!

Muska headquarters for boys ZIPPER POLO SHIRTS

Long sleeves . . . Ages 8 to 18

$1

—a new, practical shirt for boys in grand, new color combinations.

SALE!

Muska Shoes for ladies

All suede and suede combination

Regularly $10.50 $7.85

Regularly $8.50 $6.45

Regularly $6.50 $4.85

Drastically reduced in three groups to insure quick clearance.

Geo. Muse Clothing Co.

The Style Center of the South

—fourth floor

starting tomorrow!

All Suits Reduced!

Muska Fifth Floor

	Formerly	Now
Green 2-pc. Suit, size 12, trimmed French Beaver	$45.00	$33.00
Marine Blue 2-pc. Suit, size 14, trimmed Krimmer	$49.75	$33.00
Black 2-pc. Suit, size 14, trimmed Persian . . . .	$45.00	$33.00
Wine 2-pc. Suit, size 16, trimmed Krimmer . . . .	$49.75	$33.00
Brown 2-pc. Suit, size 18, trimmed Jap Mink . . .	$45.00	$33.00
Blue Plaid 3-pc. Suit, size 18, trimmed Raccoon	$49.75	$33.00
Brown Tweed 3-pc. Suit, size 20, trimmed Raccoon	$45.00	$33.00
Black 2-pc. Suit, size 14, trimmed Persian . . . .	$69.75	$58.00
Black 2-pc. Suit, size 18, trimmed Kolinsky . . .	$69.75	$58.00
Black 3-pc. Suit, size 16, untrimmed . . . . .	$69.75	$58.00
Olivine 2-pc. Suit, size 14, trimmed Kolinsky . .	$89.75	$68.00
Blue 2-pc. Suit, size 14, trimmed grey Persian . .	$99.75	$68.00
Brown 2-pc. Suit, size 16, trimmed Ermine . . . .	$89.75	$68.00
Natural 2-pc. Suit, size 12, trimmed Lynx . . . . .	$89.75	$68.00
Brown 2-pc. Suit, size 16, trimmed Lynx . . . . .	$89.75	$68.00
Green 3-pc. Suit, size 16, trimmed Blue Fox . . .	$129.75	$98.00
Purple 3-pc. Suit, size 20, trimmed Dyed
White Fox . . . . .	$139.75	$98.00
Black 2-pc. Suit, size 18, trimmed Persian . . . .	$119.75	$98.00

Why Wait? "After-Thanksgiving Prices" now in effect on all TOWNLEY SUITS

Geo. Muse Clothing Co.

The Style Center of the South

TUNE IN WSB 7:00 P. M. Thrilling radio dramas starring IRENE RICH
FRIDAY NIGHTS
WELCH GRAPE JUICE CO., WESTFIELD, N. Y.

WELCH'S GRAPE JUICE

Edwards-Trammell Rites Solemnized In Cedartown, Ga.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Nov. 16.—Characterized by beauty and dignity was the afternoon ceremony on Friday at which Miss Sara Amelia Edwards became the bride of Edwin Godfrey Trammell, of Covington. The marriage service, which took place in the First Baptist church, was read by Rev. H. H. Stenbridge.

Ferns, palms and smilax banked the altar. On either side were tall baskets filled with white chrysanthemums and plumose ferns altered with floor standards holding burning tapers. A musical program was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Falte on the violin and piano, and Mrs. Edmund Yeargan, of Rome, soloist.

The bride entered with her father, Dr. W. T. Edwards, who gave her in marriage. Her slender, brunet beauty was enhanced by her exquisite bridal robe of cream satin and Chantilly lace made along princess lines. The long train was draped from the lace jacket, and the wedding veil of tulle was fashioned to the bride's hair with sprays of orange blossoms. The lace jacket and train were a part of the wedding gown of Mrs. John Van Linder, of Greensboro, N. C., the former Miss Virginia Hall, of Cedartown, in whose wedding the bride served as bridesmaid. She carried an arm bouquet of valley lilies. The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, N. S. Turner Jr., of Covington.

The bride's attendants were Miss Mary Lee Johnston, of Canton, and maid of honor, and Mrs. J. R. Bell, of Monroe, matron of honor, the bridesmaids including Miss Bessie Walker Calloway, of LaGrange; Miss Elizabeth Van Deventer, of Polk City, Ala.; Miss Betty Adams Ault, of Cedartown, and Mrs. R. R. Fowler, of Covington. The groomsmen were Dr. W. T. Edwards Jr., of Baltimore, Md.; Robert Eckles, of Social Circle; E. C. Benton Jr., of Atlanta; J. Springer Wood, of Cedartown, and Jack Neal, of Covington.

The costumes of the bride's attendants were all fashioned alike, of aquamarine tissue taffeta cut princess style with floor-length skirts. Completing the ensembles were quaint off-the-face bonnets of aquamarine, and bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with gold ribbon.

Following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Edwards entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests at their home on College street. The bride's mother wore black lace and satin with a shoulder spray of orchids. Mrs. Trammell, mother of the groom, wore black velvet with a shoulder spray of lavender orchids.

The bride's going-away costume was gray tweed with fox collar and trimmings, a hat of gray felt and gray accessories.

After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Trammell will be at home in Covington, where he is connected with the Godfrey-Chandler Wholesale Corporation.

Miss Merry Feted At Club Party.

Miss Virginia Merry, popular debutante, was the central figure yesterday at the bridge-tee given by Mrs. Charles Mullings and Mrs. Charles Mullings Jr., at the East Lake Country Club.

Following the bridge game, tea was served. The long tea table was decorated with quantities of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Present were Misses Dixie Woolford, Margaret Walker, Eugenia Snow, Jane Adair, Elizabeth Spaulding, Claudine Snow, Rosebud Leide, Judy Beers, Rebecca Young, Susan Jones, Sarah Kenan, Marjorie Carmichael, Margaret McCarty and Lamar Peschman, and Messdames Bryant Sells, John Bowman and Roy Merry.

Miss Sylvia Berman, of Anniston, To Wed Dr. Herman Leon Rosen

MISS SYLVIA BERMAN.

ANNISTON, Ala., Nov. 16.—Of cordial interest is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Berman of the betrothal of their daughter, Sylvia Mae, to Dr. Herman Leon Rosen.

Miss Berman attended Vanderbilt University in Nashville and Northwestern University in Evanston. She is a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi society. The engagement is the culmination of a romance that began when Miss Berman was a freshman and Dr. Rosen a junior in the medical school.

Miss Berman has visited often in Atlanta, Ga., as the guest of maternal uncles, Ben J. Samuel A., and L. J. Massell, and her aunt, Mrs. Ben P. May. She has endeavored herself to a wide circle of friends because of her beauty and charm. She is a sister of Farley L. Berman.

The marriage of the popular young couple will take place December 9.

Last Sunday at the home of the Rev. M. M. Maxwell, pastor of the First Methodist church, in Griffin, later the bride was joined by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Tanner, of Atlanta, and Mr. Newby was joined by his daughter, Miss Mary Newby, of Converse, both of whom accompanied them to Vero Beach, Fla., where they will reside. Mrs. Newby is a native of Wrightsville, Ga., where she received her early education. She later attended Bessie Tift College in Forsyth, and has been residing in Griffin for some time, holding a responsible position with the J. C. Penney Company. Mr. Newby is a retired druggist, having been a prominent citizen of Converse and popular in business and social circles there.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Virginia Gertrude Lamb and Joe Ballard, of near Griffin, which was solemnized Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Elder, in Birdie. The Rev. L. P. Hucksby performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends.

Mrs. Annie Snider and Charlie Lamar Cordell married Saturday in a quiet ceremony taking place at the home of Judge Steve B. Wallace, ordinary of Spalding county, who officiated in the presence of a few friends. The bride was a smart model of black crepe trimmed in black lace, black accessories and a shoulder spray of sweetheart roses. After a trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cordell will reside in Griffin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Brown and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lillian Cordell and the late Oscar Cordell.

Miss Martha Kate Mallory and A. J. Shepherd, of Spalding county, married Saturday, with the Rev. C. B. Bullard, pastor of the Second Baptist church, officiating at his home in Griffin. Mr. Shepherd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, also of near Griffin. Mr. Shepherd and his bride are popular members of their set and will return to Griffin for residence.

Miss Hassie Gunter, formerly of Griffin, and Charlie Butler, of Thomaston, married in Thomaston Sunday. The Rev. Post, Baptist minister, officiated at his home. The bride wore a fall model of rust crepe with brown accessories. After a trip to Florida Mr. and Mrs. Butler will reside in Thomaston. Mrs. Butler formerly lived in Griffin with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, and has many friends here. Mr. Butler is a native of Fitzgerald.

Miss Anne Walker Weds Leon Harrison.

The marriage of Miss Anne Walker and Leon Harrison took place Sunday evening at the Hapeville Presbyterian church.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums in tall pedestal baskets, against a background of palms and ferns, formed a beautiful setting for the marriage vows. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. J. B. Thrallkill, pastor of the First Methodist church, in Buford.

Nuptial music was played by John Ness and Miss Louise Landers. The bride was given in marriage by her father, W. A. Walker, and her only attendant was Mrs. L. C. Johnson. Mr. Harrison had as his best man his brother, W. T. Harrison, and L. C. Johnson and Elvis Hopper acted as ushers.

Mrs. Johnson was gowning in a black and white crepe ensemble with accessories to match. Her flowers were pink roses and baby breaths.

The bride, who is a beautiful brunette, was lovely wearing reminiscence blue crepe in two-piece effect, gathered at the neck and caught with rhinestone clips. Her hat was an off-face model of velvet of the same shade. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and tulle roses.

The bride is a graduate of Russell High school. Mr. Harrison is a Fulton High school graduate. They will reside at 774 Central avenue, Hapeville.

West—Emerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie West, of Decatur, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Katherine West, to Robert Alton Emerson, of Winnipeg, Canada, which was solemnized quietly on November 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Baird in Revelstoke, British Columbia, close friends of the groom.

After a wedding trip to Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson will reside in Revelstoke.

FINAL WEEK

Just say "Annual DRIVE for Haverly's NEW ACCOUNTS - Charge Lt.!"

The entire Haverly Organization is trained to the realization that their first obligation is to the customer. For this reason the second and third generations are still Haverly customers. If you are not familiar with the Haverly quality, tomorrow will be an opportunity to open an account, then you, too, will see why Haverly has over 3,000,000 satisfied customers.

It's Easy to Pay the Haverly Way

$29.50 Tapestry Brussels, $19.95
Pleasing new color combinations suitable for any room in the home. You'll appreciate their beauty once you use them. $1.00 CASH, $1.00 WEEKLY

9x12 Seamless Velvet Rug, Specially Priced $29.95
We are offering you a fine fringed velvet rug in several patterns at a very special price. Available for any room. $1.00 CASH, $1.00 WEEKLY

9x12 Seamless Axminster Rugs $39.95
Heavy-grade seamless Oriental reproductions. Magnificent patterns to select from. Rich in color, closely woven. Buy one today. The limited quantity lasts. $1.00 CASH, $1.00 WEEKLY

1936 Philco All-Wave RADIO $66
Hear those exciting American and foreign stations. Clear tone. Power to hold stations tuned-in. Lovely walnut cabinet adds charm to your room. 5 DAYS' FREE TRIAL

Coil Spring Studio Couch $29.95
Comfortable sofa for day or luxurious double or twin beds at night. Rustic or green damask to select from. $1.00 WEEKLY

Kitchen Cabinet $29.95
Rates making headless steps. Makes kitchen work easier. Rustifying the kitchen with its lovely and free finish. Free. Monday only. 32-piece dinner set. $1.00 WEEKLY

Florence Gas Range $49.50
The new table-top range is more beautiful and convenient than ever before. Large storage space. Green and ivory porcelain finish. $1.00 WEEKLY

Coal Range 15-Pc. Aluminum Set $49.50
Years of hard service and perfect cooking are built into these ranges. Monday, free. $1.00 WEEKLY

Your Last chance

5c a Day Buys a Beautyrest
Here's a mighty 5c Purchase Plan—a little nickel with a purchasing power so great that it enables you to sleep like a "millionaire"—to purchase radiant health and luxurious comfort for years to come—merely by dropping 5c a day in this attractive Thrift Bank, pictured below, WHICH WE WILL GIVE YOU.

HAVERLY FURNITURE CO., 22 Edgewood Ave., Atlanta, Ga. Please send me the Simmons Beautyrest Mattress in color as advertised November 17th. I wish to pay the balance on my budget bank plan. NAME _____ STREET _____ CITY _____ PLEASE SEND NO MONEY (C)

Large Cedar Chest $9.95
Nicely finished and made of solid Tennessee red cedar. Just right for the young ladies. $1.00 WEEKLY

6x9 Congoleum Rugs Only $3.95
Large selection to pick from. All colors, floral, blocks and broken tile patterns. $1.00 WEEKLY

Fine, Modern, at Astounding Savings--Only $68.88
Buy to greater advantage now than ever before—or likely ever again! Lovely Oriental matched Walnut. Exact photograph gives unusual beauty and design of this charming suite. Save money on this value Monday!

A Wonderful Value--5-Pc. KROEHLER-Made $78.88
Think of it! A Kroehler built suite with two lounge pillows and Ottoman included, all upholstered in the season's newest fabrics for only $78.88! Come and see the beautiful carved frame and feel the soft luxury of the cushions.

$1.50 Weekly or $6.00 Monthly

$1 DOWN
Delivers This Powerful Circulator $19.95
Be prepared for the real cold weather when it comes. This powerful circulator will give you plenty of beautiful heat, and is very efficient and economical.

Pay Balance $1.00 Weekly

Double Blankets $1.95
Soft, fleecy blankets. Only a limited number to be sold at this unusually low price. 25c WEEKLY

Chintz Boudoir Chair $3.33
New charming chintz designs in the latest colors. Floral or striped patterns. 25c WEEKLY

25c Delivers
$2.95 BABY HIGH Chair. Your choice of finish.
$3.88 $6.95 WALNUT TELEPHONE TABLES with stool.
$3.88 $4.95 FIDDLE BACK CHAIRS. Choice of finish.
$3.95 $6.95 METAL DISH CABINET. Green or white.
$4.44 $7.50 FULL-SIZE or TWIN COIL SPRING.
$4.44 $6.95 SOFT, FLUFFY COMFORTS, SPECIALLY PRICED.

25c Weekly Pays for

45c Delivers
$6.66 $9.50 BEAUTIFUL DUNCAN PHYFE COFFEE TABLE.
$6.66 $9.95 REFLECTOR STUDENT LAMP. BRONZE FINISH.
$6.66 $8.50 OIL HEATERS. Ideal for bedrooms and cool mornings.
$7.77 $12.50 HEAVY MASSIVE OCCASIONAL CHAIR. Choice of covers.
$7.77 $12.50 5-PIECE UNFINISHED BREAKFAST SUITE. Ready for finishing.
$7.95 $10.95 FULL-SIZE COTTON-FILLED MATTRESS. Special.
$7.95 $12.50 SIMMONS BABY CRIB with adjustable side.
$9.99 $14.50 MAPLE OR WALNUT SPOOL BED, either double or twin size.

50c Weekly Pays for

95c Delivers
$14.44 $19.50 WALNUT CHEST OF DRAWERS.
$18.88 $27.50 3-PIECE METAL BED OUTFIT. Complete.
$19.50 $29.50 WALNUT CEDAR CHEST. Beautifully finished.
$19.95 $29.50 MAPLE OR WALNUT COLONIAL SECRETARY. Only.
$28.88 $44.50 DUNCAN PHYFE SOFA. Choice of covers.
$29.95 $39.50 WALNUT MIRROR DOOR CHIFFONIER.
$38.88 $59.50 3-PIECE LIVING ROOM SUITE in tapestry.
$38.88 $59.50 3-Pc. WALNUT BEDROOM SUITE.
$44.95 $59.50 4-BURNER OIL RANGE. Green and ivory.

$1 Weekly Pays for

DUNLAP PRESENTS

The Horoscope

$6.75

To Dunlap goes the credit for designing America's most unique and charming individuality hat. The Dunlap Horoscope carries on its trip a charming meditation of your Zodiac sign and color. The inner band is embossed with all the Zodiac signs. Add these details to a fine felt with the pointed crown and you have the most adorable hat of the season.

Colors
BLACK—BRONZINE
BROWN—FORESTGREEN
NAVY—HIGH COLORS

Exclusive Agents for DUNLAP HATS In Atlanta

PEACHTREE at ELLIS

HAVERLY FURNITURE COMPANY.
Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor St. Just a Few Steps From 5 Points Phone WALnut 2906-0208-09

SCREEN & RADIO WEEKLY

Irene Dunne

Section of
THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION
November 17, 1935

THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER

Personal, but Not Confidential

ROBERT YOUNG

had never been to New York until recently when he and Mrs. Young went East on a vacation.

Now that they have returned home, they are wondering whether or not they had a good time. To say they were impressed is putting it mildly. They were overwhelmed with the skyscrapers and all the other features of the metropolis.

Arriving at the Waldorf-Astoria, they were met and welcomed by a dignified manager who pointed out the various highlights of the hotel, accompanying them to their suite on the thirtieth floor or thereabouts. Looking from the window at the people crawling about below, resembling ants intent on getting somewhere, the Youngs shivered in their shoes while trying to appear nonchalant.

Believing they had been personally conducted by at least the chief director, if not the owner himself, they were slightly crushed to discover his name on the hotel brochure numbered eighteenth on the list of factotums.

After bell boys, manager and floor manager had departed, they investigated all the modern gadgets, peered again from the windows, looked at each other and burst into shrieks of laughter. They suddenly realized that while people in their own home town might ask the actor for autographs, nobody in New York knew him or cared because he was there.

Nervous about going out into the streets and not knowing the ropes, they decided to call the only person they knew in New York, a man by the name of O'Brien, whose address they didn't know. When they found the O'Briens in the New York telephone book, they threw up their hands, but picked out eight that might be possibilities. Each of the eight responded with a different accent—none belonging to their friend.

The next day was Mrs. Young's birthday. After considering the proposition from all angles they decided to spend the money usually attached to a birthday gift on a long distance phone call to Los Angeles. Through the phone and Hollywood friends they got the name of the right O'Brien and he showed them the town.

Back in Hollywood, they try to give themselves the proper New York sophisticated airs and talk glibly about the plays and the night spots, but with their intimates they break down and confess all.

Mae West always gets her man. An argument arose as to her director. She wanted Raoul Walsh; Paramount had somebody else in mind. Raoul Walsh is directing "Klondike Lou."

Incidentally, Miss West has a social secretary. His name is Marcelle Ventura. He was formerly the California representative of the King of Spain.

WALLACE BEERY has a portable dressing room on the set of "Ah, Wilderness," where he is working with Lionel Barrymore. Yesterday they were doing one of the key scenes in the picture, the dinner scene in which Wallace as Uncle Syd, returns to the bosom of the family in a maudlin condition from wine.

When not working, Wally locks the door of his dressing room and takes a nap; his radio program keeps him rehearsing until quite late every night. Called to the set, he tousles his hair slightly and romps out, ready to do his stuff.

In the dinner scene he looked more maudlin than he otherwise would because of having just awakened from an hour of good, sound sleep. The soup course was in progress and the family was called on to eat it. It was a good tomato soup, steaming hot, and while the lights were being arranged for the action Wally sat down in front of his bowl and proceeded to light into it and eat up the soup.

From the sidelines I wondered about it, but thought he probably knew what he was doing until suddenly the property man yelled: "Hey, Mr. Beery, don't eat that soup! We won't have enough left for the scene!"

"Gosh, I forgot. I sure like tomato soup," explained Beery, looking like a small boy caught in the jam.

By Grace Wilcox

Screen and Radio Hollywood Bureau

Lyle Talbot is wondering whether or not he is being spoofed, or whether one of his correspondents is actually an inmate of a private mental sanitarium in the East.

For some time he has been receiving letters from this fan on stationery indicating his residence in a well known institution for the mildly insane. Lately, he has been claiming that Lyle is his brother and implores him to come and get him out of the place.

His last letter closes: "You know deep in your heart I will do the same for you whenever you are confined here."

* * *

ON Sunset Boulevard is the graveyard of many expensive foreign cars. Huddled together like refugees on a desert island they stand in forlorn splendor, their past glories forgotten, their days of victory dead.

They have stories to tell, these expensive relics of a bygone yesterday—these Hispana Suezas, Rolls Royces, Dusenbergs and Isotta Franchinis. Wrapped in frayed elegance, they keep their secrets to themselves.

Bob Montgomery is the only one who pauses and examines them. He is a complete fanatic on motor cars and whenever he passes he stops his new Bentley and looks at them reflectively. They seem to hold a fascination for him.

Over at Warner Bros. Leslie Howard sneaks away between shots to stroll casually, but with the proud light of ownership in his eyes, past his new Bentley, black, silver, sleek and shining, which he has recently brought from England with him.

Watching over it with loving care, one of the studio policemen never tires of extolling its good and unusual points and telling how much it cost. "Three thousand dollars plus 10 per cent import duties and $300 shipping charges," he explains.

* * *

Helen Twelvetees and her young son have sailed away for Australia, where the actress will be starred in a picture called "Thorobred" for Cine-Sound, an Australian film company. She will be gone 12 weeks and just before leaving she asked the newspaper people not to divorce her until she got back—as she has every intention of returning to her husband, Jack Woody. "It is what is known as a financial separation," she announced.

* * *

Otis Wiles, of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer publicity staff, is having a lot of fun these days. He has been assigned to the "Great Ziegfeld," and after "Mutiny on the Bounty" it is a great change.

Recently he prepared a questionnaire to be filled out by the Ziegfeld show girls, and in it he included practically everything that could be used in publicizing their pulchritude and past performances in the show business.

Under this suggestion: "What is your favorite recipe?" Otis received the following enlightening answer: "Spanish."

When he asked whom they considered the greatest man alive today, one of them replied: "The father of the Dionne quintuplets."

* * *

Bette Davis, co-starring with Leslie Howard in "Petrified Forest," has been looking for a mountain or lake home in the New England States.

Her in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon O. Nelson, Sr., are looking into real estate values for their famous daughter-in-law and their musician son. Recently Miss Davis wired them to investigate a 125-acre farm with large Colonial house, located at Dudley, Mass., on Webster Lake, near the birthplace of young Harmon.

"If my parents-in-law decide it is a good buy," says Bette, "the deal is made. Both Harmon and I have long wanted a New England place."

ROSALIND RUSSELL

tries not to live a dull life and from all one hears she succeeds in "brightening the corner" where she is on all occasions.

Recently the studio called her, only to discover she was up in the Salinas country on a round-up with a bunch of cow hands. She had donned overalls and joined the punchers. They rode miles each day and had no idea the girl with them was a moving picture actress. As a matter of fact, they probably thought she was crazy to go in for such a heavy pull of work.

It seems she had many qualms about her work with William Powell in "Rendezvous." The truth is, the studio wasn't at all certain whether the picture would go over well, so they sneaked a preview out in Bellview Gardens, which is the last outpost so far as Hollywood is concerned.

There is an unwritten but very well established law in the studios that no stars or players are allowed when they sneak a preview. The idea is that the picture must be re-cut and that it isn't fair for them to see themselves at a disadvantage, especially as they are likely to blow up and become annoyed.

Miss Russell, however, learned of the sneak on "Rendezvous" and the theater manager was slightly provoked when a middle-aged woman with graying hair, wearing glasses and the customary Bellview costume, which is plain and neat, seemed to be all over the place. Her eyes squinted and she peered everywhere. After the picture she went up to the producer, director and other studio heads present and stared at them in a more or less offensive manner. Finally, she flounced out, as if pretty mad about everything.

The next morning Miss Russell called them up and told them she objected to smiling at her associates and having them cut her! Not a soul had recognized her.

Fearing the worst, she boarded a plane immediately after the press preview of "Rendezvous" and executives had to wire her that her picture was a great success.

* * *

Whenever Warner Baxter and Janet Gaynor have a vacation, they pack their suitcases and depart for Honolulu. The other night Mr. and Mrs. Baxter invited Janet, her mother, Frances Deaner, and Margaret Lindsey over for dinner. Everything was done in the Hawaiian manner, and the entire conversation was directed toward the Islands and their charms.

Later in the evening, Evelyn Laye and Frank Lawton came in and Miss Laye sang an Hawaiian song. Miss Gaynor did her famous native dance, learned while on the Islands. Warner Baxter then produced his big surprise. While in Honolulu, he took an entre travelog with his 16 millimeter camera and this he flung on the screen, causing everybody to become homesick. A pact was formed in which each one promised to make a trip to the Islands before the end of 1936.

* * *

PAUL LUKAS

takes his tennis seriously.

Playing with such celebrities as Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Owen, Edmund Goulding, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bellamy, Charles Farrell and others at the Racquet Club in Palm Springs, Lukas threatens each player who makes a bad play with sudden and painful consequences. It has now become something of a sport to get Lukas' goat in order to hear him go off into a picturesque rage. As a matter of fact, Lukas mad as a hornet is an enthralling sight.

Things haven't started to tootle much in Palm Springs as yet. The resort is beginning to come to after a hot summer, but Southern California has remained too warm for desert comfort this fall. However, there is much building and many new roads, and one of the sights of the place is a group of small boys who stand by, offering to help motorists out of the sand for a quarter. It would surprise you to see the number of famous names pushing their cars out of sand pits from roads under construction.

She Ritzes the Stars - - - - - By Edith Dietz

Molly Lamont, from South Africa, Profits from a Career as an Extra

FIVE years ago Molly Lamont was studying ballet and giving dancing lessons to a few of the socially elect of Johannesburg.

She didn't win a sweepstakes, but a film contest for the whole of South Africa. With the world in the palm of her hand, she went to London, where she had a year's contract with British International.

From then on she learned that British actresses don't start at the top and move down, as is the case with some of our American film ladies, but that studio bigwigs in England are of the firm opinion that no young girl can so much as stick her tongue out convincingly until she has had some camera experience.

Miss Molly Lamont, film contest winner, went right down to the foot of the class and received no recognition whatever. She got her salary every week. That was part of the contest stipulation, but as for leaping into laurels without working for them, that was something else again—quite.

"I was embarrassed and shy when I arrived in London in a black fog," says Miss Lamont. "It didn't take me long to discover that my studio was just as embarrassed where I was concerned. They didn't know what to do with me and I didn't know what to do for them. We compromised, without either side saying a word about it. I became an extra."

IT IS only fair to explain that I sneaked up on Molly Lamont and led her to an interview instead of letting her do what she had intended doing, namely to canter over the Riviera hills on her favorite horse.

Ordinarily I don't sneak. It's easier to wear heavy-soled shoes and let everybody know I'm coming, but I was more interested than usual in Miss Lamont's personality. She is as exhilarating, bright, merry and sparkling as a breeze off the sea. Her piquant face and insouciant manner attracted me like a magnet. I let duty go off on a holiday while I talked to pretty Molly Lamont. It is the Lamonts who make this business fascinating.

Her accent is delightful. She says that she likes our American "accent," so, as usual, that argument got nowhere. Neither of us care as much as we should whether its evolution or evolution or what we do with such words as "laugh," "grass" and "can't."

"So, having been an extra for more than six months and a bit player for longer than that, I know what to do when the stars ritz me. I ritz right back," she said.

"It's easy to do, once you learn how. I know extras who can make the greatest star in the business look like three-pence. But it's a grand experience. I enjoyed myself immensely, especially after I got to philosophizing about it instead of resenting my dreadful fate." When she laughs it's none of your tinkling bell business, but a good hearty laugh that makes you join in, whether you think her joke funny or not.

"Of course, if I had been properly brought up with an idea of being a great actress, I should have stood up for my rights and started as a leading woman," she went on, "but I wasn't given a proper start for a great career. Nobody dreamed I was going to have a career, with the exception of dancing and knowing how to sing enough to entertain at a week-end party."

I'M AFRAID that all my hardships have been accumulated in the films. With the exception of disappointments which happen to all aspiring actresses, I have been entirely free from the 'starving-in-a-garret' type of experience." We went over to the RKO-Radio commissary and settled down for luncheon before she continued:

"My family have always stood solidly back of me. My mother is with me in Hollywood. My grandfather was one of six Oxford men to migrate to South Africa more than 65 years ago. We have all been gold mining ever since. Somebody seems to have managed to make enough to keep everybody from sneezing when the wolf left the door open behind him." She ordered a large glass of orange juice.

"Just the same, I didn't like going on being an extra forever. I felt I had to do something for all the nice people in South Africa who sent me to London. About the time when I was beginning to look at rivers longingly and read the last act of Socrates' life with a morbid interest, I got some decent parts and British International signed me up for two more years. After that they made up for lost time. They cast me in featured leads and leading roles until I rolled up a total of 30 pictures and read about Hollywood with a personal interest."

Molly Lamont looks more like a co-ed than a dyed-in-the-wool actress. Her curling long bob flies breezily loose, its reddish-brown tints picking up stray sunbeams and changing to gold. Her eyes are gray and wide apart, sometimes twinkling gaily, sometimes thoughtful. Her teeth are perfect and she isn't at all nervous about opening her mouth when she laughs.

THERE is a rare and winsome charm about her. She is probably the only actress in Hollywood who ever asked her studio to let her appear in Westerns.

"I like riding, swimming, golf, tennis and ping-pong," she explained. "One can't ride a horse into the drawing room. It is impossible to swim through a great dramatic moment, so I should like to join Richard Dix on a location trip somewhere," she confesses.

Remembering her fine performance as Pheasant in "Jalna," I inquired into her ambitions.

"Of course, I want to be an emotional actress and to do real characterizations, in time," she said. "Naturally I don't want uninteresting roles in mediocre pictures, but I should like to start easily and come along slowly but surely. The main thing is to be cast in good pictures. I fight for that. I don't ask for stardom or even for leading parts, but I do ask for decent parts in interesting films. 'Jalna' can happen only once in a lifetime. We were like a great family and we had a perfectly gorgeous time making it. John Cromwell got the very best out of us we had to give."

Something like that is my idea of films in Hollywood, or anywhere else for that matter." Miss Lamont is too thin and I enjoyed watching her wade into a baked potato, chicken salad and a big dish of ice cream.

"My greatest disappointment was to be turned down, after having it promised me, for a part in 'Escape Me Never,' starring Elizabeth Bergner, who is my ideal as an actress. I think she is technically flawless in her work and I hold her as my model. To have worked with her would have satisfied my highest desire in life. Perhaps I can some other time. Who knows? I'm lucky." She crossed her fingers.

We then turned to that subject which two women eventually hit upon: Men.

"Perhaps I'm too romantic," she confided, "but most men are too conceited for me. They seem to think they are doing one a favor to take one out. I feel I am doing the favor. Besides, if they take one out often, they become possessive. I like men with whom I can be friends and a comrade and who don't try to own me. There are such men, of course, but they are few. I don't see much difference between the Americans and the British. Except in their sense of humor. The Americans laugh more at less and the British laugh less at more. If you know what I mean. When I find a man who is companionable and amusing, if I love him, I might marry him. I don't know. Certainly I wouldn't let my career keep me from having a husband—if I really wanted one. Right now I am heart-whole, fancy-free and a good ping-pong player."

As a matter of fact, she is a ping-pong champion in England and her game is so fast that the average male champion has a difficult time keeping up with her. She plays golf, tennis and badminton, while her horsemanship is said to be amazing. That is probably the reason she wants to do a western picture. She undoubtedly has designs on riding up some of our high mountains. Besides, I have an idea that she

She is moving into a new house, which she describes as a white Colonial, with green awnings and white fringe on them. She seems to know nothing at all about the interior, but says there is a big back yard with plenty of space for her dogs and privacy enough for sun baths for herself.

HOLLYWOOD is enchanting," she said enthusiastically. "It reminds me of South Africa, especially in climate. I never want to leave here. It is perfect for one who lives an out-of-door life. I hate going in the house. I stay out as much as possible and feel stifled in stuffy rooms, whether they are modern or antique. Just so the chairs, tables, beds and sofas hold together. I don't much care what they are like or to what period they belong. I adore a beautiful garden. Hollywood, Bel Air, Beverly Hills and Brentwood have the most gorgeous ones I have ever seen."

If I were good at that sort of thing, I could give you a pleasant pen picture of Molly Lamont. As it is, all I can do is to stumble about with a lot of words which fail in giving you an idea of her winsome ways, her insouciance, her piquancy and breeziness. She wears very little make-up and seems to be more vitally alive than most people. Her out-of-door life probably accounts for this.

Any young actress who can give such a subtle and understanding portrait of a character like Pheasant in "Jalna" is slated for better and better things, even if she does a few westerns first. RKO-Radio is not insensible to the fact that it has a gifted player in Molly Lamont. After all, it was a talent scout who discovered her from her fine work in the English film "Irish Hearts" and brought her to Hollywood under contract to this studio.

She is going places and certainly she is not going to get there by fits and starts. She has a sunny disposition and a glad heart. I hope I find some more Molly Lamonts from whom to sneak interviews.

They make all the difference in a full day.

Molly Lamont is making a name in Hollywood after breaking into English pictures via a film contest and working her way up from extra to leading roles. She played the role of Pheasant in RKO-Radio's "Jalna."

A Star in Three Careers

By Hilda Cole

LESLIE HOWARD is the busiest man in the entertainment field, and adding it all together, about the most successful.

There are rare entertainers who can keep two careers going at once, but Mr. Howard has three—screen, radio and stage—and has scored outstanding hits in all of them within the last year.

In no time at all he has broken the radio tradition of one-time-shots for big-name Hollywood and Broadway stars, and made "The Amateur Gentleman" a hero of the networks. This he accomplished, with the ease of the man on the flying trapeze, while making the picture, "Petrified Forest," on the Coast and preparing for a production of "Hamlet" on Broadway.

Perhaps the reason this unruffled dynamo can handle three careers at once is that he has uncanny ability to work wonders of drama with apparently no strain or effect.

IT IS astonishing to watch him at work at the Columbia Studios. He stands about two feet from the microphone, left hand casually in his pocket, right hand holding the script, head thoughtfully inclined. No particular expressions cross his face. He looks as if he were standing in his own study, glancing over a bit of dialog for the first time. Other players may be gesturing, contorting their faces, and taking quick steps to and from the mike, apparently to add a sense of motion and pace to their performances—but Leslie Howard doesn't budge a muscle.

Turn away and listen to his voice, and it sounds as if he were walking fast, or running, rising from a chair or sitting down. His voice is full of action—but Howard stands perfectly still and at ease, a startling contrast to the hubbub around him.

He seems to ignore the sound effects men, hustling around the studio, the musicians at their instruments, other actors stepping up to take their places at the microphone. He seldom lifts his eyes from the script. Howard will tell you that he prefers not to move, he prefers not to see anything in the studio, once the show is on the air.

He is just listening, his ear tuned to the production, pacing the show by what he hears, imagining motion and props. When he speaks, he speaks seeing action with his mind's eye. The result is fuller and more convincing than if he were distracted by watching the studio clock or diverted by other actors.

THAT faculty for making pictures with his voice— independent of gesture and marked facial expression—is one important reason why Leslie Howard is a radio natural.

He was asked, the other night, if the element of time in radio troubled him, if he were ever alarmed by the march of the red second hand on the studio clock and the knowledge that the script must be concluded "on the nose."

"I'd be frantic if the responsibility were on my shoulders," he smiled, "but by the time rehearsals are over, a script is usually a perfect fit for 30 minutes. I let them worry about time in the control room!"

His calm and good-natured co-operation is another reason why the great star is the quietest bombshell who ever struck the studios. Production men and engineers lose their harassed look when working with Howard. He is always open to suggestion, and evidences great respect for the judgment of radio technicians.

Another boon to the Columbia staff is that Howard doesn't mind rehearsing at great length. He's a careful and patient workman. If a portion of script must be read over time and again to perfect sound effects cues, he willingly obliges by going over it himself. There is no such thing as a radio "stand-in" for Leslie Howard.

Leslie Howard as 'Amateur Gentleman' Adds Radio Series to His Busy Life on Stage and in Motion Pictures

DURING the rigors of rehearsal, Howard makes the long hours pleasant for his colleagues by tackling the job in something of the spirit of a lark.

The other day when Bradley Parker, one of radio's ace animal imitators, was present in the studio to crow like a cock in a pastoral scene from "The Amateur Gentleman," Howard appeared to get as much boyish glee out of watching him work as a ten-year-old at a circus. He took him off to one side while other actors were rehearsing and persuaded him to run through his repertoire of animal sounds, exclaiming "Marvelous! How convincing!" after each cluck and crow and bark.

In fact Howard, frantically busy man that he is, appears to be getting as much of a kick out of becoming a regular radio performer as radio is getting out of him. He has been mulling over the urge to join the radio ranks for some time, but there had to be adjustments made on all sides before this was possible.

He discussed the possibilities of a series with the sponsors last spring when he was winding up his long and successful run on Broadway in "The Petrified Forest."

Leslie Howard is heard over the nationwide Columbia Broadcasting network at 8:30 p. m. (EST) on Sundays.

HOWARD returned to Manhattan early in October to choose a leading lady and launch the series before departing for Hollywood. He wanted to find a heroine to play "Leone" of "The Amateur Gentleman" who had an extra amount of "it" in her voice. She needn't necessarily be a well known stage actress.

A great number of girls were auditioned for the role. Leslie Howard chose Elizabeth Love, attractive young actress from Lakeland, Fla., who had played the part of Betty Graham in "Roses and Drums" for more than two years. It had been her first radio job. Elizabeth was auditioned on a Tuesday. On Wednesday she received a call informing her that she had the job. She is still pinching herself to make sure she isn't just dreaming.

Leslie Howard paused long enough in New York to inaugurate the program, then he flew to California to start work on the Warner Brothers production of "Petrified Forest."

Tom McKnight, radio director, signed an agreement to reserve his services exclusively for the "Amateur Gentleman," to be free to follow Howard wherever his contracts took him. Elizabeth Love was also signed as a nomad of a leading lady. Edith Meiser arranged to remain in Manhattan, making occasional flying trips to the Coast.

UNIL launching this series, Leslie Howard's radio appearances have been on a one-time-shot basis. He never attempted a serial, having been fearful, up to now, that a prolonged story would be tiresome and lacking in the dramatic punch present in condensed Broadway plays.

He made his first appearance, several years ago, in a scene from "Outward Bound." Later he did "Berkeley Square" for "Radio Theater." But what really sold him on radio was the overwhelming applause in the form of fan mail which followed a scene from "Dear Brutus," with his eleven-year-old daughter, Ruth Leslie, playing the part of the phantom child. The reaction was so enthusiastic that it resulted in what was practically a command performance of the scene three weeks later! That incident not only sold Leslie Howard on radio, but it sold radio on Howard in a big way.

"Goody"—as Howard has nicknamed his daughter—is more interested in becoming a "lady veterinary" than a professional actress.

It was the World War which indirectly decided Leslie Howard's career for him. Dramatics had been his main extracurricular activity at Dulwich College, England. Upon graduation he, the son of a British stock broker, had become a bank clerk by way of following the family bent. But when he returned unharmed from the front, he found an alarming shortage of jobs.

WHILE pounding the London sidewalks, he stumbled upon an old college crony who was helping to run the provincial road company of "Peg O' My Heart." This experience brought him jobs on the London stage, where Katharine Cornell saw him play. She brought him to New York as her leading man in "The Green Hat."

He was a huge success with American audiences, and thereafter scored in a succession of hits, "Outward Bound," "Her Cardboard Lover," "Berkeley Square" and a number of others. He wrote a grand play, "Murray Hill," and starred in it.

Hollywood angled for him after "The Animal Kingdom" and he made a number of movies, the most recent being "Captured," "Of Human Bondage," "The Scarlet Pimpernel" and "British Agent."

Perhaps one of the secrets of this quiet and charming star's success is that he has always turned down parts for which he felt himself unfitted. For instance, he turned down a flattering offer to play opposite Greta Garbo in "Queen Christina." He said he felt that he "wasn't at all the type and would probably miff it."

Now that he has come to radio, you may be sure that Leslie Howard will maintain his usual standards in whatever he tackles. Good judgment has always marked his career.

Fans seem to agree with him that the character of Barnabus Barty, "The Amateur Gentleman," is just his meat, and theirs too.

HOWARD was enthusiastic—but he made two conditions. First, a series of scripts must be found which would give him an opportunity for fine characterization. He wanted each program to be as pointed with drama and humor as an excellent one-act play. Secondly, it must be arranged that the broadcasts could be picked up either from New York or Hollywood, as he had both theater and picture commitments which would necessitate some coast-to-coast commuting. Time was another element, but he agreed that 8:30 p. m. on Sunday evening would be perfect—even if it was his only day off.

Last spring, before he left New York for a brief vacation in Bermuda, planning to go thence to his home in Surrey, England, for a vacation with his family, he talked with Edith Meiser, novelist and script writer. They discussed likely material for a radio series, but no definite story was decided upon.

Throughout the summer cables flew across the Atlantic, bearing different suggestions. Finally it was decided that an adaptation from Jeffery Farnol's novel, "The Amateur Gentleman," would be just the thing. Edith Meiser went to work on the script and, in Surrey, Leslie Howard perused the novel to study a characterization of Barnabus Barty, the hero.

Irene Dunne's Recipe for Happiness

By Grace Wilcox

IF I were a feminist or a feminine psychologist, I should make a bee-line for Hollywood.

Here, a scientist is able to study the female of the species in all her varying moods, attributes and complexes. He may analyze the wheels motivating the mind and heart of the modern woman; he may stumble upon the secret which causes her to choose a career instead of a husband.

Beautiful women, charming women, glamorous women, homely women, thin women, fat women, old women, young women and middle aged, they are all here, reaching for the magic lamp which promises them luxury, security and fame. Yes, even love, if it is love they want.

Quite often I hear those who possess the magic lamp and have achieved their heart's desire talk about their lives. They explain, discuss and reveal themselves. It is surprising how few of them are really contented, how few of them are truly happy.

I have come to the conclusion that success, fame, glamour and happiness cannot occupy the same place at the same time. They are not good companions. The first three are bought with a price and there seems to be no coin of any value which can purchase happiness.

INDEED, I have so frequently heard the film people of Hollywood describe the hardships connected with their careers that I have long since decided the game is hardly worth the effort expended. Certainly those who play it gamble with happiness and contentment—yes, even love, if they value love.

So, sentimentalist that I am, I have decided to try my own hand at a little psychology and discover if I may why it is that these luscious ladies who apparently have everything, so often seem to feel they have nothing.

Then Irene Dunne came to my mind. I remembered my visit to her quiet home, with its Tudor library, its airy music room and its atmosphere of peace and serenity. Incidentally, I remembered how she told me she managed a successful and happy career and an equally successful and happy marriage.

Her recipe sounded very simple: "I divide my life into two parts," she said. "When I work, I work. When I finish working I become the average wife, living the average life of a woman married to a successful man. My husband is a physician and our home is in New York. I maintain another home here, so that when I have a short time between pictures Dr. Griffin can come to me. On my long vacations, I go to him. When I am in our New York home I live the life of the average New York woman—plays, museums, art exhibits, concerts, bridge. When Dr. Griffin comes to California, we live the life of the average Southern Californians—golf, swimming, tennis, badminton, horseback riding. No matter what happens we always have Christmas and other holidays together."

WITH this in mind, it seemed a good idea to discover whether or not, after a year, Irene Dunne's recipe is still working. During that year, Miss Dunne has added new laurels to her crown. She has made several successful pictures, notably "The Age of Innocence," with John Boles and "Roberta," with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. These she made under her contract with RKO-Radio. At the moment she is working in "The Magnificent Obsession," opposite Robert Taylor at Universal. Later, she is going to Columbia Studios, where she is scheduled for a certain number of films a year.

On a set of "Magnificent Obsession," Irene Dunne in an organza dress and picture hat looked as crisp and fresh as an illustration on a magazine cover. The set, modern as a design done by a German architect of the new school, might have been Miss Dunne's own New York apartment.

Looking more radiant than ever, her expression is that of a thoroughly happy woman—a woman who is interested in many things and alive to many more.

Irene Dunne, despite all her modernity, has something peculiarly mid-Victorian and quaint about her. Her youth is apparent, but I can imagine that her baby pictures must have been somewhat old-fashioned. She is modern, but her personality belongs to a more gracious and leisurely past.

WE immediately fell into a discussion of the women of today and what they want from life. As always I was surprised at Irene Dunne's viewpoints. She never reacts in the obvious manner. She has thought of many things and thought them through to a conclusion, which is unusual anywhere in America, whether New York or Hollywood, San Francisco or a small Southern village.

"It is trite to remark that within the past few years there has been a radical outward change in the attributes of the American girl," she said. "Her whole attitude toward the world is different. She is different. This is apparent to the most obtuse of us."

She submitted to a little hair arranging and a few pats with a powder puff, before going on.

"However, the change is outward only. The heart and nature of women of the past generation were the same as we find them today. Underneath the superficialities, she is the same girl. A generation ago a spirit of true romance existed, a more tender and sincere regard for affairs of the heart. But men have lost the romantic spirit of the troubadours. This has brought about an alteration in the attitude of the girls with whom they come in contact."

She looked a little self-conscious and had to be urged to go on with her dissertation. Irene Dunne has a horror of the pedantic or the explanatory.

SHE continued with a tremulous smile: "Girls of yesterday gave more painstaking attention to the development of the feminine graces. Yet, even in those days, the ideal girl was not of the shrinking violet type. Such a girl gives nothing to life; she is wholly negative. She has never been popular in the true sense of the word. No man wants to marry a girl who is afraid of her shadow. The American man has always admired, just as he does today, the girl who goes out and accomplishes things for herself."

Going out on the set for a scene, she threw herself instantly into her role, reciting a long speech, with never a retake. When she returned, she picked up the threads again:

"While a girl is apt to lack any striking individuality, the most commendable trait of the modern is her intelligence, her smartness, if you will, her self-reliance. She has the advantage of leading a more active life, socially. But the girl of 1935 is trying desperately to appear wicked and sophisticated. She would much rather be smart than sweet. Her mind has become more active and her modern spirit of independence is much to be preferred to seclusion as a mysterious nonentity. The ability of a girl to look out for herself is an admirable trait, whether of today or yesterday."

In Hollywood Irene Dunne and her husband, a New York doctor, live the life of average Southern Californians—swimming, playing golf, riding. In New York, where Irene goes whenever she has sufficient time off from pictures, they live the life of average cultured New Yorkers.

After a change of costume and of hair-dress, she talked again on women and their careers. The Dunne mind certainly works, with no time off for a lot of nonsense.

"SOMETIMES," she continued, "we see women isolating themselves from society by a decided step out of the conventional. Such a woman must love very deeply, as in the case of Anna Karenina, for instance. She realizes that when she takes such a step she must live apart, a bitter-sweet life of seclusion, sacrificing all else on the altar of love. She has the courage of her own convictions and it takes strength of character to stand by such a decision. I am not encouraging it, I am merely pointing out that only a very strong woman is capable of such love and such sacrifice."

"Then there is the woman who is merely love-hungry and too impetuous in disposing of her affections. A girl should strive to exercise a rigid control over her feelings, resolving that she will not mistake infatuation for real love. If her strongest efforts are not effective in preventing the growth of the feeling, she may be safe in thinking herself truly in love. Though she may enjoy the companionship of other men, there is only one whose every touch will thrill her. And separation will not dim this feeling; it is constant as the stars. A woman is the abject servant of her love and of her man. She cannot be content, but she is resigned."

So there you have Irene Dunne's feeling about feminine psychology. You will notice that she doesn't make much of a point of happiness and contentment, but she has something to say concerning sacrifice.

Perhaps it is because she understands that there can be no true love without sacrifice that she is one of the few happy women of Hollywood.

At any rate, her recipe for domestic happiness may interest you. It seems like such a simple way of arranging one's life when it encompasses marriage and a career. And the beauty of it is that Irene Dunne has proved it is workable.

You Can't Keep a Kelly Down By Lyle Rooks

Patsy is So Busy that She Can't Keep Track of Her Jobs

MEET The Kelly, of the Brooklyn Kellys, if you please! That's what she calls herself, but she's more commonly known as Patsy. She was christened Sarah Veronica Kelly; so how could she help being a comedienne? You have to be darn funny to live down a name like that, and that is what Patsy has been trying to do ever since. She really was "The Patsy" of the family (there were six Kelly kids), always taking the blame for the other kids' pranks. So they called her Patsy and it stuck. The Kelly and her co-worker Thelma Todd (Patsy dubbed her La Todd) have been bringing you some of the screen's best comedies in the two reels of celluloid that roll out regularly from the Hal Roach fun factory.

The morning I met The Kelly the news had broken that Patsy, who has only been on the screen two years, had signed a new contract with Hal Roach studios for seven years, and was to be starred in a feature length original story, "Kelly The Second." When I arrived at the studio, where Patsy was starting work on another two-reeler, I rather expected to find her turning cartwheels around the lot.

But I was disappointed. Sam Cohn, genial purveyor of publicity at Roach's, said Patsy was in her dressing room, and that is where we were introduced. In this blue and white suite (there is a dressing room and sitting room which Patsy and Thelma occupy together) Patsy was putting the last touches on her make-up. A baby blue rubber band around her head kept the hair out of her eyes as she brushed the extra powder off with a soft brush.

PATSY lighted us cigarettes and motioned me to one of the comfortable chairs, sat down herself and said, "Fire."

When I mentioned her being starred, she said, "They're working on a story for me," and grinned with that twisted whimsical grin of hers. That was all. Here was a grand opportunity for a long monologue on the "I deserve it" theme. But I discovered that Patsy isn't at all like the actor who, on meeting his friend said, with glowing modesty, after a forty-five-minute talk about himself and his work, "Now let's talk about you for a while. What did you think of my last picture?"

"I never know what I'm going to do until I read it in the papers," said Patsy. "You know I picked up the paper one morning and read that I was supposed to work that day over at Paramount. I called up the studio to ask about it and they said, 'Sure, didn't you know? Aren't you here?'"

"No, I didn't know," says I, "and I'm in Europe now but I'll be right over." So I go over and go to work. That's Hollywood for you," she grimaced, twisting the scarf of her black frock and giving it a fling around her neck.

You see, Patsy isn't used to Hollywood yet. She spent her first years in the show business in New York, I discovered. She started her career as a tap dancer. She and her brother went to put on a routine for Frank Fay, a vaudeville favorite then. Although her brother was the one who went after the job, Patsy got it. But Patsy fixed that too. She got her brother the job of being Frank's chauffeur.

THEY played the Palace, which was a great break for Patsy, because the Palace was tops as far as vaudeville was concerned in those days. She danced, but she was also Frank's stooge, and it was good training, as she says, because she never knew what he was going to talk about next, and she had to be prepared.

After three years of vaudeville, she went to play in Dillingham's "Three Cheers." That was the show which the late Will Rogers saved by pinch-hitting for his pal, Fred Stone, who had broken his leg.

"That was a swell show," said Patsy wistfully. "I never had so much fun. Will Rogers was such a swell person, and he made each performance a new show. We never knew what was coming next, and I think sometimes the cast had a better time than the audience. You know Will was one of the grandest men I've ever known. He was just like a big brother or a father. All the chorus girls, and they were a pretty hardboiled bunch, used to take their problems to him. He was never too busy to stop and talk to them in spite of the fact that he was doing the show, radio programs and his newspaper work, too. We all adored him. The closing night of the show, the cast had a party and everyone just cried all over the place, including Will. Will hated to see the show close, but it had to be done on account of his picture contract. Dillingham is gone, too. Well, he must be putting on a good show over there now, God bless him."

SPEAK of a fellow player, and Patsy gives a glowing account, although she is sketchy about her own talent. I mentioned Ruby Keeler as a tap dancer, and immediately Patsy started telling me what a grand gal Ruby was. She and Patsy went to the same dancing school when they were just kids. Patsy's next show was "Wonder Bar," in which she appeared with Mr. Ruby Keeler (Al Jolson—and he doesn't mind a bit, he's that proud of her).

"He fired me several times but that wasn't unusual," continued Patsy philosophically. "You know how stage temperament is. Why, one man I worked for asked me to marry him and then two weeks later fired me for calling him by his first name."

Then followed "Flying Colors," another New York stage hit with Clifton Webb and Charlie Butterworth. She danced in that, and hasn't danced since. Why, I wonder? One of the best eccentric dancers in New York, and yet she has never had a chance to dance in pictures.

Charlie, by the way, is one of her favorite comedians. I warmed to that, since he is one of mine. Followed a discussion of the Butterworth technique—and Patsy said, and rightly:

"That lad can get more out of a line before he says it than anyone I know."

Then Hal Roach offered Patsy a contract to come to Hollywood and motion pictures. Patsy waved her arms shaking cigaret ashes all over the nice white carpet.

"Haven't I got enough trouble already," I says to my agent, who tells me about this, "without going into pictures?" They wore me down finally, and the first thing you know I find myself leaving Broadway for Hollywood. I'd never been out of New York before.

Patsy Kelly, who cavorts with Thelma Todd through Hal Roach comedies and plays in innumerable other films, has a new seven-year contract and is to be starred in a feature length picture.

"Boy, I'll never forget that first day I worked at the studio," said Patsy shrugging her eyebrows. It was awful. Strange people I'd never seen before all around. The director telling me about the scene we were to take, said, "Miss Kelly, you skate down the aisle," (it was in a theater scene) "then you trip, leap into the air and fall on your back." I decided that he thought the studio had hired an acrobat, and I told him I'd never taken a fall on the stage in my life.

"But that was just a primer. Before long I found myself hanging off buildings by my eyebrows and clinging to airplanes by my teeth. Oh, the life of a comedienne is grand, I don't think. I don't know what I would have done if it hadn't been for La Todd," motioning for the other room where Thelma was putting on her make-up. "She's one of her grandest people out here, and she was so helpful to me."

"But I've been so busy I don't find much time to kick. Two years now," she mourned, "and just one teensy little week's vacation. 'Why I've gotten so I make a couple of shorts on my lunch hour and a feature at night and think nothing of it.'"

Patsy was borrowed by other studios recently for parts in "Page Miss Glory," "Every Night at Eight" and "Thanks a Million." In this latter picture she played with Fred Allen, the radio comedian.

Fred too, it seems, is having difficulty in getting used to studio ways. He and Patsy met on the lot one morning at 7 o'clock and he mourned "Look at me, Patsy, I'm made up as a worm."

PATSY likes fun and amusing people, like Fred, and loves living in California. She has a house in Beverly Hills and a bulldog for company. Her hobby is playing Tango (it's kind of a game) at the beach. When she isn't playing Tango she goes to movies. She's an ardent picture fan.

"Did you see Eleanor Powell in 'The Big Broadcast of 1936?'" Patsy suddenly demanded. But before I could answer she rushed on.

"Oh what a gal! She's got everything, I tell you. She can act; she dances divinely. I just looked at myself in the mirror when I came home and said, 'Kelly, you might just as well take those dancing shoes of yours and the grease paint and throw them right out the window and go to washin' socks or sumpin'," she finished despairingly.

But I don't think Patsy needs to worry. Her fans are legion, and she gets lots of fan mail, so Sam Cohn told me. But you'd never hear about that from Patsy. She can't believe she's that popular. But she is. In Hollywood, too. I found that out.

You see, although I had seen Patsy several times in pictures it wasn't until I saw her performance in a preview of "Every Night at Eight" that I became an ardent Kelly fan. I wanted to meet her. So I began asking questions about her. Everybody I talked to simply raved about The Kelly. "She is so real," "So generous," "A grand friend," "Heard I was out of work and offered me a job." This, in a town where backbiting and "belittling" are not uncommon, convinced me that as far as Hollywood is concerned, The Kelly is the goods. And the fact that she now has a seven-year contract seems to indicate that she is the goods, too, as far as the public is concerned. The public likes to laugh and Patsy can certainly deliver.

BRIDGE ACCORDING TO CULBERTSON

His First Book Made Him a Prophet

By ELY CULBERTSON.

IN THE fall of 1930 I wrote a book. It was my first and I composed it rapidly. I had to—or go to jail.

My wife's strategy was responsible. We were struggling with an infant bridge magazine which seemed likely to bankrupt us. We needed funds desperately. And my wife tempted me.

"For years," she said, "you have been talking about the great bridge book which you are going to write. Why not write it?"

"But we need money at once," said I.

"Then," suggested Mrs. Culbertson, "why not announce your book in the next issue of the magazine, offer it to subscribers at a reduced price, and collect money in advance?"

I succumbed. My advertisement brought a rush of orders. The magazine was saved. We were saved.

"And now," said my wife, "I have finally maneuvered you into a position where you can't get out of writing that book."

I struggled and squirmed. For months I found pretexts to avoid any writing.

"But you must write it," purred Mrs. Culbertson. "You have spent the money. You can't return it. Write the book or go to jail."

I was in torment. From my Scotch father I had inherited an instinct for practicality, from my Russian mother a passion for perfection in form. Torn between these two desires, I was like a donkey who, when perishing of both hunger and thirst, was given a bucket of water at his left and a forkful of hay at his right. As soon as he reached for the hay his thirst turned him back toward the water. Before he could sip the water his hunger made him go back toward the hay.

"Write the book or go to jail," insisted my wife, who understands me perfectly.

I waited until three weeks before I was to sail for an international match. By that time I feared that the sheriff might pull me off the boat. I fled to the country and began dictating furiously, 18 hours a day. I had scarcely done the opening chapters when I fell ill and was rushed to a hospital for an operation. I came out from the ether shouting, "Never pass a forcing bid!"

I dictated in the hospital. I kept on dictating when I was allowed to go home. I dictated a final chapter—on slam bidding—in a taxicab on the way to the liner which took me and my teammates to Europe. And as I boarded the ship, the book behind me, I saw in Mrs. Culbertson's eyes the same light of quiet triumph that I had seen there five years before, when she had persuaded me to give up my studies in economics and concentrate on bridge. "There are," she had said, "too many mediocre professors of economics and too few real bridge experts."

Now, to my amazement, the book was done. It was no primer. I had a passing thought that by reducing the contents to one-syllable words and one-cylinder ideas I might hope for a wider sale.

LIQUOR HABIT

HELP HIM QUIT Send for FREE TRIAL of Nozalco, a guaranteed harmless home treatment. Can be given secretly in food or drink to any one who drinks or craves Whiskey, Beer, Gin, Home Brew, Wine, Moonshine, etc. Your request for Free Trial brings trial supply by return mail and full $2.00 treatment which you may try under a 30 day refund guarantee. Try Nozalco at our risk. Write: ARLEE CO. Dept. 24 BALTIMORE, MD.

Bridge Problem

West can make his contract of four spades on the deal shown here, but when the hand was played in a tournament not one out of ten players was able to make the contract.

The bidding (both sides vulnerable):

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠ (final bid)

Opening lead, heart queen by North.

Ely Culbertson tells below how four spades should be made.

WEST

♠ 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
♥ 3
♦ A 10 5 2
♣ J 10 4

NORTH

♠ A Q J 7 4
♥ 3
♦ A 10 5 2
♣ J 10 4

EAST

♠ K 3 2
♥ K 10 5
♦ K Q 8
♣ 8 7 5

SOUTH

♠ 6 3 2
♥ K 7 5 4
♦ 9 4
♣ A Q 9 6

SOLUTION: The opening lead of the heart queen is won by dummy's ace. West ruffs one of dummy's hearts, leads a diamond to the queen, ruffs another heart, leads another diamond to the king, and finally ruffs dummy's last heart with the spade jack. Now West plays the spade ace, then the spade queen, overtaking with dummy's king. The spade 10 in dummy draws the last trump, and West wins his tenth trick with the ace of diamonds.

but I was in frantic haste. I simply set down, as clearly as time permitted, the formulas which I had worked out over a period of years. I explained how I and most of the other champions played, and why. Experts and potential experts, I thought, might read the volume with profit; others probably would not understand or be interested. I did not care.

It does seem, looking back over five amazing years, that I somewhat underestimated the number of potential contract bridge experts. This book, together with a summary and self-teacher, sold two million copies—every one of them since the depression—and fifteen million bridge-hungry people, of whom I had been largely unaware, rushed to play the Culbertson system.

Too late it was borne in upon me what had happened. I had meant to write a pleasant, instructive exposition. Instead it almost seemed that I had founded a faith and become a prophet. I heard my lightest phrases cited as gospel and my sober statements quoted—and misquoted—as commandments.

Nor could I flee the multiplying responsibilities of this position. Millions of Smiths battled millions of Joneses nightly, according to the rule of eight, the forcing two-bid, and the approach principle. Instead of playing my own game, I found myself willy-nilly directing a mammoth symphony of bridge players, some good, some bad, some terrible, all bidding by the book and blaming me for every sour note.

All good bridge players are careful not to give the declarer an opportunity for a ruff-and-discard play.

When they are defenders, they refrain from leading a suit in which both declarer and dummy are void, while declarer and dummy each has one or more trumps.

When a defender makes the mistake of giving declarer a ruff-and-discard, he presents declarer with a trick which he could not possibly have made otherwise, as shown in the following illustration:

NORTH		EAST
♠ 3	♥ None	♠ 8	♥ K J 4
♦ 7 4 3	♣ None	♦ None	♣ None
WEST		SOUTH
♠ None	♥ Q 5	♠ 2	♥ None
♦ 10 8	♣ A	♦ A Q 9	♣ None

Spades are trumps, and it is West's lead. Although it seems that a diamond lead by West gives declarer (South) a "free finesse," it is quite obvious that West must lead a diamond. A heart lead would give declarer a ruff-and-discard; North would trump with the three of spades, and South would discard a losing diamond.

Knowledge of this fact leads many players to consider it a "rule" that they must not give declarer a ruff-and-discard. Rules, however, have their exceptions, and in bridge there are often so many exceptions that it is dangerous to know the rule. Here is a case in which a clever declarer takes advantage of an opponent's anxiety not to give him a ruff-and-discard:

NORTH		EAST
♠ 3	♥ None	♠ None	♥ Q 5 3
♦ 7 4 3	♣ 6	♦ 10 4	♣ 9
WEST		SOUTH
♠ None	♥ 10 4	♠ 2	♥ None
♦ 10 8	♣ A	♦ A K J 9	♣ J

Spades are trump, and North has the lead. He leads a club, and West must win it. Now if West is perspicacious enough to recognize the situation as a type, but not careful enough to count the remaining five cards in South's hand, he will be afraid to lead a heart and split the trumps for a ruff-and-discard. But West, if he realizes that South has four diamonds, will see that the discard of one of those diamonds will not help South, who will still be forced to lose a trick to the diamond queen; whereas a diamond lead from the queen will give South the remaining five tricks.

It is obvious, from many letters that are written to me, that some bridge players consider themselves obligated to show any five-card or longer suit when their partners make an opening bid of one no trump. There are, of course, situations in which the no trump bidder's partner should show a five-card suit, but he should not "rescue" simply because his hand is weak and he has a suit of five cards.

When partner bids one no trump, and the next player passes, it is proper to pass with the following hand:

♠ J 8 3, ♥ 10 7 2, ♦ J 10 6 3 2, ♣ 9 4

With so weak a hand, it is better to allow the no trump contract to stand and let partner suffer, for he will be playing at the level of one-odd, at which he needs only seven tricks. If you bid two diamonds, you contract for eight tricks; and there is the further danger that your partner will rebid with two no trump, in which case you have made the situation at least one trick worse.

But, even with the weak hand shown above, if your partner bids one no trump and the next player doubles, you should bid two diamonds; for there is less danger of being defeated four tricks or so at a diamond contract.

With more strength, of course, you should bid whether your partner's no trump bid is overcalled or not; with about one honor trick, you may bid any bid-dable five-card suit, and with one and one-half honor tricks you may raise the no trump bid.

With a six-card suit, no matter how weak your hand is, you should take out the opening no trump bid, whether or not it is doubled.

TODAY'S QUESTIONS.

Question: Must you have a very strong suit to make a forcing bid?

Answer: No; either an opening two-bid, or a game-forcing take-out of your partner's opening bid, may be made with any bid-dable suit if the rest of the hand is strong enough. The forcing two-bid requires more honor tricks than losers in the entire hand, and two spades may be bid on the following hand, for it conforms to these requirements:

♠ K Q 6 4, ♥ A K J 9, ♦ A K 2, ♣ A K

Likewise, if your partner makes an opening bid of one heart, you

(Continued on Page 10)

Relax — loosen up — rub out the pain with "Ben-Gay"

Baume "Ben-Gay" is that scientific pain-reliever and muscle relaxer which athletes swear by. Apply it generously and vigorously to the stiff, sore muscles. Almost immediately your worn muscles will glow with relief, and the stiffness will begin to disappear. You can depend on "Ben-Gay." Its medication penetrates the skin and is absorbed by the blood stream, bringing welcome relief.

RUB PAIN AWAY WITH BAUME "BEN-GAY"

The only true Baume Analgésique

Hollywood Sheds Sweaters and

For Better or Worse, Film-land Changes---
This Time for an Era of Elegance in Dress

Clark Gable (right) symbolizes the new temper of Hollywood—top hats in place of mussed hair, evening clothes instead of yachting togs.

By Grace Kingsley

SLACKS are being given to the poor, and sweaters are being rolled up in moth-balls out Hollywood way.

For a season of formality is setting in with unusual severity.

After having metaphorically during the heated summer-period taken off her corsets and let down her back hair, Hollywood is to do an about face and go formal on us; and movie players are heaving sighs of regret as they heroically prepare for the new order of things.

No longer will our leading actresses wear slacks at afternoon receptions to meet European celebrities, nor will our favorite men stars wear yachting togs to dinner parties.

I suppose that Hollywood is going formal because she has exhausted about all the informal possibilities, and certainly nobody could imagine anything more informal than, say, standing clad in a bathing suit in the lower end of a swimming pool while eating lunch from a little table hooked on the side of the tank, as they do at Jeanette MacDonald's Sunday swimming parties!

Then, too, Hollywood does so love a change, even a change for the worse being, apparently, better than no change at all. For if there is anything Hollywood cannot bear it is going on the even tenor of her way. No even tenors need apply, is Hollywood's slogan. She would rather suffer an earthquake that shook everything down or a flood that washed everything away than to find one single even tenor lurking about anywhere.

Some of the Hollywood players tell us about the other reasons for this new formality business.

Janet Gaynor, for instance, says: "Everybody is going more formal this coming season because times are better. Actors along with other people have more money to spend, and whenever there is more money to spend a lot of it goes for clothes, since there are more parties, more theater-going, more entertaining. With more money there is more leisure of the elegant kind, too, which means more formality and strict social observance. Hollywood, whether she will or no, sets the fashions."

BINNIE BARNES has another interesting explanation: "So many people are coming to Hollywood who are used to formality that Hollywood needs must fall in line. Men and women from Europe, for instance, are used to dressing for dinner and the theater. So Hollywood must not be known as a slacker in the niceties of life. Visitors, too, from other walks of life—noted statesmen, artists, teachers, visit Hollywood, and we of the pictures must not give the impression of not knowing or caring about social forms."

Cesar Romero believes that Hollywoodites are so much in the public eye, especially since talking pictures have come in, that they should set an example to the world in the matter of correct manners.

"There is something of a responsibility on us in this regard," he declared. "Even as the censors and the producers are safeguarding the public morals, so we actors who portray manners on the screen should seek to show that we know what belongs to civilization and culture. Dress is so much a matter of influence on manners that it is right Hollywood should set an example of the correct and formal."

Sallie Eilers makes this contribution: "Most certainly do I believe that the coming season will be the most formal which Hollywood has seen in many years. The clothes of the up-to-the-minute mode require dignity to carry them well. Just to don them puts one on his or her good behavior. Women are thrilled by the glamour of today's fashions and will lend themselves to the more formal manner of dress and manner, really grateful for the change from the informality of the past years."

"As women always set the fashions, men will follow suit."

IT'S the good old Renaissance that is to effect this Hollywood revolution in clothes—a movement that will bring about formality quite inevitably, declare the Hollywood wise ones.

So if you happen to see Carole Lombard or Kay Francis in an evening gown with sleeves, you will know that she is following the Renaissance idea. Or her evening gown may have puffs over the shoulders or even little prehensile sleeves in the form of cups at the shoulders.

And Loretta Young and Fay Wray and Louise Henry and Bette Davis and Ginger Rogers will all be duded up in the soft materials of gay Renaissance colors, and wearing hair combs, carrying fans, and jingling chatelaine accessories.

Some of the styles of 20 years ago, too, will come in.

So if Joan Crawford, for instance, has an attic with old family trunks in it, or if her Aunt Emma has an attic with trunks in it, she will go up there and ransack to find treasures with which to adorn herself, or garments that will suggest dress ideas. Or Mary Pickford may get out the old family album to look up styles of passamentaries and braids and draped gowns, to serve as models for her own clothes.

Binnie Barnes (left) symbolizes the new temper of Hollywood—top hats in place of mussed hair, evening clothes instead of yachting togs.

Glancing over Jeanette MacDonald's shoulder as she looked through her family album the other day, we decided that that thing wrapped around Jeanette's grandaunt wasn't a "throw" from the mantel-piece, but was what is known as a Grecian drape. And Jeanette is going to have a dress with Grecian drapes, just like that of Aunt Minnie.

Even old-fashioned shirring is coming in, too. So don't be shocked if you happen to see Claudette Colbert at a party clad in a dress that is shirred, not only at the back, but over the tummy, also! For these dresses are going to be in vogue. And after all our exercising and dieting, too!

ADRIAN says that old-fashioned fabrics are coming in—cut velvets, rich brocades, metal cloths. So Jean Harlow is likely to come forth any day now, looking like a knight of the lo to have a

But to tary style and if y dressed I trimmed the style

At the of Mae v ensembles have a sh the cock removed, any even Probably erine He sen wear are to be This fo though t gd to a Which b which m evening v Ruby bicycling able shor coored t har. It She will

When winter, sh fitting tro

The Planets--Your Daily Guide

By BERNICE DENTON PIERSON

Bernice Denton Pierson, eminent astrologer, has prepared this forecast in brief for a handy reference convenient to Constitution readers. This guide will aid you, for it indicates the most auspicious time to begin any new endeavor, whether it be business, social or domestic.

NOVEMBER 17--SUNDAY: The influences predominating throughout the entire day suggest caution in dealings with others, especially those who may be in a position to favor you. It will be better to attend to routine matters, and not attempt new things or new ideas. Be more than discreet around new friends, and moderate in all you do.

NOVEMBER 18--MONDAY: The morning hours and until 1:58 p. m. are only favorable for progressive ideas and affairs of an unusual nature. Protect your interests around your home and dealings in real estate. This is not an auspicious period for risky endeavors or those things you will want to culminate quickly. The afternoon and evening hours favor a good time, entertainments, and you will find you can with ease, impress people favorably.

NOVEMBER 19--TUESDAY: Before 2:52 p. m. is very favorable for laying out plans, drawing up specifications and contracts, traveling and for all matters where an active, snappy brain is needed. Contact with other people should prove satisfactory, and you should take advantage of these conditions to shove yourself ahead. General business affairs, and matters to do with liquids and oils are favored at this time. Between 2:52 p. m. and 4:45 p. m. use caution in all matters. Be careful that your hastiness does not overcome your judgment. After 4:45 p. m. and through the afternoon and evening is a favorable time for matters having to do with the sunny side of life—such as social affairs, matters of adornment and artistic ideas.

NOVEMBER 20--WEDNESDAY: Before 10:23 a. m. keep away from speculative ideas, and scrutinize carefully any new projects that may be brought to you for decision at this time. Between 10:23 a. m. and 2:52 p. m. you can advance interests pertaining to food, hygiene, beverages and educational ideas. Your mind will be particularly active and you can therefore use much diplomacy in transactions. After 2:52 p. m. and continuing throughout the afternoon and evening, your mind will be just as active but you are not likely to display the necessary tact. Therefore, affairs may not go the way you want them to.

NOVEMBER 21--THURSDAY: Previous to 1:14 p. m. you can make progress with important and influential people. This will be a favorable time for pushing affairs in general, for starting new ventures, or recapitalizing old ones. If you have any mechanical, musical, or artistic ideas to put forth, try and do it now. Between 1:14 p. m. and 4:26 p. m. attend to old matters, for new plans are not likely to be carried through successfully. The remainder of the day does not favor new plans, but is slightly favorable for social contacts, and matters dealing with women and art.

NOVEMBER 22--FRIDAY: The entire day is very auspicious for promoting your personal interests. Make important contacts, seek favors and expand your sphere of life.

NOVEMBER 23--SATURDAY: Previous to 10:25 a. m. will be favorable only for attending to necessary tasks. Attempt nothing important. Between 10:25 a. m. and 1:51 p. m. do all you can to make your connections secure and lasting, and if you have any dealings with matters of a public nature this would be the proper time to go ahead. After 1:51 p. m. and throughout the evening, avoid radical tendencies, do not begin any new ventures and be careful what you say about other people.

HOW TO USE THESE INDICATIONS TO BEST ADVANTAGE.

Should you receive an important telephone call, giving you the first news you have of a certain thing, look and see if the influences at that particular time are friendly or unfriendly. The outcome of that call will be colored by the influence prevailing then.

If you wish an astrological chart covering your sign of the Zodiac, Bernice Denton Pierson will be glad to send it to you. State your birth month and date (year unnecessary). Write your name and address plainly. Accompany this with 10 cents in stamps or currency to cover clerical expenses, together with self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address: Bernice Denton Pierson, care Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Chart will be sent promptly.

BRIDGE ACCORDING TO CULBERTSON

(Continued from Page 7)
may bid two spades, even with a suit as weak as Q J x x, provided your hand altogether contains four honor tricks. With a rebid-able suit, you may make a forcing takeout with only three and one-half honor tricks.

Question: If you make an opening bid of one heart, and you have a part-score of 60, is your partner forced to make some bid or may he pass if his hand is weak?

Answer: He may pass if his hand is very weak, but he should keep the bidding open with even less strength than he would ordinarily require. An opening bid, when you have a part-score, is "semi-forcing."

Known to generations of whist and bridge players, the rule of eleven is today as important a part of bridge knowledge as it is possible to find. This mathematical rule may be used only when a player leads the fourth highest card of a suit of four cards or more. Since the proper lead from a long suit is usually the fourth highest, in order to give partner the benefit of using

Weekly Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS.

- 1 A body of assistants.
- 6 Swift.
- 11 Cubic meter.
- 16 Reproves.
- 21 Craze.
- 22 Disintegrate.
- 23 Limits.
- 24 Similar.
- 25 Aids.
- 26 One absorbed in temporal interests.
- 28 Eyelashes.
- 29 Offspring.
- 30 Appendage.
- 32 Mother-of-pearl.
- 33 Dwelling house.
- 35 Most fiery.
- 37 Pens.
- 38 Mahometan of the Philippine Islands.
- 39 Work units.
- 40 Writing fluid.
- 41 Erect.
- 42 Act of twisting.
- 44 Loads.
- 47 Encounters.
- 48 A kind of Johnny cake.
- 49 Petty ruler.
- 53 Inspired with solemn fear.
- 54 Rash.
- 55 Line of type.
- 56 Shaggy.
- 57 Chum: colloq.
- 58 Endured.
- 59 American Indians.
- 61 Beetle.
- 62 Clergymen.
- 64 Humor.
- 65 Look slyly.
- 66 Pass from sight.
- 67 Withdraws from association.
- 68 Humble.
- 69 Jumbled.
- 70 Arrives.
- 71 High.
- 72 Governor of a castle.
- 74 Thick cord.
- 75 Obscure.
- 77 Castle.
- 78 Lend.
- 79 Testified.
- 82 Adds up.
- 83 Feminine name.
- 84 Common laborer.
- 85 One who abandons a cause.
- 86 Silkworm.
- 87 Constant.
- 89 Inclinations.
- 90 Exist.
- 91 Took as one's own.
- 93 Rainbow.
- 94 Mirror.
- 95 Goddess of discord.
- 96 Servile.
- 97 Old.
- 98 Level.
- 99 American President.
- 100 Ancient galley.
- 102 Bulky.
- 103 Distant.
- 104 Gaiter.
- 107 Organs of hearing.
- 108 Top.
- 109 Having wings.

- 113 Site of a famous earthquake.
- 115 Cooks in grease.
- 116 Wild goose call.
- 117 Bend.
- 118 Solitary.
- 119 Lime carbonate deposits.
- 122 Growing out.
- 124 Small coins collectively.
- 125 Pinkish red dye.
- 126 Noblemen.
- 127 Part of a step.
- 128 Impetuous.
- 129 Cover with cloth.
- 130 Bargain.
- 131 Snow vehicles.

DOWN.

- 1 Shatter.
- 2 Ban.
- 3 Concerning.
- 4 Proper.
- 5 Ties.
- 6 Pardon.
- 7 Russian inland sea.
- 8 Vessel.
- 9 Sameness.
- 10 Runs off the tracks.
- 11 Boxes.
- 12 Story.
- 13 High priest of Israel.
- 14 Reinstated.
- 15 Compound ethers.
- 16 Contest.
- 17 Foods.

- 18 Door-keeper of a lodge.
- 19 Piecing out.
- 20 Chairs.
- 27 Chilled.
- 31 Request.
- 34 More boisterous.
- 36 Fastened.
- 37 Undressed kid.
- 38 Asiatic.
- 41 Legumes.
- 42 Circuit.
- 43 Propellers.
- 44 Members of a European race.
- 45 Cognizant.
- 46 Pleasure.
- 47 Pools.
- 48 Made entreaties.
- 50 Elemental.
- 51 Make amends.
- 52 Makes trim.
- 54 Large inn.
- 55 Boundless.
- 56 Regard.
- 58 Defectively.
- 59 Sea duck.
- 60 Sharp.
- 63 Guides.
- 64 Greatest quantity.
- 66 Lethargic sleep.
- 68 Grammatical models.
- 69 Diagram.
- 70 Contents evenly.
- 72 Stupor.
- 73 Plunder.
- 74 Relaxes.
- 75 Vapor.
- 76 Multitude.

Solution of Last Week's Puzzle

- 77 Departed in a hurry.
- 79 Compact.
- 80 Weird.
- 81 Adorn.
- 83 Studio.
- 84 Compensated.
- 85 College officers.
- 87 Asterisk.
- 88 Liberate.
- 89 Blight.
- 92 Dole.
- 94 More highly polished.
- 95 Merit.
- 97 Gas charger.
- 98 Appropriate.
- 99 Craves eagerly.
- 101 Reared.
- 102 Cricket.
- 103 Bog.
- 104 Shaft of a column.
- 105 Part of a plant.
- 106 Onward.
- 108 Wading bird.
- 109 Body of men.
- 110 Degrade.
- 111 Carried: colloq.
- 112 Pitchers.
- 114 Beverage.
- 115 Flick.
- 116 Mob.
- 120 Masculine name.
- 121 Beverage.
- 123 Nothing.

"3 minutes of my time... and I forgot my troubles!"

There's no doubt about it—the three-minute way certainly makes a difference. Three minutes chewing FEEN-A-MINT, the delicious chewing-gum laxative, means real relief from constipation and that lousy feeling. Have you been using racking "all-at-once" cathartics? Then you know what cramps and griping are. The three-minute way is easy, thorough, and oh so efficient! It's good for the entire family—and children love it.

THE CHEWING-GUM LAXATIVE

this rule of eleven, the rule is constantly valuable in a bridge game.

Here is how the rule is used: When a card is led which is fourth highest of its suit in the leader's hand you subtract the denomination (number of pips) of the card from the figure 11. The result is the number of cards in that suit, higher than the card led, which are held by the other three players. To illustrate:

Dummy
♠ K 5 2
Leader
♠ Q J 8 7
Third Hand
♠ A 10 9 3
Declarer
♠ 6 4

The leader opens the 7 of spades. Dummy plays the deuce. Third hand subtracts 7 from 11. The answer is 4. This means that four spades higher than the spade 7 are held by dummy, declarer, and third hand combined. Third hand can see in dummy one of these cards; in his own hand he has three of them. He knows that declarer has none. Therefore he plays the 3 of spades and the 7 wins the trick. The leader, still in the lead, can play through dummy's king again.

Most players of any experience have learned this rule, but many do not realize the full value to which it can be put, often by declarer, in cases such as the following:

Dummy
♥ 8 3
Leader
♥ A 9 7 6 2
Third Hand
♥ K J 10
Declarer
♥ Q 5 4

The lead is the heart 6; third hand wins with the king and returns the heart jack. Declarer can see only his hand and the dummy, but he applies the rule of eleven. The 6, deducted from 11, leaves 5. Five hearts in the other three hands are higher than the 6. One, the 8, was in dummy; one, the queen, is held by declarer; three, obviously, were held by third hand, who has so far shown only two. Declarer covers the heart jack with his queen. Now the heart 10 must win the next trick and block the suit, for the leader, with two established hearts, will not have the lead and cannot immediately cash them.

Had the rule of eleven not indicated that another high heart was held by third hand, declarer would have played low on the heart jack, hoping that third hand would hold no more and could not lead the suit again.

Question: South, the dealer, bids one heart; West passes. You are North, and hold spade 6, heart J 7 5, diamond 9 6 4 3, club A J 5 3 2. What do you bid?

Answer: The best response is two hearts. While the hand does not contain quite enough in hearts to be counted as adequate trump support, which is Q x x or x x x x in partner's suit, the holding of J x x is nearly as good. A response of one no trump would be unfavorable because of the singleton spade, if partner passed. A response of two clubs, which usually shows two honor tricks, might lead partner to rebid two no trump and be set. The raise to two hearts is the least of several evils. This is one of the exceedingly rare cases in which partner's suit may be raised without adequate trump support.

Question: Who should gather in the tricks, the player who wins the first trick, or his partner?

Answer: Though this is not covered in the laws, it is customary for the partner to take in tricks.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Paris Looks at Filmdom

By Sara Day

"THERE should be no quarrel between Paris and Hollywood fashion designers, for each group has an entirely different job and is doing it well."

This statement is particularly interesting because it was made by Dora Miller, representative of the Lace League of America and one of the leading style experts of two continents. Miss Miller, who makes a flying trip to Hollywood every year to see what Hollywood designers are doing, was here for a couple of days on her annual visit and I dashed over to her hotel for an interview. She makes her headquarters in Paris and has returned there now for the November showing of the dressmakers' houses.

"As a matter of fact," she continued, running one hand through her wiry pepper and salt bob, "I think Hollywood and Paris are the two ideal places for the creation of fashions. First, because there is leisure. Second, Hollywood is like Paris in that it is close to both beach and mountains and thereby gives inspiration for varied fashions. On the other hand, New York is pitched to such speed that it is difficult to do real creative work there."

"There is no doubt in my mind but that Hollywood designers have influenced the trend toward fashions of the Far East because of your nearness to those countries. Those fashions introduced into motion pictures caught on in Paris."

"Paris, however, is still supreme when it comes to materials," she went on, flicking her cigaret ashes in the direction of a tray out landing them on Mr. Ambassador's carpet. "There is a reason for that, too. America is a machine country and labor is more expensive. In France they can take time to produce hand-loomed fabrics because labor is cheap. They can take time to make hand-made lace and embroidery. You climb five flights of stairs to a garret in Paris and find a master craftsman making belts and handbags by hand; here they are turned out by thousands."

"PERHAPS you'd like to see some of the new fabrics," she said, and when I enthusiastically nodded assent she opened the door of her capacious closet and showed me models in lace fabrics designed by such people as LeLong, Mainbocher, Dilkusha and Molyneux. There was a black wool lace by LeLong with a Cire Ascot tie and cuffs which was very smart. This suit was quite heavy and designed to resist stormy blasts. In direct contrast was the airy fabric in a grand new shade of coral which Molyneux has introduced in the new shirred and draped model he made for his winter collection. Grace Moore, while she was in Paris recently, bought this model in black for her private wardrobe.

There were some lovely laces called mother of pearl which look like moonlight on the snow, linen laces smartly combined with silk crepes and lots of cotton lace which will be very smart for spring. All-lace undies trimmed with material instead of material trimmed with lace, are new, Miss Miller said.

Hollywood designers are using a great deal of lace and its allied fabrics, net and tulle, in their designs, Miss Miller said. We discussed the bridal outfit, all done in ice blue tulle, which Adrian designed for Joan Crawford in "I Live My Life." Travis Banton, too, likes tulle. He recently made a dress for Carole Lombard of black tulle with a three-tiered skirt. Metal lace is good in combination with other materials. I saw the lovely Virginia Bruce at dinner the other evening in an intriguing frock of lace and velvet. The blouse top, with its perky peplum, was made of silver lace and the long slim straight skirt of black velvet. Virginia is now working in "The Great Ziegfeld" at M-G-M.

Both Paris and Hollywood fashion designers are featuring lace in their styles for winter. Virginia Bruce is wearing this striking dinner frock of silver lace and velvet. It's part of her personal wardrobe.

OVER AT Twentieth Century-Fox, Gwen Wakeling has designed a delicate pink lace gown for Mona Barrie to wear in "King of Burlesque." The lace has a small flower design outlined in silver thread. The hat that goes with it, designed and made by Robert Galen, looks good enough to eat. It is a wide brimmed confection of pink tulle with a crown of the same lace as the dress.

And now I'm just waiting for someone in Hollywood to buy a copy of the Worth lace hat which Miss Miller next showed me. It folds up flat like a handkerchief (it was copied from a coin purse, she says) but can be worn in several different ways. Agnes, the famous hat designer, has created a harem evening cap of white angleskin lace which has a cape effect to swing across just under your nose in a sort of peek aboo effect.

While we're on the subject of headgear, those Juliet caps, so much the vogue for evening now, are lovely on young girls. I decided that after seeing Olivia de Havilland in one the other night at the premier of Warner Brothers' "Midsummer Night's Dream."

This was, indeed, a gala affair. The first premiere in Hollywood in many moons. Little Olivia has her first big role in this picture and she was starry-eyed with delight as she came up to the entrance of the theater. She looked as Juliet herself might have looked, in her chartreuse velvet gown made after the Italian Renaissance mode, with long puff sleeves, high waistline and pointed train. Her cap was of the velvet bound in gold and she had gold sandals. Her wrap was a coat of white squirrel.

ANITA LOUISE, also in the cast, was lovely in a Grecian gown of egg shell velvet with a girdle of gold cord. Her wrap had a hood and was long and flowing.

Grace Moore and her husband, Valentin Parera, accompanied by Gladys Swarthout and her husband, Frank Chapman, were among the other first nighters. Miss Moore was stunning in a silver and white brocade gown and a short sable cape. Gladys wore a flowing gown of black chiffon with a fan-shaped cape of white fox. Two rhinestone clips held her hair back on either side of the middle part.

Bette Davis wore a gown of wood violet crepe with a wide girdle of Paisley metal cloth (shades of green, red and blue shimmered through it). Her wrap was also of the metal cloth.

Mary Carlisle, who is much slimmer and prettier than of yore, was there in a white velvet gown made on Grecian lines with a jeweled silver belt and a silver cloth wrap.

Thelma Todd was her usual gorgeous self in a gown of gold lame which had a pattern of peacock feathers in it. With this she wore a long mink coat and a corsage of cornflowers, to match her eyes, no doubt.

Lois Wilson wore a flame colored evening gown with a gold bow knot clip at the neck and her three-quarter length coat was of the same material.

Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci wore a silver metal cloth gown and her three-quarter length ermine cape had a collar of Russian sable.

Joan Blondell, surprisingly accompanied by her ex-husband, George Barnes, and with her curls piled high on top of her head, was wearing a gold lame frock and a short sable cape.

Everyone was dressed to the teeth and there were literally tons of orchids dripping off the shoulders of Hollywood's most famous "femmes," but I must say that I liked the simplicity of the bunch of fuschias which Glenda Farrell wore on her draped gown of the same shade of velvet. Over her golden curls was a hooded wrap of the same velvet, full length.

THE RADIO REPORTER

By Bernes Robert

WE HAD cock-tails with Lawrence Tibbett following the singer's CBS songcast the other Tuesday night.

"Here's mumps," said the baritone as we lifted our glasses. The strange toast demanded an explanation. We got it. It is the famous singer's method of wishing you the best possible luck.

Ever since he had a memorable case of mumps some 12 or 13 years ago, he has considered the ailment a harbinger of good fortune. Tibbett had just come East from California, bent upon a concert career. Despite the advice of friends he was determined to crash the concert field, although it was already over-run with ambitious baritones. People tried to interest him in opera. "It's bunk," he told them. Concert for him. He made arrangements to hold his debut concert at the old Aeolian Hall. Programs were printed and everything was set. Then he caught the mumps. When he recovered, he was unable to find a hall immediately for his debut as a concert singer. So he took an audition at the Metropolitan Opera—where he became world famous. To this day Larry regards mumps as a good omen.

Vivienne Segal has a new manager whose name is Mark Hanna, and thereby hangs a tale. When the lovely soprano won her first starring role in a Broadway show, Mark was selling song sheets in the lobby. The name of the show was "Blue Paradise."

Vivienne always had a smile for the boy who sold the songs she was singing. Mark never forgot her. Later he became a manager of movie and radio stars. Just recently at a cocktail party he met Vivienne for the first time in five years. They got to talking. A little later Vivienne announced she had a new manager—the former song salesman.

We dropped into the Sound Effects department at CBS where they are orienting their noises into different sections. The bells are now installed in one enormous cabinet, for instance, and there is every kind of bell you can imagine. Walter Pierson, head of the department, named them over in a monotonous chant for us, "Sleigh bells, cow bells, bicycle bells, steam engine bells, school bells, hotel tap bells, telephone bells, ship's clock bells, door bells, fire gongs, temple bells, fight gongs, typewriter bells, alarm clock bells."

There is one bell which is kept in a special place where nobody can lay hands on it for any ordinary purpose. It is Alexander Woollcott's "Town Crier" bell, and anybody who trifles with it is automatically placed in the station's "dog-house."

Helen Hayes never allows her mother to be in the studio when she is broadcasting. There's a reason for it. The night Helen played her first important role on Broadway, her mother was sitting out front. From the stage Helen could see her mother, nervous and fretting. It upset Helen. She fumbled several lines and missed a couple of cues. Ever since, Helen has ruled that if Mrs. Brown—the star's real name is Helen Brown—wishes to see her perform, she must do it from a point beyond her daughter's vision.

When Helen acts upon the stage, Mrs. Brown sits in the balcony. When she performs over the air, in the NBC serial, "The New Penny," Mrs. Brown sits in a glass-enclosed observation booth back of the performers.

John Reid King, who was added to the CBS announcing staff recently, is now the youngest regular spieler on the networks. John is 21. He came to the network via station WPG in Atlantic City, N. J., where he had worked each summer of his four years at Princeton.

GRACE DUNN,

whose songs are featured on the Friday evening program on which you hear the Mills Brothers and Art Kassel's music over NBC, is the selfsame Grace Dunn who proved a great attraction with Harry Lauder, when the Scot toured this country and Canada 10 years ago.

Back in 1925 Lauder discovered a lovely flaxen-haired youngster whose high soprano voice was the talk of her native Hamilton, Ont. Grace and her mother traveled with Harry for two years. Then Lauder returned to Europe.

Returning to America three years ago, Lauder made a trip to Hamilton to visit the Dunns. He discovered that his promising child soprano had developed into a strikingly beautiful little lady and her voice had changed into a thrilling contralto. You can guess the rest; Grace learned to be a radio singer.

When Lanny Ross, "Showboat" tenor and star, was guest of honor of the Legion of Honor of the New York Police Department recently, a burly Irishman came up, shook his hand and said: "You don't remember me, do you?" Lanny was afraid he didn't. The officer grinned: "I ran you in for going through a stop light two years ago." * * * Frank Black's idea of relaxation is scoring for a large symphony orchestra such an opus as the Bach "Fantasia and Fugue in A Lawrence Tibbett and his son Michael in an unmusical moment. Tibbett is broadcasting over CBS networks at 8:30 p. m. (EST) Tuesdays.

Minor." Since he started this task, which we are told was never before attempted, NBC's musical director says he has never enjoyed anything more—and considers it a very pleasant "pastime." * * * Seen by your reporter at one of those hole-in-the-wall shooting galleries in New York: Jimmy Melton taking numerous shots at the toy animals.

For many months now, Phil Baker's comical valet and stooge-of-all-work, Bottle, has been reciting narratives of his ridiculous amours to CBS audiences. According to the scripts, Bottle is the unhappy victim of an unrequited love. But philosopher that he is, Bottle takes it on the chin and goes out after another girl.

In real life he is a more successful lover than Phil Baker's writers would have you believe. In evidence we submit the fact that the parents of Jean Ferris, New York debutante, have announced the engagement of their daughter to one Harry McNaughton—which is the name Bottle uses in legal documents. The nuptials will be celebrated before Christmas.

WILLIE

MORRIS had a trying time at her "opening night" performance, on the new Flying Red Horse Tavern program, heard over CBS, with Freddie Rich's orchestra, Uncle Jim Hawkins, and Lynn Murray's male choir.

Up to broadcast time, the all-important corsage from the boy friend had failed to arrive. Willie felt miserable. But the show went on, corsage or no corsage.

At the end of the show, a deafening burst of applause greeted her efforts, from the studio audience. Messengers were seen scurrying across the stage of the Columbia playhouse, armed to the teeth with bouquets, floral wreaths, and sprays of fragrant flowers.

Then, suddenly, a midget-sized Western Union boy ran down the aisle. In his hands was a small box. Willie's watchful eyes sighted him. At last the flowers had come. The boy raced across the stage as proud as a messenger of love could be, and then—plop! He fell flat on his face, in full view of 1,500 laughing spectators. Under his small, sprawling body were two crushed orchids.

Jimmy Dorsey, the NBC bandleader, declares he passed a radio studio in the Mid-West recently which was being picketed by people bearing signs which stated that "this studio is unfair to amateur talent."

Paging Major Bowes!

NO RADIO maestro is more reserved than Guy Lombardo. Few people know the funny little characteristics that make the man more of a human being. But we've been gathering some interesting odds and ends for those who have been asking "What kind of a guy is Guy?"

He lives in an apartment on Riverside Drive, New York, prefers the open country to living in the city but must remain near broadcasting studios. Has one ambition, to sleep nights instead of days. Sleeps only three or four hours in each 24. Likes the water and is a rabid boating enthusiast. Owns two boats—one a sixty-five-foot cruiser, the other a thirty-foot 225-horsepower speedboat. Would like to become a speed pilot but his brothers won't let him. Gets a tremendous kick out of pulling in distant stations on his short-wave receiver. Likes double-breasted dark suits. It a good business man, but has a keen sense of humor in his financial dealings. Is a stickler for accuracy and adamant in his opinions. Never forgets an appointment but is invariably late. Is not conceited, enjoys good conversation and is a good listener. (No wonder the women like him.) He and Carmen, his singing brother, are always arguing. They usually make up two seconds after the most heated words. Very devoted to his parents and just bought them a large estate near Greenwich, Conn. His earnings have averaged more than any other orchestra leader in the last seven years.

Ted Melone's "Between the Bookends" show is pulling more fan mail than any other unsponsored program on the CBS network. Ted, blond, stocky, affable, is program director of NBC Columbia, Kansas City.

Ted put on his show for the first time about seven years ago locally just to "get even" with the audience. Fresh from William Jewell College, he joined the staff of KMBC as continuity writer. Ere long he was program director, and he took the job very seriously, to the point of analyzing audience criticism. He tried out any number of shows for reaction. He noted that certain fans wrote in and criticized the output of KMBC as not being sufficiently highbrow to suit them.

Ted said to himself, "I'll fix 'em." To his mind, nothing seemed so highbrow as reading literature over the air. So with his tongue in his cheek (poetry had always bored him), one day he went on the air. But he surprised himself by getting quite a boot out of reading poetry. It surprised him a great deal more when he got floods of letters complimenting him on his job and asking for more.

Richard Harold Svihus (pronounced Swiss) who plays the role of Pinkie on NBC's One Man's Family, has to climb a stepladder to speak into the microphone. He is 4 years old.

Richard, believed to be the youngest actor ever to read lines over the air, is a calm, even-tempered little fellow with a real sense of humor and an ambition to become a locomotive engineer.

It is only a matter of three months since Richard first began to read. In that time he has mastered a vocabulary of several hundred words and is seldom stopped by words of less than three syllables. He has just enough difficulty saying "th" to give his speech a childish charm.

Credit for the discovery of Richard goes to Mrs. Carleton Morse, wife of the author of this popular dramatic serial. She heard about Richard during a course in child psychology, and passed the word along to her husband.

Richard's proudest possession is a recent fan letter from Shirley Temple. Shirley said it was her first. They all do.

Reviews of the New Films

By The Boulevardier

'Thanks a Million'

Dick Powell and Fred Allen in a light and amusing union of song and humor, with Ann Dvorak, Raymond Walburn, Patsy Kelly and Paul Whiteman's band included in the supporting cast. Recommended. Twentieth Century-Fox.

Diversity all of a sudden is the watchword. "Cycles" for the time are out. Pictures of late have leaped to preview with such a variety of theme and locale that the spectator hops from era to era, from notion to notion, in the pleasurable excitement of a visiting fireman seeing the sights of a new town. Here and there, perhaps, a familiar face from the home village may greet him—a G-man or a World War hero; but for the most part the landscape is filled with interesting strangers.

"Thanks a Million" features a couple of Yacht Club Boys, Fred Allen and Dick Powell, and millions of thanks are due Dick and Fred for tossing this melodic rainbow at a storm-cloud world. It only goes to prove that if people keep their sense of humor, whatever else they may lose, things won't seem so bad.

This picture waxes humorous about most of the things that please or perplex the American nation today. Waxes humorous, moreover, to a generous amount of good music.

A slow start gives no inkling of the heights of gayety to which the Twentieth Century-Fox film eventually climbs. Once out of a cross-country bus, however, and into a political campaign that comes along, the plot and the players grow more and more the mad, mag wags till the climax of the Yacht Club boys and their songs is reached. "Ridin' Over Hill and Dale" is funny; "Alphabet" is much funnier; and "Square Deal Party" is possibly funniest of all.

The last two of these songs are political satires, originally vaudeville acts. From Democrats as well as Republicans they evoked such roars of laughter that now they're in celluloid.

Helped out in one sequence by Paul Whiteman's band and at other minutes by other vocal and instrument aids, the plot discloses how "Judge Cullinan" (Raymond Walburn) is running for Governor but can't keep sober long enough to campaign; how the "machine" induces a crooper (Dick Powell) to take his place; how the vaudeville troupe managed by Fred Allen (who is as entertaining on the screen as on the air) assists at the rallies; and how Ann Dvorak loves Dick. The plot has some novel turns, the dialog is exceptionally clever, Patsy Kelly is amusing as a girl friend, and Dick Powell sings a number of songs. Altogether, the picture has a lightsome atmosphere that makes it an important humorous contribution.

'The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo'

Ronald Colman as the taxi driver (really a Russian prince) who broke the bank. The film has almost everything except a good plot and dialog. Twentieth Century-Fox.

How to find words for "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," with Ronald Colman in the lead? Maybe the adequate words are: What if he did?

There should have been a refreshing comedy in this plot. A taxi driver (Colman), actually a Russian prince, wins all the money in the baccarat bank, falls in love with the girl (Joan Bennett) who is sent by the Monte Carlo gambling proprietors to lure him back to town so that he may lose again the enormous sum he has won.

Well, then it all begins again and about the same things are done over. There's Alpine climbing, with Miss Bennett sliding down a cliff; there's a bevy of Russians working in a Paris cafe; there's anything you care to name except a coherent, closely knit plot and a smidgeon of worthwhile dialog. Colman's acting is smooth, as usual, but he has little about which to act. Miss Bennett looks extremely pretty but, chilled by the Alpine cold, doesn't even melt on the Riviera. It is only fair to note that the picture will be further edited before its general release; it would need to be fairly thoroughly remade before it would be worthy of Colman's talents.

Fred Allen, Raymond Walburn and Andrew Tombes in a scene from "Thanks a Million" (Twentieth Century-Fox). Allen, radio favorite, makes his screen debut in this film, and Dick Powell stars.

'Rendezvous'

William Powell in an exciting war film. Rosalind Russell has her best role to date and does well with it. Recommended. M-G-M.

In "Rendezvous" we go back to war days. The film stars William Powell as one of those super-intelligence experts to whom the most intricate German code is an open book. After a slow beginning, events come thick and fast; they include scenes of decoding technique that fit neatly into the plot and have their legitimate element of suspense.

The "Rendezvous" is between an American troopship and its convoy somewhere on the Atlantic, and the story centers around the enemy attempts to learn the rendezvous location. Among many exciting moments there stand out that in which Powell, captured by enemy spies, sends a false message to notify his colleagues of his danger and that in which Cesar Romero, as a Russian spy, jumps dramatically to his death.

The film, except at the beginning, holds the attention throughout, and serves also to introduce Rosalind Russell in her first suitable role. She plays the heroine, an attractive but scarcely keen-witted girl, who nearly spoils Powell's plans by dogging him around. Miss Russell supplies a large proportion of the comedy in a picture where comedy is almost as evident as tense action.

'Frisco Kid'

A story of the Barbary Coast, with James Cagney as the hero. His best story in some time. Margaret Lindsay plays opposite. Recommended. Warner Bros.

With a better story than he has had for some time, James Cagney in "Frisco Kid" appears again as a hard-bitten rowdy who overcomes odds and foes. He battles his way to the overlordship of the old San Francisco waterfront, and to the accompaniment of fists and gunplay falls in love with the daughter (Margaret Lindsay) of a publisher whom the vice elements have murdered.

In the course of the hero's ascent from the status of shanghaied sailor to that of boss of the Barbary Coast, there comes also the ascent of San Francisco from a wild gambling settlement to a town that has at last a civic consciousness and vigilantes to serve it. Necessarily, since the picture deals with much the same material, the plot includes angles likewise incorporated in the current "Barbary Coast" of which Miriam Hopkins is heroine. But "Frisco Kid" presents a different viewpoint—it is more the story of the man than of the woman.

'It's in the Air'

Jack Benny, as a shady but gentlemanly adventurer, and Ted Healy as his stooge, provide lots of laughs in a picture with plenty, or even too much, of plot. Recommended. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"It's in the Air," the new Jack Benny picture, presents an up-to-date musketeer who has the daring, if not the manner, of the type Dumas had in mind. The "Calvin Churchill" of Jack Benny is a gentleman adventurer of the race track, the confidence game and of any other racket—within reason—from which quick profits are to be gleaned. His aide is Ted Healy as "Clip McGurk." And the Department of Justice is on their trail.

From these beginnings, this M-G-M offering goes on and on. It is not, incidentally, a musical, though its title has made many people confuse it with "Music in the Air." "Churchill," it appears, has married "Alice" (Una Merkel) who left him because he won't turn honest. Just when "Churchill" finds "Alice" teaching tennis at an exclusive hotel, the plot meanders off into a stratosphere experiment undertaken by "Churchill" and complicated by burglars, big business men and whatnot, till the spectator lets it go and gives himself up to enjoyment of the Benny and Healy antics.

Anyway, the plot is the least of it. The picture depends practically altogether on what Benny, assisted by Healy, plans and does and how he does it. While the outcome is a series of incidents strung on a pretty thin thread of story, these add up to light comedy often turning into farce which proves decidedly worth an idle hour or so.

'I Found Stella Parish'

Kay Francis is as lovely as ever, and so are her gowns. Ian Hunter contributes some excellent acting. Warner Bros.

Of "I Found Stella Parish," anyone but the wholehearted Kay Francis fan will be tempted to say: "Oh, yes?" or even, "Oh, why?" In this film the plot is not plausible and there are many dragging intervals in spite of the excellent acting of Ian Hunter as a London newspaper man, and in spite of the beauty of Miss Francis and her gowns.

Miss Francis as Stella, an American actress who has become the toast of London under the management of Paul Lukas, disappears on the night of her greatest success. As the astute Hunter discovers, she has disguised herself as her own aunt—Miss Francis is at her best, by the way, in these serio-comic sequences—and is aboard ship en route to New York. Her purpose is to shield her little daughter (excellently portrayed by Sybil Jason), from the villain who threatens to disclose the connection of Stella with a murder long ago.

Up to this point, the plot does fairly well. The unlikely ingredient is that anyone so very refined as Stella should capitalize on the notoriety that follows news of the scandal of her past—precipitated by Hunter—by going into vaudeville, then into burlesque, even though she did it (as so many Hollywood heroines do these quaint things) to get money to protect her child. It seems yet more unlikely that after all this there should be a chance of a stage triumph for her again in conservative London. Nor is it too likely that a London newspaper man, even though he appears to have an unlimited expense account, would have the funds to finance that triumph.

Ah, well-a-day. He does, though. And it's a triumph, with Miss Francis more bewitching than ever. And, do you know, the story ends happily.

Recent pictures which have been reviewed and recommended in Screen & Radio Weekly are as follows: "The Crusades" (Paramount); "Broadway Melody of 1936" (M-G-M); "This Is the Life" (Fox); "Big Broadcast of 1936" (Paramount); "Freckles" (RKO-Radio); "Last Days of Pompeii" (RKO-Radio); "Shipmates Forever" (Warner); "Barbary Coast" (M-G-M); "O'Shaughnessy's Boy" (M-G-M); "Little America" (Paramount); "Personal Maid's Secret" (Warner); "The Last Outpost" (Paramount); "The Three Musketeers" (RKO-Radio); "Hands Across the Table" (Paramount); "Remember Last Night" (Universal); "A Night at the Opera" (M-G-M); "Metropolitan" (Twentieth Century-Fox); "Ship Cafe" (Paramount); "His Night Out" (Universal).

BEAUTY

By Grace Grandville

The Rewards of Change—Wise Girls Forget Perfect Moments of the Past and Seek Means to Create New Ones

GIVE ME your shell-pink ears. I want to tell you something. One important secret of keeping your youth and beauty is the ability to change with the changing times. Nothing remains the same for long. Adjust yourself to that fact and you can hold your own with the fledglings, a new crop of whom is sure to be crowding you, whatever your age.

Most women try to cling to a becoming past. Because they looked lovely in last year's style of hairdress they refuse to discard it. Suppose your prettiest compliment WAS paid when you were wearing a pink dress. Don't imagine you will always look your best in pink. Perfect moments cannot be repeated. The wise girl lets them go and bends every effort to create new ones.

Be not afraid of change. It makes life interesting. For an object lesson, there's the case of Ann Sothorn. Ann changed her type, changed her name and changed herself into a star.

In 1929 a girl named Harriette Lake came to Hollywood on a visit. She could dance and she could sing (her mother was a singing teacher) and she was pretty. So she got into pictures. But nothing much happened. She was just another pretty girl who could dance and sing. Her future in Hollywood didn't appear to be dazzling. She went to the New York musical comedy stage and did very well. Whereupon Hollywood invited her to come back again.

IN THE meanwhile much thinking had gone on behind a pair of blue-gray eyes. Harriette had observed how a hotsy-totsy dancer named Lucille Le Seur had changed herself into Joan Crawford, how Norma Shearer had literally built her beauty, bit by glamorous bit; how Carole Lombard had changed herself so completely that she could hardly be recognized as the same girl who worked in Mack Sennett comedies.

Harriette Lake turned herself into Ann Sothorn, seductive individual, like no one else in the world. How? Well, by study, artifice and not being afraid of change. She became a decided blond. She cultivated high arched eyebrows because she discovered that on her particular face they shortened the distance between her hairline and eyes and accentuated the size of the latter. She changed the rouged outline of her mouth and by make-up accented her high cheek bones.

And she's still at it. Unwilling to be eternally typed as a blond siren and given only "blond" roles, Ann is now letting her hair go back to a darker shade.

She takes beautiful care of that hair. Ten minutes a day are devoted to scalp massage and brushing. When she is working she has a daily shampoo, and between pictures her hair is washed every four days. She uses a shampoo made of a blend of vegetable oils in preference to soap. Believing that summer, sun dries and bleaches the hair, Ann has been treating herself to hot oil rubs twice a week throughout the fall. Very potent in restoring life, luster and color.

ANN uses a quick-melting type of cold cream and washes her face afterward with a bland complexion soap. She swears by the constant use of a mild skin tonic and an oily nourishing cream, a bit of which is patted briskly into her skin with flattened fingers.

However, cleansing, nourishing and stimulating the tissues do not tell the whole story, according to Ann. You've got to follow a correct diet to keep a clear skin. Drink milk and fruit juices and about twice as much water as you really want. And look with favor upon the leafy vegetables.

But Ann doesn't diet to keep her weight down. She does that by exercise out-of-doors every day. Mostly she plays tennis and a whacking good game, too. She boasts that the gastronomic result is the appetite of a stevedore. In spite of which she has kept within two pounds of her most becoming weight, 108 pounds, for six months.

Ann Sothorn changed her hair, her make-up and even her name, and as result of the change became a glamorous star of the films.

ANN keeps up her singing lessons and studies dancing with the best teacher in Hollywood. She is a demon for work and she likes to play as well as the next one. But she is firm about getting enough sleep. Any successful beauty campaign, says Columbia's prize charmer, must be backed up by lots of shut-eye.

Speaking of eyes, Ann never uses eye-shadow in the daytime. At night she faintly tints her lids with iridescent blue. Day or night, though, she uses light brown eyebrow pencil and a touch of little with daily brushing.

You've noticed how piously the Sothorn eyelashes curl upward. She trained them to do so with eyelash curlers, and they learned the lesson so well that now all she has to do is encourage them a little with daily brushing up.

Ann has delightful hands, and nature shaped her nails with tender regard. She knows they are a big asset, and she gives them religious care. Her hands are never washed without a subsequent application of lotion. And every night she rubs oil on the cuticle of her nails. Better do likewise just before you finish up your prayers with "and please make me a lovely girl!" There's nothing amiss about helping yourself, you know.

Questions and Comments from the Mail Bag

PLEASE print the cast of "The Thin Man" and let us know who wrote the story and who directed the picture. Is it two or three years old?

JENNY AND JIMMY.

William Powell, Myrna Loy, Maureen O'Sullivan, Nat Pendleton, Minna Gombell, Porter Hall, Henry Wadsworth, William Henry, Harold Huber, Cesar Romero, Natalie Moorhead, Edward Brophy, Edward Ellis, Cyril Thornton. The original story was written by Dashiell Hammett and was adapted to the screen by Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich. W. S. Van Dyke directed. It was released in May, 1934.

When and where was Charles Butterworth born? Was he ever on the stage? How old is Una Merkel and where was she born? What is her coloring? Was she ever on the stage also?

SIDNEY.

Born in South Bend, Ind., date not available. He was well known in the legitimate theater before entering pictures. Miss Merkel was born in Covington, Ky., Dec. 10, 1903. Blond hair, blue eyes. Well known on the stage.

Is Beryl Mercer, who plays so many old lady parts, an Englishwoman or American? How old is she? Didn't she appear in a picture with Gary Cooper some time ago that had to do with the World War?

WINIFRED NEATON.

Born in Seville, Spain, in 1882, of British parents. She was with Cooper in "Seven Days Leave."

Where and when was Freddie Bartholomew born? Is he an orphan?

KENNETH BARTON.

Born in London, March 28, 1924. His parents are living but he is the ward of his aunt, Miss Mylicent Bartholomew, who is with him in Hollywood.

WHEN AND

where was William Gargan born? What height and weight and his coloring? Did he ever make pictures in England? Was he ever on the stage? What was the name of the picture in which he appeared with Leslie Howard and played a butler or valet or something?

BILL THE SECOND.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 17, 1905. Six feet, 170 pounds. Fair hair, blue eyes. He made pictures in England last year. He was on the New York stage before entering pictures. He appeared with Howard in "Animal Kingdom" on the stage and on the screen.

Of the three actors in the Barrymore family which is the big, the little and the middle size bear, if I may put it that way? Who were their parents?

WILSON STEWART.

Lionel is the eldest, Ethel next and John the youngest. Georgia Drew and Maurice Barrymore were their parents.

Where and when was Binnie Barnes born? Is she blond or brunette?

SALLY M.

Born in London, March 25, 1908. Reddish brown hair, brown eyes.

Where may I obtain a photograph of Katherine DeMille? Is she a daughter of Cecil B. DeMille or of William DeMille?

VIRGINIA.

Send your request to Paramount, with 25 cents. Adopted daughter of Cecil.

What actress played opposite Richard Dix in "The Arizonian"? Please describe her and where she was born? Is it true that Mr. Dix has been making pictures in England lately? Will the pictures be shown in America?

DIX FAN.

Margot Grahame was leading woman in "The Arizonian." She was born in Canterbury, England, in 1912, and in private life is the wife of Francis Lister, stage and screen actor. She has ash blond hair and blue eyes. Mr. Dix has been in England making pictures for a British studio. One of these British made films, "Trans-Atlantic Tunnel," will be released in America shortly.

WHEN AND

where was Marlene Dietrich born? Is she still making pictures in Hollywood or has she returned to Germany? Has she blond or red hair and what color are her eyes?

FRAULEIN.

Born in Berlin, Dec. 27, 1904. Still making pictures in Hollywood. Reddish gold hair, blue eyes.

In "The Mighty Barnum," who was the actress who impersonated Jenny Lind? Who played Barnum's wife and niece? Who was the bearded lady?

CIRCUS HOUND.

Virginia Bruce played Jenny Lind. Janet Beecher was Barnum's wife and Rochelle Hudson his niece. May Boley played the bearded lady.

Where could I get a picture of Joan Bennett? I know she has blond hair but what color are her eyes?

SAMMY BROWN.

Send your request to the Paramount Studios. Blue eyes.

Who supported May Robson in "Lady By Choice"?

MAY'S ADMIRER.

Carole Lombard, Roger Pryor, Walter Connolly, Arthur Hohl, Raymond Walburn, James Burke, Mariska Aldrich, John Boyle, Henry Kolker, Lillian Harmer, Abe Denovitch, Snowflake.

Was it William Powell or Warner Baxter who played the title role in "Broadway Bill"? Who else was in the picture? Who was the director of the picture and what studio made it?

CASS BELL.

Warner Baxter. The cast included Myrna Loy, Helen Vinson, Walter Connolly, Lynne Overman, Raymond Walburn, Clarence Muse. Frank Capra directed and Columbia Studios made the picture.

How old is

Maurice Chevalier? What was the first picture in which he appeared in this country? Is he going to make any more soon?

ADMIRER.

Chevalier was born in Menilmontant, France, Sept. 12, 1889. His first American picture was "Innocents of Paris." He is at present in France, and has announced his determination not to return to Hollywood.

Where was Wallace Beery born? How old is he? What height and weight?

JOHNNY K.

Born in Kansas City, April 1, 1889. Six feet 1 inch, 189 pounds.

Who are the principals in "The Littlest Rebel" besides Shirley Temple?

TONY.

John Boles, Karen Morley, Jack Holt, Guinn Williams, Bill Robinson, Sleep 'n Eat.

WHO played the leading roles in "The Crusades" and how many are in the entire cast? I have heard it is one of the largest, if not the largest, cast of actors ever assembled for a motion picture. I know Cecil DeMille directed the picture but did he also write the story? What studio releases the picture?

GEORGE WALDEN.

Loretta Young, Henry Wilcoxon, Ian Keith, Katharine DeMille, C. Aubrey Smith, Joseph Schildkraut, Alan Hale, C. Henry Gordon, George Barbier, Montague Love, Lumsden Hare, William Farnum, Hobart Bosworth, Pedro de Cordoba, Albert Conti, Maurice Murphy, Mischa Auer play the prominent parts. The cast of principals numbers 56 and the extras employed ran into the thousands. Mr. DeMille directed but the story was written by Harold Lamb, Waldemar Young and Dudley Nichols, with music and lyrics by Rudolph Kopp and Harold Lamb. Paramount releases the picture.

Was Jack Benny or Ben Bernie in "Trans-Atlantic Merry-Go-Round"? What players were in the picture? Do you know who directed the picture?

BENNY STANTON.

Jack Benny, Gene Raymond, Nancy Carroll, Sidney Howard, Mitzi Green, Sid Silvers, Sidney Blackmer, Ralph Morgan, Shirley Grey, Sam Hardy, William Boyd, Robert Elliott, Frank Parker, Carlyle Moore, Jean Sargent. Directed by Benjamin Stoloff.

What was the name of the last picture made by Harold Lloyd? When will his next be shown and what is it to be called?

FUN LOVER.

"The Cat's Paw" was Lloyd's last picture, made in 1934. "The Milky Way" is the title of his next picture, release date not yet announced.

WAS there ever

a picture by the name of "Wagon Wheels" or was it just a song? If there was a picture, who appeared in it? When was it shown? What was the late Russ Colombo's last picture called? Who was in it with him?

DAISY B.

Paramount Studios made a picture "Wagon Wheels." The cast included Randolph Scott, Gail Patrick, Billy Lee, Leila Bennett, Jan Duggan, Monte Blue, Raymond Hatton, Olin Howland, J. P. McGowan, James Marcus, Helen Hunt, James Kenton, Alfred Delcambre, John Marston, Samuel McDaniels, Howard Wilson, Michael Visaroff, Julian Madison, Eldred Tidbury, E. Alyn Warren. It was released in October, 1934. "Wake Up and Dream." The cast included Roger Pryor, June Knight, Henry Armetta, Catherine Doucet, Richard Carle, Andy Devine, Wini Shaw, Spencer Charters, Gavin Gordon, Paul Porcasi, Maurice Black, Clarence Wilson, Arthur Hoyt, Philip Dakin.

I would like to know the cast of "Charlie Chan in Egypt"?

J. CUTHBERTSON.

Warner Oland, Pat Paterson, Thomas Beck, Rita Cansino, Jameson Thomas, Frank Conroy, Nigel DeBruier, James Eagles, Paul Porcasi, Arthur Stone, Stephen Fetchit.

Where could I get a photograph of Miriam Hopkins in one of the costumes she wore in "Barbary Coast"?

CYRILLA.

Send your request with 25 cents to Samuel Goldwyn Productions, United Artists Studios, Hollywood.

Could you tell us the actors who appeared in the English made picture of "Sorrell and Son"? Who authored the story? Who directed the picture? Did any of the actors also play in the first picture made under that title?

JACK AND JILL.

The cast included H. B. Warner, Peter Penrose, Hugh Williams, Margot Grahame, Winifred Shott, Donald Calthrop, Wally Patch, Evelyn Roberts, Hope Davy, Louis Hayward, Ruby Miller. The screen play was written by Lydia Hayward, based on the novel of the same name by Warwick Deeping. Jack Raymond directed. Mr. Warner was in both pictures.

How long ago

was "Stand Up and Cheer" made? What people were in the cast? Some one told me that picture's story was written by Will Rogers. Is that true?

GREGORY S.

It was released in April, 1934. The cast included Warner Baxter, Madge Evans, James Dunn, Sylvia Froos, John Boles, Shirley Temple, Ralph Morgan, Jimmy Dallas, Aunt Jemima, Mitchell and Durant, Nigel Bruce, Nick Foran, Stepin Fetchit. The late Will Rogers collaborated on the story with Philip Klein and Lew Brown.

Who was Katharine Hepburn's leading man in "Spitfire"? Please name the entire cast. Who was the director of the picture? Was it not based on a radio story or written by a radio person?

EDITH JORDAN.

Robert Young and Ralph Bellamy were the leading men. The cast included Martha Sleeper, Sidney Toler, Louis Mason, Sarah Padden, Virginia Howell, Therese Wittler, High Ghere. John Cromwell directed. Lulu Vollmer was author of the story, which originally was titled "Trigger," and was used on the radio; later she wrote the story for the screen with the collaboration of Jane Murfin.

Please print the cast of "Let 'Em Have It"?

ANXIOUS.

Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Alice Brady, Bruce Cabot, Harvey Stephens, Eric Linden, Joyce Compton, Gordon Jones, J. Farrell MacDonald, Bodil Rosing, Paul Stanton, Robert Emmett O'Connor, Hale Hamilton.

Who played the brother of Arline Judge in "College Scandal"?

SUSIE E.

Kent Taylor.

PLEASE publish

the characters and those who played them in "Manhattan Melodrama." When did that picture come out? Also, print something about Crauford Kent, who I think came from the same part of England my parents did—at least they think so.

THANKS.

The characters and players in "Manhattan Melodrama" were: Blackie, Clark Gable; Jim, William Powell; Eleanor, Myrna Loy; Father Joe, Leo Carillo; Spud, Nat Pendleton; Annabelle, Isabel Jewell; Tootsy, Muriel Evans; Snow, Thomas Jackson; Miss Adams, Claudelle Kaye; Blackie's attorney, Frank Conroy; Mannie Arnold, Noel Madison; Jim (as a boy), Jimmy Butler; Blackie (as a boy), Mickey Rooney. It was released in May, 1934. Crauford Kent was born in London, England. His height is 5 feet 10 1/2 inches, he has dark grey eyes and dark brown hair, and weighs 160 pounds. He entered pictures in 1915.

WHAT old time stage actor played the father in "Alice Adams"? Please name the complete cast of players in that picture? Wasn't the story taken from a novel? If so, what was the name and who was the author?

JINNY.

Fred Stone played the father. The cast included Katharine Hepburn, Fred MacMurray, Fred Stone, Evelyn Venable, Frank Albertson, Ann Shoemaker, Charley Grapewin, Grady Sutton, Hedda Hopper, Jonathan Hale, Hattie McDaniels. The screen play was adapted from Booth Tarkington's novel of the same name.

Who played George Raft's older brother in "The Trumpet Blows"? Please name the cast? Was that picture made before or after "Bolero"?

LOVER OF SPAIN.

Adolphe Menjou. The cast included Frances Drake, Sidney Toler, Edward Ellis, Nydia Westman, Douglas Wood, Lillian Elliott, Katherine DeMille, Francis McDonald, Morgan Wallace, Gert-rude Norman. It was released in April, 1934, and "Bolero" in February, 1934.

Who was John Barrymore's leading woman in the picture that was supposed to be on a train? What was the name of it?

CYNTHIA.

Carole Lombard. "Twentieth Century."

Did Ralph or Frank Morgan play the leading man's role in "There's Always Tomorrow"? Who else was in that picture?

GWEN B.

Frank Morgan had the principal male role. Others in the picture were Binnie Barnes, Lois Wilson, Louise Latimer, Elizabeth Young, Alan Hale, Robert Taylor, Maurice Murphy, Dick Winslow, Helen Parrish, Marjorie Hamilton.

PLEASE describe

Paulette Goddard, who is Charlie Chaplin's leading lady in his new picture. Where did she come from and how old is she? Was she ever in a picture before Chaplin's or on the stage?

CURIOUS TO KNOW.

Born in Great Neck, L. I., June 3, 1911. She is 5 feet 4 inches, 110 pounds, has platinum blond hair and blue eyes. Appeared on the stage in "Rio Rita" and was a member of the stock company at the Hal Roach Picture Studio when picked by Chaplin for his new picture.

Who were the actresses who played the three girls with George Raft's band in "Every Night a Night"?

CECELIA.

Alice Faye, Patsy Kelly and Frances Langford.

Which one of the Tracy boys had the leading role in "Dante's Inferno"? Who else was in the cast?

JIM DONOVAN.

Spencer Tracy. The cast included also Claire Trevor, Henry B. Walthall, Alan Dinehart, Scott Beckett, Robert Gleckler, Willard Robertson, Morgan Wallace.

Was the picture "British Agent" made here or in Europe? Who was in it? Who was the director?

WALTER MORRISON.

It was made in Hollywood on the First National lot. The cast included Leslie Howard, Kay Francis, William Gargan, Phillip Reed, Irving Pichel, Cesar Romero, Walter Byron, Ivan Simpson. Michael Curtiz was the director.

PORTRAITS

Horror in disguise. Boris Karloff looks like an eccentric but kindly professor in his next Universal thriller, "The Invisible Ray."

A star in any studio. Claudette Colbert is back at Paramount for "The Bride Comes Home," after starring in the recent "She Married Her Boss" for Columbia studios.

Heroine of the air. Patricia Dunlap is featured on the "Og, Son of Fire" broadcasts, heard over the CBS networks every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

In Hollywood now. Marta Eggerth, Hungarian opera, concert, stage and screen star, is making her first American film, "Song of Joy," for Universal studios.

HUGE SEAS SWEEP BEACH DURING HURRICANE—Heavy seas, of tidal-wave proportions, sweeping over the seawall at Miami Beach as the freak hurricane blew over southeast Florida.

BEAUTY—Miss Mickey Sauls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wade Sauls, of Shellman, Ga., who was awarded the beauty crown in a recent Atlanta contest. (Kenneth Rogers)

BEAUTIFUL WINTER HOMES PREY OF WIND AND WATER. One of the mansions at Miami Beach flooded by heavy seas which broke over the seawall as it was hammered by the recent hurricane that created havoc in southern Florida.

THREE SETS OF TWINS were born consecutively in five years to Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Sayre, of Mitchell, Neb. In addition, they have another set of twins and five other children. The parents are pictured with their twins.

NO ONE has a better right to glorify band music than Miss Priscilla Sousa, who led massed bands at the California Exposition as they played "Stars and Stripes Forever" in honor of her illustrious grandfather, John Phillip Sousa.

CHINA'S PREMIER MERMAID—Miss Yang Hsu-Chang, of Shanghai, who has become a challenger for world honors in aquatic sports.

"MY PAL!"—When little Nona Schultz's "puppy" won a cup in a recent Philadelphia dog show she rewarded him with a great big kiss!

MISSIONARY ORPHAN ONE YEAR OLD—No hint of tragedy lurks in the eyes of little Helen Stam, whose missionary parents were slain by Chinese communists. The baby, left with her dead parents, was found and carried to safety.

DEER ARE SO NUMEROUS near Forked River, N. J., that they have become an actual hazard to motorists. Four have been killed in two weeks by automobiles at night. This deer saw the car coming, tried to leap over it, but failed.

EDISON'S WIDOW WEDS—The widow of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, is shown with her new husband, Edward E. Hughes, 73, retired Franklin Pa., steel manufacturer. (Associated Press photo)

LIKE AN OWL'S EYES, the headlights on this automobile on display at the National Automobile Show in New York come out only at night. Left, as closed—right, as open. Note the novel radiator. (Associated Press photo)

(Left and upper right) MR. AND MRS. JOHN CARROLL PAYNE, socially prominent Atlantans, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at a reception on November 25 at the Piedmont Driving Club. The above pictures were made before their marriage on November 25, 1885. Mrs. Payne, the former Miss Helen Fairlie Hill, is photographed in the dress worn at her debut party given in 1883 by her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes Hill, in the red brick mansion that stood on the site of the J. P. Allen store. Mr. Payne, a former Virginian and a prominent lawyer, began his legal practice in Atlanta about the time Mrs. Payne was presented to society. Mrs. Alex Smith Jr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Payne, who have grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

RARE BIRDS—Two Victoria Crown pigeons from the Solomon Islands have just arrived at the Chicago zoo. These majestic birds are rare specimens.

(Right) JUST TO SHOW how tough he is this pup chases a whole family of bears up a tree! Photo was made in Canada.

MISS PATRICIA COX, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Cox, of Hapeville, who won a recent South Side beauty contest.

PAINTING, LOST 400 YEARS, ACQUIRED BY UNITED STATES FOR $200,000—The painting by Raphael, which bears the date 1506 and which was lost to the world for 400 years, was recently recovered and sold for a price purporting to be $200,000 to the Detroit Institute of Arts.

RESTORE HEALTH TO YOUR FEET

$6.50 to $10.50
DESIGNED BY DREW
BLACK AND BROWN KID

One should have comfort in their shoes and complete relief from painful corns or fallen arches.

DR. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES

216 PEACHTREE

Agent for Wizard Arch Support

McADOOS HONEYMOONING — Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and his young bride riding the surf off Waikiki Beach. The McAdoos are honeymooning in this idyllic spot.

"—AND YOU STAY ON YOUR SIDE OF THE FENCE." When "Jeff" reached this fence during a hunt at Valley Forge, Pa., he sat back on his haunches and neatly deposited his rider on the other side.

(Left) FIFI D'ORSAY, one of the "glorified girls" in Earl Carroll's Vanities, which will be presented here on November 22-23.

IT HURTS ME MORE THAN IT HURTS YOU, DOLLY. But if I'm pricking you now, you can be thankful for this: You're not going to lose any more sawdust, because things sewed with J. & P. Coats best 6-cord thread stay sewed. Mom says so—and Mom knows.

KING AND QUEEN — James Brooks and Elsie Carmichael shown with members of their court when they were elected king and queen of Central Park school in East Point recently.

H.P. HOUSE
Ask Your Doctor
2 Plaza Way Atlanta, Ga.
OPTICAL CO.

PENS, $1.25 to $10
WE REPAIR ALL MAKE PENS —FACTORY SERVICE—
PEN AND PENCIL SHOP
PARKER-SHEAFFER & EVERSHARP
PENS
118 Peachtree Avenue—Atlanta

(Upper left) NEW OFFICERS OF THE SACRED HEART SCHOOL. They are: Misses Mary Ambrose, secretary; Lilla Farrell, treasurer; Gladys Commagere, president; Rose Negri, first vice president.

Prescription
OPTICIAN
J.N. KALISH

When Eye Fatigue Comes —What Is the Cause?

Consult Your Oculist
(Eye Physician)

385 Peachtree Street
Convenient to Medical Arts and Doctors' Building

CHRISTMAS & HOLIDAY GOODS
FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY — — — — — — OVERNIGHT SERVICE

HIGH-GRADE WHEEL GOODS, BICYCLES,
SKATES, TOYS, DOLLS, NOVELTIES

STOCK ASSORTMENTS FOR SMALL MERCHANTS

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

COWAN-BOZE COMPANY

WHOLESALE ONLY

224-226 NELSON ST., S. W. — — — ATLANTA, GA.

A SPECTACULAR PICTURE showing planes of the United States army air corps, laying a smoke screen around Manhattan island. An excellent maneuver in case of aerial attack.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY on Armistice Day, at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, as President Roosevelt and members of his party stood at attention after placing a wreath on the tomb. President Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy during the World War.

NATIVES OF LALANI, the last village in Hawaii to hold to its primitive customs, are shown worshipping Pele, goddess of volcanoes. The village is in strange contrast to the modern aspect of most of Honolulu.

COSTUME PARTY given recently by the Psycho-Analytical Society at Murielou farm in DeKalb county.

(Right) ATLANTA GIRL WITH RIBBON WINNER—Miss Judy King, Atlanta society girl, with her blue-ribbon winner, "Killlearn Magi," after Miss King had rung up her first victory at the New York Horse Show.

(Left) MRS. J. W. Hicks JR., formerly Miss Elizabeth Lorena Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown, of Atlanta. (H. & W.)

FORMER TECH STUDENT, STAR IN "SO RED THE ROSE"—Randolph Scott and Margaret Sullivan in a scene from the Civil War picture, "So Red the Rose." Scott is a former student of Georgia Tech and has made a sensational rise in motion pictures.

(Left) HIS PHOTO WINS PRIZE—EUGENE NOVIK, 13, of Woodbridge, N. J., was awarded the grand national prize in the Children's National Photographic contest. "But it wasn't any beauty contest and I can lick any guy that says it was," commented Eugene. The photo was selected from 30,000 entrants as best reflecting personality and character.

DEAFENED
HEAR WITH NEW AID

Four-fifths of all deafened persons may regain strain-free hearing of remarkable clarity with new Bone Conduction Sonotone, which is almost invisible when worn. Write or phone for free test.

SONOTONE ATLANTA CO.
W. CHASE, State Mgr.
822 William-Oliver Bldg. N.E. 8438

In all our relations, we believe that the public is seeking, first and foremost, a dependable professional service. Improving the calibre and enlarging the scope of this service, while actually lowering the costs, has been made possible at Roswell Store Funeral Home by the development of more efficient methods of operation.

Telephone Roswell 75

There is no better way to describe the philosophy and purpose of this institution than to picture the tangible expression in architecture of a new, enlightened sentiment regarding funeral services.

ROSWELL STORE FUNERAL HOME
ROSWELL, GEORGIA.

BEACON THROUGH THE AGES—FOR INSPIRED CHRISTMAS GIVERS!

NOW the bright shadow of another Christmas begins to lie across the shortening days ahead. A beacon, as through the ages, for the inspired givers who extract full enjoyment from the traditional ceremonies.

They are those who impart to the gift of one slender shaft of lipstick a princely heritage of gallantry. Who bestow the whole gleaming contents of a duchess' dressing-table, in the same breath, with the casual grace that has marked gentlefolk for centuries.

Their headquarters is Yardley House in London. Yet you need neither steamer, stamp, nor even stamina to share their pleasures. Yardley House in America has provided lavishly for you and yours. Simply plan now to fill your entire list with such selections as are being made in Bond Street . . . and accepted with bliss everywhere.

Perfect presents — for every person and for every purse! From $1.25 to $30, each bears the royal-crested stamp of your distinguished taste — and the lovely lavender fragrance of the world's most charming Christmases. Compliments recognized the world around!

Check this page today for advance information on Yardley's brilliant toiletries, cosmetics, exalted bath sets! You'll find ten times as many in your nearest fine store. Tomorrow — while you've still plenty of leisure to relish to the full the rite of graceful living!

Yardley & Company, Ltd., 620 Fifth Avenue (Rockefeller Center), New York City; 33, Old Bond Street, London; Paris, Toronto, Sydney.

1 Yardley Complexion Box, with cream, soap, powder, cream rouge, lipstick, talcum and English Lavender . . . $8.80

2 New beauty bath charm, Lavendomeal in a wooden drum. Plus 2 tablets of exquisite Yardley soap . . . $2.55

3 Royally welcomed by men of the world! Shaving bowl, after-shaving lotion and invisible talc . . . $2.85

4 Yardley Lavender Set for sophisticates: English Lavender, face powder, sachet, soap and compact . . . $5.00

5 Gentleman's travel kit bag. Solid leather, well-pocketed, with shaving cream, lotion, invisible talc . . . $6.60

6 The cabin case, often described as the "jewel" case of duchesses, contains a complete traveling outfit of cosmetics and cleansers in a smart leather-like box . . . $10.00

7 The Compendium—one of the most magnificent gifts in the world. A complete series of Yardley in de luxe sizes . . . $20.00

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1935.

THE NEW "SCREEN AND RADIO WEEKLY" is inserted in your Constitution today without extra cost to you. This 16-page magazine in colors, is popping over with hot news snatched from in front of the whirring cameras of Hollywood and the buzzing microphones of Radioland. Make this a gala week-end of reading enjoyment and you will watch eagerly each Sunday for "SCREEN AND RADIO WEEKLY" brought to you with your SUNDAY CONSTITUTION.

THE INCOMPARABLE AUNT HET—very ably champions the side of her own sex. She is a leader of the fearless type. Her remarks are poignant, teeming with originality; she is old-fashioned, yet shocks even herself sometimes by favoring radical reforms. Women love her. They are forever quoting AUNT HET to their husbands. She comes to you every day on the feature page of The Constitution, as well as in the Sunday magazine.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1935.

MOON MULLINS

by Frank Willard

KITTY HIGGINS

IS YOUR LAUGH INSURANCE PAID UP FOR NEXT WEEK? It may be renewed each day by reading Ed Reed's "OFF THE RECORD," a humorous cartoon presented on the daily editorial page of The Constitution.

Every Tuesday is EXPERT'S DAY in Ely Culbertson's column. Write your bridge comments, suggestions, and interesting hands to him, in care of The Constitution. For questions, remember to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

LOOSE

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER, appearing on the feature page of The Constitution every day is a great help to thousands of students of Current Events. During the coming week, Uncle Ray's subjects will be: "The Building of the Suez Canal;" "The Rock of Gibraltar;" "The Island of Malta;" "Alexandria, Egypt." These articles are excellent material for the history scrapbook.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1935.

Maw Green

TALMUDIC TALES—based upon the legends and philosophy found in THE TALMUD, which work embodies the civil and canonical laws and traditions of the Jewish people, dating back as far as 3,000 years, is a regular feature of The Constitution's daily editorial page.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

COMIC
SECTION

COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1935.

HERBY

MY GREATEST THRILL!
by FRANK HAWKS
THE HUMAN BULLET!

AFTER MAPPING THE ROUTE FOR THE ALL-AMERICA AIR RACE, HAWKS TAKES OFF FROM BUENOS AIRES FOR LOS ANGELES.
HERE HE GOES —

FRANK HAWKS ON SMOKING: "I get a lift with a Camel!"

SOME REMARKABLE RECORDS FROM THE LOG BOOK OF FRANK HAWKS' HOLDER OF 214 SPEED RECORDS:

1929 NEW YORK TO LOS ANGELES	ONE STOP... 36 HRS. 48 MIN.
LOS ANGELES TO NEW YORK	2 HRS. 36 MIN.
1930 DETROIT TO NEW YORK	20 MIN.
1930 PHILADELPHIA TO NEW YORK	51 MIN.
1931 BOSTON TO NEW YORK	58 MIN.
1931 PARIS TO LONDON	7 HRS. 32 MIN.
1931 PARIS TO LONDON FOR BREAKFAST—LONDON TO BERLIN FOR DINNER—BERLIN TO PARIS FOR LUNCH	7 HRS. 32 MIN.
1931 LONDON TO ROME FOR TEA—ROME TO LONDON FOR TEA	9 HRS. 38 MIN.
1931 NEW YORK TO HAVANA FOR LUNCH—HAVANA TO NEW YORK FOR DINNER	14 HRS. 29 MIN.
1935 BUENOS AIRES TO LOS ANGELES	39 HRS. 52 MIN.

FRANK HAWKS DISCUSSES CAMEL'S MILDNESS —

CAMELS ARE SO MILD THEY DON'T AFFECT MY WIND OR UPSET MY NERVES—CAMEL MUST USE CHOICER TOBACCOS

CAMELS ARE MADE FROM FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—TURKISH AND DOMESTIC—THAN ANY OTHER POPULAR BRAND.

(LITONER)
R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO.
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

CAMELS SO MILD THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

DESPITE HIS NARROW ESCAPE, FRANK SPEEDS ON TO LOS ANGELES TO HANG UP A SENSATIONAL RECORD—39 HOURS 52 MINUTES FLYING TIME